The University

HISTORY

Towson State University traces its origins to the first state teacher training institution that was authorized by the General Assembly of Maryland in 1865 when it established a state public school system. Formally opened in Baltimore on January 15, 1866, the Maryland State Normal School was then the only institution devoted exclusively to the preparation of teachers for the public schools of Maryland. The Normal School occupied four different locations in Baltimore before moving to its suburban location in Towson in 1915.

In 1935, a four-year program leading to a bachelor's degree was introduced, and the School's name was changed to the State Teachers College at Towson. An arts and sciences program, begun in 1946 as a two-year transfer program, was extended to a four-year degree-granting program in 1960. A graduate program for elementary school teachers leading to a Master of Education degree was inaugurated in 1958.

As part of the expansion of higher education in Maryland, the General Assembly authorized the expansion of the arts and sciences offerings and a change of name to Towson State College in 1963. Two years later, the graduate program began a period of expansion which saw the institution of Master's degree programs in several disciplines. In 1976, the General Assembly again authorized a change of name to Towson State University. In 1982 the university began offering the Bachelor of Fine Arts degree in addition to its Bachelor of Arts and Bachelor of Science degrees.

In July of 1988, Towson State University and ten other Maryland public institutions of higher education, joined the new University of Maryland System. The university has now graduated 59,217 students, 5,981 of them having received advanced degrees.

Located in one of the fastest growing areas of Baltimore County, the university, in 1989-1990, enrolled 9,273 full-time undergraduates, 4,191 part-time undergraduates, and 1,494 graduate students. Development plans suggest that the university stabilize its full-time enrollment at 10,000, achieving a practical balance among resources, facilities and students.

MISSION

Towson State University is committed to providing comprehensive opportunities for undergraduate and graduate education and offers a variety of programs in the traditional arts and sciences and in specialized professional fields.

The curricula, services, and activities of the university are shaped by two primary goals: that all students encounter the values and methods that establish a liberal education, promote critical thought, and develop mental habits required for thoughtful citizenship; and that all students, in completing undergraduate or graduate majors, have the opportunity to gain the knowledge and skills essential to their career choices.

The university emphasizes excellent teaching, scholarship, and creativity, with students and faculty directly contributing to the intellectual and cultural life of all the communities it serves.

College of Continuing Studies

The College of Continuing Studies at Towson State University provides degree and non-degree seeking students with the opportunity to pursue, part-time and full-time, a liberal education in the arts and sciences and in professional fields.

Courses that satisfy degree requirements are offered, during the day as well as evening, to students who do not attend the university on a full-time, weekday basis. Additionally, complete degree programs in many areas of study are administered through the Evening Program, the Summer Program, and the Weekend

Program on the university campus, and in community settings. Additionally, the College operates a satellite center in downtown Columbia, Maryland. The College also offers comprehensive academic advisement for all Continuing Studies students.

Non-traditional learning formats, such as directed independent study and television courses, are provided for students who may require more autonomous learning than the typical classroom course permits. Additionally, students may be evaluated on prior learning through life experience and receive university credit. Lifelong learning opportunities, such as the Elderhostel and Informal course programs, fulfill a significant function of Continuing Studies by meeting the personal and intellectual needs and interests of the community. These learning opportunities emphasize scholarship and creativity for the adult learner and promote lifelong learning.

Graduate School

The Graduate School is committed to excellence in post-baccalaureate education in order to meet the needs of both degree and non-degree students. The resources of the Graduate School are available to students whose goals are directed toward advanced study, career advancement, professional leadership, or preparation for further graduate study.

The primary responsibility of the Graduate School is to provide an intellectually stimulating environment for faculty and students to achieve their educational objectives. Graduate faculty and students share responsibility for the scholarship and creativity underlying the Graduate School, its curricula, research, and academic excellence.

College of Allied Health Sciences and Physical Education

The College of Allied Health Sciences and Physical Education, committed to providing comprehensive educational opportunities to undergraduate and graduate students, offers programs in five departments, all with a common bond of preparing students to provide human services designed to improve the quality of life.

The curricula, services, and activities of the College are shaped by three goals: that all undergraduate and graduate majors encounter the values and methods to provide them with rigorous grounding in a liberal education; that these students gain knowledge and skills essential to their autonomous functions through didactic and applied experience; and that students encounter opportunities to grow as skilled and responsible professionals in human services.

The College of Allied Health Sciences and Physical Education encourages scholarship and creativity and contributes to the overall well being of the communities with which faculty and students interact.

College of Education

A liberal education is the foundation of professional knowledge and skills for undergraduate and graduate students in the College of Education. All students in the College receive extensive education in the liberal arts as well as a thorough background in their respective major.

Students in the College are taught to recognize individual differences and to respect diverse backgrounds; the goal is to enable our graduates to work effectively with all learners. Scholarship and research enable students in the College to relate current theory to professional practice. The faculty of the College of Education is committed to methods of teaching, as well as research skills, which prepare individuals for careers in all fields where these skills are needed. Programs within the College equip students to become certified as classroom teachers and to qualify for a variety of other careers in education, in both public and private sectors.

College of Fine Arts and Communication

The College of Fine Arts and Communication supports the objectives of the University by offering courses of study designed to enhance students' experiences in the traditional arts and sciences. Students are introduced to the intellectual and aesthetic traditions of world cultures and are encouraged to develop the ability to make judgments and to support them with coherent discourse.

Additionally, the College of Fine Arts and Communication offers professional major programs at both undergraduate and graduate levels. These programs are structured so as to permit in-depth study of all disciplines represented in the College and thus give students the opportunity to excel in the disciplines they choose.

Through the creative activities of its faculty and students, the College of Fine Arts and Communication is committed to the cultural enrichment of university life and that of the community at large by offering art exhibits, dance and theatre productions, forensics presentations, recitals and concerts, films, radio and television productions, and guest artists and lectures.

College of Liberal Arts

The College of Liberal Arts of Towson State University is committed to providing comprehensive opportunities for undergraduate and graduate instruction in the humanities and social sciences. The liberal arts curriculum helps students develop the ability to analyze and interpret information and opinions objectively, form and express conclusions creatively, express themselves clearly, appreciate the rich diversity of human culture, and move comfortably in the world of ideas and values. Degree programs in the College of Liberal Arts emphasize professional career opportunities as well as more traditional theoretical aspects of the disciplines.

Through its contribution to the university's core curriculum, the College of Liberal Arts contributes to the university's achievement of its goal of a truly liberal education for all students. Through its emphasis on professional career preparation in the majors, the College of Liberal Arts meets the university's goal of providing students with the opportunity to gain the knowledge and skills essential for future careers.

The College of Liberal Arts emphasizes excellent teaching, scholarship and creativity. Its students and faculty contribute actively to the intellectual and cultural life of all the communities it serves.

College of Natural and Mathematical Sciences

The sciences and mathematics are an integral part of the comprehensive educational program of Towson State University. The mission of the College of Natural and Mathematical Sciences is, therefore, two-fold: to offer a thorough grounding in the basic principles of mathematics and science for those who wish to acquire an extensive knowledge of the area and to provide, for the student body as a whole, a necessary dimension in their educational development.

The goals of the College are realized, primarily, by an emphasis on excellence in teaching. In addition, because science and mathematics continue to develop through the dynamic interaction between theory and experience, the College encourages, of both faculty and students, experimental and theoretical research, other forms of scholarly activity, and intellectual service to the community.

School of Business and Economics

The School of Business and Economics provides a broad range of professional experiences for students committed to careers in accounting, business administration, and economics. In achieving its objectives, the School complements the University's liberal arts tradition and its emphasis on undergraduate instruction, research and regional service. The School, through its departments, provides a theoretical basis and practical activities in its disciplines.

The School achieves its objective of overall academic excellence primarily through qualified faculty and staff, high academic standards, effective curriculum and extra-curricular activities. The School aims to prepare students for responsible citizenship and leadership roles for business and society. Faculty members are encouraged to emphasize excellence in teaching, scholarship and creativity through research, publications and professional activities.

GOALS

To achieve its philosophy and mission, the university has adopted the following goals as fundamental concepts for planning and development:

- I. By far the highest priority of the university shall be to provide a sound liberal arts and sciences education for all students, regardless of their major or occupational ambitions.
- II. The campus environment shall provide ideal conditions for learning—learning between student and teacher, student and student, teacher and teacher, and between these and the staff, alumni, and citizens concerned with intellectual and professional pursuits.
- III. The university shall support programs leading to the development of skills and knowledge.
- IV. Excellence in student, faculty, and administrative performance shall be encouraged by relevant, constructive evaluation and recognition.
- V. The university shall provide equal educational opportunity for the population it serves.
- VI. The university shall maintain its autonomy from unreasonable influence by outside governing bodies and special interest groups.

A full statement of particular guidelines for meeting each goal is presented in Appendix A.

PHILOSOPHY OF LIBERAL EDUCATION AT TSU

A liberal education is focused on the premise that all students should explore how the great body of human knowledge is organized and become familiar with the methods for gaining, evaluating, and extending that knowledge. Furthermore, they should develop an important range of intellectual skills that will continue to enrich and shape their lives long after their formal education has ended.

More particularly, the requirements are established to assure that students come to understand 1) the historical foundations and present definitions of the Fine Arts, the Humanities, the Natural and Mathematical Sciences, and the Social and Behavioral Sciences, 2) how each of these four major branches of knowledge addresses, investigates, reaches conclusions, and presents findings about the natural world and human experience, and 3) how all four relate to one another—what they share, how they differ, and how they are combined to explore and explain knowledge from the past, of the present, and for the future. A basic liberal education, in this sense, provides the foundation for a life-long competence in the methodologies, mental disciplines, and ways of communicating that shape and characterize human knowledge.

GOVERNANCE

Board of Regents

The university, along with ten other Maryland public, four year institutions of higher education, is governed by the Board of Regents of the new University of Maryland System. Each of the 17 regents is appointed by the Governor of Maryland.

Administration

All programs of the university are maintained under the direct authority of the president and by authority delegated to the provost and to the vice-presidents for student services, institutional advancement, and business and finance.

University Senate

Committed to the principles of shared governance and democratic process, the university has established a senate as its chief legislative body. Internal policies and procedures are developed by the senate and its committees. Voting members of the University Senate include 18 elected faculty members, the President of the Faculty Association, and 6 student members, including the Student Government Association President. The University President and Vice Presidents are non-voting members of the University Senate.

COLLEGES AND SCHOOLS

The university comprises eight colleges and schools: The College of Allied Health Sciences and Physical Education, The College of Education, The College of Fine Arts and Communication, The College of Liberal Arts, The College of Natural and Mathematical Sciences, The School of Business and Economics, The College of Continuing Studies, The Graduate School.

Each of the first six of these colleges and schools is formed by a grouping of related disciplines, administered by an academic dean, and governed by a council whose membership includes the dean, elected faculty, and appointed students. The councils establish policies and procedures governing the programs of the academic departments they represent. Once a student has determined a program of study, he or she becomes a member of and graduates from the college or school administering the program.

The College of Continuing Studies and The Graduate School are administrative divisions, each supervised by a dean and governed by the University Senate.

STUDENT GOVERNMENT ASSOCIATION

The Student Government Association is the student governmental body authorized by the administration of the university. The SGA consists of an executive branch, composed of a president, vice president and treasurer, and a legislative body called the Senate, composed of fourteen students elected at large and one student appointed from the freshman class. Policies and procedures affecting students and student-run organizations are developed by the SGA Senate and its committees.

The SGA also coordinates student representation in the university governance structure including the University Senate and its respective committees.

ACCREDITATION

Towson State University is accredited by the Middle States Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools, the Maryland State Board of Education, the National Association of Schools of Music, the National Association of Schools of Dance, the National Council for the Accreditation of Teacher Education, the National League for Nursing, the American Occupational Therapy Association, the American Medical Association, and the American Chemical Society.

The University is a member of the American Council on Education, The American Association of State Colleges and Universities and The Association of American Colleges.

FACULTY

The full-time faculty of the university consists of approximately 500 instructors, the greater number of whom have earned doctorates or hold the highest degree of academic preparation expected for their fields of expertise. Dedicated to effective classroom instruction and attention to student needs, the faculty also has distinguished itself through research and publication.

PRIVACY RIGHTS OF PARENTS AND STUDENTS

Towson State University is in compliance with Section 513 (Protection of rights and privacy of parents and students) and Section 514 (Protection of pupil rights) of Title V—Education Administration of the Education Amendments of 1974.

All student records, including grades, financial data, and personal information—addresses, class schedules, telephone numbers—are confidential. Only in cases of dire medical emergency will students, either on or off campus, be contacted for the relay of messages. A complete description may be found in Appendix D.

NON-DISCRIMINATION IN EDUCATION AND EMPLOYMENT

Towson State University is in compliance with Titles VI and VII of the Civil Rights Act of 1964, the Equal Pay Act of 1963, Title IX of the Education Amendments of 1972, Titles VII and VIII of the Public Health Service Act, Executive Order 11246/11375, section 504 of the Rehabilitation Act of 1973, and section 303 of the Age Discrimination Act of 1975, Pregnancy Discrimination Act of 1978, EEOC guidelines on sexual harassment of 1980, the Civil Rights Restoration Act of 1988, the Governor's Code of Fair Practices of 1988, the American Disabilities Act of 1989, and Articles 64A and 49B of the Annotated Code of Maryland. In accordance with all federal and state laws, the university does not discriminate against any individual for reasons of race, color, religion, national origin, sex, age, condition of handicap, political affiliation, sexual orientation, marital status, or other irrelevant criteria in the admission of students, educational programs and activities, hiring of faculty and staff, or any terms and conditions of employment. The university is also in compliance with federal regulations regarding veteran status. Information on these laws and copies of the Towson State University Fair Practices Program in Education and Employment are available from the Office of the President.

THE CAMPUS AND FACILITIES

The university is situated on a campus of 306 acres located a mile and one-half beyond the northern border of the city of Baltimore on beautifully rolling wooded grounds.

Within an eight-mile radius of the campus are all the cultural advantages of the city of Baltimore—the Peabody Conservatory of Music and Library, the Enoch Pratt Free Library, the Walters Art Gallery, the Baltimore Museum of Art, and the many theatres and other cultural centers necessary for a well-rounded college experience. University facilities include 13 academic buildings, 12 residence halls, a University Union, and five auxiliary structures. A complete description of these and their specific functions is presented in Appendix B.

WHEN TO APPLY

Admission to Towson State University is granted to applicants whose academic and personal qualifications give promise of academic success. The university reserves the right to close admissions when no space remains.

Students seeking freshman admission should file applications during the first semester of the senior year of high school.

Students seeking transfer admission should file as early as October 1 for the upcoming spring and fall semesters. The deadline for the receipt of applications and credentials is December 1 for the spring semester and March 1 for the Fall. Spring admission is extremely limited, with priority given to graduates of Maryland community colleges.

Any application received after the priority deadline is processed with the distinct possibility of exhausted space in the class and/or limited academic services, i.e., advising, financial aid, and housing.

Persons who have been denied admission to Towson State University will not be permitted to attend as non-degree students. They may, however, transfer to the university if they meet transfer admission requirements after attending another college or university. Persons who graduated from high school within the last two (2) years must formally apply for admission in order to attend the University.

ADMISSIONS PROCEDURE

1. An applicant for full-time day admission may receive application materials from the guidance office of the secondary school, the counseling office of the junior/community college, or from the admissions office of the university.
2. The applicant should complete Form I and return it with a non-refundable application fee of $25 (check or money order) to the Admissions Office. Each applicant is responsible for the Admissions Office's receipt of his or her official high school transcript, including mid-year and final grades with verification of graduation as each becomes available, together with a completed transcript supplement (application Form II), which must be received directly from the student's high school. The transfer applicant should arrange to have forwarded official transcripts of all college work attempted or completed, whether or not credit was earned, from all institutions attended.
3. The standardized test required for admission is the Scholastic Aptitude Test of the College Entrance Examination Board. All freshman applicants and transfer students with fewer than 25 completed college-level credit hours must arrange to have the results of this test sent to the Director of Admissions. Students should take the test in the junior or senior year of high school. Towson State University's College Board identification code number is 5404.

4. Incomplete applications are subject to cancellation. Approved applications which remain incomplete for lack of final high school or college transcripts are subject to revocation. The applications of admitted students who do not enroll for the given semester are cancelled.
5. Beginning in the Fall Semester of 1990, all entering degree-seeking students born after December 31, 1956, including new graduate students and transfers, will be required to demonstrate physician-documented proof of immunity to the following diseases: Diphtheria-Pertussis-Tetanus, Polio, Measles, Mumps, and Rubella.

An immunization record form will be sent to every admitted student. The completed form, signed by a physician, must be returned to the Dowell Health Center by the time of Orientation and registration. Students who fail to return the form or to correct any inadequacies in immune status in a timely fashion will be blocked from the following spring semester registration. (For those students entering in the spring semester, non-compliance will result in blocked registration for the following fall semester.) The block will be lifted by the Health Center as soon as the requirements are fulfilled.

The specific vaccine requirements are listed on the immunization record form. The student is responsible for obtaining any immunizations needed to satisfy University requirements from their regular source of medical care prior to arriving on campus.

ADMISSIONS POLICY

A complete statement of the admissions policy is presented as Appendix C. Applicants should thoroughly review Appendix C in addition to the information presented below.

GUIDELINES FOR FRESHMAN ADMISSION

Applicants for Fall, 1991 freshman admission will be admitted to the university based on the following guidelines and timetables:

Completed application materials and supportive documentation (official transcripts and SAT results) must be received by March 1.

Priority admission will be granted beginning October 1 to those freshman applicants whose secondary school records indicate overall "B" (3.0 or above) level work in academic courses from grades 9-11 and whose minimum SAT verbal and math scores are each at least 500.

Students whose verbal and math SAT scores fall between 470 and 500 may also have their applications evaluated at this time, with offers of admission reserved for those students with the strongest records of academic achievement.

Regular admission will be granted beginning February 1 to applicants who possess a "C+" (2.50 or higher) academic grade point average, including mid-year senior grades, and whose SAT verbal and math scores are each at least 450. Students whose comprehensive academic averages reflect "C+" level work, but whose SAT scores fall between 400 and 450 will have their applications evaluated under probability success guidelines, if space permits, during this time only. However, admission will not be granted to any applicant whose high school average is below "C" (2.00) level, or whose SAT scores (either verbal or math) are below 350, without special exception.

Any exceptions to these policies can be considered only under extraordinary conditions.

For Spring, 1991 admission, first-time freshman applicants with no previous college attendance will be admitted to the university based on regular admission guidelines, as described and outlined above. These applications will be considered on a space available basis. Applications and all supportive documentation must be received in official form by December 1st.

Freshmen candidates will be expected to have completed four (Carnegie) units of English (including one each of composition, English literature, and American literature), three units of social sciences, two units of science (biology and another laboratory-based science), three units of mathematics (Algebra I, Algebra II, and Geometry), one unit of a Foreign Language and seven (7) elective units. Any applicant whose high school transcript does not include this combination of curriculum requirements may be admitted with the understanding that deficiencies will be completed during the first semester of the freshman year at Towson. Students who are admitted under this condition and who fail to complete the stipulated courses within the first semester will have their degree candidacy withdrawn. In general, students will not receive graduation credit for this work, which is offered during daytime hours only.

GUIDELINES FOR TRANSFER ADMISSION

To be considered as a transfer applicant, a student must have completed a minimum of 25 semester hours of transferable college-level work at the time of application. College-level work may not include remedial or preparatory courses or non-traditional course work, such as Credit for Prior Experience/Learning, Military Science, the College Level Examination Program (CLEP), D.A.N.T.E.S., U.S.A.F.I., A.C.E. evaluations, etc.

The requirements for transfer admission vary depending upon the number of credit hours completed by the applicant. Those who have completed fewer than 25 transferable credit hours of college-level work at the time of transfer can be considered for admission if they possess at least a 2.50 cumulative grade point average for all college-level work completed and are in good academic standing. In addition, a transfer applicant with fewer than 25 transferable credit hours must possess at least a 2.00 predicted collegiate average, incorporating the computational aid as described in the Freshman Admission section above.

Applicants who have completed between 25 and 55 transferable college-level credit hours at the time of transfer can be considered for admission if they possess a 2.25 cumulative collegiate grade point average and are in good academic standing. A 2.00 cumulative grade point average and good academic standing are required for those applicants who have completed 56 or more transferable college-level credit hours at the time of transfer. Applicants who have attended multiple institutions will have their records evaluated on an individual basis.

Admissions priority will be granted to graduates of Maryland community and junior colleges and to those community college students who have earned at least 56 transferable credits but have not earned an Associate of Arts degree. Maryland resident transfer students who have attended two or more institutions may be considered for transfer admission based on all course work completed, as long they possess combined GPA's which correspond to the transfer requirements listed above and are in good academic standing.

Any transfer applicant who has attended Towson's College of Continuing Studies as a non-degree student must possess at least a 2.00 grade point average for all course work attempted through that College, even if the applicant is admissible based on course work subsequently completed at other institutions. Students who apply for transfer admission based on their non-degree attendance through the College of Continuing Studies must also possess the appropriate grade point average relative to the number of credit hours completed.

Potential Admissions List

Applicants who are currently enrolled in coursework which may qualify them for admission will have their applications reviewed after official transcripts, including grades for that work, are received. Such students are encouraged to make alternative plans for admission to other colleges in the event that the University is not able to extend an offer of admission due to lack of space at the end of that particular semester. Also, supplementary services such as housing may be depleted by the time an offer of admissions is made to these students. Off-campus housing in the Towson vicinity is a good alternative until on-campus housing becomes available the subsequent semester. Additionally, the availability of financial aid may be severely limited at this time.

Evaluation of Transfer Credits

The advanced standing granted to students transferring from other colleges and universities is determined through an official evaluation by the university. The student must clearly understand that this evaluation will be final, and acceptance of an offer of admission signifies acceptance that the university will determine the student's advanced standing. Students admitted with advanced standing are, in general, given credit for college-level courses from degree granting regionally accredited institutions completed with better than the minimum passing grade elsewhere, insofar as such courses correspond in content and quality to subjects required for the degree sought at Towson State University.

The letter of admission for a transfer applicant includes the estimated number of credits transferable to Towson State. Once the student accepts the university's offer of admission (by returning the Enrollment Contract and fee), he or she will receive an official evaluation of transferable credits from the Admissions Office. This evaluation is usually (but not always) preliminary in nature, as the student is usually taking additional courses at the time of admission. A final evaluation of credit will be prepared once the final grades for the most current semester are received in official transcript form from the student's former college or university. All final transcripts are due in the Admissions Office prior to the students orientation date. The appropriate cumulative average, as determined by the number of credits completed, and good academic standing must be maintained, however, or the university's offer of admission will be withdrawn. See guidelines for Transfer Admission section above for appropriate cumulative grade point average necessary for maintaining admission eligibility. Failure to forward an official, final transcript before enrollment at the university or the first day of class will also result in the revocation of admission and degree standing.

Upon receipt of a final evaluation, the transfer student should review its contents carefully. If the student has any questions or feels there is an error, the Admissions Office must be advised within 30 days. In no case will changes, additions, or corrections be made to the evaluation after the student has completed the first semester in residence at Towson State University.

Transfer students have an option: they can either follow the catalog that was in effect at the time they were initially admitted as degree candidates at their previous accredited transfer institution, or they can adhere to the catalog assigned on the Evaluation of Transfer Credit. However, the first alternative is available only if no more than (10) ten years have elapsed from the date of initial college matriculation. Consult with a major advisor to determine which catalog is most appropriate, and if a change is desired, please inform the Admissions Office by a separate written request (during your application process).

A maximum of 90 semester hours credit of college work may be accepted from students transferring to the University from other institutions. However, no more than 64 credits may be transferred from community colleges or other two-year institutions. Each student's final 30 credits (senior year's work) must be completed in residence, i.e., as a Towson State University student.

Transfer credit shall be allowed for all academic courses completed at any regionally accredited two- or four-year college or university. Career, occupational, terminal or other courses not offered at the University will be accepted for transfer credit if approved by the appropriate department of the University or by the admissions committee of the University. In any event, these courses will be accepted as free elective credit, with the exception of orientation, remedial, review, or specialized/personal development courses.

Additionally, transfer students must satisfy all established general university, major departmental, and upper-level requirements for graduation.

Any student admitted to degree candidacy as a transfer student must maintain the appropriate cumulative average and remain in good academic standing through the most recent semester in attendance at his or her previous institution. Failure to meet this requirement will result in the cancellation of the university's original offer of admission and in the forfeiture of all related fees and privileges.

General University Requirements for Transfer Students

Students transferring to the university may or may not need to complete course work satisfying General University Requirements. In planning application, transfer students should carefully examine the statement of General University Requirements and of alternate requirements for junior year transfer outlined in the university curriculum section of this Catalog.

COMPETENCY REQUIREMENTS FOR ENTERING STUDENTS

The Office of Developmental Programs administers the competency testing and developmental studies programs. These programs require that all entering students demonstrate competence in the basic skills of reading, writing, and mathematics. Competence in the basic skills is initially assessed by performance on the New Jersey College Basic Skills Placement Tests.

All matriculating freshmen and all transfer students with fewer than 25 credits will be administered diagnostic placement tests.*

Students not attaining the required minimum scores on the standardized tests will be enrolled in developmental studies courses in the basic skills. These courses will not count toward the 120 credits required for graduation. Students must complete these courses with grades of "S," "C" or higher and achieve the university's minimum proficiency level prior to their third regular semester in order to continue attending the institution as degree candidates. Students who do not achieve minimum proficiency prior to the third regular semester or who fail to achieve a grade of "S" or "C" or higher will have their degree candidacy withdrawn.

Students who have their degree candidacy withdrawn because they do not achieve minimum proficiency prior to the third regular semester may enroll as special non-degree students and may take only developmental courses. Students who fail to successfully complete developmental course(s) on the third attempt may no longer attend the university in pursuit of a degree. Once competency requirements are met, students may petition the Academic Standards Committee for reinstatement to degree candidacy.

*The following students are exempt from the competency testing program:

1. Transfer students with 25 or more transfer credits.
2. Freshmen with SAT verbal scores of 470 or above (exempt from the reading and writing test) and/or SAT math scores of 470 or above (exempt from the math test).

NON-NATIVE SPEAKER PLACEMENT TEST

All entering students for whom English is not the native language are required to take a placement test administered by the English Language Center prior to registration. Based on the results of this test, students may be placed in an appropriate level of English as a Second Language (DVWR) and must complete the required sequence before registering for any English (ENGL) courses. If appropriate, students must begin remedial courses upon entering the university. Students who fail to complete these requirements (DVWR 105 and 106) prior to the third semester will have their degree candidacy withdrawn. These courses will count toward the 120 credits required for graduation.

If test scores indicate high proficiency, students will be placed in the more advanced courses. Transfer students are also required to take the proficiency test and may be required to take English as a Second Language courses even if they have already satisfied the Writing for a Liberal Education (ENGL.102) requirement.

INTERNATIONAL STUDENT APPLICATION

Requests for information or admission materials should be made far enough in advance to allow processing before deadline dates set by the university.

International applicants who are accepted for admission usually begin studies in the Fall semester (early September) or the Spring semester (late January). Applicants who are admitted for the Fall semester may begin course work during the Summer (June) session. The deadline for submitting an application and all documentation is June 1 for the Fall semester and December 1 for the Spring semester. Early application is strongly recommended.

Applicants who have been accepted for admission will receive the Certificate of Eligibility (Form I-20). This document is used to apply for a student (F-1) visa at an American embassy or consulate overseas. It is also used for transferring from one institution in the United States to another. F-1 students will be expected to enroll as full-time degree candidates (minimum 12 semester-hour credits).

The following application procedure should be followed:

1. Obtain from the International Student Center an international student admissions packet.
Address: International Student Center
Hawkins Hall, 103B
Towson State University
Towson, MD 21204
Telephone: (301) 830-2421
2. To be considered for admission, applicants are required to complete the official undergraduate application. A nonrefundable $25 application fee (personal check or money order) must accompany all applications.

3. A Social Security number is required. If the applicant is in the United States and does not have a number, (s)he must obtain one before filing an application. If overseas, the applicant will be assigned a temporary number by the university when the application is received.
4. All applicants must complete an admissions file, including:
 - a. official or notarized secondary school academic records, showing grades received, annual mark sheets, examination certificates, and leaving certificate, as they apply to the educational system in the student's home country. Records must be received for each of the last four years of secondary school;
 - b. official or notarized record (transcripts) of all colleges, universities, post-secondary, or professional schools attended;
 - c. a notarized English translation of all documents. Translations must be as literal as possible with no attempt to translate information into the United States system of education. To evaluate post-secondary course work, it is sometimes necessary for the university to use a professional evaluation service at the applicant's expense ($80–$100). The university will notify the applicant if this service is required;
 - d. an official Test of English as a Foreign Language (TOEFL) result. All international students who do not speak English as their native language will be required to take the TOEFL examination. A minimum score of 500 is required. TOEFL examination dates (six times a year worldwide) and information may be obtained through the American Embassy, Consulate or U.S.I.A. office or by writing Educational Testing Service, Box 899, Princeton, New Jersey 08541, U.S.A. The results will be reported to Towson State University if Towson State University is indicated on the TOEFL application (Code 5404);
 - e. an official Scholastic Aptitude Test (SAT) result. All students who have not completed one full year of postsecondary school course work (25 United States semester-hour credits) must submit SAT results. The results will be reported to Towson State University if Towson State University is indicated on the SAT application (Code 5404);
 - f. financial certification form. This form will be contained in the international student admissions packet. The applicant will be required to provide official financial statements verifying that $14,500 is available annually. Acceptable methods of financial verification are described in the international student admissions packet.
5. International students will be required to pay out-of-state tuition.
6. Applicants who hold permanent resident or parole visa status must list their alien registration number in the space indicated on the undergraduate application. They are processed for fee purposes as State residents if they have established legal domicile in Maryland for one year. Presentation of an applicant's alien registration card for verification may be requested. Foreign academic records submitted for evaluation must be translated into English and notarized. An application and all documentation must be submitted by December 1 or June 1. If a permanent resident does not speak English as his or her native language and has resided in the United States less than five years, a TOEFL examination is required.
7. Puerto Rican applicants who are U.S. citizens are processed for fee purposes as out-of-state applicants, unless they have established domicile in Maryland. If the academic background is Puerto Rican, the applicant must provide SAT scores to determine academic admissibility and a TOEFL result to determine English proficiency.
8. All students for whom English is not the native language will be required to take an English placement test as specified in the "Undergraduate Admissions" section of this catalog.

9. Applicants holding other types of visas may also apply to the university and should contact the International Student Service Office for admissions information.

SPECIAL ADMISSIONS PROGRAMS

Early Admission

Early admission enables a limited number of students to be admitted and to matriculate immediately following the completion of their junior year in high school. Students interested in early admission should apply through the normal application process. Their applications, however, must be accompanied by a letter of recommendation from either the high school counselor or principal. An official high school transcript should be submitted along with the results of the SAT tests. An interview with the Director of Admissions is also suggested.

On Campus Interviews

The Admissions Office offers the opportunity for prospective students to receive a personal evaluation of his or her admissions profile. Students are encouraged to call three weeks in advance of their visit to schedule an appointment with an admissions counselor.

Open House

Each fall, the admissions staff, faculty, administrative personnel, and students host a series of open house programs which offer the visitor an opportunity to observe an actual university class, take a tour of the campus, and discuss their academic, extracurricular, residential, or financial aid concerns.

NONTRADITIONAL POLICIES

Mature Adults, Veterans, and G.E.D. Recipients

Some high school graduates may qualify for special admissions consideration under the provisions of nontraditional admissions policy. In order to be considered under this policy, students must be classified into one of three categories described below. Once classified as a nontraditional applicant, the prospective student will be eligible for admissions consideration based upon competency testing in several skills areas (writing, reading, mathematics, etc.). Such students can be admitted into degree candidacy only if their test results indicate no more than one developmental placement. Students are eligible for only one test session each semester, and are encouraged to submit their applications as early as possible to ensure adequate processing time for the evaluation of the placement tests. In addition, it should be understood that referrals for such testing cannot be made until a formal application is filed, complete with all appropriate academic credentials in transcript form.

Mature Adults: For admissions purposes, a mature adult may be defined as one who is older than the traditional undergraduate, and who meets one or more of the following criteria: (1) the applicant is financially independent; (2) the applicant's primary responsibility is to duties other than being a student; (3) the applicant has not been regularly enrolled in an educational institution for three years or more.

Veterans: For admissions purposes, a veteran may be defined as a current or former member of any branch of the U.S. Armed Services with twelve months (one year) or more of active duty served, and with no intervening college or university attendance since discharge from the service. In addition to the application form and academic credentials, veterans must also provide the Admissions Office and the Office of Veterans Affairs with a copy of the DD form 214 verifying military service.

8 Undergraduate Admissions

GED Recipient: For admissions purposes, the high school equivalence (General Education Development) examination standards established by the Maryland State Department of Education (or other similar agencies in other states) shall be used as an alternative to high school graduation. Unless accompanied by acceptable S.A.T. results and a partial high school transcript with which to render an admissions decision, a GED recipient will be referred for placement testing before an admissions decision is rendered.

Advanced Placement and Credit for Entering Students

Freshmen who have had the opportunity for advanced-level work and would like academic credit as well as advanced placement are encouraged to take the Advanced Placement Tests of the College Entrance Examination Board in May of their senior year of secondary school. Arrangements to take the tests are made through the high school counselor or the College Entrance Examination Board, P.O. Box 592, Princeton, New Jersey 08540. The results of these tests are received by the university in mid July. The following standards are used for determining advanced placement credit:

Prior to the change of schedule period, students are notified about advanced placement and credit. Additional information may be obtained by contacting the Director of Admissions or the appropriate departmental chair.

A bulletin of information about Advanced Placement Tests may be secured from the College Entrance Examination Board, P.O. Box 592, Princeton, N.J. 08540.

Credit for Experience or Prior Learning

Departments may grant credit to students for experience and previous learning when the student's achievement in a particular area is equal or superior to that of a student having earned a C in coursework in the area, the level at which credit is generally granted to transfer students. While departmental standards for granting credit for experience and previous training may exceed this minimum, credit may not be given when achievement is below "C" level work.

Departments may also offer advanced placement with no credit given.

When departments use standardized evaluative instruments, such as CLEP, the College Board advanced placement tests, or others, the same principle shall apply. If the faculty member's evaluation reveals that the student's achievement is equal or superior to that of a student having earned a "C" in similar coursework, the department will report the grade of "PE" to the registrar.

DANTES/CLEP general examinations can be considered with appropriate documentation adhering to the minimum guidelines recommended by the American Council on Education (ACE).

Students may use military courses and experience as part of the 32 credits allowed through Credit for Prior Learning. Students should be admitted degree candidates and have completed one successful semester at TSU prior to submitting the AARTS transcript or other appropriate documents.

For further information, and a complete list of courses available through the Credit for Prior Learning option, contact the CPL/CLEP Coordinator, College of Continuing Studies, 830-3317.

Housing

Newell Hall, Lower Level (301) 830-2516

Director of Residence: Mary Lee Farlow

RESIDENCE SERVICES

The residence program provides living facilities for full-time degree candidates and promotes educational programs and activities which supplement the academic mission of the university. The residence staff and the elected executive board of the residence council strive to maintain an environment encouraging academic excellence, self-reliance, and leadership.

Residence services at Towson State University provide on-campus housing for approximately 3,300 students and aid in securing off-campus residence for others. A referral service for off-campus housing is provided through the Residence Office. Students in need of off-campus housing may obtain listings of rooms and apartments available in the Towson area.

Students participating in specific educational programs and carrying a minimum of twelve (12) credits are given priority when space is assigned. Those leaving the residence program will not be guaranteed readmission unless they leave to participate in a Towson State University academic program and have made prior arrangements with the Director of Residence.

All resident students must sign a yearly contract for university housing, renewable at the option of the university, and must carry a minimum of twelve credits. Each resident is expected to vacate upon completion of his or her final semester examination.

Residence facilities are available to students only when classes are in session. No student is permitted to remain in residence more than 48 hours after ceasing to attend classes or dropping below the 12 credit minimum.

RESIDENCE HALLS

RESIDENCE TOWER—A 15-story residence hall houses 463 students. It includes lounge areas, classroom space, conference rooms and recreation areas.

NEWELL HALL—The first residence hall built on the university campus, it houses 220 students, it has been renovated to provide double-loaded corridors and small lounges, bathrooms and student bedrooms. The building also houses the recently remodeled dining facilities.

RICHMOND HALL—The second building erected for student housing, it houses 122 students in facilities similar to those of the adjacent Newell Hall.

WARD AND WEST HALLS—Built in 1951, these twin residence halls are located on the northern perimeter of the campus. The halls house both men and women, and each accommodates about 57 students.

PRETTYMAN AND SCARBOROUGH HALLS—Built around a court garden featuring a statue of the university mascot, these twin residence halls, completed in 1956 and 1964, provide rooms for 164 students each.

GLEN RESIDENCE COMPLEX—Four residence towers and dining facility accommodate 1,684 students. Each tower houses approximately 400 students in a suite design, i.e., two double rooms with a connecting bath.

TOWSON RUN APARTMENT COMPLEX—One, two and four bedroom apartments are available to upper class students who have successfully completed 50 or more credits. The fully-furnished apartments accommodate 2, 4 or 8 persons and can be available to married, graduate, and non-traditional age students. In addition to double bedrooms, each apartment has a full kitchen and living/dining room.

Expenses

PLEASE NOTE: Expenses are estimates at the time of printing this Catalog and are subject to revision. Tuition, housing and boarding costs, and other fees are subject to change at any time by action of the Board of Regents.

TUITION

Maryland residents who enroll full-time in programs of the university pay $772 per semester tuition. Out-of-state tuition is $1,634 per semester.

Part-time students (those who register for less than 12 semester hours) pay $71.00 per credit hour (undergraduate) or $97.00 per credit hour (graduate).

UNIVERSITY FEES

A comprehensive fee is charged each student each semester. This yearly fee is $704 for a credit hour load of 12 or more credits and $210 for a credit hour load of less than 12 credits. The yearly fee includes fees for student activities, athletics, University construction, registration, and technological enhancement. Non-resident, undergraduate and graduate, part-time students will also be assessed a $20 per semester out-of-state surcharge. An overload surcharge fee will be assessed per credit hour for any credits over 15.

HOUSING AND BOARDING COSTS

Depending upon the room and dining plan selected, students living on campus may pay approximately $2,125 per semester for room and dining plan. Students living off-campus may purchase a dining plan ranging in price from $725 to $855 per semester.

As residence space becomes available, those students who are eligible will be requested to room in one of the resident complexes. For those students who enter the residence hall after the beginning of a semester, the charge will be prorated for the remainder of the semester plus one week. (For exact rates contact the Residence Office.)

OTHER FEES AND EXPENSES

A graduation fee of $20.00 is required for those receiving a bachelor's degree. The fee for those receiving a master's degree, plan A (with thesis) is $30.00, plan B (without thesis) is $25.00.

Students are expected to buy the textbooks for their courses, which may be purchased in the University Store.

A late registration fee of $75 is charged to any student who does not register as prescribed.

Students enrolled for practice teaching (student teaching) or a clinical practicum are charged a fee ranging from $100 to $250 per experience. Students must confer with their department chair or with the director of student teaching to determine the exact fee.

Students enrolled for private music lessons are charged a fee of $50 or $85 per credit dependent upon course registration.

All students are required to register their automobiles with the university in order to obtain a parking permit. This permit does not guarantee a space on campus, but is necessary in order to park on campus. The cost of these permits is:

Summer '90	$17.00
Annual '90-'91	$70.00
Fall 90/Minimester '91	$37.00
Spring '91/Summer '91	$37.00

GRADUATE CHARGES AND REFUND POLICY

Graduate Student Taking a Mix of Undergraduate and Graduate Courses:

If a graduate student takes a mix of graduate and undergraduate courses and the undergraduate credit hour load is less than 12 credits, the individual is to be billed per credit hour in each category and part time university fees. The Refund Policy for part time students will apply.

If the undergraduate credit hour load is 12 or more credits, the flat undergraduate tuition rate and full time university fees are to be billed with the graduate credit hours billed at the per credit hour graduate tuition rate. The Refund Policy for full time students will apply.

Graduate Student Taking All Undergraduate Courses:

If the credit hour load of undergraduate courses is 12 or more, full time, the individual is to be billed the flat undergraduate tuition and the flat full time university fees. The Refund Policy for full time students will apply.

TSU Senior Taking a Graduate Course (With Special Permission):

The student is to be billed according to the undergraduate rates with the graduate credits billed per credit hour. The Refund Policy for full time students will apply.

INSURANCE PLAN

A sickness and accident insurance plan designed especially for the students of Towson State University is offered at a nominal fee. While this plan is voluntary, some basic medical coverage is required of all students who live on campus as well as students who participate in any physical education class or extracurricular athletics. Proof of sufficient coverage must be submitted to the Residence Department. Billing statements will not reflect the cost of the insurance. Enrollment is handled directly through the insurance company. Should a student withdraw from the university, coverage will remain intact for the policy year. Any questions regarding coverage should be directed to the Health Center, Ext. 2466.

PAYMENT OF FEES

All checks or money orders should be made payable to Towson State University for the exact amount of the charges. The student's social security number must appear on all checks submitted to the university. The university has no deferred payment plans. The MasterCard and VISA credit cards can be used for tuition, fees, room, dining plan, and other charges. It is imperative that students adhere to published payment deadlines. If tuition, fees, and related charges are not paid by the established payment date, students class schedules will be voided and if applicable your residence hall space will be forfeited. When a check given in payment of fees, fines, or services is returned unpaid by the bank for any reason, a penalty fee of $50.00 is charged. Failure to reimburse the University for an uncollectable check may result in your class schedule being voided.

Financial policy set by the Board of Regents and supported by the legislative auditors of the state of Maryland states that all previous balances must be paid prior to registration for the following academic semester. The university employs a "first in/first out" technique when applying payments to accounts. Therefore, payments are used to satisfy the oldest outstanding charge prior to applying any portion of a payment to current or more recent charges. Should the account of any student be sent to the Central Collection Unit of the state of Maryland because it is deemed delinquent, a 15 percent collection fee will be charged to the student. In accordance with COMAR Title 17, Subtitle 01, Chapter 02, Section 01 through 05, the Central Collection Unit of the State of Maryland will begin intercepting Maryland Income Tax Refunds of individuals indebted to the State Colleges and Universities for Tuition, Fees, and Other Costs. Students with outstanding balances should contact Financial Operations. Transcript and diploma requests will not be honored if a student has a financial obligation to the university.

ADVANCE PAYMENTS

Each applicant must pay a non-refundable application fee of $25.00, and no application will be processed without this fee or a valid waiver.

Once the student is admitted, a non-refundable $100.00 enrollment fee must be forwarded to the Admissions Office to reserve his or her place in the class. The $100 enrollment fee includes a $80 new admit fee with the remaining $20 applied as a deposit toward tuition charges.

A $25 fee must accompany every application for on-campus residence. This fee is non-refundable.

Upon notification from the Residence Office that dormitory space is available, students must make a $100.00 room reservation deposit. This fee is applied to the final charge reflected on the statement of fees payable at the time of registration. Failure to pay all charges by the published payment deadline will result in cancellation of schedule and forfeiture of residence hall space.

The room deposit is refundable if the student cancels the application and notifies the Admissions and Residence offices in writing prior to June 30 for those entering fall semester, prior to December 30 for spring semester, or if the university denies admission to the applicant. The fee is forfeited if notice of cancellation is received after these dates.

REFUNDS ON WITHDRAWAL

A student withdrawing from the university must complete an official withdrawal form from the Student Services Office, Dowell Hall, 2nd level, before he or she is entitled to any refund. The date of withdrawal will be the date the card is filed.

For additional information regarding withdrawal, see the academic regulations section of this Catalog.

Refund Policies

Towson State University shall adhere to the following policies with respect to refunds of tuition, room and dining point fees, and other charges.

Tuition

1. Undergraduate Students Registering for 11 Credits or Less and Graduate Students

Notification of instructor does not constitute proper withdrawal. The date on which written notice of withdrawal is received determines the amount of refund. The timing for effecting tuition refunds (except for the summer session) shall be as follows:

- a. Prior to the end of each registration period, all tuition shall be refunded to the student.
- b. After the end of each registration period, but prior to the 15th calendar day after the beginning of classes for that session at the university, 80 percent of tuition shall be refunded to the student.
- c. Beginning with the 15th day and until the end of the third week after the official beginning of classes for that session at the university, 60 percent of tuition shall be refunded to the student.
- d. During the fourth week after the official beginning of classes for that session at the university, 40 percent of tuition shall be refunded to the student.
- e. During the fifth week after the official beginning of classes for that session at the university, 20 percent of tuition shall be refunded to the student.
- f. After the end of the fifth week from the official beginning of classes for that session at the university, no tuition shall be refunded to the student.

2. Undergraduate Students Registering for 12 Credits or More

The refund policy for undergraduate students registering for 12 or more credits is applicable only to total withdrawal, not to individual classes. The timing for effecting tuition refunds for total withdrawal shall be the same as 1 above.

Fees

1. All Students

The timing for the following fee refunds (including the summer session) shall be as follows:

- a. Registration/application fee—non-refundable.
 - b. Room deposit fee—non-refundable after June 30 prior to the fall semester or after December 30 prior to spring semester.
 - c. Dining point plan refund shall be determined by Auxiliary Services.
2. The following fees are non-refundable after the official start of classes (including the summer session) as indicated below:
- a. Room rent fee.
 - b. Mandatory university fees.
 - c. Auto registration fee.

- d. Applied fees (private instruction, student teaching fees, clinical practicum, etc.).
 - e. Late registration fee
 - f. Surcharge/Out of State Fee
 - g. Surcharge/Overload Fee
3. Students who are of the opinion that major extenuating circumstances (e.g. personal illness, serious accident) are primary factors in their decision to withdraw from the university, and who are not satisfied with the refund due based upon the schedule above, should contact the Student Services Office.

Financial Aid

NOTE: Programs are subject to legislative change.

Administration Building, Room 101, (301) 830-2061

Director: Marilyn Leuthold

Every attempt is made to assist eligible students who show need. However, limited funds may make it impossible for the university to meet the full need of each eligible student. The "need" of a student is the difference between the "cost of education" and the amount that the family is expected to contribute. This "Expected Family Contribution" is determined by a need analysis system approved by The U.S. Department of Education. Because a family's financial status changes from year to year, all students who seek assistance must reapply each year.

Awarding parameters vary each year. Information is available upon request from the Financial Aid Office.

Students who receive financial aid from the university are required to report any changes in their financial, marital or academic status in writing to the Financial Aid Office. Receiving additional funds from any source not reported on the original application may result in a reduction in aid offered from the university. If a student financial aid recipient receives aid in excess of his or her financial need, that student may be required to repay financial aid funds already disbursed.

Students who receive financial aid must be formally admitted to the university as degree candidates and must enroll on at least a half-time basis. Recipients must make satisfactory progress towards a degree and must meet the university standards for academic good standing (see Regulations Governing Academic Standards and Appendix E for a full detail of requirements).

Students who withdraw or stop attending classes before the end of the semester will have their aid prorated in the same proportion of Title IV funds to non Title IV funds to cover reasonable costs for the period of attendance involved. Refer to Refund Policies for an explanation of cost reductions. If a student does not live on campus, the living expenses assumed in a Financial Aid budget will be prorated for the period of attendance. Repayment of Financial Aid funds received may be required. If a reduction or repayment of funds is required, the order of reduction is as follows if applicable:

Title IV funds

Carl D. Perkins/National Direct Student Loan
Supplemental Educational Opportunity Grant
Pell Grant
Stafford (guaranteed)
Student Loan
Plus Loan or Supplemental Loans to Students
State Scholarship

Non-Title IV funds

Institutional Grant
Other Race Grant
School Scholarship
Non School Scholarship

APPLICATION PROCEDURES FOR UNIVERSITY FINANCIAL AID PROGRAMS

Students who wish to apply for financial aid must complete a College Scholarship Service Financial Aid Form (FAF), the university's Supplemental Form A. PELL Grant Reports (sent directly to your home when you apply for a PELL Grant), and signed, dated, copies of student and parents income tax forms. In addition, any student who has ever attended another post secondary (after high school) educational institution must submit financial aid transcripts from each school, regardless of whether or not aid was received. No application will be considered complete until all of these forms are received by the Financial Aid Office.

The university's financial aid application deadline date is March 15, for the following academic year. Students may apply as early as January 1, but no later than at least six weeks in advance of the deadline date. This allows time for the College Scholarship Service to process the FAF and forward it to the Financial Aid Office. Although incoming freshmen and transfer students are not offered financial aid until they have been formally admitted to the university, they must meet the same application deadline. Incoming students should NOT wait to receive admission to the university before applying for aid.

DIRECT FEDERAL AID PROGRAMS

The Pell Grant provides grants to first bachelor degree candidates who are citizens or permanent residents of the U.S. Grants generally range from $250-$2200 and may be received if financial need is demonstrated. The Financial Aid Form (FAF) may be used to apply for this program when the student applies for campus-based aid and state scholarships.

The Stafford Student Loan Program is a low interest loan made by a commercial lender such as a bank, credit union, or savings and loan association. In Maryland this program is called the Maryland Higher Education Loan Program.

For new borrowers, the interest rate is 8%. Students who have already borrowed at 7% or 9% interest rate will continue to borrow at that same 7% or 9% rate. At the time the loan is made, the lender charges two fees: a United Student Aid Funds insuring fee and a loan origination fee authorized by the Federal government. These fees are usually deducted from the loan proceeds. No interest is charged to the student, and no repayment is required until six months after the borrower graduates or leaves school or drops below a half-time course load. When repayment begins, the minimum payments are $50 per month. The actual payments will depend upon the total amount borrowed. Borrowers may have up to ten years to repay in full, although the entire loan or any portion of it may be repaid at any time without penalty.

Undergraduate students may borrow up to $2,625 for their first and second year of attendance and $4,000 a year for the next undergraduate years to a maximum of $17,250. Graduate or professional students may borrow $7,500 per year for a maximum of $54,750, including any loans made at the undergraduate level.

Applicants must complete a Stafford application and university application for financial aid, the College Scholarship Service Financial Aid Form (FAF), and turn in their Pell Grant Report (PGR) to the Financial Aid Office. The eligibility requirements are subject to change by the Federal government or state government. Additional documentation may be required.

Parents Loans to Undergraduate Students (PLUS) or Supplemental Loans to Students are loans made to the parents of dependent students, or to graduate or self-supporting undergraduate students.

For each student, a parent can borrow up to $4,000 per academic year to a maximum total of $20,000.

Independent undergraduates and graduate students can borrow up to $4,000 per academic year to a maximum total of $20,000.

A loan can be made equal to the cost of education minus any other financial aid received. Students should apply for PLUS loans only after they have applied for the Stafford and other forms of financial aid.

The interest rate is variable and begins to accrue on the day the loan is disbursed. The first payment is due within 30 days of disbursement, and borrowers usually have five years to repay the loans.

NOTE: Students applying for aid from TSU and who are eligible to apply for the Pell Grant are required to do so before aid from the university will be awarded.

CAMPUS-BASED FINANCIAL AID PROGRAMS

The term "campus-based" refers to financial aid programs for which the university receives a limited amount of money each year. All of these programs are need-based. Each eligible student will receive an award letter listing the types and amounts of aid offered. The student must respond to this offer within two weeks or the offer is cancelled.

Supplemental Educational Opportunity Grants (SEOG) are grants to undergraduate, first bachelors degree candidates with financial need.

Other Race Grants (ORG) are grants for minority undergraduate students who are Maryland residents and U.S. citizens. ORG recipients must enroll for and maintain a full-time status (12 credits).

Institutional Grants are a university funded program open to undergraduate students. IG recipients must enroll and maintain full time status (12 credits).

The Perkins Loan Funds (formerly National Direct Student Loan) program offers loans to undergraduates and graduate students at 5% interest. No interest accrues, and no repayment is due until nine months after the borrower graduates, drops below half time, or leaves school. Payments depend on the total amount borrowed. The minimum payment is $30.00 per month, principle and interest. The maximum an undergraduate student may borrow for all years of study is $9,000. Graduates may borrow a total maximum of $18,000, including any amount borrowed as an undergraduate.

The Nursing Student Loan Program offers loans to students who have been accepted into the nursing program.

The College Work Study program allows undergraduate and graduate students to work on or off campus. A CWS eligibility is assigned to qualified students as a part of their financial aid. This eligibility is the maximum dollar amount that can be earned. It is the responsibility of the student to find a CWS job and to monitor earnings so as to avoid exceeding the CWS eligibility. Most positions pay $3.35 per hour as a starting wage and students are paid every two weeks for hours worked.

NOTE: Graduate and second degree bachelor candidates may apply only for the Carl D. Perkins National Direct Student Loan, Stafford Student Loan, Plus Loan, Supplemental Student Loan, and College Work Study.

More detailed information on financial aid programs and eligibility requirements are available on request from the Financial Aid Office.

STATE SCHOLARSHIPS

The state of Maryland each year awards scholarships in several categories to legal residents of the state. These scholarships are awarded based on financial need and/or academic achievement. Students may apply for State Scholarships by using the Financial Aid Form.

The state of Maryland each year awards General State, House of Delegates, and Senatorial Scholarships to legal residents of the state. Interested high school students should consult school counselors. Students presently enrolled at Towson State University may obtain an application from the financial aid office or the State Scholarship Board, 16 Francis Street, 2nd Floor, Annapolis, Maryland 21401. The application deadline is March first for the following academic year.

STUDENT EMPLOYMENT

Jobs are available in various departments on-campus under the Regular Student Employment (RSE) Program. The starting salary for most on-campus jobs is $3.35 per hour and students are paid every two weeks for hours worked. Job descriptions are posted on a bulletin board. Financial need is not a criteria, although students receiving campus based financial aid may be limited in the amount they can earn.

The Part-Time Jobs Office assists students in locating off-campus part-time jobs within the Baltimore-metropolitan area. A variety of jobs are available. For additional information phone (301) 321-2730.

On-campus and off-campus positions are posted and updated on the job boards in the university union.

Off-campus jobs are posted on the job boards as they are received from outside organizations during the academic year and summer. These jobs include work for a variety of community agencies, businesses, and summer camps.

SALARY AND EMPLOYMENT INFORMATION

Federal regulations governing the university's participation in financial aid programs require that it provide information regarding average annual salaries which can be expected by Towson graduates in specific career-related fields of study, for example: nursing, accounting, teaching, etc. Also required is information on the success of recent Towson graduates in obtaining positions in specific career-related fields of study. This information can be obtained from the Career Placement Office located in the university union, room 217.

Scholarships Information

Administration Building, Room 113, (301) 830-3702

Coordinator: Carmel Hayden-Woelper

This office serves as the clearinghouse for information about Towson State University's student scholarships and awards not administered by the Financial Aid Office and characterized by criteria such as academic excellence and special merit in related fields of study.

PRIVATE SCHOLARSHIPS

Recipients of private scholarships, from outside organizations, should contact the Grants, Contracts and Scholarships section of the Budget Office, (301) 830-2216, for special processing instructions. Scholarships must be processed according to criteria established by the donor and/or Towson State University. Any outstanding balance created by the student's or donor's failure to provide the university with adequate, timely information becomes a financial obligation to the student.

The University Curriculum

In keeping with the university's philosophy and goals, the curriculum is designed to provide experience in both the traditional arts and sciences and in specific programs for developing knowledge in fields meeting contemporary societal needs. The curriculum is generated by 30 academic departments, encompassing over 50 majors and concentrations leading to the Bachelor of Arts or Bachelor of Science degrees. These departments also maintain a large number of minor, certificate of proficiency, and specialized programs. Courses and programs within the university curriculum are approved by the university Senate and its appropriate committees, applying the strictest standards of academic excellence, accountability, and credibility. The university is proud to offer a curriculum of breadth and depth, conventional and experimental, offering courses of study as traditional as pre-Socratic philosophy or as contemporary as computer science.

STUDENT RESPONSIBILITY

Students are expected to familiarize themselves with the University Catalog and to satisfy all published degree requirements. It is expected that students will receive assistance from general academic and faculty advisors, but students must assume responsibility for their degrees.

Students are also expected to be familiar with regulations pertaining to campus life and deportment and to conduct themselves in a way that reflects well upon themselves and Towson State University.

Finally, students are expected to maintain communication with the University and to assure that their current addresses and telephone numbers are on file in the Registrar's Office.

BACKGROUND IN THE ARTS AND SCIENCES

All degree programs of the university are based upon a fundamental background in the arts and sciences. Work in five academic groupings, called the General University Requirements, is required of all students seeking the Bachelor of Science, Bachelor of Arts or Bachelor of Fine Arts degree (see General University Requirements of All Students).

CHOOSING A PROGRAM

Many students enter the university fully aware of their academic and occupational goals. Others have yet to discover a field or program of specialization. All students are urged to explore the range of those programs that interest them by (1) reviewing the listing of offerings and requirements in this Catalog, (2) consulting with an advisor in the Academic Advising Office, Dowell 2L, (3) exploring career opportunities and vocational interests through the Counseling Center, and (4) meeting with department chairpersons and faculty advisors in various fields of interest.

CHOOSING A MAJOR

A major in an academic field is earned by completing about 12 courses or about 36 credit hours of work, the exact number being set by the academic department. Three possible benefits make the pursuit of a major desirable: it prepares the student for graduate study in the field; it prevents random study that would result in a lack of competence in any branch of knowledge; it qualifies the graduate from the teacher education program to teach the subject in junior and senior high schools.

Major Fields of Study

Students may select a major from among the following fields: accounting, art, art education, biology, business administration, chemistry, communication studies, computer science, dance, early childhood education, general education, elementary education, economics, English, French, general studies (see listing of concentrations in Arts and Sciences section), General Arts and Sciences, geography, German, health science, history, international studies, Liberal Arts and Sciences, mass communication, mathematics, medical technology, music, music education, natural science, nursing, occupational therapy, philosophy, physical education, physics, political science, psychology, social science, sociology, Spanish, speech pathology-audiology, theatre.

A concentration is a focused area of study of approximately 15-24 credits within the student's major which is formally recognized by the university and which may appear on the student's academic record.

A track is also a focused area of study within a student's major which is informally recognized by the university but may not appear on the student's academic record.

Students interested in a particular concentration within a major should contact the department for details.

DEGREE REQUIREMENTS

Bachelor of Arts Degree

A student who satisfactorily meets the following requirements will receive the Bachelor of Arts degree.

1. A minimum of 120 credit hours, which must include 32 credit hours of upper-level work and meet the General University Requirements. (Course work taken at a two-year institution will not count as part of the 32 upper-level credit hours required. Courses from a four-year institution will transfer as they were counted at the home (transfer) institution and may not be converted to an equivalent Towson number or level.)
2. Credit in the courses required of all students, of which English ENGL.102 or its equivalent must be passed with a grade of "C" or higher.
3. Credit in the required courses of the curriculum the student has elected.
4. The completion of the intermediate courses, or the equivalent, in a foreign language.
5. Successful completion of a major. A grade of "C" or higher is required in all courses in the discipline or those applied toward the major or minor of that department. If this standard is not attained, the student must repeat the course or substitute another course at the direction of the department.
6. A cumulative quality point average of at least 2.00.
7. Completion of at least 15 credit hours in degree candidate status (after formal admission to the University). Students may not apply for graduation or graduate from Towson State without having been admitted.
8. Completion of the final 30 credit hours at the university unless permission is granted by the Academic Standards Committee to earn the credits at another institution.
9. Demonstration of personal qualities which are expected of an educated individual.
10. Filing with the Registrar (AD 230) a graduation application according to deadlines published in the Schedule of Courses Booklet.

THE UNDERGRADUATE RECORDS OF ALL PERSONS RECEIVING A BACHELOR'S DEGREE ARE CLOSED APPROXIMATELY SIX WEEKS AFTER THE OFFICIAL DATE OF GRADUATION. ANY CHANGES TO THE PERMANENT RECORD MUST BE MADE BY THIS DATE.

Bachelor of Science Degree

The requirements for a Bachelor of Science degree are identical to those for the Bachelor of Arts, with the exception that the Bachelor of Science degree does not require the completion of the intermediate courses in a foreign language.

Bachelor of Fine Arts Degree

The requirements for a Bachelor of Fine Arts Degree are identical to those for a Bachelor of Science Degree with the addition of the performance and studio requirements specified by the Dance Department. The Bachelor of Fine Arts Degree is available only to students in the Dance Major.

MEETING REQUIREMENTS FOR GRADUATION

Students must fulfill the degree requirements in effect at the time of their original matriculation at Towson State, provided graduation occurs within ten years after that date. Students may opt to fulfill requirements as published in the Catalog applicable to their graduating class (year of graduation minus four years).

For example, students who matriculated at the University in fall, 1989 are given until August, 1999 to graduate under the 1989-90 University Catalog. Students who wish to follow the Catalog for their graduating class (1986-87) must consult with an academic advisor and petition the Academic Standards Committee for permission.

Students who were admitted to Towson State prior to fall, 1989 must fulfill degree requirements within seven years according to policy published in previous Catalogs.

Changes in General University Requirements do not change departmental requirements or the requirements for state certification of teacher education students. Students should consult with their advisors if they have any questions regarding their degree programs. Students must fulfill both the General University Requirements and the departmental major requirements under the same Catalog.

GENERAL UNIVERSITY REQUIREMENTS

Philosophy

General University Requirements at Towson State University are established to provide a liberal education. This liberal education core serves not merely to introduce students to a variety of disciplines, but to insure that they, regardless of the majors they have chosen, comprehend the four central branches of knowledge, their historical development, the interrelationships among them, and how each addresses the world, investigates, reaches conclusions, and presents findings. A basic liberal education is, in this sense, an understanding of the ways of knowing and modes of discourse in the fine arts, the humanities, the natural and mathematical sciences, and the social and behavioral sciences.

In addition to establishing breadth of understanding, the liberal education core also serves as the foundation from which students develop essential intellectual skills. While specific skills, such as those necessary for successful writing and speaking, may be the focus of particular courses, the more general development of skills is a cumulative process supported throughout the core; gathering and evaluating information, analyzing and interpreting, weighing alternatives, forming and expressing opinions and conclusions, appreciating diverse points of view, and moving comfortably in the realm of ideas and values.

Through developing these skills, students acquire abilities and concepts of lasting value in shaping their personal lives, developing their careers, meeting their responsibilities as citizens, and pursuing lifelong learning.

All students must gain basic experience in the arts and sciences by completing a distribution of at least 18 courses from five academic groupings.

Course Credit

General University Requirements must be fulfilled with courses carrying two or more credits (Group I A, Physical Education, and Group II, three one-credit ensemble courses, are the only exceptions).

Course Level

Prerequisites generally establish that most courses appropriate for fulfilling General University Requirements are offered at the 100 or 200 level. However, unless a restriction of choice is noted in Groups I-V below, students may choose courses at any level (100-400) to satisfy General University Requirements.

Exclusions

A course cannot be used to fulfill the requirements in more than one group of the General University Requirements.

Certain courses, by their design or specialized purpose, are not appropriate for fulfilling General University Requirements. Required developmental courses (English, Math, Reading), Internships, Practica, Independent Study, Course Research, Directed Reading or Research, Travel Study, Seminars, and Thesis courses cannot be used to fulfill General University Requirements.

Completing Requirements

Students should plan to complete lower-level coursework meeting requirements during their first two years. They are urged to complete all requirements prior to application for graduation.

Group I: Required Skills

- A. Field of Study: Physical Education
Requirement: One credit hour of physical education skill activity course(s). A partial list of the courses which satisfy this requirement are listed in the Physical Education section.
- B. Field of Study: Basic Skills in Expository Writing
Requirement: A "C" grade or better in ENGL.102, Writing for a Liberal Education, or ENGL.190, Honors College Writing.
Entering freshmen and transfer students who have not completed Writing for a Liberal Education or its equivalent before formally matriculating as degree candidates at Towson State University must complete the Writing for a Liberal Education course (ENGL.102) in residence at Towson State.
Under unusual circumstances, students may appeal to the Academic Standards Committee for an exception to this policy before they enroll in the course at another institution.
- C. Field of Study: Advanced Skills in Expository Writing
Requirement: A "C" grade or better in an advanced college writing course.

ALTERNATE GENERAL UNIVERSITY REQUIREMENTS (GURs) FOR JUNIOR TRANSFER STUDENTS

Only Maryland Community College Associate Degree Graduates are eligible for Option I of the Alternate GURs for Junior Transfer Students. All courses under Option I or II must be completed at the transfer (home) institution(s) before official enrollment at the University; this excludes any or all Towson State course work. Options I and II are valid ten years from formal admission/matriculation only. Students who exceed the ten-year statute of limitations will be required to comply with the GURs for native students. Both transfer options apply to newly enrolled students (first-time matriculants) only, not to current degree candidates or re-admitted students who previously attended TSU.

Prospective transfer students, from Maryland community colleges, whose first attendance at any institution of higher education occurs in the fall of 1990 or later will have transfer credits evaluated under the guidelines set forth by the Maryland Higher Education Commission on March 21, 1990. (See Appendix C of this catalog for details.)

Option I

Maryland community college transfer students may satisfy all of Towson's GURs by presenting an AA degree from an articulated program, prior to official enrollment as a degree candidate of Towson State University, provided they have completed minimum distribution coursework in Groups II or III, IV, and V, Writing for a Liberal Education (ENGL.102) with a grade of "C" or better (except CLEP), and a physical education skill activity course(s) at their accredited two-year transfer institution. However, the advanced college writing course must be completed in residence at Towson State University prior to graduation. Lists of approved articulated transfer programs are available at Maryland community college counseling centers and in the Admissions Office of Towson State University.

Option II

Transfer students, who have been awarded a minimum of 56 credits in transfer at the time of their original enrollment will be given credit for having met the General University Requirements provided all of the following requirements are met:

1. At the time of transfer, the student has taken the equivalent of Writing for a Liberal Education (ENGL.102) and earned a grade of "C" or better.
Note: Writing for a Liberal Education (ENGL.102) at Towson State University is equivalent to the second semester of a two-semester composition course sequence. (CLEP-not transferable.)
2. At the time of transfer, the student has completed a total of one credit hour of physical education skill activity course(s).

3. At the time of transfer, the student has completed at least 45 credit hours or 17 courses in the Arts and Sciences. The student must have completed work in at least 11 fields of study from the native GURs Arts and Sciences.
4. At the time of transfer, the student has completed the following minimum course distribution requirements, with at least 2 credits completed in each course (the groups specified are the General University Requirement groupings required for native students at Towson State University).
 - 1 course in a field of study from Group II.
 - 2 courses, each from a different field of study, in Group III.
 - 2 courses, each from a different field of study, in Group IV.
 - 2 courses, each from a different field of study, in Group V.
5. Prior to graduation from the university, the advanced college writing course must be completed in residence at Towson.

TRANSFER STUDENTS WHO HAVE NOT COMPLETED THE GENERAL UNIVERSITY REQUIREMENTS UNDER OPTIONS I OR II AT THE TIME TRANSFER IS MADE WILL BE REQUIRED TO COMPLY WITH THE GENERAL UNIVERSITY REQUIREMENTS FOR NATIVE STUDENTS WHO ORIGINALLY BEGAN THEIR FORMAL STUDIES AT TOWSON STATE UNIVERSITY.

OPPORTUNITIES FOR OFF-CAMPUS STUDY

Study Abroad

Opportunities exist for students to earn academic credit toward their Towson State degrees while studying in another country. Students may enroll in a program sponsored by an American college or university or may directly enroll in a foreign university. In order to receive transfer credit for study abroad, students must follow the proper procedure for obtaining university approval.

Students are encouraged to begin planning for study abroad as early as possible in order to select a program that is academically, financially, and linguistically appropriate. Planning guides and other resources are available at the International Education Office, Administration 313, 830-2451. Towson State University is also a member of the International Student Exchange Program (see below).

International Student Exchange Program (ISEP)

Towson State University is a member of ISEP, the International Student Exchange Program, which offers Towson State students the opportunity to enroll directly in selected universities throughout the world at approximately the same cost as a year at Towson State plus transportation expenses. Most forms of financial aid can be applied.

For further information, contact the Study Abroad Advisor at 830-2451, Administration 313.

National Student Exchange

This program allows students an opportunity to become acquainted with social and educational patterns in other areas of the United States. Through Towson's membership in the NSE, students may attend one of the 60 participating schools for a semester or a full year. For further information, contact the Director of Registration and Records.

The Student Exchange Program

The Student Exchange Program at Towson State University is designed to foster an interchange of students among Towson State University, other state colleges of Maryland, and selected institutions of higher learning in the Baltimore Metropolitan area. Bowie, Coppin, Frostburg, Salisbury, Morgan State University, St. Mary's College, the University of Baltimore, the University of Maryland, Baltimore County, Goucher, Loyola, College of Notre Dame, and Johns Hopkins participate in the program. There are no additional costs to the student.

Students desiring information concerning the Student Exchange Program should consult with the Director of Registration and Records, who will provide information, applications, participating college bulletins, and class schedules.

MILITARY SCIENCE PROGRAMS

US Army Reserve Officers Training Corps (ROTC)

Towson State University offers Army ROTC to its students through a cooperative agreement among Loyola College, TSU, and the U.S. Army.

The primary objective of the Reserve Officer's Training Corps (ROTC) program is to prepare selected students with potential to serve as commissioned officers in one of the three components of the U.S. Army: Active Army, National Guard, and Army Reserve. The program is totally voluntary and is conducted in two phases—the basic course and the advanced course.

The basic course is taken in the freshmen and sophomore years. No military commitment is incurred during this time, and students may withdraw, as with any other course, through the end of the second year. The basic course is available as an elective to all qualified students. Subjects cover the areas of U.S. Army organization, management principles; national defense; military history; leadership development; and military courtesy, discipline and customs. Various adventure activities and military field training exercises are available in conjunction with the Military Science program. Uniforms, necessary textbooks, and materials are furnished without cost to the student.

TSU students who decide after either their freshman or sophomore years that they are interested in the ROTC program may attend a special ROTC Basic Camp. This camp will fully substitute for the first 2 years of on-campus study. This camp is held for 6 weeks during the summer and all participants will receive pay and allowances.

Normally a student must have a minimum of 2 years of college remaining before graduation in order to join ROTC. However, on a case-by-case basis, students who will commit themselves to attending graduate school in order to meet the 2-year requirement may be permitted to enroll.

Except for veterans, the basic course or a basic camp must be successfully completed prior to entering the advanced course.

The advanced course is normally taken in the final two years of college. Instruction includes further leadership development, U.S. Army organization and management, administration, tactics, military structure, ethics, selected military technical skills and introduction to specific military career fields.

A paid, six-week advanced camp is held during the summer between the junior and senior years. This camp permits cadets to put into practice the principles and theories they have acquired in the classroom. It also exposes them to army life in a garrison and field environment. Additionally, there are optional training opportunities in such areas as Airborne (parachuting), Ranger school, Air Assault, Northern Warfare, and Russian language school.

All cadets in the advanced course receive uniforms, necessary military science textbooks, pay for the advanced camp, and a living allowance of $100 per month up to $1,000 each school year. The two-year program, previously described, is available to those students who have not taken Army ROTC during their first two years. Students can take advantage of this opportunity by successfully completing the paid six-week basic camp and enrolling in the ROTC advanced course in their last two years of college, provided they meet enrollment requirements. The requirements for and obligations incurred in the two- and four-year programs are the same.

Army ROTC graduates may serve three or four years, or an entire career on active duty, or request Reserve Forces duty (RFD) and serve as little as three months on active duty. The remainder of their obligation is spent in the Army Reserve or the Army National Guard where they assume roles equally important to those of their active duty counterparts.

Specialized branch assignments are made in the student's senior year which will determine the nature of his duties once he is commissioned. These specialized assignments are based largely upon the student's major field of study as well as his own personal preferences. The Army branch assignments include Adjutant General's Corps, Air Defense Artillery, Armor, Aviation, Chemical, Engineer, Field Artillery, Finance, Infantry, Military Intelligence, Military Police, Ordnance, Quartermaster, Signal, and Transportation. Special branches are available in the Chaplain, Judge Advocate General, Medical and Dental fields. Prior to graduation and commissioning, the senior student will also make known his personal preferences regarding the geographical area of the world in which he desires to serve his first tour upon entering the active army.

The Army awards scholarships on a competitive basis to outstanding young men and women who are interested in serving in the active or reserve components of the U.S. Army. Details of the ROTC scholarship program are given in the section on scholarships under Financial Aid. All TSU students are eligible to apply.

ROTC is designed to be challenging and demanding, yet rewarding and fun. Training is split between academic classroom subjects and practical field training exercises conducted at nearby military installations. Cadets will be given the opportunity to learn many basic military skills, such as rifle marksmanship and field craft. However, the training emphasis is on leadership and your ability to plan and organize and follow-up on execution. No other college course gives you hands-on actual leadership experience. This training will last a lifetime.

Enrollment for ROTC is done through the Military Science Department at Loyola. Contact the Military Science Department at 532-5043 for class days and times. Generally, freshmen and sophomores taught at Towson have classes on Monday and Wednesday afternoons. Juniors and seniors attend classes at Loyola on Tuesday and Thursday afternoons.

Air Force ROTC

Air Force ROTC is available to students at Towson State University through an agreement with the University of Maryland at College Park. Air Force ROTC courses are scheduled so that students from Towson State University may complete all of their AFROTC requirements during one morning per week at the College Park campus. In addition, students at Towson State are eligible to compete for all AFROTC scholarships—the 7, 6, 5, and 4 semester scholarships pay for total tuition at both the University of Maryland and Towson State University, for all required books, and provide a $100.00 per month subsidy for both pilot and navigator training programs. Upon graduation from Towson State University and completion of the AFROTC curriculum at the University of Maryland, the student will be commissioned a second lieutenant in the Air Force. Students who are interested in the Air Force ROTC can contact: Air Force ROTC, 2nd Floor, Cole Field House, University of Maryland, College Park, MD 20742, Telephone: 301-454-3242/3243/3245.

HONORS PROGRAMS

Honors College

The Honors College is composed of specifically designed courses, each of which fulfills a General University Requirement. Most Honors College courses cultivate a seminar climate in their focused discussion, intensiveness, and small size. The program is essentially for, but not limited to, first and second year students. Honors College courses are offered in art, biology, chemistry, economics, English, mathematics, philosophy, political science, psychology, sociology and anthropology, and speech and mass communication. A student who completes five or more Honors College courses with a 3.20 or better GPA will be graduated as a participant in the Honors College and will be so designated on the transcript and diploma.

For admission, a student must have attained an 1100 combined SAT score with a minimum of 550 verbal or have been in the upper 10 percent of his or her high school graduating class. Matriculated students with a 3.20 or better GPA may also qualify for the Honors College. More information may be obtained from Dr. Erik Scully (830-3012), Director of Honors Programs.

Departmental Honors

The Departmental Honors Program represents intensive and individualized but directed education beyond the normal course instruction. This program includes six to nine semester hours credit in seminars, directed readings (tutorials), and research projects in the major. A senior thesis is required as is an oral defense of the thesis.

To be admitted to the program, a student must present a cumulative average of 3.25 and a 3.50 average in his or her discipline. These minima must be maintained for graduation as a Departmental Honors Program participant. The student who completes an approved program will receive a diploma and transcript with the designation Bachelor of Arts or Bachelor of Science with Honors in the appropriate discipline. Currently, the departments of art, biological sciences, computer and information sciences, English, history, mathematics, modern languages, physical education, physics, political science, psychology, and sociology and anthropology offer departmental honors programs. Details of each department's honors requirements may be obtained from the appropriate chair.

The Dean's List

Full-time degree candidates are eligible for Dean's List recognition each fall and spring semester provided they complete a minimum of 12 semester hours credit and attain a 3.50 or higher quality point average.

Part-time degree candidates are eligible for Dean's List recognition each academic year provided they complete a minimum of 12 semester hours credit and attain a 3.50 or higher quality point average. An academic year is designated as fall through summer and includes the January Minimester.

Applicable course work is only that in which calculable grades (A, B, C, D, F, FX) are earned. Pass (PS), Audit (AU), and Satisfactory/Unsatisfactory (S/U) grades do not apply toward the 12-credit minimum.

Additionally, students who receive Incomplete (I) grades for the term are not eligible for Dean's List honors in that term, nor may they retroactively receive these honors once the work is made up and a letter grade is earned.

Graduation with Honors

To receive a bachelor's degree with honors, a student must have completed work at Towson State University with the following cumulative grade point average:

- 3.75 to 4.00 Summa Cum Laude
- 3.55 to 3.74 Magna Cum Laude
- 3.40 to 3.54 Cum Laude

Students must have, in addition, a cumulative 3.40 or better average for all work completed at other institutions and a minimum of 56 semester hours of work at Towson State University.

Students who do not qualify for honors because of their QPA may petition the Academic Standards Committee if they meet the following criterion:

"A student who in his or her last 56 credits at Towson State University attained a cumulative average of 3.55 or higher."

The student who is approved for graduation honors by this criterion will receive Cum Laude honors from Towson State University.

Directed Independent Study

The Directed Independent Study Program at Towson State is designed for those students who wish to undertake college studies, but who are unable to attend classes on campus or who have learning styles that lend themselves to independent work. Courses offered are from the standard curriculum but do not require regular class attendance.

Procedure:

After registration, directed independent study students should contact the respective department chair for assignment of an instructor. It is the student's responsibility to contact his or her instructor.

Students will be given a course of study and work independently to achieve its objectives, meeting four times during the course with the professor. Study guides, textbooks and other materials appropriate to the course will assist the student in his or her course of study.

These courses are for degree credit and may be taken by anyone who has a high school diploma or equivalency and is capable of doing college work.

This program is not to be confused with courses listed in the College of Continuing Studies course schedule bulletin as "directed reading" or "independent study" which are advanced courses with variable content and credit.

Academic Regulations

Academic regulations are published in the Catalog and are applicable to all undergraduate students. If the university changes academic regulations, they will be published in the next catalog and will be effective as of the date of publication, unless otherwise stated.

REGULATIONS GOVERNING ENROLLMENT

Registration

Each student is assigned a time to register. Students are not permitted to attend classes without having completed registration. A late registration fee is assessed for registering after the time assigned and within the late registration period. Students must discharge all financial obligations to the institution before they may register.

Classification of Students

Students are classified according to the number of semester hours passed: freshmen, 0-24 semester hours; sophomores, 25-55 semester hours; juniors, 56-89 semester hours; seniors, 90 semester hours or above.

Credit Hours

The unit of credit is the semester hour. It is defined as one 50-minute class per week (or its equivalent) for one semester. A three-hour class meets three 50-minute periods or two 75-minute periods a week for one semester. Laboratory and studio classes normally require two or three hours in class per week as the equivalent of one semester hour. Two hours of additional preparation are usually required for each hour spent in class.

Semester of Study

Each semester a student registers and does not cancel or withdraw prior to the first day of classes counts as a semester of study. Verified withdrawal for medical reasons or entry into the Armed Forces will not count as a semester of study.

Those students who withdraw from the university and intend to return must comply with the deadlines established for readmission. Final deadlines for submission of the request for readmission are August 1 for the fall semester and December 1 for the spring semester.

Attendance

STUDENTS ARE EXPECTED TO ATTEND ALL CLASSES. Each faculty member sets the policy on absences. Policies vary, and it is the responsibility of the student to understand clearly the absence policy of each instructor and to act accordingly. Students are expected to notify the health center and instructors by phone or in writing of any absence exceeding three days.

Student Load

The normal student load is 15-18 credit hours in each regular term (spring, fall). Students may register for one course carrying a maximum of three credit hours for the Minimester and a maximum of 15 credit hours for all summer sessions but not more than 9 credit hours in any one session.

Degree candidates in good academic standing may take up to 19 credit hours. These students must possess a minimum cumulative average of 2.00 to take 18 credit hours and a cumulative average of 2.50 to take 19 credit hours.

Students possessing a minimum 3.25 cumulative average, based on at least 30 quality hours taken at Towson State University, may carry 20 credit hours. In the last semester of the senior year, students may carry 20 credit hours provided that number of credits is needed in order to graduate and provided their cumulative average is at least 2.50.

Students possessing a minimum 3.50 cumulative average or better, based on at least 30 quality hours taken at Towson State University, may carry 21 credit hours.

Non-degree students may carry a maximum of 9 credit hours per semester.

Degree candidates wishing to take more than 19 credit hours and non-degree students wishing to carry more than 9 credit hours must petition the Academic Standards Committee prior to the registration period and will not be permitted to register for an excessive number of credit hours without written permission from the Committee.

Students wishing to carry more than 15 credit hours in the summer sessions must petition the Director of Operations and Services in the College of Continuing Studies.

Auditing Courses

Students may elect to audit a course with the written permission of the instructor. The option to audit a course may only be made during the change of schedule period each semester. Students paying fulltime tuition and fees are not charged additionally for auditing. For other students, tuition and fees vary according to the credit value of the course (e.g., 3 credits = 3 × tuition rate per credit hour + appropriate fees).

Students are advised that audited courses:

1. do not count as part of the semester's credit hour load;
2. do not count as credit toward graduation unless repeated later for credit;
3. will appear on the transcript as an "AU";
4. will appear on the transcript as "AUX", if students register for a course as an audit and fail to attend.
5. may not be used to repeat a course for which credit has already been earned.

Change of Course Schedule/Course Withdrawal

All changes in a student's schedule of courses (adding or dropping a course or a change in sections or credits) are valid only if the student completes the Course Schedule Change Form and files it with the Registrar (AD 213). Failure to do so will result in a grade of "F" or "FX" in the courses not dropped and no credit in the courses added. The grade will appear on the grade roster of the course and the student's permanent record.

No student may enter a class after the expiration of the change of schedule period noted in the academic calendar. Exceptions to this will be considered only after approval by the department chair of the course involved and the dean of the particular college or school.

Students dropping courses within the change of schedule period will have no grades recorded.

Students dropping courses after the change of schedule period, but within the period to drop with the grade of "W," will have only the "W" grades recorded on the permanent record.

Students who do not officially drop courses during the established time periods will receive the grades earned in the courses (A, B, C, D, F) as determined by the instructors.

Students with documented medical problems or verified circumstances beyond their control may petition the Director of the Office of Academic Advising (Dowell Hall, 2L) to drop courses after the established deadline and receive grades of "W." Documentation must accompany the petition. If the petition is approved, grades of "W" will be recorded.

The Academic Standards Committee does not consider failure to receive a grade in a course by the last day to drop the course with a "W," or the receipt of a low or failing grade in a course, as justifiable reasons for withdrawing from a course after the established deadline.

University Withdrawal/Cancellation

A. Withdrawal

A degree candidate wishing to withdraw from the university should obtain a withdrawal form from the Office of Academic Advising, Dowell 2L. Before the withdrawal may be processed, the student must submit the completed withdrawal form to that office. In the case of a newly admitted degree candidate, withdrawal is appropriate only if the student has attended at least one day of classes; otherwise, the student follows the cancellation procedure.

A student who withdraws subsequent to the last day to drop a course will earn the grade of "F" or "FX" unless withdrawal is for medical reasons or other extenuating circumstances. If withdrawal is for medical reasons or for extenuating circumstances and can be documented, an appeal should be addressed to the Director of the Office of Academic Advising, Dowell 2L.

B. Cancellation

Newly admitted undergraduate students who decide not to attend the university prior to the first day of classes of the semester for which admission was approved should notify the Admissions Office in writing. The student's admissions file will accordingly be cancelled and the student will be required to submit an additional application for any future entrance date.

Procedure for Readmission

A student who has officially withdrawn in good standing from the university may apply for readmission through the Office of the Registrar. Forms are available in room 236 in the Administration Building. The deadline for readmission is August 1 for the fall semester and December 1 for the spring semester.

Readmitted students must comply with General University Requirements that were stated in the Catalog at the time that they were originally admitted to Towson State. Hence, these students do not qualify for either of the transfer options.

Students who officially withdraw must comply with competency standards in effect at the time of readmission if the standards were not met prior to withdrawal.

Repeating Courses

Students may repeat a course only once where credit has been earned or a grade of "F" or "FX" has been earned, except by prior approval of the Academic Standards Committee. The Committee will not consider petitions to take a course for a third time unless students possess a minimum Quality Point Average of 2.00 without calculating the course(s) being petitioned. Grades of "W" are administrative grades and are not considered to be part of the repeated course procedure.

When a course is repeated once, students will receive credit for the course only once. Only the higher of the two grades will be calculated into the Quality Point Average. The lower grade will remain on the record with the letter "R" preceding (e.g., "RF", "RX", "RD", etc.) to indicate the course has been repeated. Upon completion of the second attempt, students must submit a "Repeated Course" form to the Records Office (AD 211) in order to bring about these adjustments to the record. The course must have been repeated for the first time after September 1, 1970.

NOTE: STUDENTS WHO FAIL TO OBTAIN PRIOR PERMISSION FROM THE ACADEMIC STANDARDS COMMITTEE TO MAKE A THIRD ATTEMPT OF A COURSE MAY NOT ADJUST THEIR RECORDS FOR THAT ATTEMPT. The grade earned in the second attempt will be used in calculation of the overall average.

Courses in which low or failing grades were earned at Towson State MUST be repeated at Towson in order for the record to be adjusted and the QPA to be recalculated. Grades earned at other institutions do not replace grades earned at Towson, nor do they alter the cumulative QPA.

Pass/D/F Option

Students may elect 12 hours toward their degree for which they may be graded on a Pass/D/F basis. If a student registers for more than six semester hours on the pass option in one semester, only six may be counted toward graduation. This option is not available for courses required for a major, minor, or for certification in teacher education unless special permission is obtained from the department concerned. A student must make all declarations or changes to the option before the end of the change of schedule period (the first six days of classes for each fall and spring semester). In order to elect this grading option, students must complete a Course Schedule Change form in the Registrar's Office (AD 213) during this change of schedule period. See calendars for Minimester and Summer Sessions for specific deadlines.

Special Format Courses

Directed readings, independent study, and colloquia are special format courses. A student may not apply more than 12 credit hours of these special format courses toward graduation. Departments may set limits for fewer credit hours, but they may not exceed the maximum of 12 credit hours set by the University Curriculum Committee. Because of the concentrated nature of these courses, students should be advised to take no more than 6 hours of upper-division special format courses per semester.

REGULATIONS GOVERNING ACADEMIC STANDARDS

Academic Standards are set to insure that a degree from Towson signifies student work meeting or exceeding a particular level of excellence.

Academic Progress and Good Standing

In order to maintain enrollment in the university, a student must possess the cumulative point averages indicated below.

MINIMUM QUALITY POINT AVERAGE REQUIRED

Credits Attempted (Includes Towson credits and accepted transfer credits)	Minimum QPA
1-24.5	1.50
25-55.5	1.75
56 and above	2.00

Students who fall below the level required for good academic standing will no longer be subject to immediate academic dismissal but will first receive the following actions:

1. Academic Warning: Degree candidates who fail to attain the minimum quality point average required, according to the above chart, receive an academic warning and must receive additional academic advising. They must attain good standing by the end of the next semester of attendance. No permanent notice of academic warning appears on the record.
2. Academic Suspension: Students failing to attain good standing at the end of any semester following academic warning are academically suspended and may not attend the university for one semester and the intervening summer/Minimester sessions. They are also discouraged from attending other institutions during this period. Work remaining to resolve any Incomplete grades, however, may be completed during this time. A notice of academic suspension will be placed on the record.
3. Academic Probation: After the suspension ends, students may be readmitted on academic probation for a maximum of one academic year, during which time they must enroll in a minimum of six credits in each semester and may enroll in a maximum of 13 credits (or a maximum of 15 credits with approval of the Director of the Office of Academic Advising). They must also receive additional advising during this period and may not register without written clearance from an advising body. A notice of academic probation will appear on the record.

Students on probation may not take more than 13 credits in any term. Students will remain on probation until they attain good academic standing. However, students may not attend on probation after 24 credits have been earned or for more than three years, whichever comes first.

Academic Dismissal

Students failing to attain good standing by the end of the probationary period will be academically dismissed. These students may not attend the university in any capacity, except in cases where extraordinary circumstances apply. Those cases will be reviewed by the Academic Standards Committee.

Procedures for Reinstatement/Readmission

Students who receive a letter regarding academic action (See "Academic Progress and Good Standing") may petition for reinstatement by petitioning the Academic Standards Committee prior to deadlines noted in the letters. Petitions will be considered on an individual basis and must provide cause for exceptions to policy. Students petitioning on the basis of medical or personal problems or circumstances beyond their control must provide supporting documentation with their letters. Students must petition the Committee directly; letters received from third parties will not be considered.

Students who are placed on academic warning but fail to attend the semester immediately following warning will be readmitted on warning and must attain good academic standing by the end of the semester of readmission or be subject to academic suspension.

Students who have been academically suspended will be readmitted on probation, regardless of their averages, but they are required to attain good academic standing within one academic year.

Students are cautioned that academic policy recommends that students who are academically suspended not take courses elsewhere during the period of suspension. Students who complete course work at other institutions during academic suspension and who wish that work to be considered for transfer to Towson State must petition the Academic Standards Committee. However, official transcripts of course work attempted at other schools must be submitted before a decision on readmission can be finalized.

Students who have been academically dismissed from Towson State are not eligible for readmission and may no longer attend the University in any capacity. STUDENTS WHO WERE ACADEMICALLY SUSPENDED OR DISMISSED FROM THE LAST SCHOOL OF ATTENDANCE ARE NOT ELIGIBLE FOR READMISSION TO TOWSON STATE.

Students who are readmitted on warning or on probation must receive verifiable academic advising before their readmissions are official and before they will be permitted to register for classes.

Applications for readmission are available in room 236 in the Administration Building. The deadline for readmission to the fall semester is August 1; the deadline for the spring semester is December 1.

The number of semesters of study for transfer students will be determined by dividing the number of credits transferred by 15, rounding the answer to the nearest lower whole number. For example, a student transferring 33 hours will be considered to have completed two semesters of study.

Grading System Effective September, 1976

Grade		Quality Points Per Credit Hour
A	Superior	4
B	Good	3
C	Satisfactory	2
D	Less than satisfactory but allowable for credit, subject to the restriction specified under Degree requirement	1
F	Unsatisfactory (no credit)	0
FX	Non-attendance or failure to withdraw (no credit)	0
	Not used in QPA calculation
U	Unsatisfactory (no credit)	0
	Not used in QPA calculation
I	Incomplete (no credit)	0
	Not used in QPA calculation
PS	Passed (course taken under PS/D/F option)	0
	Not used in QPA calculation
PE	Passed by examination	0
	Not used in QPA calculation
AU	Audit (no credit)	0
	Not used in QPA calculation
AUX	Audit (no credit)	0
	Failure to attend, not used in QPA calculation

Grades of PS, PE and S are equivalent to a grade of C or higher.

Quality Point Averages

The semester Quality Point Average is computed in a three-part process.* First, multiply the hours in a course by the quality points assigned to the grade earned in the course. Then, total the hours for all courses taken in the semester. Finally, divide the total number of quality points by the total number of quality hours to find the QPA.

*Using only courses in which grades of "A," "B," "C," "D," "F," or "FX" were awarded.

Grades of "I," "PS," "PE," "W," "S," "AU," "AUX," and "U" are not used in computation of averages.

For example:

4 hours of A	(4 points each)	16 points
4 hours of B	(3 points each)	12 points
3 hours of C	(2 points each)	6 points
3 hours of D	(1 point each)	3 points
2 hours of F	(No Credit Given)	0 points
2 hours of FX	(No Credit Given)	0 points

18 Total hours attempted

37 Total points

Dividing 37 by 18, the student's QPA for this semester is found to be 2.05.

The student's cumulative QPA is found by dividing the total quality points earned in all courses completed at Towson by the total number of credit hours attempted at Towson (excluding from the computation those credit hours attempted during the period September 1, 1973 to August 31, 1976 for which the grade of "NC" was assigned). For example, a junior has attempted 76 credit hours and has earned a total 190 quality points. His cumulative Quality Point Average is 2.50.

The grades of "S" and "U" (satisfactory and unsatisfactory) are used primarily in those courses offered for skill development and other courses that have been recommended by the academic departments and approved by the Academic Standards Committee. The grade of "S" indicates that work of "C" or higher has been accomplished and that the student has attained a level of competence sufficient to advance to the next course. A grade of "U" is given to students whose work is of "D" or "F" quality. "S" and "U" grades are not calculated in a student's QPA.

A grade of "PS" (Pass) is assigned to a course selected on the Pass/D/F option when the student receives a grade of "A," "B," or "C." The student who elects the Pass/D/F option and receives a grade of "D" or "F" will have the "D" or "F" recorded on the permanent record and used in the calculation of the QPA.

A grade of "PE" is assigned to those courses passed under the credit for experience or prior learning option. All grades are recorded on the student's permanent record but are not calculated in a student's QPA.

A grade of "I" (Incomplete) may be given by the instructor if a student is unable to complete the work required in the course because of verifiable medical reasons or documented circumstances beyond the control of the student. No credit is given for an Incomplete grade until a regular grade is assigned by the instructor. Incompletes are not counted in the student's attempted hours or calculated in the QPA.

It is the responsibility of the student to complete the work required in order for the Incomplete to be converted to a regular grade. Instructors may specify an earlier time by which the work required is due in order to remove the Incomplete. Any Incomplete grade that is not resolved by the end of the next full semester of study, excluding summer and Minimester sessions, is converted to an "F" grade, and is calculated in a student's attempted hours and QPA.

Students who are given an Incomplete should not re-register for the course. The work required must be satisfactorily completed by the last day of the next regular semester, or by the earlier date specified by the instructor, or the "I" grade will be converted to an "F" grade.

The grade of "FX" is an administrative grade and is calculated in a student's QPA. A grade of "FX" is given to those students who never attend the course or who stop attending during the semester without officially withdrawing. (If a student has officially withdrawn, a grade of "W" will appear on the final class roster.) When a student attends most of the classes but misses the final examination without a legitimate excuse, the student will receive a "zero" or "F" grade for the final examination and have that value or grade calculated with other grades earned during the semester to determine the final course grade.

Grade changes, excluding "I" grades and repeated courses, must be made within one year. After one year, requests for grade changes may be made only for verifiable medical reasons and by petition to the Academic Standards Committee.

Unsuccessful Semester

Students may petition the Academic Standards Committee for an unsuccessful semester. If the request is granted, the course(s) taken during the unsuccessful semester will remain on the official transcript together with the grades originally earned. However, none of the courses will count toward graduation, and the grades will not be calculated in the student's academic totals.

The following guidelines determine the Academic Standards Committee's approval of the declaration of an unsuccessful semester:

Five years must have elapsed between the semester in question and the date of the appeal.

A student must have successfully completed two semesters of full-time work (i.e., 24 credit hours), or the equivalent at Towson State University. This work must show a marked improvement over the work during the semester in question.

Transcripts of Academic Records

The office of the Registrar can normally process a transcript request within 72 hours except during periods of high demand at the end of each semester. During these periods, transcript requests may take longer to process. A fee of $3 will be assessed for each request. Rush transcripts, mailed the same day as the request, will be charged a $5 fee.

A student with an outstanding debt to the institution is not eligible to receive a transcript of record.

REGULATIONS GOVERNING CURRICULAR AND PROGRAM REQUIREMENTS

Degree Requirements

Degree requirements are those outlined in the Curriculum section of this Catalog.

General University Requirements

General University Requirements are those outlined under Curriculum.

Graduation With Honors

Requirements for graduation with honors are those outlined under Curriculum.

Meeting Requirements by Examination

A student can earn credit for prior learning (not prior course work) through examination by an academic department. The following departments offer credit by examination in some courses meeting General University and major requirements: biology, chemistry, economics, English, health science, history, mathematics, physical education, and psychology.

CLEP examinations (college level examination program) are offered in accounting, biology, business administration, English, psychology, and sociology. For more specific information about the examinations, contact the Credit For Prior Learning Program coordinator, 830-2023.

A student can also obtain credit for prior learning by departmental evaluation. For information about earning credit by this method, contact the individual departments.

Credit for Transfer Work

For additional information, see the admissions section of this Catalog.

Policies Pertaining to Transfer Credit:

1. Only the courses and credits completed at other institutions are transferrable to Towson State. Grades and quality point averages earned at other institutions are not transferrable. Courses must correspond to programs offered at Towson State.
2. Credit is accepted by Towson State for a course completed at any regionally accredited college or university. This credit will count toward graduation but will not be used in calculating the academic average required for graduation. Credits will transfer to Towson State as they were taken at the host institution. For example, if a student completes a 200-level course at the host institution and transfers it to TSU, the course will transfer as 200-level—even if the course's equivalent at TSU is 300- or 400-level.
3. Courses in which a grade of "D" or higher has been earned in accredited Maryland institutions are transferrable. However, courses in which a "D" grade was earned and transferred to Towson State cannot be applied to a major program. A grade of "C" or higher is required for major credit. Students must repeat any course previously transferred with a grade of "D" in order to meet major requirements; the number of credits repeated will increase the number of credits needed to fulfill graduation requirements.

For example, if a three-credit course which transferred to Towson State University with a grade of "D" is repeated at Towson State, a student must earn a minimum of 123 credit hours to be eligible for graduation.

4. Course work in which a grade of "F" has been earned at TSU may not be repeated at other institutions for the purpose of increasing the quality point average at TSU, since only the credits earned in courses at other institutions are transferable—not the grades or quality points.
Courses which have been accepted previously for transfer credit at TSU or which have been completed for credit at TSU may not be repeated at other institutions. For example, a student may not fail a course at TSU, repeat it at another college, and expect the course to transfer to the university. Moreover, a student who has already transferred a course to TSU cannot repeat it elsewhere in hopes of earning a higher grade and have the higher grade transfer to Towson State. (See "Repeated Course Policy" heading under Academic Regulations in this Catalog.)
5. Students who have earned 64 or more total credits (including any transfer credits) may not take courses at a community college for the purpose of transferring the credits earned toward a degree from Towson State.
6. Students with fewer than 90 total credits may take courses at any accredited four-year institution, for the purpose of transfer, if permission is granted in advance by the Academic Standards Committee.
7. Students may not take courses at other institutions if they are within the last 30 credits required for a degree from Towson State. Students may petition the Academic Standards Committee, in care of the Registrar, for an exception to this policy. Such petitions must be presented before students register for courses at another institution. Exceptions are granted only in cases of extraordinary circumstances.

Students seeking an exception for courses required of the major or minor program must include with the petition form a brief note from the department chair supporting the request and accepting the course and credits toward the major or minor.

8. Towson State students who wish to take courses at other accredited institutions with the intent of applying those credits toward a degree at Towson State must complete a Petition to Transfer Credit Form available in the Registrar's Office. The petition requires the signature of the chair of the department in which the course(s) is (are) offered at Towson State. Petitions must be completed and returned to the Registrar's Office and approved by the Academic Standards Committee before registration for the course(s) at another institution.
9. Entering freshmen and transfer students who have not completed Writing for a Liberal Education or its equivalent before formally matriculating as degree candidates at Towson State University must complete this course (ENGL.102) in residence at Towson State. Under unusual circumstances, students may appeal to the Academic Standards Committee for an exception to this policy before they enroll in the course at another institution.
10. No Advanced Skills in Expository Writing (Second Writing) course may be transferred from a two-year institution and applied toward fulfilling the university's requirement for Group I-C of the 1985 General University Requirements or Group IV-C of the pre-1985 GURs. Writing courses taken at a four-year accredited institution may be considered as meeting this requirement upon petition for evaluation by the appropriate academic department and, where necessary, by TSU's English Department. Petitions are initiated through the Academic Standards Committee c/o Registrar's Office.

University Resources

These programs aid students in meeting university goals. The services described below are offered at no charge to students, although the availability of some services varies according to the demand for them. The university will also assist students in obtaining services off-campus, but, in that case, the costs must be paid by the students.

ADVISING

Towson State University is committed to providing comprehensive advising designed to enrich the educational experiences of every student. Accordingly, all students are required to see a faculty advisor each semester prior to registering. Students who have chosen a major are urged to visit the appropriate department as early as possible in order to complete a "declaration of major" form and to request assignment to a departmental advisor. Students who have not yet chosen a major are assigned to an advisor through the College of Liberal Arts.

In addition, the following offices exist to help students with their advising needs:

Academic Advising Center

Dowell Hall, 2nd Level, (301) 830-2472, 830-2473

The Academic Advising Center provides general advising for full-time undergraduate students and functions as a clearinghouse for information about the university's policies, procedures, and requirements. While the center specializes in serving large numbers of students through its various group programs, it also assists individuals with setting academic goals, selecting courses, meeting standards, and reviewing progress toward the completion of general university requirements.

Students who wish to review their fulfillment of the general requirements may seek the assistance of the Academic Advising Center. Students may also obtain the latest information about forms, procedures, and regulations. The Center provides special assistance for students who are having difficulty maintaining academic good standing. The Academic Advising Center advises students who are withdrawing from the University as well as students whose health necessitates a complete separation from the university or a reduction in course load. The Center conducts a "junior audit" to inform students about requirements they have remaining to fulfill after they have completed 80-90 credits.

The College advising unit, serving the part-time, adult, evening and weekend degree candidate, as well as the non-degree and lifelong learning student, offers comprehensive one-stop advising. Academic advisors are available daily Monday through Thursday from 9:00 a.m. to 9:30 p.m., and Friday from 9:00 a.m. to 5:00 p.m. when school is in session. In addition, limited Saturday hours are available during fall and spring semesters.

"Open Advising" days are held during the year on the third Tuesday of every month excluding January and August, wherein advisors will be available on a first-come, first-served basis to accommodate students who need immediate answers to questions regarding scheduling, registration, or student status. Telephone advising is also available during selected hours.

Individual advising sessions may be scheduled by appointment throughout the semester. Special group advising sessions, such as for academically warned students or those interested in a particular major, are also scheduled. Persons wishing advising or consultation are urged to call 830-2471 well in advance for an appointment.

Orientation Department

Newell Hall, (301) 830-2309

Students who are new to the university attend a TRIAD program in July, August, or January, before they begin their first semester. TRIAD initiates students' transition to TSU by helping them to interpret policies, requirements, and standards; to select courses and plan schedules; and to register for classes. The program also helps new students to understand the freedoms and responsibilities they will assume at TSU and it explains the resources and facilities that the university provides for them. The emphasis is on enabling the students to make well-informed decisions about their own education. The orientation office also conducts programs for students' families and directs Project Marj, a wilderness challenge course for new students. In addition this office publishes Compass: The TSU Student Handbook, the TSU Family Handbook, and the Family Newsletter.

ASIAN ARTS CENTER

Fine Arts, Room 236, (301) 830-2807

The Asian Arts Center is a key resource for students and faculty in such fields as: Art History, Asian Studies, Music, Philosophy and Theatre. The Center regularly hosts exhibitions, lecture/workshops, films and concerts, featuring nationally and internationally renowned speakers, artists and performers. In addition to covering the spectrum of Asian art, the Center also proudly serves as a social and cultural link between metropolitan area Asian communities and the University.

As a museum, the Center houses and displays many of the University's most significant and valuable pieces of art in the relaxed and tasteful surroundings of the Roberts Gallery. The Roberts Gallery, however, is more than just a showcase for the visual, esthetic, and cultural values of Asian art. It is a highly visible symbol of the University's commitment to the arts and to its goals of developing and nurturing multicultural awareness in an academic setting.

CAREER AND EMPLOYMENT SERVICES

Career Placement Center

University Union, Room 217, (301) 830-2233

Hours: M-F, 8:30 a.m. - 4:30 p.m.

Open Tuesday until 7:00 p.m. during Fall and Spring semesters

The placement staff assists Towson State University students with their preparation and search for meaningful and satisfying careers. Services provided by the staff include:

- Credential service and Career Placement Center Handbook*

- On-campus interviewing and recruiting by employers*

- Job mailer subscription*

- Resume file*

- Postings of full-time degree and non-degree employment

- Seminars and workshops pertaining to job search, resume writing, and interview techniques

- On-campus career awareness programs in conjunction with academic departments and student organizations

- Individual advising regarding employment and careers

- Library and resource room containing directories, employer information, career literature, audio and video tapes, handout materials, job listings, and graduate school catalogs.

*Indicates services for seniors, graduate students, and alumni registered with the career placement center. There is a $4.00 registration fee to establish a credential file and to cover the cost of providing four copies of the file to employers or graduate schools of the student's choice.

All other services and programs for undergraduates are free of charge and open to everyone.

Part-Time Jobs Office

University Union, Room 217, (301) 830-2730

PTJO assists Towson State students in obtaining part-time and summer employment while attending the university. Through the PTJO, students can find jobs that will provide them with valuable work experience and supplement their incomes.

The PTJO office is located in the career placement center. It is open year round and is an Equal Opportunity Referral Service.

COMPUTING SERVICE

Cook Library, Ground Floor, (301) 830-3916

Computer support for instruction and research is provided by the Academic Computing Service. This modern, growing facility operates a VAXcluster, consisting of a DEC VAX 11/785 and a state-of-the-art DEC VAX 8700 computer. Operating independently of the VAXcluster, but networked with it, are a DEC microVAX II computer and a DEC VAXstation 3100, which also serves as a graphics workstation, thereby affording faculty and students the capability of working with state-of-the-art graphics. The two major campus computing centers are linked by a fiber-optic "backbone," which will ultimately give us the capability of networking all major buildings via local ethernet, linked to the Academic Computing Center.

The center includes an open Laboratory providing on-line terminals and printers for students and faculty, a demonstration classroom, and microcomputer facilities. Additional terminals are distributed in satellite centers in Smith, Stephens, Psychology, Linthicum, and Hawkins Halls, and units in instructional departments for classroom and laboratory use. Available VAX software now includes ADA, APL, BMDP, C, 20/20 (spreadsheet), KERMIT, LISP, MINITAB, ORACLE (data base management), SAS, SPSSX, SPSSX-Graphics, SYMAP, VAX Word Perfect and XMODEM, as well as all the standard languages and various instructional packages.

The Academic Computing Service is a member of the nationwide BITNET and INTERNET networks and makes its facilities for information transfer available to all faculty and most students at no charge. BITNET gateways also provide access to other major networks, such as Internet, CSnet, EARN (Europe) and other international networks in Israel, Australia and the Far East. Access is also provided to the University of Maryland/College Park TCP/IP network.

COUNSELING

Counseling Center

Glen Esk, (301) 830-2512

College life presents students with many challenges to face and tasks to master: maintaining good academic standing and succeeding in coursework, developing friendships and intimate relationships, choosing a major, deciding on a possible career, clarifying one's own personal value system, and generally preparing for a successful and productive future. Because it is understood and expected that for students to grow and change they often must struggle with conflict and difficult issues, the Counseling Center exists to support and enhance student development in academic, social, vocational, and personal areas.

Personal Counseling. Individual, couple, and group counseling services, focusing on personal, social, and/or career concerns are available. The Center also offers a series of time limited workshops and groups whose topic may revolve around a life theme (e.g. loneliness, eating disorders), life skills (e.g. stress management, assertiveness training), and life transition (e.g. dealing with loss and bereavement).

Career Development. A two-credit course (GENL 121, Personal Life and Career Planning) is offered, as are a series of career choice workshops each semester. A fully functioning Career Library is maintained, complete with the latest occupational and educational information and staffed by student paraprofessionals. Also, DISCOVER, a computer assisted career guidance program is available, as well as the World of Work Map, a self-help guide to identifying occupations. These services are available during the normal operating hours of the Center.

COPE-LINE. An anonymous self-help information and referral service containing over 400 tapes covering a broad spectrum of mental health and consumer issues. Hours of operation coincide with the TSU Cook Library schedule. Free brochures are available through the Counseling Center.

Outreach and Consultation. Center staff are available to consult with students, faculty, and staff on such topics as improving the campus environment, group issues, and generally dealing with the quality of student life. Special workshops and programs are offered for residence halls, student organizations, classes, faculty and staff groups.

Mental Health

Health Center, (301) 830-2466, 830-2469

Free psychiatric services are available to all students, faculty and staff, at the campus health center.

Use of the mental health service is entirely confidential. Students may drop in at the health center, or arrange appointments by telephone or through the counseling center. In addition, the mental health service is available to various groups on campus as they address mental health concerns. Students who wish to have psychiatric collaboration or participate in these activities are encouraged to contact the director of the mental health service at the health center.

HEALTH SERVICES

Health Center

Dowell Health Center

The Student Health Service, located in the Dowell Health Center, is open weekdays all year, with the exception of Christmas and Thanksgiving breaks and intersessions. Hours are 8 a.m.-5 p.m. during the academic semesters and 8 a.m.-4 p.m. January minimester and summer sessions. For after-hours emergencies, students should call the University Police, X2133, who will arrange transportation to a local emergency room.

Appointments are required for non-urgent problems and may be made by calling 830-2466 between 7 a.m. and 5 p.m. Walk-in patients will be evaluated by a trained nurse and referred to a clinician or given the first available appointment.

The SHS has a well-trained staff of physicians, nurse practitioners, physician's assistants, and a health educator. Most services are free or offered at minimal cost. These include treatment of common illness and injuries, a full range of reproductive health services and simple lab tests.

X-rays, outside lab and other diagnostic tests, and physician or hospital referrals are the student's financial responsibility. For this reason, health insurance is strongly recommended. The University offers a very basic insurance plan which provides some coverage for such services.

All entering students must meet the University's immunization requirements prior to registration. This should be done prior to arrival on campus as the Health Center does not routinely offer immunizations.

The SHS will provide physical education exemptions, medical parking permits, and special residence arrangements only with adequate medical documentation from the student's personal physician. Notes justifying class absence are given only under special circumstances at the discretion of the staff.

Athletic medicine services are provided to intercollegiate athletes at the Towson Center Training Room by a staff of athletic trainers under the supervision of the Director of Athletic Medicine, a board-certified orthopedic surgeon.

Speech-Language-Hearing Clinic

Van Bokkelen Hall, Room 001, (301) 830-3095

Diagnostic and therapeutic services of the speech-language-hearing clinic are available, without charge, to all members of the Towson State faculty, staff, and student body. Speech, hearing, and language evaluations for all ages and all types of communicative disorders are available. Audiological services include complete hearing testing, hearing aid evaluations, and hearing aid dispensing. Appointments can be made by phoning the above extension.

Therapeutic services are provided for children and adults experiencing difficulty in comprehending and using oral communication. Treatment is provided for the following types of communication disorders: language, articulation, cleft palate, stuttering, hard of hearing, voice, aphasia, laryngectomy.

Sickness and Accident Insurance

The university offers students the opportunity for year-round health and accident coverage at a nominal fee. All Resident students are required (and all others are encouraged) to obtain adequate coverage.

Premiums are determined as follows:

Age Ranges	Full Year	Second Semester
16-34	$228	$129
35-44	295	166
45-54	389	219
55-64	497	257
65 and over	679	380

Additional information is contained in the insurance brochure available at orientation and registration or from the Counseling Center and the Residence Department.

INTERCOLLEGIATE ATHLETICS

With the motto "Athletic Excellence With Integrity," Towson State University is committed to a comprehensive intercollegiate athletic program for men and women as an integral part of the student's total educational experience. The men's program, which numbers 11 varsity sports, enjoys Division I membership in the National Collegiate Athletic Association, the East Coast Conference (ECC), and the Eastern College Athletic Conference. The Tigers field men's varsity teams in football, soccer, cross country, basketball, swimming, baseball, lacrosse, tennis, track (indoor and outdoor) and golf.

The women's program fields 11 varsity teams: basketball, cross country, field hockey, gymnastics, lacrosse, swimming, tennis, volleyball, indoor and outdoor track and softball.

Both the men and women compete for state, regional, and national honors under the guidance of an outstanding coaching staff. The Towson Center complex is the official home of the Tigers and includes a 5,000 seat arena and 5,000 seat stadium, making it a showcase facility in the metropolitan Baltimore area. Scholarships are available for gifted student-athletes. All students are encouraged to participate according to their interests and abilities. Prospective student-athletes interested in competing on a varsity team should contact the head coach of that sport.

INTERNSHIP/COOPERATIVE EDUCATION (I/CE)

I/CE is an elective program in which sophomores, juniors, and seniors of good academic standing:

1. alternate semesters of classes with periods of full-time paid employment —co-ops— in approved pre-professional positions in business, industry, and private and public agencies.
OR
2. combine with their classes approved work —internships— paid or voluntary, at least 100 hours per semester. All internships carry academic credit. Most departments have created a course through which students register for credit after they have been hired for an internship. The number of credits and criteria for eligibility are determined by each academic department. I/CE staff inform students of and screen students for fulfillment of departmental criteria and coordinate placement of qualified students into internships.

Participating departments include: accounting and finance, art, biology, chemistry, computer science, economics, English, geography and environmental planning, international studies, management, marketing, mass communication, mathematics (co-op only), modern languages, physical education, physics, psychology, and sociology.

Students interested in the I/CE program should attend an information session (held every Monday and Tuesday, Fall and Spring semesters and every Monday, minimester and summer sessions, 3:00 p.m., Lida Lee Tall 307), or, if they cannot attend, phone 830-2932 to arrange an individual interview.

JUDICIAL AFFAIRS

Administration, Room 104, (301) 830-2057

When a student is alleged to have violated the Student Code of Conduct or the Residence/Board Contract, this office interviews and counsels students in the discipline process and facilitates the student appeal process. The office also serves as a resource to faculty and administrators.

LIBRARY FACILITIES

Albert S. Cook Library, (301) 830-2462

The Albert S. Cook Library opened in 1969. It is a functional, open-stack library near the center of the campus, and has a seating capacity of 1,500. Among its facilities are a reserve collection, individual carrels for quiet study, typewriters, reading machines for microforms, equipment for listening to tapes and records, information retrieval equipment, film services, video services, A-V equipment delivery, and the electronics repair shop. An automated circulation system provides accurate and efficient book control.

With a collection of approximately 1,096,000 items and approximately 2,500 periodicals, the library is a growing and increasingly important part of the university community. In order to provide proper library resources to support the curriculum, faculty members select many of the 45,000 items added each year. The library has a U.S. Government Documents Depository, Maryland State Documents Depository, collections of textbooks and curriculum guides for elementary and secondary education, a collection of educational resource documents (ERIC), a collection of early English literature, a strong women's studies collection, and a collection of early American periodicals. The reference department services include group and individual instruction in finding information for class assignments and automated bibliographic searching for research projects.

In addition to the materials in the Cook Library, Towson students are fortunate to have nearby the resources of two major public library systems and the Maryland Historical Society Library. Towson also has a cooperative borrowing agreement with other UMS libraries.

MINORITY AFFAIRS

University Union, Room 217, (301) 830-2051

Towson State University is committed to a multicultural, multi-racial environment which is conducive to the equal educational opportunity of the population we serve. To this end, the Office of Minority Affairs works to assure that the needs and concerns of minorities are recognized, responded to and reflected in the academic and social services, policies and programs of the university. The Office of Minority Affairs is also a consultative support service for faculty, students and staff. The African-American Cultural Center is the cultural arm of the Office of Minority Affairs.

African-American Cultural Center

Media Center, (301) 830-2641

The African-American Cultural Center (AACC), sponsors programs and activities which reflect the life styles, history, and culture of peoples of African descent. The Center also seeks to stimulate scholarship at Towson State University in the areas of African-American, African-Caribbean, and African studies. The Center sponsors the Towson State University Gospel Choir, publishes a newsletter, "Ebony Notes", hosts lectures and discussion groups, provides information and referral, showcases amateur and professional artists, and sponsors the Visiting Lecturers Grant program.

The Center, which houses an ever growing collection of art, music, and popular and scholarly literature, provides a comfortable setting in which to study, relax, and socialize. Student or staff groups may reserve the Center for meetings and informal gatherings.

The Closet

University Union, Room 217

Located just inside suite 217 in the University Union is the Closet. This room houses a wealth of information concerning graduate schools, fellowships, scholarships, employment opportunities and other news relevant to Black students, faculty and staff. The information is updated regularly and no appointment is necessary so interested parties are encouraged to stop by often.

The SAGE Program

University Union, Room 317, (301) 830-2292

The SAGE (Students Achieve Goals through Education) program is another component of Towson State University's student retention effort and focuses on increasing the academic and social success of entering black students. Each student is matched with a small group of fellow new students, an upperclass "buddy", and a faculty or administrator "mentor." Through these relational experiences, the SAGE program encourages students to achieve optimal academic performance, awareness of campus wide resources, knowledge of campus activities, and involvement in campus life. The SAGE program sponsors a variety of social activities throughout the year and provides informal academic advising and counseling services for students.

RECREATIONAL SPORTS

The Towson State University Division of Recreational Sports (Intramural Sports, Informal Sports, and Club Sports) provides opportunities for all members of the campus community to participate in a variety of formal and informal activities and events regardless of sex, age, skill level, or sports interest.

Through active involvement in the programs offered participants and student employees can develop a permanent and positive interest in recreational sports participation and the benefits of an active lifestyle.

Intramural Sports. The program is designed to provide a cooperative experience, based on fellowship through competitive and non-competitive sports. Offering more than 20 different activities, ranging from weight-lifting to badminton (teams and individuals). Most sports involve men's, women's and co-rec teams.

Informal Sports. Students, faculty and staff are encouraged to participate in a variety of unstructured recreation activities between classes, noon time, and evenings. The gymnastics, the weightroom and the swimming pool are available when classes, intramurals or athletic practices are not scheduled.

Club Sports. For students, faculty and staff with special interests, the Club Sports experience has proven to be quite rewarding and educational. Clubs are student run with faculty advisors.

RESIDENCE PROGRAM

Newell Hall, Lower Level, (301) 830-2516

The residence program provides living facilities for full-time degree candidates and promotes educational programs and activities which supplement the academic mission of the university. The residence staff and the elected executive board of the residence council strive to maintain an environment conducive to the individual's achievement of academic goals and development of self-reliance, leadership, and life skills.

Residence facilities are available to students only when classes are in session. No student is permitted to remain in residence more than 48 hours after ceasing to attend classes or dropping below full-time degree status without approval through the Center for Academic Advising.

SPECIALIZED SERVICES

Office of Commuter Affairs

University Union, Room 313, (301) 830-3307

The Office of Commuter Affairs promotes commuter student involvement in the operations, policies, and activities of the University and advises the Commuter Association of Towson State (C.A.T.S.).

The office provides information on transportation, MTA bus schedules, carpooling, parking, and other commuter concerns. Programs include "Good Morning Commuters," which offers free coffee and donuts to commuters every Tuesday morning in the Potomac Lounge. The office also assists in the publication of the COMMUTER EXPRESS.

The Commuter Message Board and the Rideshare Board are located on the first floor of the University Union next to the elevators. Commuter students can use the Message Board to communicate with other commuters, and all students can use the Rideshare Board to find weekend and holiday rides to in- and out-of-state locations. Notices about upcoming commuter student events and meetings are also posted on the Message Board and on the Commuter Association Board on the first floor of the Union.

English Language Center

Hawkins Hall 101-I, (301) 830-2552

The English Language Center offers intensive English instruction for students who are preparing for admission to the University. The ELC also provides courses for those students who have been admitted to Towson State but who need to improve certain language skills. The Center is also open to students who are not preparing for university study; however, the course objectives remain academically oriented.

English As A Second Language

Linthicum Hall, Room 218-H, (301) 830-2944

The English as a Second Language (ESL) Program tests and places all non-native speakers of English admitted to the university, in preparatory college writing courses. When necessary, students are placed in one of three developmental classes or special sections of college writing.

Handicapped Students' Services

Dowell Hall, Second Level, (301) 830-2638 (Voice or TDD)

Towson State University is in full compliance with section 504 of the Rehabilitation Act of 1973 and is committed to offering educational opportunities to all who can profit from them. All programs and activities at the university are made available to disabled persons. Prospective students, as well as students currently enrolled who have physical disabilities, are urged to register with Handicapped Students' Services as early as possible. Accommodations are provided according to individual need. Services include: readers, writers, interpreters, notetakers, arrangements to help remove or circumvent architectural, social, or procedural barriers, and information on special equipment available at TSU.

International Student Center

Hawkins Hall, Room 103-C, (301) 830-2421

The International Student Center coordinates services and programs for Towson State's international students in the following areas:

- immigration matters
- university regulations and services
- community and campus intercultural programs
- personal and academic concerns
- orientation for new students

For information about international student admissions requirements and procedures, see the "Undergraduate Admissions" section of this Catalog.

Center for New Student Relations

The Center for New Student Relations is a resource for new freshmen and transfer students as they make their way through their first semester at Towson State. Starting with outreach programs soon after the semester begins, the Center hosts programs to introduce students to the campus, both the physical and procedural aspects. At the same time, it is a drop-in Center where new students can ask questions and be assured that if the people there can't answer the question, they will find out who can and where the answer lies.

Non-traditional Age Students Program

The program consists of a series of lectures, workshops, and get-togethers for students who are 23 years of age or older. Stress management, career development, and time management are just a few of the topics that are presented. Many students, however, simply use the get-togethers as a way to meet and socialize with other non-traditional age students.

An emergency card file is kept for students who might need to be contacted in an emergency. This file is kept in the Student Services Office, Administration Building, 100, telephone 830-2055.

Student Day Care Center

Lida Lee Tall, (301) 830-2652

The Student Day Care Center was established by and continues to be assisted financially by the Student Government Association. The center provides quality care for the children of Towson State University students and offers the children opportunities for physical, emotional, and intellectual growth.

Children of ages two through five are eligible for the day program, and children of ages three and one-half through 12 for the evening program. Space is limited in both programs, so it is important to submit a formal application to the center as early as possible. The center accepts children on a first-come, first-served basis, but it gives priority to the children of full-time students.

Tuition for the day program is based on a sliding scale. A fixed fee is charged for Evening Care and After School and Before School Programs. The center follows the academic calendar. It is open from 7:30 a.m. until 10:00 p.m. whenever the university is in session.

Tutorial Services Center

University Union, Room 317, (301) 830-2291

Students should seek tutorial assistance as soon as a course problem occurs. While the instructor is the primary source of assistance when course content questions arise, the Tutorial Services Center serves as a secondary resource. The Center provides one, possibly two hours of individual and/or group tutoring weekly for each requested course. Services are free of charge, available on a first-come, first-served basis, and depend upon the availability of qualified staff.

In addition to course tutoring, the Center also provides supplemental, computer-assisted instruction in accounting, English grammar, algebra, trigonometry, logic, Spanish and study skills.

Additional academic resources include:

- * The Chemistry Tutoring Service
- * The Computer Science Tutoring Service
- * The Learning Center
- * The Modern Languages Tutoring Service
- * The Physics Tutoring Service
- * The Writing Lab

Veterans' Affairs

Administration, Room 236, (301) 830-2097

The office of the Registrar provides coordination between veteran/dependent students and the Baltimore regional office of the Veterans Administration. The director of Registration and Scheduling establishes procedures and prepares forms and correspondence for eligible students to receive educational benefits. Additionally, that officer monitors class attendance and evaluates academic progress to ensure that satisfactory progress of those receiving benefits is maintained and also supervises the employment of VA work/study students.

Students taking courses at other institutions concurrently with courses at Towson State University may be certified for both institutions by the TSU Registrar.

Students may visit the office daily from 8:30 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. without appointments.

The normal time for processing an enrollment certification is six weeks. Certification is not automatic. The proper VA forms must be completed each semester.

Withdrawals

When students must decrease credit load during the course of the semester, they must notify the office of the Registrar. Failure to do so will result in termination of benefits and a financial debt to the Veterans Administration.

FX Grades

The student who receives an "FX" at the end of a term should contact the Registrar's office immediately. Failure to do so will result in a substantial financial debt to the Veterans Administration.

Change of program

Veterans may change their academic program once without VA clearance. For more than one change of program, however, the veteran is required to undergo VA counseling. A change of program with the VA is required whenever a veteran makes a curriculum change in which any of the courses for which VA benefits were previously received do not transfer into the new program or whenever the student declares a new major or matriculates at a different institution.

Independent Study

Payment for independent study courses will generally be made on a tuition and fees basis only. Monthly rates may be paid for such courses, provided that more than half of the total number of credits for that semester are in courses requiring class attendance. Check with the Registrar's office to determine eligibility to pay for independent study courses.

Advance Payment

The advance payment consists of the allowance for the remaining portion of the initial enrollment month plus the full allowance for the next month. Students are not guaranteed two full calendar months pay; therefore, they must not expect advance pay to completely cover tuition and fees. The advance pay can be applied for only if the student will be enrolling at the university on at least a half-time basis and meets the established office deadlines.

Students may request advance pay for the regular academic semesters by signing an enrollment certification in the office of veterans' affairs. These forms will not be mailed to students and must be signed at least six weeks prior to the beginning of the semester. Evening hours will be established each semester for students who are unable to come in during the day.

Approved program

The VA will pay the veteran only for the courses listed in the university Catalog that are required for a degree. If students take courses in addition to those listed for their curriculum, they will not be entitled to receive VA benefits for them.

Women's Center

Media Building, (301) 830-2666

The Women's Center is located on the third floor of the Media Building and consists of a lounge, library, and office. The drop-in lounge is available to all for study, conversation, or a moment of relaxation.

The Women's Center maintains an extensive library containing many books by and about women, and also periodicals, information files, bibliographies, and a collection of women's studies syllabi. Because a large part of this collection is available nowhere else on campus, women's studies students or students doing papers or projects focusing on women find the women's center's library especially useful.

A wide ranging referral system offers information about campus and community groups and organizations, individuals with skills and expertise in specific areas, and individual professionals in the fields of medicine, law, mental health, etc. The center provides a bulletin board where job notices, conferences, and news-letters relating to women from all over the country are posted.

Throughout the academic year a variety of programs will be offered free of charge to the public.

STUDENT DEVELOPMENT

University Union, Room 313, (301) 830-3307

The Student Development Office offers advising to the Student Government Association and its affiliated organizations. The office is the administrative center for Omicron Delta Kappa National Leadership Honor Society and is responsible for the Office of Greek Affairs, the Office of Commuter Affairs, programs for non-traditional age students, a drop-in center for gay, lesbian, and bisexual students, and a center for student volunteerism. Students visit the Student Development Office to discuss all aspects of student life, student activities, and student organizations, and to obtain information about how to use the University's many resources.

Office of Greek Affairs

The Office of Greek Affairs advises individual fraternities and sororities, the Coalition of Black Greek Letter Organizations, the Interfraternity Council, and the Panhellenic Association. It also administers the Richmond Hall Greek Housing Program.

Also available from this office is information about greek organizations, including scholarship, membership recruitment, organizational matters, community activities, campus programming, and local, state, federal, and university laws and policies.

Student Government Association

University Union, Room 226, (301) 830-2711

The Student Government Association is an integral part of the university community and is recognized as a contributing participant in the governance of the university.

Upon enrolling at Towson and paying the student activity fee, each full-time undergraduate student automatically becomes a member of the SGA. The organization itself consists of an executive branch, composed of a president, vice president, treasurer, and various appointed officials, and a legislative body called the Senate, composed of 14 students elected at large and one student appointed from the freshman class.

The Student Government Association operates on a budget allocated from student fees and has fiscal autonomy. In accordance with the mission of the university, the broad objectives of the SGA are outlined in the Student Government Association constitution.

1. to improve student awareness and welfare;
2. to foster the recognition of the rights and responsibilities of students;
3. to fulfill responsibly those privileges of self-government; and
4. to sponsor out-of-class experiences which complement in-class experiences.

The Student Government Association's activities enhance the educational and social experiences of students as members of the university community. All students are invited to aid in planning and to participate in its events. Also, all students are invited to attend meetings every Tuesday of the regular semester at 4 p.m. in the University Union.

The Student Government Association sponsors the Speaker Series, Homecoming activities, Holiday Bazaar, Film Series, Rathskeller, finals week study hall and survival kits, Spring Spree, the Senior Prom, and a variety of cultural and sporting events both on and off campus. The SGA also co-sponsors dances and the Club Potpourri.

Student Organizations

University Union, SGA Office, (301) 830-2711

There are over 80 student-run organizations recognized by the Student Government Association. These groups provide students with a variety of opportunities and experiences. They also produce the major student publications of the university, such as Towerlight, the weekly student newspaper; Tower Echoes, the yearbook; and The Grub Street Wit, the literary magazine.

Other types of organizations recognized by the SGA include the campus radio station, WCVT, cultural organizations, fraternities and sororities, future professional organizations, honorary societies, major-related organizations, special interest clubs, and religious organizations.

Additional information about student organizations and extra-curricular activities can be obtained by calling the SGA Office at 830-2711 or referring to the student handbook, Compass, which can be obtained at the Orientation (Triad) Office.

UNIVERSITY UNION

University Union facilities are designed to provide both an educational center for out-of-class activities and a center for student services. The union houses educational and cultural programs of value for the entire academic community, complementing the university curriculum. The union is also the place where resident and commuting students, faculty, staff, and alumni can establish social activities, relax and share experience.

The first level of the three-story brick structure includes a snack bar, university store, vending area, post office, banking machine, locker rooms, ticket office, art services, recreation center, eight bowling lanes, I.D. Center, the Student Activities Board and parking services office. The second level includes a cafeteria, a dining room and lounge, art gallery, the Potomac Lounge, a specialty candy and cookie shop, student organizations offices, placement office, events and conference services, auxiliary services, University Union and dining services administrative offices. The third level contains the tutorial services center, six conference rooms, a photographic laboratory, a reception lounge, a large multipurpose room, plus the offices of Commuter Affairs and Student Development.

University Ticket Office

Towson Center, Main Lobby, (301) 830-2244, and University Union, Ground Floor (301) 830-3295

The University Ticket Office provides the university community with a variety of tickets for both on-campus and area events. Student-sponsored activity tickets, Student Activity Board and Student Government Association sponsored events are sold through the Ticket Office located in the University Union. Tickets to events and athletic contests at the Towson Center/Minnegan Stadium are available at the ticket office at the Towson Center. The Ticket Office at the Towson Center is also an outlet for all Ticket Center events, including those held at the Baltimore Arena and the Capital Center.

Post Office

University Union, Ground Floor, (301) 830-2260

The Post Office provides full postal services, excluding parcel post packages and registered mail addressed to foreign countries. The Post Office is located on the ground floor of the University Union. It provides window service from 9:00 a.m. until 4:00 p.m. Monday through Friday.

Each resident student is assigned a mailbox. Students should visit the Post Office to receive their box numbers and combinations.

University Store

University Union, Ground Floor, (301) 830-2323

The University Store supplies all required and recommended textbooks as well as a selection of general reading materials including reference/study aides, current fiction and nonfiction works, children's books and magazines. Other available products include basic school/art supplies, computer supplies, film and film processing, health and beauty aids, snacks, gifts and greeting cards. Specialty TSU emblematic merchandise such as glassware, stationery, and imprinted adult and children's apparel distinguish the University Store from other general retail outlets. The approved Towson State University class ring is also available through the University Store. The Store accepts personal checks accompanied by appropriate identification. MasterCard and Visa charge cards are accepted.

The College of Continuing Studies

The College of Continuing Studies at Towson State University provides degree and non-degree-seeking students with the opportunity to pursue, part-time and full-time, a liberal education in the arts and sciences, and in professional fields.

Courses that satisfy degree requirements are available, during the day as well as evenings and weekends, to students who do not attend the university on a full-time, week-day basis. Additionally, complete degree programs in many areas of study are administered through the Evening Program, the Summer Program, and the Weekend Program on the university campus and in community settings. The College also offers comprehensive academic advisement for all Continuing Studies students.

Non-traditional learning formats, such as directed independent study and television courses, are provided for students who may require more autonomous learning than the typical classroom course permits. Additionally, students may be evaluated on prior learning through life experience and receive university credit. Lifelong learning opportunities, such as the Elderhostel and the Informal Course program, fulfill a significant function of continuing studies by meeting the intellectual and personal needs and interests of the community. The College of Continuing Studies also responds to the educational needs of business, industry and professional organizations within the community.

These educational opportunities emphasize the importance of lifelong learning in our lives—at home, at the work site and in the community.

OFFICE

Administration, Room 223, (301) 830-2022

The academic policies described in the admissions, curriculum, and academic regulations sections of this Catalog apply to continuing studies students unless modifications are necessary to accommodate their part-time, non-degree and/or evening status. All such modifications are included in this section of this Catalog.

The College of Continuing Studies administers the evening program, the summer session, the weekend university, the January session, and the Columbia Center of Towson State University. Programs and services are designed to meet the needs of the part-time and adult student.

Other programs under the auspices of the College of Continuing Studies are: Directed Independent Study, Second Bachelor's, College in Escrow, Credit For Prior Learning, Orientation/Adult Information Nights, Informal Courses, Business and Industry Training Programs and other non-credit courses and workshops, English Language Center, Certified Employee Benefits Specialist Program, Internship/Cooperative Education, Elderhostel, continuing education units, Premedical/Predental Program, Travel Study, the Servicemembers Opportunity College, the Distinguished Visiting Scholars Program, the Alumni Audit Program, and television courses. The College also sponsors child care for evening and part-time students.

PROGRAMS AND MAJORS

1. The arts and sciences program is offered for those who wish to develop the foundation for future specialized or professional training, or to improve their occupational competence by completing requirements for a bachelor's degree. The program and the degree requirements can be found in the curriculum section of this Catalog.
2. The teacher education program is designed for those who wish to follow a course of study leading to a degree and/or certification to teach. A full description of the program and the degree requirements can be found in the curriculum section of this Catalog.
3. General courses are also available for those who wish to develop greater personal effectiveness in their daily lives and in contemporary society.

All majors offered at Towson State are available to continuing studies students who are able to attend during the day. Degree programs are available in the evening in the following areas of study: accounting, art-studio, biology, business administration, (finance, management, marketing), chemistry, computer science, economics, education (early childhood, elementary, general, secondary), English, geography and environmental planning, history, law enforcement, mass communication, mathematics, natural science, physics, psychology, social sciences, and sociology. Students in evening majors may need to substitute some required courses, with department approval, in order to complete the major in the evening.

ACADEMIC ADVISING

See the "University Resources" section of this Catalog under "Advising" for further details.

ADMISSION

Admission is the official acceptance of a student as a degree candidate. Registration is the enrollment in courses for a particular semester. Persons who have undergraduate status are free to register as non-degree students for courses without formal admission to the University under certain circumstances. Please see the section on Non-degree students below. Eligibility requirements for formal admission and deadlines are detailed in the admissions section of this Catalog. Individuals who wish to apply for part-time degree candidacy are urged to make an appointment with an academic advisor to determine admission eligibility and to plan their academic programs.

DEGREE CANDIDATES

Degree candidates are those who are taking courses for credit and have been officially admitted or readmitted to a degree program at Towson State University. Degree candidates must arrange conferences with an academic advisor every semester to plan their academic programs and have their registration forms stamped.

See the "University Curriculum" and "Academic Regulations" sections of the Catalog for a description of degree requirements and academic standards.

NON-DEGREE STUDENTS

Students who wish to enroll as non-degree (non-matriculating) students must complete and submit an enrollment form to the College of Continuing Studies before registering. Persons who have been denied admission to Towson State University will not be permitted to attend as non-degree students. They may, however, transfer to the university if they meet transfer admission requirements after attending another college or university. Persons who graduated from high school within the last two (2) years must formally apply for admission in order to attend the University.

Students who do not plan to obtain an undergraduate degree from TSU may attend indefinitely as non-degree students. However, a 2.00 cumulative grade point average must be maintained after 56 credits have been accumulated, or these students may not continue at TSU.

Non-degree students who plan to obtain an undergraduate degree at TSU may apply for admission as degree candidates after 25 credits have been earned and a 2.25 cumulative grade point average has been attained. Students who wish to earn a degree from TSU should be aware that only the first 56 credits earned as a non-degree student can be applied to an undergraduate degree. Non-degree students who are not eligible for admission after 56 credits have been earned may no longer attend the university.

Non-degree students may take a maximum of nine credits per semester, unless they already have a baccalaureate degree.

In order to determine the catalog that will stipulate graduation requirements, eligible students who have attended other institutions and intend to obtain an undergraduate degree should apply for admission before enrolling.

International students on F-1/J-1 visas and non-native speakers may not be enrolled as non-degree students without written permission from the International Student Office.

Non-native speakers must take an English as a Second Language test and if they are placed in remedial English courses, must complete the sequence of courses prior to their third semester.

ATTENDANCE

Students are expected to attend all classes. Each faculty member sets individual policy on absences. Policies vary, and it is the responsibility of the student to understand clearly the absence policy of each instructor and to act accordingly.

SENIOR CITIZENS

The College of Continuing Studies will admit senior citizens to classes on an audit/credit, space available basis and will waive payment of tuition for two courses (excluding special format courses) each semester. A senior citizen is one who is at least 60 years of age who is retired, who does not have other full-time employment, and whose chief income is from retirement.

DECLARATION OF MAJOR

Degree candidates should formally declare their majors with their academic departments.

STANDARDS FOR CONTINUING STUDIES DEGREE CANDIDATES

Academic standards for part-time degree candidates are the same as for full-time degree candidates. For details, see "Regulations Governing Academic Standards" in the Academic Regulations section of this Catalog.

PROCEDURES FOR READMISSION

All students who have lost their degree candidacy must apply for readmission. Students who are not in good standing must also see an academic advisor to discuss the conditions of their readmission, to review previous work and plan their future academic programs. Students who are in good standing must also apply for readmission if they "stop out" for one or more semesters. They are not required to see an academic advisor to be readmitted, but will have to see an advisor before registering to have their registration schedule approved and stamped. Deadline for readmission is August 1 for the fall session, and December 1 for the spring session. Students must be in attendance in at least one course in the semester for which they are readmitted. Readmission Forms are available from the Registrar's Office, Room 236, Administration Building, or the College of Continuing Studies Office, Room 223.

HONORS PROGRAMS

Part-time degree candidates and second bachelor's degree candidates may qualify for departmental honors, and/or graduation with honors. Please refer to the Academic Regulations section of this Catalog for criteria.

ORIENTATION

Part-time students who are new to the university attend an Orientation program in the summer or in January before they begin their first semester. Especially for adult students, Orientation initiates the transition to TSU by helping them to select courses and plan schedules, to register for classes and to discover the resources and facilities the university provides for them.

ADULTS IN COLLEGE—INFORMATION NIGHTS

Adults who will be attending TSU for the first time as non-degree students, or who are thinking about returning to school in the future are invited to these Information Nights held several times a year. For further information, call (301) 830-3669.

SUMMER SESSION

The summer session includes two consecutive day terms and one overlapping day/evening term. Workshops, science courses and courses necessary for teacher certification are special features of the summer session. A large variety of courses necessary to complete the General University Requirements and the majors are offered as well.

THE WEEKEND UNIVERSITY

Since the spring term of 1978, the College of Continuing Studies has offered classes on Saturdays. Classes are available in eight-week and full semester formats. The weekend university appeals to students who are unable or unwilling to attend class during the week, the continuing student who wishes to accelerate progress toward his or her degree, the student seeking to return to study after a time lapse, and the academically talented high school student, through the College in Escrow program.

JANUARY SESSION

The January session, or minimester, is designed to offer both the student and the professor an opportunity to explore a nontraditional educational experience. The subject matter is usually organized around a highly specific theme. Both the thematic approach and the concentrated time span encourage a depth of study not possible during the regular semester.

The courses offered include independent study, directed readings, practicums, travel-study, seminars and field study. Most minimester courses are offered during the day.

The student is restricted to one course per term, carrying from one to three credits. Credits for the minimester are equivalent to credits earned during the regular semester.

Non-degree students and part-time degree candidates are eligible to register for the January session. The general university fee will be assessed for these students.

Fees will be assessed on a per-credit basis plus a registration fee payable at the time the student registers for the course.

Registration for most courses takes place in December. The exact times are advertised through the publications of the university.

TSU AT COLUMBIA

The College of Continuing Studies operates an education center in the Town Center of Columbia, Maryland. The Center is located in the Banneker Building, 5829 Banneker Road. Courses are offered for credit in a variety of disciplines including the arts and humanities, and personal enrichment courses are offered through the Informal Course Program.

Additionally, short courses, workshops, and seminars are offered for professionals interested in job-related continuing education. Towson State University at Columbia offers a variety of computer courses for business and personal applications. Classes are intended for the beginning or expert student and are taught on IBM PC's.

For additional information, call TSU at Columbia Center, (301) 964-0260.

SECOND BACHELOR'S PROGRAM

The Second Bachelor's Program is designed to meet the needs of college graduates who wish to attain proficiency in another major field. To qualify for admission, students must hold a baccalaureate degree either from Towson State or from another regionally accredited institution.

A maximum of 90 transferable credits (64 from a community college) from any regionally accredited institution may be applied toward the second bachelor's degree. In addition, the student must complete at least 30 credits in residence at Towson State, and must meet all requirements of the "new" major with at least one-half of the "new" major credits completed in residence at Towson State past the first degree. These credits may not be met through the Credit for Prior Learning program. Each student must also complete an advanced writing course.

To fully acquaint yourself with the program and its advantages, please arrange an appointment with an academic advisor, (301) 830-2471. At that time, questions regarding formal admission, academic advising, course load, and other requirements may be discussed in detail.

COLLEGE IN ESCROW

All high school students who desire to register for a college course must apply through College in Escrow. This is a program designed to allow motivated and outstanding high school juniors and seniors to begin college work before graduation from high school. (Talented underclassmen are sometimes admitted.) Credits earned will be held in escrow until the student completes high school and is formally admitted to Towson State or another degree-granting institution. (It should be noted that acceptance of transfer credit is the prerogative of each individual school.)

Escrow students may select introductory courses or advanced courses for which they have the necessary prerequisites. They may be taken during the day, evening, or on Saturdays.

In order to participate in the College in Escrow Program, students should have completed their sophomore year, have a "B" average, and confer with an academic advisor. Advising must precede registration. Scholarships are available. For information or to make an appointment with an academic advisor, call (301) 830-2471.

CREDIT FOR PRIOR LEARNING

College Level Examination Program (CLEP)/ Departmental Examinations

Students may receive up to 32 hours of credit for what has been previously learned through non-college studies or experience. Achievement, to be determined by the department, must be equal to or superior to that of a student having earned a "C" through classroom work.

Participating departments may offer credit for prior learning in several ways: either through standardized evaluative instruments, such as CLEP or departmental exams, or through individualized course syllabi and evaluative procedures.

If credit is granted, the student receives the same number of credits for the course as the student who takes the course the traditional way. A mark of "PE" is reported to the Registrar by the department and is placed on the student's transcript; it is not calculated into the student's cumulative grade point average. Students may not take credit for prior learning to repeat courses already taken for the purpose of changing a previously earned grade or altering a student's grade point average. For additional information and a detailed listing of the courses available for credit, call (301) 830-3317.

Military Credit/Experience

Students may use some military coursework and experiences for crediting purposes. Veterans and military personnel must be formally admitted to the university, in good academic standing, and must have successfully completed military training as documented on an official AARTS transcript. The American Council on Education (A.C.E.) evaluation guidelines will be utilized to determine how credits will be awarded.

The Academic Standards Committee at TSU will review the A.C.E. credit recommendations and will decide upon whether the credits will be applicable to the students' TSU degree program. Call (301) 830-3317 for additional information.

NON-CREDIT PROGRAMS

In addition to courses for academic credit, the College of Continuing Studies offers courses, seminars, contract training programs, and professional development programs and conferences on a non-credit basis. These courses typically do not require exams or research papers.

Non-credit learning opportunities include contract training services for business, industry, health care, and governmental firms; the Informal Course Program; and Continuing Professional Education programs.

Continuing Education Units (CEU) are awarded in selected non-credit offerings and provide the participant with a uniform, nationally recognized certification of participation. For qualifying programs, one CEU is awarded for each ten contact hours of instruction.

Contract Training Services for Business Industry, Health Care, and Governmental Organizations

The College of Continuing Studies custom designs and operates training and education programs which are held on site at the contracting organization or on-campus. Some of the contract training programs the College of Continuing Studies has offered include: personal computer software applications, technical and business writing, supervisory and management development, effective oral presentations, stress management, and CPR. For additional information, call the Director of Non-Credit Programs at (301) 830-3532.

The Informal Course Program

Informal courses are non-credit short courses or lectures offered on campus and at the Columbia Center during the fall, spring, and summer semester. These are open to the general public for personal enrichment and learning opportunities.

Courses are offered on a variety of areas including the Arts, Health & Fitness, Parenting, Personal and Professional Development, Computers, and other areas of general interest. One night lecture series are offered each semester, focused on a specific culture, historical era, selection of men and women in history or other areas of interest. For a current brochure or further information, call (301) 830-3532.

Continuing Professional Education

The College of Continuing Studies offers non-credit programs in the form of seminars, courses, workshops, conferences, and institutes in response to groups or professionals requiring in-service training, updating or upgrading of licensure, or certification/recertification.

Continuing professional education offerings include the Certified Employee Benefit Specialist Program, co-sponsored with the International Foundation of Employee Benefit Plans and University of Pennsylvania's Wharton School. To attain the Certified Employee Benefit Specialist designation, a person must take and pass ten national examinations. As preparation, each semester we offer one or more 40-hour courses covering the exam topics.

In co-sponsorship with the School of Business and Economics' Center for Area Resource Development (CARD), workshops are offered in supervisory management skills, marketing, accounting, finance, and other topics of interest to the general business community.

Continuing professional education courses have been conducted for psychologists, certified public accountants, speech-language pathologists, counselors, occupational therapists, educators, and other professionals. Call the Director of Non-Credit Programs at (301) 830-3532 to discuss how a program can be set up for your profession or occupation, or to find out about current program offerings.

INTERNSHIP/CO-OPERATIVE EDUCATION

Lida Lee Tall 307, (301) 830-2932

The Internship/Cooperative Education Office assists students who wish to earn credit while they gain work experience related to their majors. "Co-ops" allow students to alternate semesters of paid work with semesters of study. In an internship, students work seven to 20 hours per week while attending classes. See the "University Resources" section of this Catalog for details.

ELDERHOSTEL PROGRAM

The Elderhostel program, inspired by the youth hostels and folk schools of Europe, is a network of over 1,000 colleges and universities in 50 states and abroad which offer special low-cost, short-term residential academic programs for adults over the age of 60. Towson State University began its involvement with this national, highly regarded program by offering several one-week-long programs during July, 1982. Participants are housed in a residence hall, take their meals in a campus dining facility, and participate in a wide variety of on- and off-campus extracurricular activities. Each week, participants are offered three liberal arts non-credit courses of normal undergraduate quality, taught by regular faculty members of the university. Registration for the program is handled by the national Elderhostel office, located at 80 Boylston Street, Suite 400, Boston, MA, 02116. Limited commuter space for area residents is also available. For further information about the TSU Elderhostel program, call (301) 830-3694.

TELEVISION COURSES

Beginning with the spring 1982 term, in association with the Maryland Center for Public Broadcasting, the College of Continuing Studies has been offering courses through the Maryland College of the Air. An average of five regular three-credit courses are offered each semester. Instruction will be given in 30 television programs broadcast twice a week for 15 consecutive weeks on the public television stations. There are four required class meetings on campus. Students may register for the television courses through the mail or at in-person registration. Consult the schedule booklet.

THE CONTINUING STUDIES CHRONICLE

The Continuing Studies Chronicle, published six times a year, contains valuable information regarding Continuing Studies, departmental news, and changes in academic policies and procedures. Other standard items in each issue of The Chronicle are a calendar of events on campus, dates to remember, and features and continuing columns. Four of the six yearly issues of the newsletter are mailed directly to students currently taking Continuing Studies courses. The other two issues are distributed to many locations throughout the campus.

CHILD CARE

The Student Day Care Center provides quality child care for the children of TSU students from 7:30 a.m. until 10:00 p.m.

For more information, see the "University Resources" section of this Catalog or call the Student Day Care Center at (301) 830-2652.

ENGLISH LANGUAGE CENTER

Hawkins Hall 101-I, (301) 830-2552

The English Language Center offers intensive English instruction of 20 hours per week for students who are preparing for admission to the University. The ELC also provides semi-intensive courses for those students who have been admitted to Towson State but who need to improve certain language skills. The Center is also open to students who are not preparing for university study; however, the course objectives remain academically oriented.

The Graduate School

The Graduate School prepares qualified and dedicated students for career advancement, leadership positions, and further graduate study. Its graduate programs satisfy professional and personal needs of students and fulfill the demand for advanced education in the professions. Programs are offered at times convenient to employed students, and numerous students take advantage of graduate offerings without enrolling in degree programs. Master's degrees are awarded in education, arts and sciences, and fine arts.

The graduate faculty includes recognized scholars and practitioners in many fields who are committed to excellence in teaching in a scholarly environment. The classroom, library, clinical and faculty assets of the graduate programs are supplemented by a community rich in cultural, artistic, social, technological and scientific resources.

The university is proud of the many alumni of the Graduate School whose distinguished careers have been assisted by their graduate work at Towson State University.

CERTIFICATE OF ADVANCED STUDY IN SCHOOL PSYCHOLOGY

The post-master's degree certificate in School Psychology is awarded for the completion of an approved program consisting of thirty semester hours and an internship.

CERTIFICATE IN THE APPLICATIONS OF ORFF, KODÁLY AND DALCROZE

The certificate is awarded for completion of a fifteen semester hour program in music education methodology.

SPECIALIST CERTIFICATES

Post-baccalaureate students in early childhood education, elementary education and secondary education may select a 15 semester hour component of the program which leads to a specialist certificate in one of the following areas:

Early Childhood Education
 Children with Special Needs

Elementary Education

Administration and Supervision of Elementary and Middle Schools

Curriculum Development

Educating the Gifted

The Exceptional Child in the Elementary School

Reading

Secondary Education

Secondary Supervision/Administration

Adult Education

The Community College

Educational Evaluation

The Exceptional Adolescent in the Secondary School

Secondary School Reading

Secondary Teaching Strategies and Classroom Management

Teaching the Gifted in the Secondary School

Teaching in the Middle School

The student desiring to work toward a specialist certificate must enroll in the appropriate graduate program and declare his or her intent to complete this component of the program by filing a specialist certificate enrollment form.

ADMISSION

Admission to the Graduate School of Towson State University is granted to applicants whose academic and personal qualifications give promise of success in graduate study. The applicant must hold a baccalaureate degree from a regionally accredited college or university and satisfy minimum grade point average requirements.

Students seeking admission to a graduate degree program, or to take courses carrying graduate credit, must file an application for admission to graduate studies prior to first enrollment and have official transcripts of all college work sent to the Graduate School. Transcripts must be sent directly from the institutions attended to the graduate office of Towson State University. Some programs require such additional admissions materials as letters of recommendation, the Graduate Record Examination, and aptitude and/or advanced tests.

GRADUATE SCHOOL OFFICE HOURS

The Graduate School office is open each weekday (except for scheduled holidays) from 8:30 a.m. to 5:00 p.m. The office is also open Monday through Thursday evenings until 6:45 p.m. During registration, the office is open in the evening according to the registration schedule. Students may arrange for appointments with the graduate school staff at other hours.

THE GRADUATE CATALOG

The Graduate Catalog contains the academic regulations governing graduate studies at Towson State University. It also includes information regarding individual master's degree programs, course offerings and the application process. A copy may be obtained by calling or writing to the Graduate School.

The College of Allied Health Sciences and Physical Education

The College of Allied Health Sciences and Physical Education is composed of the departments of Communication Sciences and Disorders, Health Science (including Medical Technology and Health Services Management), Nursing, Occupational Therapy and Physical Education.

Graduates of the professional programs of Speech-Language Pathology and Audiology, Nursing, Medical Technology and Occupational Therapy are eligible to take their respective certification examinations.

In addition to providing courses for students majoring in each of the departments, a broad range of classes is available to all students in the university. There is a common bond and purpose within the college since all departments prepare students to provide human services designed to improve the quality of life.

PROGRAMS OF THE DEPARTMENT

Communication Sciences and Disorders offers the major in Speech-Language Pathology and Audiology. This preprofessional major is broadly based in liberal arts and sciences with emphasis on information gathering, observation, and the ability to evaluate information sources. At the undergraduate level the program emphasizes information on the development and normal processes of communication as well as communication disorders.

Students who wish to gain admission to the major must register with the department. Students must fulfill certain "pre-major" requirements before they can be considered for admission to the major.

The undergraduate major in Speech-Language Pathology and Audiology prepares students for graduate study. The Master of Science degree program in Speech-Language Pathology or Audiology focuses on specific communication disorders, their diagnosis and treatment. The graduate program prepares students for national/state certification and state licensure, for clinical work in public and private schools, colleges, and medical/paramedical institutions, and to pursue advanced degrees in the profession. For more information about the graduate program, see the Graduate Catalog.

PRE-MAJOR REQUIREMENTS

Enrollment in the Speech-Language Pathology and Audiology major is restricted due to the availability of clinical internship experiences, clinical supervisors, faculty and space.

Each student must fulfill certain "pre-major" requirements before he or she can be considered for admission to the major. These requirements include registration with the department as a pre-major, completion of 15 credits of required courses, and a hearing, language, speech and voice screening.

Registration with the Department

After gaining admission to the university, the student should register with the Department of Communication Sciences and Disorders. Each student must also schedule an appointment with an assigned advisor to discuss the following:

1. The procedures for requesting admission to the major.
2. The nature of the profession.
3. The requirement of a Master's degree in Speech-Language Pathology or Audiology for:
 - certification by the Maryland State Department of Education
 - licensure to work in hospitals and other clinics in the State of Maryland
 - certification by the American Speech-Language Hearing Association.
4. The requirement of a clinical fellowship year.
5. The national certification examination.

Students are advised to declare a major in this area as soon as possible and preferably no later than the end of the first semester of their sophomore year.

Pre-Major Courses

The following required courses must be completed before the student can be considered for admission to the major:

- SPPA.105 Speech and Language Development (3)
- SPPA.210 Phonetics of American English (3)
- SPPA.300 Anatomy and Physiology of the Auditory and Vocal Mechanism (3)
- SPPA.301 Hearing and Speech Science (3)
- PSYC.101 General Psychology (3)

The grade point average of each pre-major will be reviewed upon completion of the premajor courses. Each candidate will be expected to have a minimum cumulative grade point average of 2.50 on a 4.00 scale for all coursework, and a 2.6 in the five pre-major courses.

The department maintains high standards of expectation and performance because all persons seeking to practice speech-language pathology and audiology must obtain the master's degree and admission to graduate school depends upon excellence in undergraduate performance.

Hearing, Language, Speech and Voice Evaluation

Students majoring in Speech-Language Pathology and Audiology are expected to demonstrate proficiency in all areas of communication (reading, writing, oral communication) and in computational abilities. Students must have a hearing, language, speech and voice screening by clinically certified and licensed staff of the TSU Speech-Language-Hearing Clinic. Students should arrange to be screened during their first semester in the program. These screenings are offered by the department on specific, announced days during the first weeks of each semester. Students exhibiting a communication disorder or speech which is not easily understood will be recommended and encouraged to seek treatment/training. It is expected that such students will show improved oral communication ability prior to enrolling in their first clinical internship course. If a pertinent medically-based problem is suspected, a student may be required to obtain an otolaryngological examination and submit the written report to the department. Each student is given a copy of the department's screening policy when he/she declares the intent to major.

TRANSFER STUDENT POLICIES

Transfer students who wish to major in Speech-Language Pathology and Audiology should register with the Department of Communication Sciences and Disorders after they have been admitted to the university. Students should arrange for their speech-language-hearing and voice screening during their first semester at Towson State.

Students must submit to the Department an official transcript of any academic work pursued at all institutions of higher learning. All transfer credits to be applied to the major must be approved by the department. The five pre-major courses must have been completed within the previous ten years and by the time of admission to the major in the student's junior year.

Transfer students are required to take 20 hours in residence in their major area.

MAJOR IN SPEECH-LANGUAGE PATHOLOGY AND AUDIOLOGY

In addition to the G.U.R.'s, Speech-Language Pathology and Audiology majors must complete 36 credits in required speech-language pathology and audiology courses. In order to remain in, continue in and graduate from the Speech-Language Pathology and Audiology major, students are required to maintain a grade of "C" (2.00) or better in both the theory and clinical courses, in addition to attaining the overall cumulative grade point average required by the university.

Requirements for the Major

Required Courses

36 semester hours from the following

- SPPA.105 Speech and Language Development (3)
- SPPA.210 Phonetics of American English (3)
- SPPA.300 Anatomy & Physiology of the Auditory & Vocal Mechanism (3)
- SPPA.301 Hearing & Speech Science (3)
- SPPA.302 Speech & Language Pathology I: Phonology (3)
- SPPA.304 Speech & Language Pathology II: Language (3)
- SPPA.305 Stuttering: Etiology & Therapy (3)
- SPPA.306 Speech & Language Pathology III: Organic Disorders (3)
- SPPA.321 Introduction to Audiology (3)
- SPPA.486 Clinical Observations & Techniques (3)
- SPPA.487 Clinical Internship I (3)

Electives

- SPPA.213 General Semantics (3)

PROGRAMS OF THE DEPARTMENT

The field of Health Sciences bridges the gap between scientific discoveries and the application of this knowledge to improve the quality of life.

The department offers two majors: Health Science (a generic health education program) and Medical Technology. A concentration in Health Service Management for students majoring in General Studies is also available (See the Interdisciplinary Studies section in this Catalog).

MAJOR IN HEALTH SCIENCE

Health Education is both a science and a art that deals with the complexities of human behavior with the expressed purpose of promoting human behavior. In order to develop the competencies necessary to be an effective health educator the students need a foundation built on principles derived from behavioral, biomedical and social sciences as well as education. The expertise common to all health education specialists, regardless of the setting in which they practice is the ability to apply teaching/learning principles to health/illness issues.

In the junior year of this major students must decide if they want to participate in a community health internship or a student teaching experience. Students selecting the student teaching experience will receive certification to teach at the secondary level. The students who select the teacher education program in Health Education must meet the Admission requirements of the College of Education which include admission to professional education program and to student teaching. Transfer students should plan to take additional semesters of study.

Health Science majors should contact the department chair to receive information concerning the program and to be assigned an advisor. All students must meet with their advisor each semester.

In addition to completing major requirements, students must complete the General University requirements. A minimum grade point of C (2.00) is necessary for all required courses.

Measurement and Evaluation in Health Education (HLTH 432) fulfills the GUR Group I-C advanced level writing course requirement.

TRANSFER STUDENT POLICY

A minimum of 30 hours must be completed at T.S.U.

Requirements for the Major

The 120 credits required for the generic health education program include 21 hours of Required Professional Health Courses; 26 hours of Required Courses Health Content; 6 hours of Content Electives; 53 hours of General University Requirements * and 14 hours of internship/student teaching.

*GUR's include EDUC 401, SOCI 101, PSYC 101, HLTH 101, and HLTH 432.

Honorary Society

Eta Sigma Gamma, the national professional honorary society in Health Education, has established the Beta Zeta Chapter in the Health Science Department. The purpose of the organization is to elevate standards, ideals, and ethics of the profession. For information concerning Beta Zeta, contact the Chair of Health Science (301) 830-2378.

Health Science Recognition Award

This award is presented in the spring commencement ceremony to a outstanding undergraduate Health Science Major.

Graduate Program

The Department of Health Science offers a Master of Science degree with concentrations in community Health Administrator, Community Health Educator, & School Health Education. For more information see Graduate Catalog.

MAJOR IN MEDICAL TECHNOLOGY

NEIL E. GALLAGHER, Coordinator, Burdick Hall

Union Memorial Hospital Faculty

Director: RICHARD R. GRAHAM, M.D.

Educational Coordinator: ROBERT E. DURELL, M.T. (ASCP)

Pathologists: CARLOS ORBEGOSO, M.D., ALI DANESHVAR, M.D., DANIEL SYMONDS, M.D.

Assistant Educational Coordinator: JAY DAMON, M.T. (ASCP)

Washington Hospital Center Faculty

Medical Director: MARY KASS, M.D.

Program Director: MICHELE BEST, M.T. (ASCP)

A career in medical technology can be both stimulating and rewarding since the field is rapidly growing with advances in medical science. The medical technologist works under the supervision of a pathologist in a laboratory and performs tests on which doctors rely for assistance in diagnosing or treating diseases. Graduates of Towson State's Medical Technology program are also prepared to work as supervisors, instructors of supportive lab personnel, and researchers.

The Department of Health Science offers a four-year program in Medical Technology designed to prepare allied health personnel for specialized work in hospital and medical laboratories while they earn a Bachelor of Science degree in Medical Technology. It provides background for the student to pass any of the Registry Exams including the one administered by the Board of Registry of the American Society of Clinical Pathologists. During the first three years, there is special emphasis on chemistry and biology. The fourth year consists of specialized classes and practical training in clinical laboratories of an affiliated hospital (Union Memorial, or another appropriate hospital designated by Towson State University). As of December, 1973, students are not admitted to the Registry Exam without a baccalaureate degree.

The Medical Technology Program is accredited by the Committee on Allied Health Education and Accreditation (CAHEA) of the American Medical Association in cooperation with the National Accrediting Agency for Clinical Laboratory Services (NAACLS).

Majors are required to fulfill all college requirements, including: Bachelor of Science degree requirements; General University Requirements; and requirements for the major in Medical Technology. Students must attain a grade of "C" or better in all courses required for the major. Of the 120 credit hours required for graduation, 90 hours are to be completed at Towson State University (transfer students must complete a minimum of 30 credit hours at Towson State University and of the 30, eight should be in biology and eight should be in chemistry).

During the fourth year, 33 credit hours of courses are completed at a clinical site designated by Towson State University. Before beginning the fourth year of the program at an affiliated hospital, each student must have at least a 2.00 cumulative average, a minimum of grade "C" in all biology and chemistry courses, and be accepted by the respective hospital's screening committee. Students must also fulfill all General University Requirements prior to senior year internship.

ADMISSION TO THE MAJOR/SCREENING

The Medical Technology program has a limited number of clinical experience placements. This limited number of placements has necessitated the implementation of the following procedures.

In order to be considered for tentative acceptance into the program, students must have completed eight semester hours of biology, eight semester hours of chemistry, and a total of 45 semester hours. By the end of their third semester (or upon meeting the above requirements), students must declare their interest in majoring in Medical Technology.

Each application will be reviewed according to the following criteria:

- Total academic record. Overall grade point averages for students verified will be placed in a rank order. Grades in science courses will also be considered separately.
- General progress toward a baccalaureate degree (this includes General University Requirements and other courses specifically related to medical technology). After three semesters of full-time work or the equivalent, a student should have completed 50% of the General University Requirements. After four semesters of full-time work or the equivalent, a student should have completed 70% of the General University Requirements. Extenuating circumstances affecting general progress toward a degree will be considered.

Before beginning the fourth year of the program (clinical internship), each student must apply and be accepted by the respective hospital's screening committee.

Application to the hospitals is made early in the fall semester (Junior Year) semester. In order to be eligible to apply, students must be able to complete all requirements of the program and General University Requirements during the spring semester.

PROGRAMS OF THE DEPARTMENT

Nursing is both an art and a science with an evolving body of specialized knowledge derived from nursing research as well as from the synthesis of knowledge from related disciplines. Nursing, independently or collaboratively, guides and/or influences the behavior of others in their efforts toward optimizing the health status of individuals, families, groups, and communities.

Towson State offers a program in professional nursing leading to the Bachelor of Science degree with a major in Nursing. The nursing curriculum includes courses in the liberal arts, the sciences, and nursing. The curriculum, designed for basic and registered nurse students, prepares the graduate to accept responsibility and accountability for the care of clients and families in a variety of health care settings, to function in beginning leadership roles, and to be consumers of and participants in nursing research. Students are also provided with the foundation for graduate study in nursing.

The nursing program is approved by the Maryland Board of Nursing and accredited by the National League for Nursing. Basic students graduating from the Nursing major are eligible to write the State Board Examination for licensure as a Registered Nurse. The Department of Nursing holds membership in the American Association of Colleges of Nursing, the Council of Baccalaureate and Higher Degree Programs of the National League for Nursing, and the Council on Collegiate Education in Nursing of the Southern Regional Education Board.

MAJOR IN NURSING: BASIC STUDENTS

The university requires a minimum of 120 credits for graduation. However, established departmental requirements must also be completed for graduation with a Nursing major. This necessitates completion of 127 credit hours for most students enrolled in the department.

Nursing courses must be completed in a sequential pattern, as each course is foundational to the subsequent course.

All courses listed in the freshman and sophomore years of the Nursing curriculum outline must be completed prior to enrolling in the first junior-level nursing course.

Pre-nursing students demonstrating competencies covered in MATH.115 (as determined by the Mathematics Department) may enroll in an alternative offering of one of the following: MATH.116; MATH.119, or MATH.273, in order to meet the mathematics requirement. Placement in the particular course is determined by the Mathematics Department.

As these requirements may be revised from time to time, it is the student's responsibility to make certain that he or she is working with the most current outline.

*A maximum of 12 credits from these courses may be taken under the pass option plan.

This course satisfies a Group V GUR (field of study #7) for Nursing Majors only.

Admission to the Major — Screening

Students must have completed the following courses at the high school level to provide the base necessary to complete the prerequisite courses for the Nursing major: mathematics—3 units (two years of algebra and one year of geometry); chemistry—1 unit; biology—1 unit. Physics, although not required, is recommended.

Before a student can be considered for admission to the Nursing major, he or she must be admitted to or have applied for admission to the university. Transfer students must adhere to the university's transfer policy.

Admission to the Nursing major is made only by the Departmental Admissions and Continuance Committee. Admission to the University does not constitute or guarantee admission to the major. Students are admitted in both the Fall and Spring semesters of each academic year. The Application for Admission to the Nursing Major is available from the Department of Nursing office.

As indicated in the curriculum outline, the Nursing major at Towson State requires five semesters of study in the Department of Nursing. Admission to the major is contingent upon the student being screened and admission being offered to the applicant by the Departmental Admissions and Continuance Committee. The screening process takes place during the semester prior to the student's anticipated enrollment in the first Nursing course. At the time of screening, students should have at least sophomore status; that is, a minimum of twenty-eight credits which are applicable to the Nursing major curriculum must have been completed and at least three of the courses completed must be in the required physical sciences. Based on credits being applied toward the major, a minimum grade point average of 2.5 on a 4.0 scale is required; however, students must note that achievement at the 2.5 level in itself does not guarantee admission to the Program. Applicants will be required to comply with further procedures as outlined in the Application Information pamphlet.

MAJOR IN NURSING: REGISTERED NURSE STUDENTS

Several options are available to RNs for the completion of baccalaureate degree requirements. One of these options is the Validation Model as mandated by the Governor of the State of Maryland in 1985. All options include credit for previous learning, a broad base in the liberal arts, and Nursing courses which are designed to enhance professional nursing practice. Since RN students represent a variety of learning and practice experiences, every effort is made to design an individual program which will meet the learning needs of the student while, at the same time, offer a curriculum which provides the foundation for nursing practice at the baccalaureate level.

Therefore, RNs are advised to contact the Department of Nursing for advisement and assistance with admission and program planning.

Whichever individual program is planned, all RN students are required, as a minimum, to take the following Nursing courses in addition to courses in the liberal arts and sciences:

- NURS.301 Concepts of Nursing II (3)
 NURS.305 Nursing: Health Assessment (1)
 NURS.401 Concepts of Nursing III: Interdisciplinary Systems Approach to Health Care Delivery (3)
 NURS.403 Nursing: Client Care in a Community Environment (6)
 NURS.408 Concepts of Nursing IV: Professional Nursing Issues (3)
 NURS.409 Nursing: Leadership and Management (6)
 NURS.xxx Nursing Elective (3)

Admission to the Major/Screening

Students must have graduated from a state-approved diploma or associate degree nursing program and be licensed as a Registered Nurse in Maryland to be eligible for admission into the RN Program. Recent graduates may be admitted pending successful completion of the State Board licensing examination.

Registered Nurse students are to contact the Department of Nursing prior to completion and submission of the application for admission to the University. Students applying for admission to the Nursing major must either have been admitted to the University or be currently seeking admission to the University.

Admission to the Nursing program is granted only by the Departmental RN Committee. Students are admitted to the Nursing Program twice a year. Applications for admission are available from the Department of Nursing office.

TRANSFER STUDENT POLICIES

Generally, transfer students must complete all required Nursing courses of the Department of Nursing at Towson State University. Nursing courses completed in another baccalaureate nursing program are evaluated individually for equivalence by the Departmental Admissions and Continuance Committee.

ACADEMIC STANDARDS

In order to remain in and graduate from the Nursing major, students are required to maintain a grade of "C" (2.0) or better in both the theory and clinical component in each Nursing course, in addition to maintaining a 2.0 overall cumulative Grade Point Average.

SPECIAL FINANCIAL OBLIGATIONS

All students in the Nursing major are required to:

- carry nursing student liability insurance through the university;
- carry hospitalization insurance including accident and/or emergency benefits;
- purchase departmental uniforms and supplies (approximately $700 for basic students and $200 for RN students)
- have a valid driver's license and access to the independent use of a car in order to provide own travel to and from clinical facilities;
- assume financial responsibility for expenses related to the required physical examination and laboratory/screening tests.

Information about financial assistance may be obtained from the university's Office of Financial Aid.

Department of Occupational Therapy

Assistant Professors: BERNARDO, BLAKE, ESKOW, EXNER (Chair), MELVIN, PARMENTER, STEVENS-RATCHFORD

OFFICE

Lida Lee Tall, Room 305, (301) 830-2640

PROGRAMS OF THE DEPARTMENT

Occupational therapy is the art and science of directing human participation in selected tasks to restore, reinforce and enhance performance, facilitate learning of skills and functions essential for adaptation and productivity, to diminish or correct pathology, and to promote and maintain health. Occupational therapists direct the use of self-care, work, homemaking, play and leisure activities. They use these activities to assist individuals or groups whose health is threatened or impaired by developmental deficits, aging, poverty and environment conditions, physical injury or illness, and psychological and social disability.

The Department of Occupational Therapy currently offers both a four-year program and a Junior Entry program of study in Occupational Therapy designed to provide a liberal education and develop professional competence. Both programs of study lead to a baccalaureate degree in Occupational Therapy. The Occupational Therapy Program is accredited by the Committee on Allied Health Education And Accreditation of the American Medical Association in conjunction with the Accreditation Committee of the American Occupational Therapy Association. Graduates of the program will be able to sit for the national certification examination for the occupational therapist administered by the American Occupational Therapy Certification Board. After successful completion of this exam, the individual will be an Occupational Therapist, Registered (OTR). Many states require licensure in order to practice; however, state licenses are usually based on the results of the AOTCB Certification Exam.

Substantial changes in screening and in the Occupational Therapy curriculum will be implemented during the next year. New screening procedures will be used during Spring 1991. Students admitted to the Occupational Therapy Program after January 1991 must follow the new curriculum. Please see the Occupational Therapy Department for information regarding these changes.

No more than 25% of each class of new students admitted as Occupational Therapy majors beginning April 1, 1991 will be out-of-state residents unless qualified in-state students (those with a QPA of 2.50 or higher and who have all prerequisites) are unavailable.

Students who have less than a 2.5 QPA will not be permitted to enroll in OCH 435/436.

The department also offers the Master of Science in Occupational Therapy.

Affirmative Action Policy

Towson State University does not discriminate on the basis of race, national origin, religion, color, sex, age, or condition of handicap in its academic program. Some groups, however, have been historically underrepresented in the field of occupational therapy. Therefore, factors such as sex, race, and handicapping conditions may be considered during all phases of the admission and screening process for the Occupational Therapy program. Candidates representing minority populations, men, and individuals with disabilities will be given special consideration if they show evidence of high motivation and adequate academic ability to meet the demands of the program.

Permit Cards

Special permit cards are required for admission to all occupational therapy major courses.

First Aid Course Recommended

It is highly recommended that students complete a standard course in First Aid before graduation.

PRE-ADMISSION REQUIREMENTS FOR ALL CANDIDATES

Students interested in becoming Occupational Therapy majors must first gain admission to Towson State University. Admission to the university does not guarantee admission to the Occupational Therapy major. Occupational Therapy faculty will advise potential students about the nature of the profession, the national certification examination and the occupational therapy curriculum prior to this admission at the request of the student. Attendance at an orientation meeting and an interview with a faculty member are REQUIRED. Admission to the major is competitive and the class size in occupational therapy is limited.

MAJOR IN OCCUPATIONAL THERAPY FOUR-YEAR PROGRAM

The "pre-admission requirements" listed above must be met by all candidates.

For initial admission to the pre-occupational therapy majors list for entry into the four-year program: Admissions information on all applicants for the freshman year of the Occupational Therapy program will be reviewed shortly after April 1, 1990.

1. For students entering directly from high school, admission will be based on high school grade point average and the following scores: SAT—verbal, SAT—math, and the TSWE, if it is available.
2. Students who have earned college or university credits, either at Towson State University or another institution, will be ranked with students entering from high school, according to cumulative grade point average in completed college or university courses.

From all candidates for the four-year program arranged in this rank order, the top forty-two candidates will be selected to enter the first year of the program.

Screening

Thirty-two students shall be accepted into the Occupational Therapy program at the end of the first year. (Spring 1991 will be the last time that this type of screening takes place.) The screening process requires the use of grade point average for prerequisite courses and a brief paper written by the student based primarily on experiences of the student in OCH.101, Introduction to Occupational Therapy, or an equivalent course.

Prerequisites to be completed before screening include: Contemporary General Biology BIOL.110, General Psychology PSYC.101, Intro. to Sociology SOCI.101, Writing for a Liberal Education ENGL.102, Introduction to Occupational Therapy OCH.101, and Bio-Psycho-Social Development OCH.116.

Requirements for the Major

In addition to the General University Requirements, Occupational Therapy majors must complete 48 credits in occupational therapy courses, 13 credits in other required courses, and 20 credits in clinical internships. The total number of credits required for graduation is 132.

Students must maintain the cumulative quality point average of at least 2.5 following admission into the Occupational Therapy Major. Students who have less than a 2.5 QPA will not be permitted to enroll in OCH 435/436. A "D" grade in a required course will not count for major credit. A student receiving a "D" grade may retake the course once to improve his or her standing.

MAJOR IN OCCUPATIONAL THERAPY JUNIOR ENTRY PROGRAM

Fifteen students will be admitted to the Occupational Therapy program beginning at the third year level. Students will no longer be admitted to this program after Fall 1990.

The "pre-admission" requirements listed above must be met by all candidates. Students must declare their interest in the major by placing their names on a Candidates List after completing the "preadmission requirements."

All prerequisite courses for admission to the Junior Entry program must be completed with grades of "C" or better by the end of the spring semester in the year for which application is made.

All candidates for the Junior Entry program will be ranked according to cumulative grade point average in all college or university level courses, and, shortly after April 1, 1990, the top fifteen candidates will be selected for the Junior Entry program which will begin in the fall semester of that year.

Requirements for the Major

In addition to the General University Requirements, Occupational Therapy majors must complete 47 credits in occupational therapy courses, 16 credits in other required courses, and 18 credits in clinical internships. The total number of credits usually required for graduation is 134.

Students must maintain the cumulative quality point average of at least 2.5 following admission into the Occupational Therapy Major. Students who have less than a 2.5 QPA will not be permitted to enroll in OCH 435/436. A "D" grade in a required course will not count for major credit. A student receiving a "D" grade may retake the course once to improve his or her standing.

A student is admitted to this program with 48 credits, grades "C" or above, including courses in English Composition, Introductory Biology, General Psychology, Introductory Sociology, Abnormal Psychology or Personality Theory, Basic Statistics, Physics, including mechanics, and two courses in Human Anatomy and Physiology.

Screening takes place before admission to the junior year. Students must meet General University Requirements. This may necessitate taking a heavier course load during the professional program or during summer semesters.

MASTER OF SCIENCE IN OCCUPATIONAL THERAPY

The Master of Science in Occupational Therapy is designed for individuals with bachelor's degrees who are interested in advanced training in pediatrics, geriatrics or adult physical dysfunction with emphasis on teaching, research, clinical practice, or administration. Those individuals who are not occupational therapists must be screened for admission to the graduate program and must successfully complete prerequisite courses prior to enrolling in graduate occupational therapy courses. For further information consult the Graduate Catalog.

PROGRAMS OF THE DEPARTMENT

The Department of Physical Education offers the following programs: General University Requirements and electives; the Physical Education Teacher Education program, for students planning to teach physical education at the elementary and secondary levels; the Physical Education Sport Studies program; and the Athletic Coaching Emphasis Area for non-majors.

MAJOR IN PHYSICAL EDUCATION: TEACHER EDUCATION PROGRAM

Towson State University's Teacher Education program prepares competent teachers in physical education for elementary and secondary schools. Graduates are certified to teach at the elementary and secondary levels. A planned sequence of courses is designed to provide the student with skills and leadership experience needed to direct a balanced program in class, intramural and extramural activities and varsity sports.

Students majoring in Physical Education Teacher Education must complete 27 credits in required professional theory courses, 14-15 courses in required professional laboratory skill courses, and 15 credits of elective courses in physical education. Additionally, the student must complete 43 credits in courses required by the State Department of Education for teacher certification. Students must complete all required and prerequisite courses for the major (PHEC) with a grade of "C" or higher. In addition, the following professional education courses must be completed with a grade of "C" or higher and a cumulative QPA of 2.75: Educational Psychology, PSYC 201; Survey of Educational Programs, SCED 319; Teaching PE in Elementary School, PHEC 324; Teaching PE in Secondary School, PHEC 325; Foundations of Education, EDUC 401; Adaptive Physical Education, PHEC 423.

The department also offers two areas of concentration that may be completed within the Physical Education Teacher Education program or in conjunction with another major. These concentrations are: "Athletic Training" and "Outdoor Education." An emphasis area in Health Science is also available for students who wish to be certified to teach physical education and health education at the elementary and secondary levels.

Screening Procedures

Formal procedures and requirements must be met before a student may be admitted to the university's teacher education programs. For specific information about screening procedures see the section on "Admission to Professional Education Programs" in the College of Education.

Requirements for the Major

Professional Theory Courses (27 credits)

- PHEC.299 Overview of Physical Education (2)
- PHEC.303 Organization & Administration of Ph. Ed. (3)
- PHEC.309 Tests & Measurements in Physical Ed. (3)
- PHEC.311 Kinesiology (4)
- PHEC.313 Physiology of Exercise (3)
- PHEC.315 Care & Prevention of Athletic Injuries (3)
- PHEC.324 Teaching Physical Education in Elementary School (3)
- PHEC.325 Teaching Physical Education in Secondary School (3)
- PHEC.423 Adapted Physical Education (3)

Professional Laboratory Skills (14-15 courses)

Professional laboratory skill courses (PHEC 111-284) provide instruction in the basic activities appropriate for a teacher of physical education, including acquisition of skills and methods of instruction. Specific courses are required in the following categories:

- Team Sports—three courses
- Individual/dual activities—five-six courses
- Aquatics—1 credit from approved list
- Dance—two courses
- Elementary Activities—two courses

Course outlines and prerequisites are available in the Department of Physical Education office.

A list of required (*) and elective professional laboratory skills courses follows:

- PHEC.111 Archery I (0.5)
- *PHEC.113 Badminton I (0.5)
- PHEC.201 Baseball I (0.5)
- PHEC.203 Basketball I (0.5)
- PHEC.115 Bicycle Touring (0.5)
- PHEC.118 Body Mechanics (0.5)
- PHEC.119 Bowling I (0.5)
- PHEC.121 Conditioning I (0.5)
- PHEC.125 Fencing I (0.5)
- *PHEC.207 Field Hockey I (0.5)
- PHEC.170 Folk Dance I (0.5)
- PHEC.209 Football I (0.5)
- PHEC.127 Golf I (0.5)
- *PHEC.129 Gymnastics I (tumbling) (0.5)
- *PHEC.130 Gymnastics II (apparatus) (0.5)
- PHEC.131 Handball (0.5)
- PHEC.134 Jogging (1.0)
- PHEC.155 Rhythmic Aerobics (1.0)
- *PHEC.215 Lacrosse I (0.5)
- PHEC.143 Self Defense I (0.5)
- *PHEC.221 Soccer I (0.5)
- PHEC.172 Ballroom Dance I (0.5)
- PHEC.223 Softball I (0.5)
- *PHEC.160 Swimming I (according to placement tests) (0.5)
- *PHEC.161 Swimming II (according to placement tests) (0.5)
- *PHEC.179 Tennis I (0.5)
- *PHEC.149 Track & Field I (0.5)
- *PHEC.228 Volleyball I (0.5)
- PHEC.151 Wrestling (0.5)
- *PHEC.279 Techniques of Teaching Creative Movement (1.0)
- *PHEC.283 PHEC Activities for the Young Child (K-3) (1.0)
- *PHEC.284 PHEC Activities for the Intermediate Grades (4-6) (1.0)

Electives (15 credits)

Fifteen credits in physical education theory and professional laboratory skills courses from the remaining courses available in the department are required. Three of the elective credits must be in professional lab skills.

Required for Teacher Education Certification Courses (42-43 credits)

- BIOL.110 Contemporary General Biology (4)
- PHYS.201 General Physics B (5)
- or
- CHEM.105 Chemistry for Allied Health Professions I (4)
- HLTH.101 Current Health Problems (3)
- PSYC.201 Educational Psychology (3)
- BIOL.213 Human Anatomy & Physiology I (4)
- BIOL.214 Human Anatomy & Physiology II (4)
- SCED.319 Survey of Education (3)
- EDUC.401 Foundations of Education (3)
- PHEC.392 Elementary Student Teaching (8)
- PHEC.394 Secondary Student Teaching (6)

TEACHER EDUCATION/ATHLETIC TRAINING CONCENTRATION

It is required that the student complete requirements for a K-12 teaching certificate in physical education. Most positions currently available in athletic training are in secondary schools, and usually include teaching responsibilities as well as trainer responsibilities.

Students intending to pursue the athletic trainer curriculum should contact the Physical Education Department to obtain admission to the program and information regarding screening procedures.

Required Courses and Experiences in Addition to Teacher Education

- PHEC.335 Principles & Techniques of Wrapping and Taping (1)
- PHEC.391 Internship in Athletic Training I (1)
- PHEC.415 Advanced Care and Prevention of Athletic Injuries (3)
- PHEC.417 Organization and Administration of Athletic Training (3)
- PHEC.428 Therapeutic Techniques in Athletic Training (3)
- PHEC.429 Physical Assessment for Athletic Training (3)
- PHEC.491 Internship in Athletic Training II (1)
- HLTH.331 Nutrition for Health Professionals (3)

CPR Certification

1500 hours (minimum) clinical experience under supervision of a certified athletic trainer to be completed over a minimum period of two years. Students must successfully complete NATA exam to receive Athletic Training Certification.

OUTDOOR EDUCATION TRACK

Recommended Courses (11 credits)

- PHEC.135 Overview of Adventure Education (3)
- PHEC.245 Camp Leadership (2)
- PHEC.305 Outdoor Education: Philosophy & Methods (3)
- PHEC.397 Internship in Camping or Outdoor Education (3)

Laboratory Skills Courses (4 credits)

4 credits selected from the following

- PHEC.108 Cross Country Skiing (minimester) (1)
- PHEC.115 Bicycle Touring (.5)
- PHEC.123 Elementary Backpacking (1)
- PHEC.137 Orienteering (.5)
- PHEC.141 Basic Rock Climbing (1)
- PHEC.164 Canoeing (.5)
- PHEC.166 Basic Sailing (1)
- PHEC.263 Scuba Diving (1)

Student Teaching in Outdoor Education (3-7)
(in addition to student teaching in a major field)

Health Science Certification

Required Courses (24 credits)

- HLTH.103 Emergency Medical Care, First Aid & Safety (3)
- HLTH.110 Foundations of Health Behavior I (3)
- HLTH.208 Mental Health, Stress & Crisis Intervention (3)
- HLTH.325 Institutional Methods in Health Education (3)
- HLTH.331 Nutrition for Health Professionals (3)
- HLTH.401 Teaching Drugs and Sex (3)
- HLTH.405 Drugs In Our Culture (3)

MAJOR IN PHYSICAL EDUCATION: SPORT STUDIES PROGRAM

The Sport Studies program focuses on a humanistic view of sports and physical activity. The program provides a range of interdisciplinary study options leading to preparation for graduate study in a sub-discipline of physical education, or employment in sports related positions within the business community.

Three areas of concentration are offered in the major: Sports Management, Sports Communication, and Psychology of Sport and Physical Activity.

Students in the program are required to complete 15 credits in Sport Studies core courses, six courses in sport and physical activity courses, and 41-42 credits in required and elective courses in one of the three areas of concentration.

Students must complete all courses required for the major (including the area of concentration) with a grade of "C" or higher.

Requirements for the Sport Studies Program

Sport Studies Core (15 credits)

- PHEC.341 Concepts of Motor Learning (3)
 PHEC.351 Philosophy: The Sport Experience (3)
 PHEC.353 Sport & Society (3)
 PHEC.355 Psychology of Sport (3)
 PHEC.451 History of American Sport (3)
 or
 PHEC.393 A World History of Sport to 1900 (3)

Sport and Physical Activity Courses (3 credits)

Courses are required in the following categories:

Individual Sports—two courses (see list below)

Team Sports—two courses (see list below)

Remaining credit to be selected from the entire list of PHEA/PHEC activity course offerings, major or non-major sections.

Individual Sports		Team Sports
Archery	Racquetball	Baseball	Rugby
Badminton	Sailing	Basketball	Soccer
Billiards	Squash Racquets	Field Hockey	Softball
Bowling	Swimming	Football	Volleyball
Fencing	Tennis	Team Handball	Water Polo
Golf	Track and Field	Lacrosse
Gymnastics	Wrestling
Handball

Sports Management Concentration

In addition to the sports studies core and activity requirements stated above, the student electing this option must complete the requirements below.

Students in this concentration may not take more than 24 credits in the School of Business and Economics.

Required Courses (27 credits)

- ACCT.201 Principles of Accounting I (3)
 ACCT.202 Principles of Accounting II (3)
 BULA.225 Legal Environment of Business (3)

PROFESSIONAL PREPARATION ELEMENTARY EDUCATION

The Department of Physical Education offers three courses for students majoring in Early Childhood or Elementary Education. They are PHEC.281-282, "Physical Education for Elementary Education Students I, II" and PHEC.324, "Teaching Physical Education in the Elementary School." Course descriptions are listed in the back of this Catalog.

MEETING GENERAL UNIVERSITY REQUIREMENTS

Physical education courses provide the student with an opportunity to acquire the skills and understanding of selected physical activities. Emphasis is placed on developing sufficient competence to enjoy sports and recreational activities. To meet Group IA of the General University Requirements, a minimum of one credit hour of physical education activity must be taken from PHEA/PHEC 101-269 (excluding PHEC.245, PHEC.247, PHEC.248). All courses admit men and women, but several are more specifically designated in the University Schedule Bulletin. Students with medically screened physical limitations may elect Adapted Physical Education PHEA.110). Activity courses may be taken each semester of the student's academic career. Non-majors may apply for credit by examination for prior experience or skill in selected activities by contacting the chair of the department. Course outlines for all activity courses are available in the Physical Education office.

 PHEC.419 Swimming and Pool Management (3)

TRANSFER CREDIT POLICY

Physical education transfer credits will be evaluated by the department on an individual basis. A minimum of one-half of the credit hours required in the major (PHEC) must be completed at Towson State University.

GRADUATE PROGRAM

The Department of Physical Education, in cooperation with the Department of Secondary Education, offers a graduate program leading to a Master of Education degree in Secondary Education with a concentration in physical education. The program is designed to enrich the education of teachers and provide for advanced development of personal competencies congruent with their educational responsibilities. For further information consult the Graduate Catalog.

The College of Education

Towson State University has a distinguished history in the preparation of classroom teachers and education specialists. Although the majority of graduates from the College of Education enter America's schools as teachers and specialists, careers for educators are also available in a variety of nonschool settings: government, industry, media production, military, correctional institutions, and other emerging fields. Many employers want employees who possess skills and understandings previously thought of as only necessary for classroom teachers: writing goals and objectives, preparing instructional programs, establishing criteria for assessment of programs, organizing print and nonprint materials, and preparing instructional materials.

Present and future graduates of the College of Education will spend the great majority of their professional lives in the twenty-first century. Programs of study within the College, therefore, are constantly assessed and reorganized to provide students with what we believe to be three essentials for professional success in the next century: (1) a challenging general education in a variety of disciplines; (2) indepth content in the field of teaching specialization; and (3) professional education based upon current research and the best models of practice.

To promote these essentials, the faculty of the College of Education are committed to participate actively in the academic community as teachers, scholars, and advisors, and to collaborate with other professionals in addressing the educational needs of the community.

MISSION AND GOALS

The College of Education offers programs of study leading to the baccalaureate degree in education with certification to teach early childhood, elementary and secondary education. In addition, the college offers teacher certification for students enrolled in other colleges of the university.

The College of Education is nationally accredited by the National Council for Accreditation of Colleges of Teacher Education (NCATE). The teacher education programs are also approved by the Maryland State Department of Education, which uses the program approval standards set by the National Association of State Directors of Teacher Education and Certification (NASDTEC) and qualifies graduates for certification in all member states. Applicants for Maryland teaching certificates are required to achieve qualifying scores on the National Teachers Examination, as designated by the Maryland State Department of Education.

The mission of the College of Education is to assist students to become competent educators. To this end, the faculty are committed to the following goals:

1. To demonstrate a commitment to scholarly growth and research.
2. To require that all teaching majors receive a liberal education.
3. To promote good interpersonal relationships among persons in the teacher education community.
4. To promote in teacher education majors positive attitudes and professional commitment.
5. To promote active involvement in campus, community, and professional affiliations.
6. To develop in students the ability to interpret, analyze, evaluate, and communicate the content of their teaching specialty.
7. To develop in students teaching methods expected of practicing educational professionals.
8. To develop in students the values and skills that insure utilization of current instructional media and emerging technologies.
9. To develop competencies in students which enable them to teach students of diverse ethnic and cultural backgrounds.
10. To develop an understanding of lifelong human development that permits interpretation of learning behavior from childhood through adulthood.
11. To support a field experience program that provides early and continuous opportunities to relate theory and practice.
12. To produce an evaluation and reward system that encourages superior performance by faculty and students.
13. To provide equal opportunity for students to pursue their interests and talents without regard for race, cultural background, sex, or handicaps.
14. To provide skills in students to work effectively with exceptional learners, from gifted to those with disabilities.
15. To work cooperatively with school systems and other agencies to develop teacher preparation programs that meet current educational needs.

ADVISING AND SCREENING

Early Childhood, Elementary and Secondary Education students are requested to visit the Advising and Screening Center (Hawkins Hall 302) during their first semester at Towson. Students will be assigned an advisor and will be given information regarding the speech and hearing test and basic skills tests and testing dates.

Admission to Teacher Education

The College of Education admits students either as freshmen or as undergraduate transfer students from accredited post-secondary institutions. Students who plan to enter one of the teacher education programs should complete an information form in their first semester at Towson. At the advising and screening center, students will be assigned an advisor according to their chosen major. During the freshman and sophomore years students are generally engaged in preprofessional courses or courses to complete General University Requirements.

In addition to the undergraduate program, the College of Education offers professional education courses for baccalaureate graduates seeking Maryland State certification; members of minority groups are especially encouraged to apply. Prior to enrolling in course work, certification students must contact the Maryland State Department of Education for an evaluation of their transcript. Certification students must pass the basic skills tests and attain the required grade point average prior to student teaching.

Admission to Professional Education Programs

After completing a minimum of 45 credits, students in Early Childhood, Elementary or Secondary Education are required to apply for formal admission to the professional education programs. Application forms are available in the Center for Applied Skills in Education (HH 302). Majors in K-12 programs, such as Art, Music, Health Science, Physical Education, and Dance, may obtain applications and advisors through their major departments. Full admittance to the professional program is conditional on meeting the following requirements:

1. a cumulative quality point average of at least 2.50 (including transfer credit)
2. a minimum average of at least 2.50 in the academic major
3. completion of the basic skills tests
4. completion of a speech and hearing test
5. completion of English 102 or 190 with a grade of "C" or better

Admission to Student Teaching

Students apply for student teaching on a form provided by the Center for Applied Skills in Education. Applications must be filed by the midsemester date, the semester prior to student teaching.

Students must have completed the following requirements prior to student teaching:

1. a minimum of 75 credits
2. a cumulative quality point average of at least 2.50
3. a minimum average of 2.75 in their academic major
4. a minimum average of 2.75 in the education courses
5. successful completion of the basic skills tests at the competency level determined by the Teacher Education Executive Board
6. completion of an advanced writing course with a grade of "C" or better

All teacher education students must successfully complete the basic skills tests and a speech and hearing test prior to student teaching.

Students should arrange to take the basic skills tests at the completion of their sophomore year. In some cases, supplementary course work or remedial activities may be required prior to student teaching.

Each teacher education student who has reached the appropriate level of competency is placed in a cooperating school system. Opportunities are available in rural or urban schools, public and private schools, "self-contained" or "open-space" classrooms with individual teachers or with teams. With special arrangements through the CASE office, student teaching may be completed in the United Kingdom. Students may be placed in schools where methods courses are taught by a college supervisor or individual placements are made for students who have taken methods courses on campus. Every attempt is made to secure the available placement that best meets the needs of the individual.

Differentiated student teaching (an additional and/or special student teaching experience) may be taken by students with the permission of their advisor.

Students enrolled in student teaching experience are charged a fee ranging from $125 to $250 per student teaching experience. This fee is used for remuneration to cooperating teachers in schools where student teaching is completed.

LIDA LEE TALL LEARNING RESOURCES CENTER

An elementary school, Nursery to grade 5, the Lida Lee Tall Learning Resources Center is an independent State agency reporting to the Governor and State Legislature. The center is designed to serve all of Maryland's higher education and local education agencies and is utilized by students and faculty in the College of Education.

CHILD CARE PROGRAMS

The Council Day Care Demonstration and Training Center is an educational support program within the College of Education. The program is located in the Lida Lee Tall Learning Resources Center and is utilized through observation, participation, and research by students and faculty of the University and external agencies.

ALIZA BRANDWINE PARENT-INFANT CENTER

The Aliza Brandwine Center for Parent-Infant Development is an extension of the Early Childhood Education Department and serves families in the Baltimore metropolitan area (30% with special needs) as well as TSU students, faculty, and staff. Housed in the Lida Lee Tall Learning Resources Center, the Center offers developmentally appropriate play sessions for children aged 6–30 months and discussion groups for parents which focus on parenting, family, and child development issues. The two-hour sessions also provide TSU students from many disciplines with the opportunity to work with infants, toddlers and their families, and a forum for research and training of child care providers. Weekly lunchtime parenting seminars are conducted for the TSU community. The Center operates during the traditional school year, September—June.

CENTER FOR APPLIED SKILLS IN EDUCATION (CASE)

OFFICE

Hawkins Hall, Room 302, (301) 830-2567

Acting Director: GREG BRYANT

The Center for Applied Skills in Education (CASE) is a service housed and supported by the College of Education at Towson State University. The major purpose of the center is to assist students and method instructors in placing students in a variety of field settings such as tutoring, practicum and student teaching

Specific operations of CASE include:

- overseeing all campus-initiated field programs
- administering field placements
- promoting field placements
- identifying schools and agencies to participate as settings for field placements
- screening applicants for field placements
- counseling students regarding field work
- maintaining liaison between off-campus schools/agencies and university departments
- providing in-service for schools and university personnel
- distributing protocols and other teaching materials related to field experiences.

PROGRAMS OF THE DEPARTMENT

The Department of Early Childhood Education offers the following programs of study: the major in Early Childhood Education, the combined major in Early Childhood Education and Elementary Education, and the Master of Education in Early Childhood Education. For more information about the graduate program consult the Graduate School Catalog.

The Early Childhood Education major is designed for students who have an interest in working with young children from birth through age eight. It is built on the premise that special capabilities and understandings are necessary to teach successfully in the preschool and primary grades.

The major in Early Childhood Education leads to State certification to teach nursery school, kindergarten, and primary grades 1-3. It also prepares students for positions in other programs for young children such as day care centers, parent and child centers, child life programs, infant stimulation programs, private and other nonpublic preschool and primary settings.

Early Childhood/Elementary Education Certification

In cooperation with the Elementary Education Department, students can select courses that will enable them to become certified in both Early Childhood Education and Elementary Education. Graduates of this program would be eligible to teach children from birth through age thirteen. Students interested should contact the chairs of both departments to plan their programs.

Alternate Early Childhood Education Major

As a service to teachers who wish to pursue a degree in Early Childhood Education while they are on their teaching assignments and to other workers in programs for young children, the College of Continuing Studies offers an alternate program during evenings and summers for the preparation of nursery school, kindergarten, day care center, and primary teachers which will enable them to major in Early Childhood Education.

SCHOOL LIBRARY/MEDIA

Elementary and Early Childhood students may acquire an additional state certification endorsement for school media center positions (Educational Media Associate, Level 1) by adding 18 credits of certain ISTC electives to their major. Interested students should consult Dr. Burton, School Library Media Coordinator (General Education).

MAJOR IN EARLY CHILDHOOD EDUCATION

To meet both the college and Maryland State certification requirements in general education, the student must complete a minimum of 80 hours in the arts and sciences. The required professional education courses in Early Childhood Education total 40 hours. The remaining hours in either the academic areas or professional area are elected by the student to obtain the total of 128 hours needed for graduation. Students must have a "C" or better in all courses in their major, this includes the interdisciplinary methods courses in Music, Art, Physical Education and Science, taken concurrently with ECED.341, and the Math and Advanced Writing courses taken concurrently with ECED.342.

Early Childhood Education majors should confer with an Early Childhood advisor during the semester they declare their major in order to be certain they have planned a program that meets university, department and Maryland State Department of Education requirements. This is particularly important if students are planning a combined major, a double major or if they are planning a program of study in special education. Students should follow the special education requirements listed under Special Education. Students should consult with their advisors before taking courses on a pass/fail option since courses in their major and courses required for Maryland State Department of Education certification should not be taken on this option.

Early Childhood Education is a screened major. The following requirements must be met and an application interview held with the department chair in order to receive approval for entrance into ECED.341.

Each student is required to complete a speech and hearing test as well as a basic skills test before entering ECED.341. Successful completion of the tests at the competency level determined by the Teacher Education Executive Board must be achieved by mid-semester of the semester prior to student teaching. In some instances, supplementary course work or remedial activities may be required of students who fail to demonstrate adequate reading, writing or expressive communication skills.

A cumulative QPA of 2.50 is required for entrance into ECED.341 Preprimary Curriculum. This QPA includes grades transferred and grades earned at TSU. A cumulative QPA of 2.50 and a minimum average of 2.75 in major courses are required for admission into student teaching.

Deviations from the program established by the Early Childhood Education Department are permitted only with the consent of the department chair.

Eight hours in electives are required to bring the total number of credits to 128 for graduation. Professional or Arts and Sciences courses may be selected.

STUDENT TEACHING SEMESTER

A maximum of 15 credits may be taken during the student teaching semester.

TRANSFER STUDENT POLICIES

A minimum of 25 credits in the major must be completed at TSU. ECE majors are not eligible for Transfer Options I or II. The Introduction to Special Education course is transferable from certain institutions only. Contact the department chair for specifics.

Department of Elementary Education

Professors: BARBOUR (Chair), HANSON, HAUSERMAN, HOLMES, NICHOLAS, WILLIAMS

Associate Professors: ALTWERGER, SUHORSKY (Graduate Coordinator), VLANGAS

Assistant Professors: BOYD, COLE, MARTIN, McALLISTER

OFFICE

Hawkins Hall, Room 403C, (301) 830-2565

PROGRAMS OF THE DEPARTMENT

The Department of Elementary Education offers the following programs of study: the major in Elementary Education, the combined major in Elementary Education and Early Childhood Education, the Elementary Education major with a minor in selected disciplines, the Master of Education in Elementary Education, and the Master of Education in Reading. For more information about the master's programs, consult the Graduate School Catalog.

The major in Elementary Education leads to certification to teach grades 1 through 6, through grade 8 in the middle schools organization, and grade 9 provided content requirements for secondary certification are met. The program provides classroom and laboratory experiences that prepare students for beginning teaching in elementary or middle schools.

Combined Major in Elementary/Early Childhood Education

In addition to the major in Elementary Education, it is possible through judicious course selection to carry a double major or to pursue a combined major.

In cooperation with the Early Childhood Education Department, students can select courses that will enable them to become certified in both Elementary and Early Childhood Education. Graduates of this program would be eligible to teach children from birth through age thirteen. Interested students should contact the chairs of both departments to plan their programs.

Elementary Education Major with a Minor

Elementary majors may arrange programs with minors in other selected disciplines by arrangement with the chair of Elementary Education and the chair of the other department concerned.

Elementary Education Major/Mathematics Minor

Through a cooperative program of the Elementary Education and Mathematics departments, students can use a middle school student teaching experience as a route to elementary certification with a mathematics minor. Interested students should consult with the chairs of the Elementary Education and Mathematics departments as early in their college program as possible.

Program with St. Mary's College

Students at St. Mary's College may obtain credit count certification in Elementary Education by taking their junior year at Towson under the direction of the Coordinator of the Cooperative Education Program and the chair of Elementary Education at the university and the Director of Teacher Education at St. Mary's College.

MAJOR IN ELEMENTARY EDUCATION

To meet both the College and Maryland State certification requirements, students must complete 80 hours in the arts and sciences, at least 34 hours in professional education courses of which a minimum of 21 must be taken at Towson State, and electives to make a total of at least 126 credits. Students must maintain an overall quality point average of 2.50 or higher, and a 2.75 in courses for the major.

Students should consult with their advisors before taking courses on a pass/fail option. Courses in the major and courses required for Maryland State Department of Education certification must not be taken on this option.

Theory and practice are combined to provide a thorough preparation for teaching, and such preparation must be demonstrated prior to student teaching. Students are required to consult with their Elementary Education advisors concerning the basic skills tests to be taken. In some cases, supplementary course work may be required of students who fail to demonstrate adequate reading, writing, or mathematics proficiencies. Successful completion of the basic skills tests must be met by mid-semester of the semester prior to student teaching.

Students graduating after 1985 must complete a special education requirement. Students should consult with their advisors for course suggestions.

Deviations from the program pattern for Elementary majors, in content or sequence of professional education courses, are permitted only with the written consent of the chair of the Elementary Education Department.

Requirements for the Major

Students must complete 83 credits from the following university and departmental required courses, and required skills courses.

The student must take prerequisite courses in art, music, and/or physical education for the two special area methods chosen. The third methods course may be taken as an elective after Student Teaching. Music education courses (MUED) cannot be used to fulfill General University Requirements.

Courses starred (*) should be completed before Student Teaching.

Electives (6 credits)

Electives in sufficient number to total at least 126 semester hours are needed. Professional Education or Arts & Sciences courses are recommended. One course should be a multicultural course.

Special Education

Through a cooperative arrangement with Coppin State College, Early Childhood and Elementary majors can complete a program in Special Education. The program is generic and age specific and requires 39 credits within six special education categories. Some of these credits are in the existing Early Childhood and Elementary programs.

Nine hours are taught by Coppin State faculty. Interested students should consult Dr. Marilyn Lewis (Coordinator of Cooperating Program in Special Education) or Dr. Chandler Barbour (Elementary Education).

All undergraduate teacher education students are required to take SPED.301, Introduction to Special Education, in order to complete their program requirements.

SCHOOL LIBRARY/MEDIA

Elementary and Early Childhood students may acquire an additional state certification endorsement for school media center positions (Educational Media Associate, Level I) by adding 18 credits of certain ISTC electives to their major. Interested students should consult Dr. Burton, School Library Media Coordinator (General Education).

Department of General Education

PROGRAMS OF THE DEPARTMENT

The General Education Department is responsible for courses that are not limited to a single teacher education program. The Education course listings include "core" and foundational education courses providing knowledge and skills of general application in teaching and training areas. The Instructional Technology and Special Education offerings are also not age or grade-specific.

The Department coordinates the Reading Programs and the Reading Center; the Learning Center; Developmental Reading courses; Special Education; Instructional Technology; and the General Studies in Education Major. Graduate programs include the Master of Arts in Teaching, the Master's programs in Reading and in Instructional Technology.

MAJOR IN GENERAL STUDIES IN EDUCATION

(Coordinator: Royce Van Norman, HH 107)

The major in General Studies in Education is a highly individualized program designed to meet the needs of students with special career plans. Their preparation allows them to assume entry level positions in education-related careers other than classroom teaching. It is similar to the general arts and sciences major because a concentration of electives within an area of specialty is allowed along with a balanced selection of liberal arts courses.

Requirements for the Major

The student must achieve a 2.00 QPA and should declare the major by submitting a plan of study no later than the first semester of the junior year. This plan must be approved in advance by the student's Education advisor and Coordinator of General Studies in Education.

The student must satisfy the General University Requirements for graduation.

The student must complete 36 additional semester hours in liberal arts and sciences courses selected from Anthropology, Art, Biology, Chemistry, Computer Science, Dance, Economics, English, Geography, Health, History, Modern Languages, Mathematics, Music, Philosophy, Physics, Physical Science, Psychology, Sociology, or Theatre. These hours must include work from a minimum of four different departments and be approximately balanced between the arts and the sciences. A rationale for the selection of these courses must be followed. With the approval of the student's advisor and the appropriate dean, courses in departments not listed above may be allowed if these courses are needed to complement the student's program.

The student must also include in his or her program a professional component of approved professional courses planned to prepare him or her for a specialty. This component is to be designed with appropriate competencies in an area of expertise chosen by the student and consist of at least 80% upper-division courses which center around a "core" which leads to professional certification or expertise in an education-related occupation.

SCHOOL MEDIA, LIBRARY INFORMATION SERVICES, AND INSTRUCTIONAL TECHNOLOGY

(Coordinator: Linda Burton, Media Center 201)

Elective courses in Instructional Technology allow students of any major to develop media design, production, and utilization competencies for business, government, non-profit, and educational settings. In addition, the following two programs are available as concentrations under the General Education Major.

Library and Information Services Concentration

This concentration in the General Education Major is designed for students desiring a career in library and information services in public libraries or special collections.

In completing the General University Requirements, the following should be included:

- | | | |
|----------|--|-----|
| PSYC 101 | Introduction to Psychology (for Group V) | (3) |
| ISTC 305 | Writing Skills for Media Centers (for Group I) | (3) |

These additional courses are required in the concentration:

- | | | |
|----------|--|-----|
| ISTC 101 | Utilization of Library Resources | (3) |
| PSYC 201 | Educational Psychology | (3) |
| PSYC 203 | Human Growth and Development | (3) |
| ISTC 301 | Utilization of Instructional Media | (3) |
| ISTC 302 | Design and Production of Instructional Materials | (3) |
| ISTC 311 | Media Center Administration | (3) |
| ISTC 313 | Evaluation and Selection of Media | (3) |
| ISTC 441 | Computer Technology and Utilization | (3) |
| ISTC 471 | Reference and Information Services | (3) |
| ISTC 473 | Cataloging and Classification of Media | (3) |
| EDUC 417 | Children's Literature | |
| | or | |
| EDUC 418 | Young Adult Literature | (3) |
| | One additional ISTC elective | |
| | (or ENGL 232, 242, or 270) | |
| | | (3) |
| ISTC 497 | Internship in Library Services | (6) |

The major is completed by 24 additional elective credits chosen from the Arts and Sciences which may include the Social Sciences and Health.

School Library Media Concentration

Students in this concentration under the General Education Major may qualify for Maryland State Certification for school "librarian" or media center positions (Education Media Associate, Level I).

In completing the General University Requirements, the following should be included:

- | | | |
|----------|--|-----|
| PSYC 101 | Introduction to Psychology (for Group V) | (3) |
| ISTC 305 | Writing Skills for Media Centers (For Group I) | (3) |
| | or | |
| EDUC 302 | Writing and Communication Skills for Teachers | (3) |

These additional courses are required in the concentration.

- | | | |
|----------|---|-----|
| PSYC 201 | Educational Psychology | (3) |
| PSYC 203 | Human Growth and Development | (3) |
| SCED 319 | Survey of Educational Programs | (3) |

| SCED 341 | Principles of Secondary Education | |
| ISTC 301 | Utilization of Instructional Media | (3) |
| ISTC 302 | Design and Production of Instructional Materials | (3) |
| ISTC 311 | Media Center Administration | (3) |
| ISTC 313 | Evaluation and Selection of Media | (3) |
| ISTC 471 | Reference and Information Sources | (3) |
| ISTC 473 | Cataloging and Classification of Media | (3) |
| ELEM 323 | Teaching Reading in the Elementary School | |
| | or | |
| SCED 460 | Teaching Reading in the Secondary School | (3) |
| EDUC 417 | Children's Literature | (3) |
| | or | |
| EDUC 418 | Young Adult Literature | (3) |
| EDUC 301 | Introduction to Special Education | (3) |
| ISTC 475 | Methods for Media Personnel in the Elementary School | (2) |
| ISTC 477 | Methods for Media Personnel in the Secondary School | (2) |
| ISTC 397 | Student Teaching: The Media Center in the Elementary School | (6) |

ISTC 398 Student Teaching: The Media Center in the Secondary School (6)

The major is completed by 21 additional electives chosen from the Arts and Sciences which may include the Social Sciences and Health.

NOTE: To complete this M.S.D.E. approved certification program, the student must comply with the requirements of the Teacher Education Executive Board for Undergraduate Teacher Certification Programs.

Graduate Study in Instructional Technology

(Coordinator: Dr. Paul Jones, Media Center 206)

The Department of General Education offers a comprehensive graduate program which prepares professionals for careers in the instructional media field. The Instructional Development concentration is intended for those who wish to prepare for training and media positions in business, community and governmental settings. The Library Media concentration is intended for the person who plans to direct a School Library Media Center operation. Persons holding this degree are eligible for certification by the Maryland State Department of Education as an Educational Media Generalist (Level II). See the Graduate Catalog for details.

MASTER OF ARTS IN TEACHING

(Coordinator: Dr. Ellen Notar, HH 403F)

A Master of Arts in Teaching K-12 program is designed to prepare especially qualified students for teaching certifications in grades K-12. Inquiries may be directed to the coordinator.

READING INSTRUCTION

(Coordinator: Dr. Joseph Gutkoska, HH 107)

A graduate program specifically designed to improve the teaching of reading at all age levels is available for qualified students seeking initial Maryland State Certification as Reading Specialist K-12. See the Graduate Catalog for details.

The Reading Center

(Director: Joseph Gutkoska, HH 107)

This clinic provides diagnostic and remediation services for students of all ages. It provides practicum experiences for graduate students in the Master's degree program in Reading while providing assistance to individuals in the community with reading problems.

DEVELOPMENTAL READING

(Coordinator: A. Karen Blair, HH 107)

Remediation in reading skills is provided for Towson students through the Developmental Studies courses in reading scheduled by the General Education Department in collaboration with the Learning Center. (See Developmental Programs under Student Services Programs.)

The Learning Center

(Director: M. Steve Boone, HH 210)

Tutorial services and re-testing for the Developmental Reading Program as well as for the Teacher Education basic competency screening requirements are provided by this center

SPECIAL EDUCATION

(Coordinator: Dr. Marilyn Lewis, HH 305A)

Towson State University does not offer a degree in special education. The courses offered in special education are designed to supplement the regular teacher education program to enable teachers to work with atypical or handicapped children who are mainstreamed. All education majors are required to take SPED 301 Introduction to Special Education.

Through a cooperative arrangement with Coppin State College, Towson State University offers a program in special education whereby students can become eligible for credit count certification in special education.

Students must major in either Early Childhood Education or Elementary Education at Towson State University and complete additional courses in special education to become certified. Certification in special education in Maryland is generic. Generic certification includes all handicapping conditions except Hearing Impaired, Visually Impaired, or Severely and Profoundly Handicapped. Students who wish to become certified in these categories require additional endorsement/courses. Towson State University does not offer training/courses in these areas.

Students who desire Maryland State Certification in Special Education should consult with our coordinator.

PROGRAMS OF THE DEPARTMENT

The Department of Secondary Education offers 15 certification programs in the secondary subject areas of Biology, Chemistry, English, French, General Science, Geography, German, Health, History, Mathematics, Natural Science, Physics, Social Science, Socio-Economic Business, and Spanish.

The department also offers Dual Certification programs that qualify teachers for kindergarten through grade 12 in the following subject areas: Art Education, Dance, Library Media, Music and Physical Education.

All teacher education programs are approved by the Maryland State Department of Education. Upon graduation in one of these programs, students are eligible for certification to teach in Maryland.

The programs of education for junior, middle and high school teachers are designed to bring about close integration between teaching methods and the practical experience of observation and student teaching. Students are required to file a Declaration of Intention Form. A Secondary Education advisor is required in addition to an advisor in the major for the following majors: English Education, History Education, Mathematics Education, Modern Language Education, Science Education, or Social Science Education. For information, come to Hawkins Hall 405L.

Concurrently with declaration of intention, students should arrange to take the required basic skills tests. Students should arrange to take these required tests (scheduled every semester) at the first opportunity so that remediation may be sought, if necessary, and proficiency be achieved before student teaching. In some cases, supplementary work may be required of students who fail to demonstrate adequate reading and writing competencies. Students will consult with education advisors to obtain results of the above tests and where necessary to plan for appropriate remediation. Failure to satisfactorily remediate deficiencies in basic skills will result in denial of student teaching. Students must secure approval for student teaching from the Secondary Education Department; it is contingent upon successful completion of the required courses, demonstration of acceptable competencies in the tested areas, and meeting grade point average requirements (see GPA Requirement for Student Teaching.)

After introductory courses in the nature of today's schools and their students and appropriate field experiences, the prospective secondary teacher enters the student teaching semester. Methods, philosophy, techniques, and practice are combined to provide a thorough preparation for teaching, and such preparation must be demonstrated prior to student teaching. The student teaching semester is followed by a course in the sociological, philosophical, and historical foundations of education.

To meet new areas of demand, areas of study are being developed in adult education, middle school education, special education, training, and writing and communications skills.

TSU does not offer certification courses in secretarial and office practice subjects.

SECONDARY TEACHER EDUCATION

To obtain teaching certification at the secondary level, students must major in one of the following academic fields: Biology, Chemistry, English, French, Geography, German, Health, History, Mathematics, Natural Science, Physics, Social Science, Socio-Economic Business, or Spanish. In addition, students must satisfy the General University Requirements, take the National Teachers Exam and complete the Professional Education courses listed below.

Required Professional Education Courses

A minimum grade of "C" is required for all courses.

PSYC.201	Educational Psychology (3)
SCED.341	Principles of Secondary Education (4)
	or
SCED.319	Survey of Educational Programs (3) (depending upon your major program)
SCED.460	Teaching Reading in the Secondary School (3) (Taken concurrently with Principles of Secondary Education) and shares a required field experience)
SPED.301	Intro. to Special Education (3) Methods of Teaching Major Subject (3-6)
ISTC.269	Laboratory in Instructional Hardware (1)
SCED.398	Student Teaching (12)
EDUC.401	Foundations of Education (3)

Additional requirements to be integrated into GURs:

HIST.145	History of U.S. to Mid-19th Century (3)
	or
HIST.146	History of U.S. Since Mid-19th Century (3)
COMM.131	Fundamentals of Speech Communication (3) One Course in Non-Western Culture (3)*

*(See secondary education advisor for approved list of courses.)

Note: Some methods courses are offered spring or fall only. Check with your advisor.

TSU does not offer certification courses in secretarial and office practice subjects.

Subject Major

Refer to the department under which a specific major is discussed. For instance, those interested in teaching History at the secondary level should refer to the Secondary Education Program of the History Department for specific requirements in that discipline.

QPA Requirement for Student Teaching

Effective September 1988, all students must meet the following QPA requirements to be admitted to student teaching: 2.75 in major field and in professional education courses and 2.50 overall. (Consult with SCED advisor.)

KINDERGARTEN-TWELFTH GRADE TEACHER EDUCATION PROGRAMS

Students may obtain certification to teach the following subjects at both the elementary and secondary levels: Art Education, Dance, Library Media, Music, Education and Physical Education.

Students must satisfy the General University Requirements, the professional education courses listed below, requirements for each major listed below, and GPA requirements (see GPA Requirement for Student Teaching).

Required Professional Education Courses

PSYC.201	Educational Psychology (3)
SCED.319	Survey of Educational Programs (3)
SPED.301	Introduction to Special Education (3) Methods of Teaching Major Subject in Elementary School (3-6) Methods of Teaching Major Subject in Secondary School (3-6)
ELED.379	Student Teaching in Elementary School (6-8)
SCED.xxx	Student Teaching in Secondary School (6-7)
EDUC.401	Foundations of Education (3)

Additional requirements to be integrated into GURs:

HIST.145	History of US to Mid-19th Century (3) or
HIST.146	History of US Since Mid-19th Century (3)
COMM.131	Fundamentals of Speech Communication (3) One course in Non-Western Culture (3)*

*(See secondary education department or major advisor for approved list of courses)

Teacher education programs exist in the following areas:

Art Education
Dance Education
Library Media
Music Education
Physical Education

For required courses and special program information, consult the section of this Catalog dealing with each particular major.

Adult Education

The study of Adult Education is designed to prepare teachers of adults in settings outside the school. Particular emphasis is placed on the process of training in business, industry, government, and other institutions. The program has been planned cooperatively with Departments in the School of Business.

An introductory course in learning theories as applied to adults is followed by specialized courses in training techniques, planning instruction, evaluation techniques, design and creation of audio-visual materials, and safety education. Additional coursework in industrial psychology and related areas comprises the final component of the specialization.

Social Restoration Education

Institutionalized youth who are alienated, socially maladjusted, or delinquent, as well as those minors who become wards of the state for other reasons (orphans, or victims of child abuse, for example), need teachers who are especially motivated and who have a range of skills beyond those of minimal teacher preparation. The State of Maryland does not have specific certification requirements for this specialization, but Towson offers a concentration of electives at both undergraduate and graduate levels.

The College of Fine Arts and Communication

The College of Fine Arts and Communication offers degree programs in Art, Dance, Music, Speech and Mass Communication, and Theatre. The objective of these programs is to provide the necessary training and education for students to excel in their chosen professions. Additionally, the college offers all Towson State University students the opportunity to actively participate in both academic and artistic experiences in the arts and communication.

As its commitment to the community at large, the College of Fine Arts and Communication presents numerous concerts, exhibits, plays and film forums which are open to the public. The Asian Arts Center is maintained by the College of Fine Arts and Communication and houses all of the university's collections. The collections are exhibited for the public in the Roberts Gallery and numerous other locations in the university. Fittingly, they are used as teaching tools by faculty members from several disciplines.

PROGRAMS OF THE DEPARTMENT

The Department of Art, designated as the Center for the Visual Arts in the State University and College System, offers a comprehensive program comprised of eight areas of concentration: Art History, Ceramics, Fibers, Jewelry, Painting, Printmaking, Sculpture, and Visual Communication/Photography. Associated with these concentrations, five degree programs are offered: the major in Studio Art, the minor in Studio Art, the major in Art Education for students planning to teach at the elementary or secondary levels, the Master of Education in Art Education and the Master of Fine Arts.

Because the creative process in the visual arts relies so heavily on the dialogue between instructor and students, course work is structured to provide optimum contact on both a group and individualized basis. It is in this atmosphere that the Art Department provides a background for personal creativity, prepares students for graduate study and creates a foundation for careers in art.

Each Spring, the Art Department offers a comprehensive, full semester, Travel-Study Abroad Program as an integral part of the curriculum. Students register on campus, but pursue art courses in a foreign locale under Towson State University faculty direction.

FACILITIES

The facilities available to the undergraduate and graduate student are extensive. They are designed to encourage and fully support the creative endeavors of students. Each area of concentration has all of the equipment necessary to assure that students reach their potential.

CAREER OPPORTUNITIES

The Art Department, as a part of Towson State University, has a long tradition of preparing students as highly qualified teachers. To prepare students for other careers in art, the department, in conjunction with the Office of Cooperative Education, has developed internships in the business community. These internships provide students with the experience necessary for achieving success in commercial fields. Internships in interior design, illustration and advertising are just a few of the experiences available.

MAJOR IN STUDIO ART

Art majors must complete 60 credit hours in art. The major program consists of 18 hours of foundation requirements in the freshman year, 15 hours of second-level foundation requirements, and 27 hours in an area of concentration.

Requirements for the Major

Foundation Requirements

First-Level Required Courses (18 credits)

Certain subjects are fundamental to training in all of the arts. In the freshman year, the student begins to acquire the technical skills necessary for a career in the arts. The foundation requirements form a basis for the ability to communicate in visual and verbal terms; to write about art; to explore media and ideas; and to think and respond creatively.

MAJOR IN ART EDUCATION

Students in the Art Education program receive dual certification enabling them to teach art in Maryland at both the elementary and secondary levels (K-12).

In addition to meeting the General University Requirements, students complete 72 credits in art and art education courses, and fulfill the requirements of the University for Dual Certification Education programs. (Some of these courses also will fulfill General University Requirements.)

In order to enter and continue within the professional sequence, students must have an overall quality point average of 2.5, and 2.75 in art, art education, and teacher education courses. All education majors also must pass Basic Skills Tests in reading, writing, spelling, and mathematics, and Speech & Hearing Tests prior to student teaching. These tests should be undertaken early in the preparation to allow for remediation if necessary. We advise that students take these tests no later than the first semester in which they begin art education courses.

Requirements for the Major

Foundation Requirements (36 credits)

The first 18 credits of art foundation are required for the Art Education major. The second-level foundation requirements are the same as those required for Studio Art majors, except that Ceramics I (ART.231) is required as the craft course.

Area of Concentration Requirements

Required Courses (15 credits)

- ART.225 Design for Visual Communication I (3)
- ART.230 Watercolor and Related Media I (3)
- ART.234 Photography I (3)
- ARED.375 Materials and Techniques for Teachers of Art (3)

One of the following

- ART.347 Screen Process I (3)
- ART.349 Relief Process I (3)
- ART.350 Intaglio Process I (3)
- ART.353 Lithographic Process I (3)

Teacher Education Courses (36 credits)

The following courses are prerequisites to all ARED courses except ARED.375:

- PSYC.101 Introduction to Psychology (3)
- PSYC.201 Educational Psychology (3)
- SCED.319 Survey of Education Programs (3)
(Students entering with a degree substitute SCED.341, Principles of Secondary Education)

- ARED.475 Teaching Art in the Elementary School (3)
- ARED.477 Field Experience in Art Education (3)
- ARED.479 Teaching Art in the Secondary School (3)

The following courses precede student teaching for most Art Education students:

- EDUC.401 Foundations of Education (3)
- SPED.301 Introductions to Special Education (3)

The following courses are taken concurrently:

- ARED.376 Student Teaching in Elementary Education—Art (6)
- ARED.377 Student Teaching in Secondary Education—Art (6)
- ARED.455 Pro-Seminar in the Teaching of Art (3)

The following courses taken to fulfill certification requirements will also fulfill General University Requirements:

- PSYC.101 Introduction to Psychology (3) (Group V)
- EDUC.401 Foundations of Education (3) (Group V)
- HIST.145 History of U.S. to mid-19th Century (3) (Group III)
or
- HIST.146 History of U.S. since mid-19th Century (3) (Group III)

- COMM.131 Fund. of Speech Communication (3) (Group III) Course in Non-Western Culture (3)* (Group III or V)

*See your major advisor for approved courses and for recommendations regarding other General University Requirements.

MINOR IN ART

Students who wish a Minor in Art should consult with their departmental advisor.

The following courses must be selected

- ART.103 Two Dimensional Design (3)
- ART.104 Three Dimensional Design (3)
- ART.111 Drawing and the Appreciation of Drawing I (3)
- ART.221 Prehistoric to Medieval Art (3)
or
- ART.222 Renaissance to Contemporary Art (3)
- ART.229 Oil Painting and Related Media I (3)
or
- ART.230 Watercolor and Related Media I (3)
- ART.240 Sculpture: Modeling Studio I—The Human Figure (3)
or
- ART.241 Sculpture: Contemporary Media and Concepts I (3)
- ART.xxx Art electives (6)

TRANSFER CREDIT POLICY

The Art Department accepts art credits from other accredited colleges and universities. Portfolio evaluation and transfer credit sheets form a basis for course evaluation.

ART HONORS PROGRAMS

The Art Department grants honors in Art Education, Art History, and Studio Art. Admission is granted at the end of the sophomore or beginning of the junior year to students who have the following qualifications: overall cumulative average of 3.25, major average of 3.25, recommendation of advisor to departmental honors coordinator. The minimum requirements for graduation with honors in Art are: overall cumulative average of 3.25 and 3.50 in major field and completion of the honors program of study.

STUDENT WORK POLICY

Material submitted by students to satisfy requirements in any course automatically becomes the property of the Art Department. This material may be returned to students at the discretion of the faculty member.

PROGRAMS OF THE DEPARTMENT

The Department of Dance offers the following: dance courses that fulfill General University Requirements, the Bachelor of Fine Arts degree in Dance Performance, the Bachelor of Fine Arts degree in Dance Per- formance and Education, including teacher certification for students planning to teach dance, TED (Towson Ensemble Dancers), a professional company, and the Towson State University Dance Company.

The Dance major program is designed to provide a balance between learning to dance and learning about dance by following the total spectrum of dance from its physical activity to its expression as a creative art form.

The dance student pursues the development of technical, pedagogical and choreographic ability, and explores the scientific, philosophical and historical foundations of dance. Inter-disciplinary experiences closely relate to all aspects of the discipline. Here the undergraduate has the opportunity to explore, succeed, fail, and try again. It is to this end that the plan of study is intended to produce intelligent, knowledgeable and highly skilled young performing artists of the dance.

Towson State University is the only institution of higher education in Maryland to offer the professional and prestigious Bachelor of Fine Arts degree in Dance. All students major in Dance Performance. Students may elect to add the education component. Certification in Labanotation is available in conjunction with the Dance Notation Bureau in New York. Towson State University is an accredited institutional charter member of the National Association of Schools of Dance. The dance major program is also accredited by the National Council for Accreditation of Teacher Education and the National Association of State Directors of Teacher Education and Certification.

The TSU Dance Company performances at the invitation of the Leningrad State Conservatory in March, 1989, marked the beginning of a dance exchange program between TSU and the oldest conservatory in the Soviet Union. With a command of the Russian language, dance majors at TSU will be able to study for one semester at the Leningrad State Conservatory while their Soviet counterparts will study at Towson State.

CAREER OPPORTUNITIES

Undergraduates currently enrolled at Towson State supplement their studies with part-time work teaching and choreographing for local institutions and agencies. During the summer months many students dance professionally at theme parks such as Kings Dominion, Busch Gardens, Opryland and Disneyworld.

To date, the majority of Towson State graduates in dance are employed in full- and part-time dance positions ranging from professional performers and university faculty members to teachers in public schools and private studios. Many go on to graduate school to further their dance education.

ADMISSION TO THE MAJOR

Students must first submit a written application to the Admissions Office. Once accepted to the university, students must audition for the Dance major. Auditions are held periodically throughout the year; prospective majors should contact the Dance Department for specific dates and an audition application form. The auditions determine the following:

1. acceptance into the Dance major
2. technical level for class placement
3. scholarship recipients

TRANSFER STUDENT POLICY

Students transferring from other institutions must complete a minimum of 20 credits of their dance course requirements in residence at Towson State.

MAJOR IN DANCE PERFORMANCE

The major in Dance Performance leads to the Bachelor of Fine Arts degree. Students in the major must complete 40 credits of required dance courses, 22 credits of required interdisciplinary courses, 18 credits of dance electives, 40 credits of remaining General University Requirements, and the Performance Requirement outlined below. A grade of "C" or higher is required in all courses in the major.

Requirements for the Major

Performance Requirements for Majors

To fulfill performance requirements for graduation, dance majors must audition for the TSU Dance Company a minimum of two times during their tenure at Towson State and must fulfill one of the following:

1. Perform with the TSU Dance Company (audition required) for a minimum of 2 years (4-8 credits possible)

or

2. Perform in a minimum of 15 works composed in sections of Dance Composition II and III other than in those sections taken for credit by the student; maximum of 3 works may be from those selected for "Dance Majors Performance Project."
- or
3. Approved plan by Department Chair for a combination of numbers 1 and 2 above
- or
4. Transfer students must consult with the Chair of the Dance Department to arrange equivalent performing experiences.

MAJOR IN DANCE PERFORMANCE AND EDUCATION

Dance majors may also wish to obtain certification to teach dance at the elementary and secondary levels. Students in this program receive certification to teach dance in the public schools in Maryland and reciprocal states upon graduation. The program leads to the Bachelor of Fine Arts degree in Dance Performance and Education.

Students in the Dance Teacher Certification Program should contact the chair of the Dance Department for information on the standards of the program and requirements for student teaching.

Students must complete the required dance courses (40 credits), the required interdisciplinary courses (22 credits), remaining General University Requirements (37 credits), the Performance Requirement outlined above, and the following dance and education courses (33 credits).

DANC.251	Techniques of Teaching Creative Movement (3)
DANC.391	Student Teaching in Elementary School (6)

MEETING GENERAL UNIVERSITY REQUIREMENTS

Dance courses may be used to fulfill Group II of the General University Requirements. DANC.321 History of the Dance, an advanced writing course, may be used to fulfill Group IC.

SCHOLARSHIPS

To qualify for a dance scholarship, students must be full-time Dance majors and members of the TSU Dance Company. Scholarships are renewed as long as the criteria are met and the student remains in good academic standing.

DEPARTMENTAL ACTIVITIES

The Towson State University Dance Company gives performing experience to qualified students through participation in a company that reflects the spirit of the university. The company presents over 15 lecture-demonstrations, concert and television performances, and residencies each year in public and private schools, colleges and universities throughout the state and region. Featuring a repertoire of ballet, modern dance, tap dance, and jazz/musical theatre dance, each year professional guest choreographers are invited to stage their compositions for the company.

Other departmental activities include: Sigma Rho Delta, a national dance honorary; Children's Dance Division for ages 4-18; an extensive summer program of non-credit courses and the International Ballet Symposium; a Summer Dance Camp for ages 10-18; professional dance companies and guest instructors/choreographers as visiting artists-in-residence; TED (Towson Ensemble Dancers), a professional company in-residence at TSU.

PROGRAMS OF THE DEPARTMENT

The Music Department offers two major degree programs in music: a Bachelor of Arts with concentrations in Vocal Performance and Music Literature, and a Bachelor of Science with concentrations in Instrumental Music Education, Vocal-General Music Education, Theory, Instrumental Performance, and Jazz/Commercial Music. Students enrolled in B.S. programs may, upon completion of the language requirement, receive a B.A. degree. Students pursuing the B.A. degree are required to complete the intermediate courses, or the equivalent, of a modern foreign language. Although there are many courses common to all degree programs and concentrations, each is designed with many of its own special requirements, especially in the junior and senior years. These requirements are found on the following pages. A music minor is available for those students who desire to pursue music studies as a secondary field.

Students who wish to apply to the Music Department must write to the chair of the Music Department as well as the Director of Admissions of the university. Applicants will receive information from both offices regarding the necessary entrance requirements and procedures. Admission to the university does not guarantee acceptance into these majors.

Every Music major must enroll for Private Lessons on an instrument or in voice with an instructor provided by the university. All students must perform before a faculty jury at the end of each semester in which they are enrolled in Private Lessons.

In order to continue into the upper-division level, students will be evaluated during their fourth semester as to their academic and performing competencies. This assessment will include an extended jury examination of at least double length.

All students, excepting those pursuing concentrations in Theory and Literature, will perform in recital with the permission of their applied instructors. The Music Education concentrations require a Senior Recital, while the Performance concentrations require both a Junior Recital and a Senior Recital. Students must enroll in Private Lessons the semester(s) of their recital(s). Senior Recital may not be taken during the same semester as student teaching in the music education programs.

All students must reach a level of piano proficiency established for each degree and concentration. Class Piano and Keyboard Harmony are courses designed to assist students in meeting this requirement. Music Education, Organ, Theory, and Literature majors must pass a Piano Proficiency Test administered each semester. All other programs allow the student to take either the aforementioned classes with a grade of at least "B," or pass the Piano Proficiency test.

Ensemble participation is required for all students. Each degree program and/or concentration has its own set of expectations.

These are listed under the degree requirements found on the following pages.

Students enrolled in Band, Orchestra, and the methods courses in Guitar, String, Woodwind, and Brass who choose to use a university-owned instrument shall pay a $15 laboratory fee per semester. Students enrolled in percussion class shall pay a $10 laboratory fee per semester. There is also a $15 fee assessed each student who performs in recital.

All students are required to attend 60 approved on-campus recitals/concerts before permission is granted to perform in senior recital. Of these 60, 15 must be faculty performances.

Majors must earn at least a "C" semester grade in all music major courses, ensembles, and lessons. Besides the required music major courses, all students must fulfill the General University Requirements found elsewhere in this Catalog. Note: 1) Group II requirement in music is automatically fulfilled, and 2) Music History II fulfills Group I-C advanced writing course requirement. University regulations require that students accrue no less than 32 upperdivision (300, 400) credits for graduation. This requirement is automatically met in all degrees/concentrations except Jazz Performance.

The Music Department also participates in the Elementary Education Program by offering, to those majors, Music Fundamentals, and a specific section of Teaching Music in the Elementary School.

MINOR IN MUSIC

A Music minor is available for those students who desire to pursue music studies as a secondary field. The minor in Music requires 24 credits in the following courses.

- MUSC.102 Music Literature for Music Majors (3)
 MUSC.105 Elements of Music Theory (or a music major theory course based upon Theory Placement Test results) (3)
 MUSC.xxx Electives in lower-division courses selected after advisement with chair (6)
 MUSC.xxx Electives in upper-division courses selected after advisement with chair (12)

GENERAL UNIVERSITY REQUIREMENTS

The Music Department also offers courses designed for students who are non-music majors or minors. These courses are primarily taken to satisfy a General University Requirement. The department has specifically recommended several courses, within their catalog descriptions, which it believes best meet the intent of the GURs.

TRANSFER CREDIT POLICY

Transfer of major credits is based upon an audition, a theory placement test, and an interview with the department chair. At the minimum, students are required to complete 24 major credits at Towson.

GRADUATE PROGRAM

The department offers a master's degree in Music Education. Entrance requirements and the program of study are available from the department's graduate coordinator.

PROGRAMS OF THE DEPARTMENT

The Speech and Mass Communication Department offers the following programs of study; the Communication Studies major, the Mass Communication major, minors in both Communication Studies and Mass Communication, and the Master of Arts in Mass Communication.

The curricula in the department are designed to provide a broad liberal education as well as special professional training with emphasis placed upon acquiring knowledge as well as skill. Students who wish to declare either major must register with the Department of Speech and Mass Communication.

The Speech and Mass Communication programs at Towson State University prepare students for various careers. For example, graduates are employed by radio and television stations, newspapers, film companies, public relations firms, advertising agencies, governmental agencies, and business. The program also prepares students for graduate school.

MAJOR IN COMMUNICATION STUDIES (formerly Speech Communication)

The general purpose for majoring in Communication Studies is to allow you to develop skills in communication as a method of inquiry and advocacy. This active engaging process permits you to understand and apply the process and function of human communication, as well as the foundations of communication theory, to your own discourse and to an evaluation of the discourse of others.

Specifically, the major is intended to accomplish two objectives. First, you will be given several different opportunities to develop personal skills which enable you to secure public and private sector positions requiring communication competencies (i.e., speaking, writing, critical thinking, and advocacy skills for interpersonal, organizational, and public settings). Second, you will become more liberally educated in personal and societal value structures, ethics, cultural heritage, and the impact of messages upon the individual and society.

A major in Communication Studies is preparing for a career in government, private industry, or education in such areas as personnel, sales, lobbying, internal (organizational) communication, public affairs, law, corporate relations, teaching, or communication consulting.

Requirements for the Major

The Communication Studies major requires a total of 36 credits: 9 credits in the core, 12 credits of theory and criticism courses, 6 credits of applied communication courses, and 9 credits of electives as listed below.

The Pass/D/F option is not available for courses applied to the major. The Bachelor of Arts may be earned by adding a foreign language to the major course requirements. No more than three credits of independent study and/or internships can be applied to the Communication Studies major. Students who wish to double major in Mass Communication and Communication Studies may apply up to 12 credits simultaneously for satisfaction of both majors. The 12-credit crossover does not apply to minors.

The Pass/D/F option is not available for courses applied to the minor. No more than three credits of independent study and/or internships can be applied to the COMM minor. At least 12 of the 24 credits in the Communication Studies minor must be upper division.

MAJOR IN MASS COMMUNICATION

The general purpose of the Mass Communication major is to provide the student with a broad understanding of the processes, functions, and responsibilities of mass communication. Development of skills in fact finding, analysis, and communication through mass media are stressed.

By majoring in Mass Communication you acquire a broad liberal arts education along with specific skills for entry level positions in the mass media. Flexibility is built into the program so that needs of students with special objectives may be met. Thus, a student may focus on one particular medium for study, or may choose to develop a broader understanding of several media.

The major in mass communication is offered through the University's day and evening programs. The evening program is available through the College of Continuing Studies.

Career opportunities for majors in Mass Communication are broad and diverse. Mass Communication majors have pursued careers in radio and television stations, newspapers, film companies, public relations firms, advertising agencies, governmental agencies, and non-profit organizations.

Requirements for the Major

The Mass Communication major requires 36 credits: 15 credits in the core, 3 credits of approved media writing courses, 3 credits of approved media production courses, and 15 credits of electives. Selection of appropriate course sequences allows the student to be a mass communication generalist or a specialist in any of eight areas (see recommended course sequences below).

The Pass/D/F option is not available for courses applied to the major. The Bachelor of Arts may be earned by adding a foreign language to the MCOM major. No more than three credits of independent study and/or internships can be applied to the Mass Communication major.

MCOM majors are encouraged to enroll in COMM.131 (Fundamentals of Speech Communication) to fulfill a portion of their GUR requirements. Students who wish to double major in Mass Communication and Communication Studies may apply up to 12 credits simultaneously for satisfaction of both majors. The 12-credit crossover does not apply to minors.

MINOR IN MASS COMMUNICATION

Requirements for the Minor

The Mass Communication minor requires a total of 24 credits: 15 credits in the core, 3 credits of approved media writing courses, 3 credits of approved media production courses, and 3 credits of electives as listed below.

Required Core Courses (15 credits)

MCOM.125 Introduction to Public Relations and Advertising (3)
 MCOM.140 Introduction to Broadcasting (3)
 MCOM.145 Introduction to Film (3)
 MCOM.151 Introduction to Journalism (3)
 MCOM.211 Communication Process (3)

Media Writing Course (3 credits)

(see list under the major requirements)

Media Production Course (3 credits)

(See list under the major requirements)

Elective (3 credits)

Any upper-division course in the department.

The Pass/D/F option is not available for courses applied to the minor. No more than three credits of independent study and/or internship can be applied to the MCOM minor. Minors in MCOM are encouraged to enroll in COMM.131 (Fundamentals of Speech Communication) to fulfill a portion of their GUR requirements.

TRANSFER CREDIT POLICY

Transfer students should register with the department during their first semester at the university. Transfer students are required to take 20 hours in residence in their major area. The department will transfer into the major up to 16 semester hours and into the minor 9 semester hours of compatible courses. Upon admission to the university, transferees are responsible for meeting with their advisors to formalize this transfer of credits. Students are strongly urged not to take courses in the major at the community college level if they plan to transfer; rather, they should work on General University Requirements. Transfer students from other institutions will be required to petition the department for transferring up to 16 semester hours into the major or 9 semester hours into the minor. Applications for transfer of credits are the responsibility of the student. The applications and examinations will be reviewed by the faculty and the students will be notified as to the status of their applications.

DEPARTMENTAL SCHOLARSHIPS

The Patrick J. O'Connell Memorial Scholarship is available for Mass Communication students with a special interest in Broadcast Journalism, Cinematography, Journalism, or Public Relations. The department also offers five Dean's Talent Scholarships each year for students with at least 18 hours completed in their major. Other scholarships include the Eddie Ballard Award for Journalism, the Broadcasting Scholarship Endowment, the George Rogers, Jr. Memorial Scholarship, the Public Relations Society of America Scholarship, and forensic program scholarships. For scholarship information and deadlines, contact the department scholarship coordinator.

DEPARTMENTAL ACTIVITIES

Departmental activities include support for the following active student organizations: Forensics Union (Debate Team), Pi Kappa Delta (national honorary forensic society), Alpha Epsilon Rho (national honorary broadcasting society), Film and Video Society, and the Public Relations Student Group. Students are also encouraged to participate in the activities of the cinematography laboratory and campus radio stations, WTSR-AM and WCVT-FM.

GRADUATE PROGRAM

The Master of Arts degree in Mass Communication is a broad program which integrates television, public relations, journalism, radio, film, communication theory, and organizational communication, emphasizing the interrelationships and interactions of various media. The program also offers some specialization through elective courses.

The degree serves two kinds of students: those seeking to build career-oriented skills and qualifications, and those who will pursue the Ph.D. degree. Students have the opportunity to study theory, criticism, and research methods, and to enhance professional skills appropriate to their career goals. Detailed information regarding the program is given in the Graduate Catalog.

PROGRAMS OF THE DEPARTMENT

The Department of Theatre Arts offers the major and minor in Theatre Arts. Theatre majors must complete one of three areas of concentration: Acting, Design and Theatre Production, or General Theatre.

The curriculum in the department is designed to provide the best possible learning and training for the student wishing to major in Theatre Arts. The program is designed to provide, in cooperation with other departments, a broad liberal education as well as specialized professional training in which emphasis is placed on skills as well as knowledge. The main emphasis is the creation of an artistic point of view within the student.

The major in Theatre Arts is time consuming and physically demanding. Participation in Mainstage and Studio productions is a part of the educational program. All Theatre majors and minors are required to participate in crew work for productions. Majors must be free to participate in theatre activities on weekends and during the evening.

MAJOR IN THEATRE ARTS

Theatre Arts majors must complete 45 credit hours in theatre, at least 18 of which must be in the 300-400 level. The major program consists of 30 credits of required courses and a minimum of 15 elective credits in theatre selected from one of the three tracks. Students are expected to take any lower-division prerequisites before attempting the required upper-division electives.

General Theatre Track

The General Theatre Track serves two types of theatre majors: 1) those who wish to design their own programs of study within the department and 2) those who wish to specialize in areas of theatre studies which are not yet fully developed as tracks in the department (Stage Management, Directing, and Theatre Arts Administration). In addition to the standard requirements for all Theatre Arts majors, students in the General Theatre Track will select at least 15 elective credits as described for the various areas of focus listed below, with the supervision of a theatre faculty advisor.

Independent Focus

Students may select from any courses offered by the department, designing individual courses of study in consultation with a faculty advisor.

Stage Management Focus

Students' elective credit must include the following:

THEA.141	Introduction to Scenic Design (3)
THEA.257	Stage and Production Management (3)
THEA.351	Stagecraft II (3)

One advanced study Course, chosen from:

THEA.427	Advanced Study in Directing (1-9)
THEA.429	Advanced Study in Theatre Production (1-9)
THEA.480	Advanced Study in Theatre Design (1-9)
THEA.487	Professional Theatre Seminar (1-12)
THEA.493	Advanced Study in Theatre (1-9)

The work to be undertaken in the advanced study course must be approved by the faculty advisor for Stage Management.

Directing Focus

Students' elective credit must include the following:

THEA.257	Stage and Production Management (3)
THEA.307	Theories of Theatre (3)
THEA.331	Directing I (3)
THEA.421	Play Directing II (3)
THEA.427	Advanced Study in Directing (1-9)
or
THEA.487	Professional Theatre Seminar (1-12)

The work to be undertaken in THEA.427 or THEA.487 must be approved by the faculty advisor for Directing.

Theatre Arts Administration Focus

Students who choose this focus must earn a minor in Business Administration in addition to fulfilling all the requirements for the Theatre Arts major. The requirements for a Business minor are listed in the Business Administration section of this catalog. The 15 elective credits in theatre must include the following:

THEA.257	Stage and Production Management (3)
THEA.487	Professional Theatre Seminar (3)
or
THEA.493	Advanced Studies in Theatre (1-9)

The work to be undertaken in THEA.427 or THEA.487 must be approved by the faculty advisor for Theatre Arts Administration. Work in THEA.493 should relate directly to an administrative project within the TSU Theatre Arts Department.

MINOR IN THEATRE ARTS

The Theatre Arts minor is required to take 24 credit hours in theatre. At least 12 of these hours must be at the upper-division level. The student is required to take one acting course and one course in the Design and Theatre Production track. The student must successfully complete three non-credit supervised production experiences. The student is encouraged to pursue an area of focus within one of the department's tracks (Acting, Design and Theatre Production, or General) under the supervision of an advisor.

MEETING GENERAL UNIVERSITY REQUIREMENTS

The Theatre Arts Department offers courses that are designed for students who are non-theatre majors or minors. These courses are primarily taken to satisfy a General University Group II requirement. Theories of Theatre (THEA.307) may be used to fulfill Group I-C.

TRANSFER CREDIT POLICY

Students transferring from other institutions and planning to major in Theatre Arts at Towson are required to complete a minimum of 20 hours of theatre arts courses at Towson. Transfer of credits towards the Theatre Arts major will be determined by the chair. Transfer students should schedule an interview with the chair at the first opportunity.

The College of Liberal Arts

The liberal arts are the core disciplines of the university, those disciplines whose business it is to study and interpret what it means to be human, both as individuals and as members of groups. Study of the liberal arts is liberating in that it frees us to think more clearly, to analyze and interpret information, to weigh points of view, to arrive at informed judgments about complex issues, and to appreciate the rich diversity of human culture.

Every matriculated undergraduate in the university will take courses in the College of Liberal Arts, courses designed to assist students in developing those comprehensive tools of skill and knowledge which mark the liberally educated person: objectivity in interpreting information, creativity in forming and expressing conclusions, clarity of expression, and the ability to move comfortably in the world of ideas and values.

More than 2500 undergraduates are majoring in the programs of the College of Liberal Arts, and over 500 graduate students are pursuing masters' degrees in the college. For these students, "doing" the liberal arts is an even more pervasive and intensive experience.

The end product of a liberal education is a total human being. In the words of James L. Ferguson, who leads one of the world's largest corporations, General Foods, there is a need throughout society for people "capable of a perceptive view of things in the whole as well as in part, those with the ability to comprehend and to empathize, to listen to people and to hear clearly what they say about their needs and aspirations, to elicit the needs and skills of others, to bring them together and work in concert toward a solution or an objective. I cannot conceive a more persuasive case for the value of a liberal arts education."

PROGRAMS OF THE DEPARTMENT

To meet the needs of the full range of students at the university, the English Department offers several different programs: General University Requirements and electives, giving specific, practical training in the writing, reading and language skills necessary for a liberal education; the English Major: Liberal Arts Track, for students with a vocational interest in language and literature; the English Major: Secondary-Education Track, for students planning to teach English; the English Major: Writing Track, for students preparing to use writing as an occupational skill; the English Minor, for students who have an interest in literature but choose a different major; and the Minor in World Literature, for students who wish to explore interdisciplinary relationships in the study of English, History, and Modern Languages. In addition, the department supports General Studies concentrations in American Studies, African-American Studies, Ethnic Studies, and Women Studies.

All courses offered by the English Department encourage an appreciation of literature through reading, analysis, and writing. Since authors deal with every subject of human interest, English courses share the insights with many other disciplines. As a result, many students add a concentration in English to their regular programs, and others elect courses in English to broaden their academic experience. Today, such study becomes increasingly important not only for fulfilling vocational requirements but also for meeting the demands of daily life.

Foreign Language Recommendation

The department recommends that students who plan to enter graduate study in English earn a B.A. by completing the intermediate level of a foreign language.

MAJOR IN ENGLISH

The undergraduate degree in English is now earned through completing one of three tracks.

The Liberal Arts Track (36 credits) is designed for those students with a vocational interest in language and literature, for those preparing for graduate study in English, and for those using an English major as foundation for entering a professional school (law, medicine, journalism, and others).

The Writing Track (42 credits) provides students with an opportunity to refine the techniques and applications of writing essential for careers as writing specialists in government, business, and industry.

The English Secondary Education Track (36 credits) prepares students to serve as teachers of English and language arts in middle, junior high, and senior high schools and to meet national and Maryland State standards for certification.

Requirements for all tracks are similar and established to assure that upon graduating from the university an English Major has not only specialized experience established through a particular track but also reasonable competence in each of the major methods for studying language and literature: studies of literary heritage; analysis and research; language and linguistics; writing.

More specifically, majors explore literary heritage through completing a specified number of courses in the historical periods of literature, studies of literary genre, and explorations of the thematic, topical, and metaphorical relationships of literature. Skill in analysis and research derives from completing six to nine credits of coursework in formal analysis of genre, literary analysis and research, and an in-depth study of at least one major writer and related scholarship. A knowledge of linguistics comes through completing upper-division credits of coursework in the area. Effective writing is assured both by the department's policy that all courses emphasize writing and by the requirement that every student complete six to nine credits in coursework centered on learning the techniques of exposition: ENGL 102, Writing for a Liberal Education or ENGL 190, Honors College Writing; Literary Research and Applied Criticism; one upper-division course in expository writing.

In meeting requirements outlined above, a student will earn most of the 36 to 42 credits for the English major. However, apart from a few specified courses, the student has multiple options in choosing the subjects that fulfill requirements. Each student is encouraged to work closely with his or her departmental advisor to plan a program that is purposeful, one that simultaneously explores the student's interests and leads to coherent pattern of study.

ENGL.465 British and American Prose (3)
ENGL.490 Directed Studies in English (when applicable) (3)

English Secondary Education Track

Students planning to teach English in middle schools, junior high schools, or senior high schools must complete both the core of courses in Secondary Education required for teacher certification (see the Department of Secondary Education) and 36 credits with a grade of "C" or better in the English Secondary Education Track.

Students are encouraged to plan a program that includes some coursework in mythology, minority literature, linguistics, non-Western literature, and Shakespeare. Completion of the intermediate level of a foreign language is recommended. Also recommended are the following electives in education: SCED.458 Writing as a Learning Tool in Secondary Schools, SPCH.106 Voice and Diction, and SPPA.213 General Semantics.

English Secondary Education students must register with both the English Department and the Secondary Education Department. They will be assigned advisors by both departments.

Course requirements are listed below.

I. Literary Heritage (18 credits required)

A. Surveys of Development or Period

- ENGL.221 British Literature to 1798 (3)
ENGL.222 British Literature Since 1798 (3)

	History: any upper-division course(s) directly related to the student's major and approved for credit toward the Minor in World Literature by the World Literature and Linguistics Chair and/or advisor.
	Philosophy, Art, etc.: any upper-division course(s) directly related to a student's major and approved for credit toward the Minor in World Literature and Linguistics Chair and/or advisor.

¹ Up to twelve hours of upper-division English may be offered; up to six hours of upper-division non-English may be offered.

COURSE PREREQUISITES

Completion of ENGL.102 or ENGL.190 is prerequisite to enrollment in any other lower-division (100-200 level) English course. Completion of ENGL.102 or ENGL.190 and one additional lower-division English course is prerequisite to enrollment in any upper-division (300-400) level English course, including writing courses that fulfill the group IC, General University Requirement. Some upper-division courses have additional prerequisites, as noted in the course descriptions. The department strictly enforces prerequisites.

MEETING GENERAL UNIVERSITY REQUIREMENTS/COMPETENCY

Every student in the university must complete ENGL.102 or ENGL.190 with a grade of "C" or better to complete Group IB of the General University Requirements.

The student may take two additional courses to fill Group III. All English courses except the following may be elected as a second course filling Group III: developmental courses—DVRD.100; DVRD.101; DVWR.101; DVWR.103; DVWR.104; DVWR.105; DVWR.106; DVWR.107 —; writing courses that can be used to fill Group I, C,—ENGL.313; ENGL.315; ENGL.317; ENGL.318; WRIT.411 —; and the following specific English courses—ENGL.102; ENGL.190; ENGL.485; ENGL.486; ENGL.490; ENGL.497; ENGL.498; ENGL.499.

The student may select any of the following English courses as an advanced writing course, Group I C: ENGL.313; ENGL.315; ENGL.317; ENGL.318. Any student may, of course, take additional elective credits in English.

Some students will be required to complete special competency courses in language and writing in addition to meeting General University Requirements in English. Students for whom English is not a native language may be required to complete courses in English as a Second Language as a prerequisite to enrollment in ENGL.102, Writing for a Liberal Education (see "Undergraduate Admissions," — International Students). Students whose entering scores indicate they need additional preparation to meet the standards of college-level expository writing will be required to complete DVWR.101, Preparation for College Writing, as prerequisite to enrollment in ENGL.102. Students must earn a grade of "S" or a letter grade of C or better in the Developmental Writing course they are required to take before they are eligible to enroll in ENGL.102.

TRANSFER CREDIT POLICY

The English Department freely accepts English credits from accredited colleges and universities. However, to meet General University Requirements, a student must either present three transfer credits in a college level composition course, with a grade of "C" or better, or earn a "C" or better in ENGL.102 at Towson State University. Students registering in the department's major and minor programs must complete a minimum of 12 credits in English Department offerings at Towson State University.

ADVANCED PLACEMENT AND CREDIT FOR PRIOR LEARNING

The English Department awards credit through the Advanced Placement Program of the university. Also, a selected number of entering freshmen are placed in ENGL.190 rather than in ENGL.102. The department offers credit for most courses, other than writing courses, through the Credit for Prior Learning program. Students applying for credit under this program complete an examination, an interview, and a paper in the area.

ENGLISH HONORS AND ACTIVITIES

The department participates in the Honors Program. A member of the Honors College, the English Department offers a number of intensive introductory seminars for qualified students. It also sponsors departmental honors whereby students pursue independent study leading to the completion of a thesis. Students interested in departmental honors should consult one of the English co-chairs no later than the first semester of their junior year. Honors are designated on the graduate's transcript and diploma.

By a vote of the English faculty, the outstanding graduate in the department receives the Gerry Buettner Award at commencement.

Lambda Iota Tau is the national literary honor society with a chapter in the department, and the English Club is an informal association of majors, minors, and professors who meet to exchange ideas about literature.

DUAL MAJOR PROGRAM

Students who major in one of the other programs of the university, yet retain a strong interest in language, literature, or writing are urged to explore with one of the English co-chairs the values of completing a dual major.

Department of Geography and Environmental Planning

Associate Professors: da SILVA, HADDOCK, SCOTT

Assistant Professors: HAYUK, MORGAN, STEVENSON

OFFICE

Linthicum Hall, Room 20, (301) 830-2973

PROGRAMS OF THE DEPARTMENT

The Department of Geography and Environmental Planning offers the following programs: the major in Geography, the minor in Geography, the Master of Arts in Geography and Environmental Planning, and the Master in Education with an emphasis in Geography. For more information about the graduate programs, consult the Graduate Catalog.

The geography/environmental planning major is designed as a liberal arts program that explores how geographers carefully observe and measure the human uses of the earth under diverse combinations of natural and cultural environments. Such academic preparation facilitates understanding of the changing world and its past.

Students are prepared in the program for careers in business, management, governmental service, education, planning, public affairs, and other professions as well as graduate school.

Cartography Certificate Program

The department offers an 18 semester hour program leading to a Certificate in Cartography. The program is designed for undergraduate, graduate, and non-degree students seeking skills in cartography. For more information contact Mr. Marshall Stevenson.

Credential of Proficiency in Planning

The department offers an 18 semester hour program leading to a Credential of Proficiency in Planning. The credential may be earned within the 33 semester hour Geography major. The program is also open to all full-time and continuing studies students. For more information contact Dr. John Morgan.

Geography/Environmental Planning and Economics

Students interested in geography and economics should consider majoring in both disciplines. For further information and counseling contact the Geography and Environmental Planning Department.

MAJOR IN GEOGRAPHY

Geography majors are required to complete 33 credits from among the following courses. A grade of "C" or higher is required in all courses in the major and minor.

The Bachelor of Arts degree may be earned by adding a foreign language to the major course requirements. This requirement can be met by completing the intermediate course of a modern foreign language or the equivalent.

Requirements for the Major

Required Courses

Lower-Division Courses (6-9 credits)

- GEOG.101 Physical Geography (3)
 GEOG.102 World Regional Geography (3)
 or
 GEOG.105 Geography of International Affairs (3)
 or
 GEOG.109 Intro to Human Geography (3)

Systematic or Technique Courses (9 credits)

- GEOG.323 Cartography & Graphics I (3)
 GEOG.375 Quantitative Methods (3)
 GEOG.xxx One upper-division Systematic or Technique course (3)

Upper-Division Courses (15-18 credits)

Choose 15-18 credits of upper-division courses, including
 GEOG.401 Growth of Geographic Thought (3)

A combined total of no more than 12 semester hours from the following courses is allowed in the major: GEOG.491, 494, 495, 496.

MINOR IN GEOGRAPHY

Students minoring in Geography must complete 18 credit hours in geography and environmental planning courses. Six credit hours must be at the 100-200 level, and 12 credit hours from the 300-400 level. A grade of "C" or higher is required in all courses in the minor.

GEOGRAPHY SECONDARY EDUCATION PROGRAM

Required in Major (33 hours): Lower Division (100's-200's) courses (6-9); Upper Division (300's-400's) courses (15-18). (At least nine hours of which must be courses designated as systematic or technique courses.)

Required in Related Subjects (33 hours): History courses: HIST.145, HIST.146, HIST.101 plus 6 hours of history electives; Political Science: POSC.101; Sociology: SOCI.101; Economics: ECON.201 and ECON.202; Anthropology: either ANTH.207, ANTH.208, or ANTH.209; and a specified Topics in Social Science course.

TRANSFER CREDIT POLICY

Geography majors may transfer up to 12 hours toward a major and must earn 21 upper-division credits at Towson.

Geography minors may transfer up to six hours toward a minor and must earn 12 upper-division credits at Towson.

SPECIAL DEPARTMENTAL PROGRAMS

The department sponsors the Beta Delta Chapter of Gamma Theta Upsilon, an international geography honorary society. GTU holds lectures, and presents films and speakers on topics in geography and planning. All Geography majors are welcome to join.

The department offers internships through the Cooperative Education Office. An annual Careers Day is held for Geography majors seeking employment.

Travel studies are available during the minimester and summer to Europe, Arizona, and Mexico.

The National Council for Geographic Education awards are given to academically outstanding graduating majors.

GRADUATE PROGRAM

The master of arts degree program in geography and environmental planning is designed to prepare students for doctoral programs as well as for career opportunities in private business and public agencies. The program is oriented toward applied geography and presents possibilities for an emphasis in the following areas: urban and regional planning, urban studies, public policy issues, physical geography, environmental assessment, energy resources, cultural and historical geography, medical geography, population, area studies, cartography, and geographic information systems.

Graduate students in geography and environmental planning are encouraged to take pertinent coursework in other departments. The student may pursue either the Thesis Program (24 credits and a 6-credit thesis) or the Non-Thesis Program (36 credits). Detailed information is given in the Graduate Catalog.

PROGRAMS OF THE DEPARTMENT

The Department of History offers the following programs: the major in History; the History Secondary Education Major, for students planning to teach history at the secondary level; and the minor in History. Each of these programs encourages students to explore the study of history in depth. Such investigation leads to an appreciation of the structure and function of the discipline, prepares the student for teaching, for graduate work, and for the study of law, theology, archival management, library science, historical preservation and museology. Skills, as well as historical knowledge acquired through the study of the discipline, may also lead to career opportunities in public history, federal, state, local government, and in business and industry. Students may opt for more career flexibility by choosing double majors or by combining a History major with another minor or by combining another major with a History minor: history and art, history and English, history and economics, history and business, history and communications, for examples. History majors and minors are also expected to take correlative courses that broaden their academic background and offer valuable insights into their major subject. The Department of History also strongly recommends the completion of the intermediate level of a foreign language.

The department offers courses in the fields of American, European, Asian, African, and Latin American history. The offerings are varied. Some courses are chronological, topical or national in scope. Others are in women's, ethnic, business, social, cultural or political history. All courses offered encourage an appreciation of the historical past through lecture/discussion, reading, analysis, and writing. Since history explores all aspects of human endeavor, history courses touch upon the insights of all disciplines from the historical perspective.

The Internship is a practical application of historical knowledge and skill. The Internship may be taken at institutions such as the Maryland Historical Society, Baltimore City Archives, Baltimore Industrial Museum, Jewish Historical Society, or Towson State University Archives.

The department participates in interdisciplinary programs such as International Relations and Social Science, and in General Studies concentrations in American Studies, African-American Studies, Comparative Ethnic Studies, Women's Studies, Religious Studies, Latin American Studies, Asian Studies, and Medieval and Renaissance Studies.

MAJOR IN HISTORY

In addition to the General University Requirements, History majors are required to complete 36 credits with a grade of "C" or higher from among the following courses. The Bachelor of Arts degree may be earned by adding a foreign language to the major course requirements. The language requirement can be met by completing the intermediate courses of a modern foreign language or the equivalent.

SPECIAL RECOMMENDATIONS FOR MAJORS AND MINORS

Students must declare their majors and minors in the History Department. The major or minor should be declared during the second semester of the freshman year or at the beginning of the sophomore year. Students will be given major/minor forms listing additional rules for a History major/minor. They will also be required to select an academic advisor who will help in preparing a program of courses. Students should consult their advisors regularly. Students also must update their records each semester. A liberal arts History minor who wishes to student teach must have completed 15 credits of the required courses in history.

TRANSFER CREDIT POLICY

No more than 18 credits in history will be accepted toward a major or a minor from a regionally accredited four year college. No more than 12 lower-division credits in history will be accepted toward a major or a minor from a regionally accredited two year college. The 12 credits must be in lower-division courses which have Towson equivalents at the 100-200 level.

DEPARTMENTAL HONORS, ACTIVITIES

The department offers an honors program in History. Eligibility requirements and rules governing the departmental honors programs are described elsewhere in this Catalog. Students interested in the history honors program should consult their advisor and the chair of the department no later than the first semester of their junior year.

The department sponsors the Theta Beta Chapter of the national history honor society, Phi Alpha Theta. The society presents lectures, films, and other programs. The student may inquire about membership requirements at the office of the Department of History.

The department also offers travel-study courses that in the past have introduced students to China, Japan, Mexico and several European countries.

ADVANCED PLACEMENT AND CREDIT FOR PRIOR LEARNING

The Department of History awards credit through the Advanced Placement program of the university. The department also offers credit for lower-division courses, and for upper-division courses upon appeal, through the Credit for Prior Learning program. Students applying for credit under this program complete a departmental examination, an interview, and a paper or book review in the field.

Interdisciplinary StudiesOFFICE

Linthicum Hall, Room 100A, (301) 830-2330

Coordinator: DR. ELIZABETH ZOLTAN-FORD

THE PROGRAM

The Interdisciplinary Studies major provides students with the opportunity to pursue a program of study that is currently unobtainable through any single discipline at Towson State University. The major offers students two alternatives: (1) formally-designed thematic options (concentrations) and (2) individually-designed thematic options.

The formally-designed thematic options (concentrations) have been created by interdisciplinary faculty committees under a Thematic Option alternative. Under the formally-designed programs, students are advised by either the coordinator of the concentration or by a member of its advisory committee. Currently, 13 formally-designed thematic options are offered at Towson State: African-American Studies, American Studies, Animal Behavior, Asian Studies, Comparative Ethnic Studies, Health Services Management, History of Art, Latin American Studies, Law Enforcement, Medieval and Renaissance Studies, Molecular Biology, Religious Studies, and Women's Studies. Students interested in any of these formally-designed thematic options should contact that option's coordinator.

When none of the traditional majors or these formally-designed thematic options meets the student's needs, then the student may pursue the second Interdisciplinary Studies alternative—the individually-designed thematic option. These thematic options provide Towson State University students with the opportunity to pursue a major that is available at other colleges or universities but that is not available currently at Towson. Examples of such majors include Nature Writing, Recreation Management, and Human Studies.

Students interested in the individually-designed option should first consult catalogs from universities offering their desired major to determine if Towson State University offers the necessary coursework to complete the major. Then the student should meet with a faculty member or members who have expertise in the student's proposed area of study. With the help of such a faculty member, the student must submit a program of study that lists the courses he or she will take to complete the requirements for the individually-designed Interdisciplinary Studies major. Contact the Coordinator of Interdisciplinary Studies for further information and for help in finding a faculty advisor or advisors with relevant expertise. All individually-designed programs must be approved by a faculty advisor and by the Coordinator of Interdisciplinary Studies. No unapproved program of study may be used for graduation.

Regardless if the student selects a formally-designed or an individually-designed thematic option, all Interdisciplinary Studies majors must complete a minimum of 45 upper-division credit hours (300-400 level). The distinctive feature of the Interdisciplinary Studies major is that it provides opportunities for students to achieve specific goals under the close supervision of expert faculty.

INDIVIDUALLY-DESIGNED CORE THEMATIC OPTION

Students pursuing the individually-designed thematic option must specify whether they intend to do so under Core Major A, Core Major B, or Thematic Option. These three options differ in terms of how the required 45 upper-division credit hours are distributed through the liberal arts and sciences disciplines. Regardless of which option the student selects, please note that the majority (Thematic Option) or all (Core Major A and Core Major B) of the required 45 credit hours must be related to a common theme.

Core Major A

Core Major A is constructed around a "core" discipline in the traditional liberal arts and sciences fields. Students must meet the following requirements for this major.

1. The student must satisfy General University Requirements.
2. To declare the major, the student must be a sophomore or junior with a 2.00 GPA.
3. The student must take a minimum of 45 semester hours of upper-division course work in the liberal arts and sciences departments of art, biology, chemistry, dance, English, history, modern language, mathematics, music, philosophy, physics and theatre. These 45 hours must include work from a minimum of four different departments. Eighteen credits must be from the arts and 18 credits from the sciences (mathematics being considered a science).
4. At least 15, but no more than 21, of the 45 upper-division hours must come from one discipline which shall serve as the "core" discipline in the student program.

Core Major B

Core Major B is constructed around a "core" discipline in Interdisciplinary Studies, which incorporates all of the arts and sciences.

1. The student must satisfy General University Requirements.
2. From the arts and sciences, which are construed to be the following—art, biology, chemistry, dance, economics, English, geography, history, modern languages, mathematics, music, philosophy, physics, political science, psychology, sociology, speech and theatre—the student must take a minimum of 45 semester hours of upper-division course work. With the approval of the student's advisor and the appropriate dean, courses in departments not listed above may be allowed if these courses are needed to complement the student's program.
3. At least 15, but no more than 21, of the 45 upper-division hours must come from one discipline which shall serve as the "core" discipline in the student's program.

Thematic Options

A student may fulfill the requirements for either Major A or Major B by substituting a thematic plan for the "core" discipline. The thematic plan must be approved by the student's advisor and the appropriate dean. By following this plan the student could develop an academic concentration in areas such as urban studies, American studies, environmental issues, etc.

Except for the following, the requirements will be the same as for Major A or B:

1. A minimum of 18, but not more than 36, of the 45 upper division hours must relate specifically to a chosen topic or theme.
2. All course work must be on an upper-division level unless the faculty advisor approves the inclusion of some particularly significant course work at the lower-division level. For example, a course important to the student's theme may exist only at the lower-division level.

AFRICAN-AMERICAN STUDIES

Advisory Committee: GISENDANNER (English, Coordinator);
MURUNGI, (Philosophy); CLAY (Minority Affairs);
WOODSON (English); GREENE (English)

The Program

The African-American Studies program offers the student the opportunity to study in-depth the historical and cultural existence of the African-Americans by examining their unacknowledged roles in American society, and the presence and importance of the Black aesthetic culturally, socially, politically, and economically. An interdisciplinary program concentrating mainly in the humanities, the curriculum of the African-American Studies program is subject to review and flexibility, as courses may be added or subtracted with the permission of the Advisory Committee.

Students may choose a concentration in the program, select courses to structure a concentration within the Interdisciplinary Studies Program, or simply take courses as electives.

New courses, special topics, and minimester courses may be accepted toward the major with approval of the committee.

For further information, please contact one of the advisors.

Requirements for the Concentration

- A. The student must satisfy general education requirements with the following courses, either recommended or required:

AMERICAN STUDIES

Advisory Committee: DOUGLAS, (English, Coordinator); FISHER, (Anthropology); ESSLINGER, (History); FRIEDMAN, (English); HEDGES, (English); MARTIN, (History); RIVERS, (History); WOOD, (English)

OFFICE

Linthicum Hall, Room 218G, (301) 830-2943

The Program

The American Studies concentration is an interdisciplinary program that allows a student to take courses in different academic departments while still focusing on the concept of American culture. The American Studies approach stresses the interrelatedness of history, literature, the fine and vernacular arts, popular culture, technology and folkways. Students examine American institutions, ideas, and material forms in order to better understand their past and shape their future.

The major is designed for those students who may wish to have careers in fields such as teaching, museum work, law, journalism, and the like where a broad knowledge of American history and culture is desirable.

Those students interested in material culture or museum work have the opportunity to receive credit for internships at a number of local museums or historical sites.

Requirements for the Concentration

I. Lower-division requirements: 18 credits from the following list.

AMST.201	Introduction to American Studies (3)
ANTH.209	Anthropology of American Culture (3)

ANIMAL BEHAVIOR

Advisory Committee: FIGLER (Psychology); FORESTER (Biology); EWIG (Biology); ROBINSON (Biology); SCARBROUGH (Biology); SCULLY (Biology); JOHNSON (Psychology); KRUGGEL (Psychology); PETRI (Psychology); CARET (Chemistry); RABIN (Psychology); WALKER (Psychology, Coordinator)

The Program

The study of animal behavior has received an increasing amount of attention from the public due to the number of zoological parks and aquaria across the country, as well as presentations in the media concerning animal behavior and the developing field of sociobiology. The thematic option in Animal Behavior is designed to offer a concentrated education in this multifaceted discipline. The program is administered by the Institute of Animal Behavior, which includes faculty from the departments of Biological Sciences, Psychology and Chemistry at Towson State University, and adjunct faculty from other institutions. Students who complete this program may be qualified for staff positions at aquaria, nature centers, zoological parks, or to pursue careers in freelance writing about animal behavior. Students who are considering post-baccalaureate studies in disciplines such as ethology, comparative psychology, behavioral biology, etc., should discuss this option with their advisor early in the program, since most graduate programs will require additional courses in Biology, Psychology, and ancillary subjects.

Requirements for the Concentration

Required Courses (27-28 credits)

BIOL.110	Contemporary General Biology (4)
PSYC.101	Introduction to Psychology (3)
PSYC.212	Behavioral Statistics (4)

*Students should consult this Catalog for course prerequisites, and discuss all course selections with their advisors.

ASIAN STUDIES

Advisory Committee: DA SILVA, (Geography and Environmental Planning); HIRSCHMANN, (History); KEALEY, (Philosophy); LEE, (Art); McWILLIAMS, (History, Coordinator); MERANI, (Political Science)

The Program

The Asian Studies major within the Interdisciplinary Studies is designed to offer students an interdisciplinary program of study of various dimensions of the Asian world. The student may plan a course of study that concentrates on a particular aspect of Asian civilization or on a particular sub-region of Asia. One might, for example, focus on the art and philosophy of various Asian peoples, or instead, one might choose to concentrate on Chinese (or Indian or Japanese) civilization studying both the traditional and modern society, its physical setting, its political and economic development, etc. In order to build a sound program of study, which meets both the individual student's needs and the Interdisciplinary Studies requirements, it is essential that the student work closely with his advisor semester by semester in planning his program and selecting courses.

A second option open to students interested in specializing in Asian Studies is the International Studies major with an area specialization (Plan A).

Requirements for the Concentration

1. Six credit hours of a foreign language appropriate to the student's designated area of interest in Asia. In special cases this requirement may be waived, but only with the written permission of the advisory committee. The Asian language courses presently offered at Towson are listed below.
2. A minimum of 30 credit hours selected from the following list of courses, but with courses from at least three departments (excluding language) represented. Other courses not shown on the list, but which are relevant to Asia (such as directed readings courses and minimester courses), may be accepted with the approval of the advisory committee.

Approved Courses

COMPARATIVE ETHNIC STUDIES

Advisory Committee: NICHOLAS, (Education); ROTHSTEIN, (Anthropology); SCHEPER, (Sociology); AVERY, (English, Coordinator); GISSENDANNER, (English); LEONS, (Anthropology); RIES, (Communication Sciences and Disorders); Da SILVA, (Geography)

The Program

The Comparative Ethnic Studies concentration is an essential part of Towson State University's attempt to provide a sound liberal arts and science education to all of its students. It further reflects the goals of the university in providing students with some experience in interdisciplinary courses at upper- and/or lower-division levels. While the Comparative Ethnic Studies program allows students to take courses in several different and distinct academic disciplines, the program stresses the importance of a comparative framework and the value of interdisciplinary approaches to the American ethnic experience.

A secondary goal of the program is to provide information to the ethnic groups in the Baltimore metropolitan area, largely through the publication of a periodic newsletter, Kaleidoscope.

The program is designed for two particular groups of students:

1. Students desiring careers in teaching, personnel, human services, social work, criminal justice, law and other professions, for which the Comparative Ethnic Studies major can provide valuable information and insights.
2. Those students who, no matter what their major or career goals, simply wish to have a broader and deeper understanding of the variety of peoples who comprise modern American society.

Requirements for the Concentration

Required Courses (9 credits)

- ENGL.235 Ethnic-American Literature (3)
GENL.241 The Ethnic Experience in America (3)
HIST.377 The Immigrant in American History (3)

Electives

Students must select 15 hours from the upper-division courses. No more than two courses may be at the 200 level.

- ANTH.365 North American Indians (3)
ANTH.388 Peasant Cultures (3)
ECED.425 The Young Black Child in a Multi-Cultural Setting (3)
ECON.333 Economics of Poverty and Discrimination (3)
ECON.351 Urban Economics (3)
EDUC.460 Teaching in a Multi-Cultural/Multi-Ethnic Society (3)
ENGL.233 Survey of African-American Literature (3)
ENGL.234 Major Writers in African-American Literature (3)
ENGL.476 Topics in Multi-Ethnic Literature (3)
ENGL.477 Topics in Black American Literature (3)
GEOG.385 Population and Settlement (3)
HIST.277 A Survey of Jewish History (3)
HIST.375 The City in American History (3)
HIST.379 Indian-White Relations in American History: The East (3)
HIST.380 Indian-White Relations in American History: The West (3)
HIST.381 History of African-Americans (3)

SOCI.241 Blacks in America: Myths and Reality (3)
SOCI.343 Minority Groups (3)
SOCI.370-79 Topics in Sociology (3)
SPPA.481 (The American Jewish Community—when offered) (3)
SPPA.481 Dialects of Ethnic Groups (3)

Up to seven credits of related language courses at an appropriate level may applied to the major with the approval of the committee.

*Topics in Multi-Ethnic Literature may be taken only once for credit within 18 hours. However, with permission, it may be taken for major credit twice within 27 hours.

Recommended Courses

- ANTH.207 Cultural Anthropology (3)
ENGL.232 American Literature Since 1865 (3)
HIST.145 History of U.S. to Mid-Nineteenth Century (3)
HIST.146 History of U.S. Since Mid-Nineteenth Century (3)

SOCI.101	Introduction to Sociology (3)
SOCI.329	Demography (3)
SOCI.341	Class, Status and Power (3)

Kaleidoscope

First published in 1974, Kaleidoscope is a creation of the Towson State University Comparative Ethnic Studies program. This ethnic studies newsletter serves both Towson State University and metropolitan Baltimore, by encouraging ethnic activities, projects, and scholarship on and off the campus.

Issued semi-annually, 2,000 copies of the newsletter are distributed to teachers and administrators in Baltimore City and County Public Schools, to area colleges, to Towson State faculty and students, to members of Baltimore's ethnic communities and to city and county officials. Copies are also sent to readers around the country and the newsletter's subscription list continues to grow.

Kaleidoscope's content reflects the interests and diversity of its audience. Ethnic book and film reviews have often appeared. Profiles of ethnic individuals and communities, articles about ethnic programs and conferences, news of upcoming community events are regularly featured. Material is submitted by Towson faculty and students, by educators at other institutions, by ethnic organizations, and by interested individuals.

HEALTH SERVICES MANAGEMENT

GALLAGHER (Health Science, Coordinator)

The Program

The Health Services Management program is designed to provide students with a basic understanding of the business and the health disciplines. Students are prepared to assume management careers in health-related fields, i.e. administrative assistants, health planners or middle-management personnel. It is highly recommended that students selecting this program should consider the possibility of having a dual major—Business Administration or Health Sciences. Depending on the student's interests and the availability of positions, graduate training in health administration may be desirable after completing this program.

Requirements for the Concentration

The Health Services Management program is a thematic option in which the student has an academic concentration in business and health sciences. Except for the following, the requirements for the program are the same as for the Interdisciplinary Studies option:

1. A minimum of 18, but not more than 36, of the 45 upper division hours must relate specifically to a chosen topic or theme.
2. All coursework must be on an upper-division level unless the faculty advisor approves the inclusion of some particularly significant coursework at the lower-division level. For example, a course important to the student's theme may exist only at the lower-division level, i.e., HLTH 207 and 215.

TRANSFER STUDENT POLICY

A minimum of 30 hours must be completed at Towson State University.

A limited number of fieldwork experiences is available. For further information, please see the Coordinator of the program in the Health Science Department.

Required Prerequisites (21 credits)

SOCI.xxx	Upper Division Sociology Elective (3)
———	Laboratory Science elective (3,4)

Students must also complete 15 credits of upper division electives (300-400 level).

Students may not take more than 27 credits in School of Business and Economics courses.

HISTORY OF ART

LEE (Art, Coordinator)

The Program

The History of Art concentration, within the Interdisciplinary Studies major, is a program which offers undergraduates the opportunity to explore the discipline of art history in considerable depth. This investigation, performed well, leads to an understanding of the structure and function of the discipline. Also, it prepares the student for graduate work and offers an excellent background for many types of careers related to the study of the history of art.

Honors Program

Students may elect to take the honors program in the History of Art. Eligibility requirements governing the college honors program are described in this Catalog.

Requirements for the Concentration

To complete the thematic option in the History of Art, the student must take a total of 45 upper-division credits. Of the 45 upper-division credits, a minimum of 27 credits, but not more than 36, must be taken in art history. If the student chooses to take the minimum 27 credits, the difference between the 27 minimum and the 36 maximum may be taken in allied disciplines, such as English, History, and Philosophy, in a related historical period, subject to the approval of the faculty advisor. The remaining credits to reach the 45 upper-division total are electives, but they may also be taken in disciplines related to the student's interest in art history.

Required Courses (6 credits)

ART.391	Research Methods in Art History (3)
ART.485	Seminar in Art History (3) (repeatable).

Language Requirement

Two years of either French or German or their equivalent by examination is strongly recommended, but is not required.

History of Art Courses

LATIN AMERICAN STUDIES

Advisory Committee, LEONS (Anthropology, Coordinator); DENT (Political Science); HADDOCK (Geography); LIMA (Modern Languages); PINEO (History)

The Program

The Latin American Studies concentration within the Interdisciplinary major allows the student to approach the study of Latin America as an area from an interdisciplinary perspective. It would be an appropriate concentration for those intending to pursue Latin American Studies or Spanish on the graduate level, for those anticipating living or working in Latin America, or for those wishing to acquire expertise in Latin America for a career in business or government.

The Latin American Studies program is administered by the Latin American Studies committee. The student should select one of the members of the committee as an advisor.

Requirements for the Concentration

1. Spanish Composition and Conversation (SPAN.301) or its equivalent.
2. Thirty credits chosen from the following Latin American related courses. The courses must be selected from at least four of the five departments represented. (The student is reminded that a total of 45 upper-division hours are required for the completion of a General Studies major.)

Approved Courses

Spanish

SPAN.302	Composition & Conversation II (3)
SPAN.312	Culture & Civilization of the Spanish-Speaking Peoples II (3)

LAW ENFORCEMENT

Advisory Committee: TOLAND (Sociology, Coordinator); ESSLINGER, (History); FRUCHTMAN (Political Science); ZOLTAN-FORD (College of Liberal Arts)

The Program

The Police Foundation defines law enforcement as "the job of defining that delicate balance between liberty and order, of applying wisdom, of being flexible, of using discretion and, most particularly, of seeing the mundane and trivial in a broader legal and moral context." The most effective way of preparing one to meet this assignment is through a broad liberal arts education. The emphasis on education rather than training is based on the knowledge that training is acquired in police academies and in-service programs. Community colleges also offer vocationally-oriented courses, and students who wish to obtain this background should attend a community college before coming to Towson State. Community college transfer students are advised to complete the required introductory courses in sociology, psychology, political science, history and health. Law enforcement courses taken at a community college (e.g., criminal investigation) will usually transfer as general electives.

Requirements for the Concentration

A total of 45 upper-division credit hours are required to complete the Interdisciplinary Studies major. The law enforcement curriculum consists of 36 credit hours of required upper-division courses, nine credit hours of upper-division electives, and the general university requirements.

Required Courses

Sociology

Nine credits (beyond Introduction to Sociology, SOCI.101) including:

SOCI.353	Criminology (3)
SOCI.355	Juvenile Delinquency (3) and one of the following:
SOCI.343	Minority Groups (3)
SOCI.351	Social Deviance (3)
*WRIT.354	Introduction to Criminal Justice (3)
SOCI.356	Corrections in America (3)
SOCI.491	Practicum in Sociology (3)

Psychology

Nine credits (beyond General Psychology, PSYC.101) chosen from the following:

PSYC.203	Human Development (3)
PSYC.325	Social Psychology (3)
PSYC.350	Personality (3)
PSYC.361	Abnormal Psychology (3)
PSYC.404	Adolescent Psychology (3)

History

Six credits (beyond History of the U.S. to the Mid-19th Century, HIST.145; and History of the U.S. Since the Mid-19th Century, HIST.146) chosen from the following:

HIST.363	Social History of the U.S. to 1865 (3)
HIST.364	Social History of the U.S. Since 1865 (3)
HIST.367	The Development of the U.S. Constitution (3)

HIST.375	The City in American History (3)
HIST.377	The Immigrant in American History (3)
HIST.381	History of African-Americans (3)

Political Science

Six credits (beyond American National Government, POSC.103) chosen from the following:

POSC.209	Introduction to Law (3)
POSC.305	Urban Government and Politics (3)
POSC.375	Public Administration (3)
POSC.418	Constitutional Law (3)

Health

Six credits (beyond Current Health Problems, HLTH.101)

HLTH.221	Human Sexuality (3)
HLTH.405	Drugs in Our Culture (3)

*Students are advised to take this course to fulfill Group I-C Advanced Writing Requirement.

MEDIEVAL AND RENAISSANCE STUDIES

Advisory Committee: BLASTING (Theatre Arts); deBRABANDER (Philosophy); JOCHENS (History); LADD (Art); McLUCAS (Modern Language); MRUCK (History); NEWMAN (English, Coordinator)

The Program

By electing the concentration in Medieval and Renaissance Studies, majors in the Interdisciplinary Studies receive the opportunity for comprehensive interdisciplinary study of the Medieval and Renaissance period. A degree in Medieval and Renaissance Studies can lead to fulfilling careers in such areas as teaching, museum work, archival research, and freelance writing, as well as to interdisciplinary graduate studies in the Middle Ages and the Renaissance. As a second major, this concentration provides a special perspective on almost any other field of study. Students in this field can have unique opportunities to study the Medieval and Renaissance collections at Baltimore's Walters Art Gallery, Washington's Folger Library, the National Gallery of Art, and Dumbarton Oaks.

Honors Program

Students interested in earning honors in Medieval and Renaissance Studies should see their advisor in the program.

Requirements for the Concentration

Students with this thematic option will earn the Bachelor of Arts degree. Like all Interdisciplinary Studies majors, students choosing this concentration must take at least 45 semester hours of upper-division course work from the Departments of Arts and Sciences. Of these, at least 36 hours shall consist of course work in subjects related to the Middle Ages and the Renaissance.

Eighteen of the 36 hours shall be distributed as follows: six hours in English; six hours in history; and six hours from two of the following departments, Art, Modern Languages, and Philosophy.

The remaining 18 hours may be distributed according to the student's choice, except that no more than 21 hours may come from a single department.

Directed readings, research methods, independent study, honors thesis or minimester courses in Medieval and Renaissance topics, when approved by the Medieval and Renaissance Studies Committee, may be undertaken within the requirements of the departments that offer them and with the approval of the teaching faculty member. Instruction in Latin is available through the Department of Modern Languages at the elementary and intermediate level.

Approved Courses

The upper-division courses listed below are applicable to the Medieval and Renaissance Studies concentration.

An asterisk marks those courses whose subject matter changes from semester to semester and which hence are not always applicable to the Medieval and Renaissance Studies concentration. Before pre-registration, the committee will make available a list showing which asterisked courses are available to Medieval and Renaissance Studies for that semester. The subject matter of some of these courses can be arranged according to students' individual interest. Students wishing to use such courses towards their Medieval and Renaissance Studies concentration should consult with their advisors in the program and with the course instructor during the semester before they intend to take the course.

MOLECULAR BIOLOGY TRACK

Advisory Committee: PREISLER (Chemistry, Coordinator); RAWN (Chemistry); DENNISTON (Biology); HENRIKSON (Biology); MASTERS (Biology); MECHLING (Biology)

The Program

The molecular biology track is a specialized field at the interface between chemistry and biology. Its goal is the understanding of heredity and other functions of life through the study of biological molecules and molecular processes. The student who wishes to pursue graduate research or laboratory work in this field will need a solid grounding in the principles of chemistry and the concepts of related fields of biology. The program will provide a strong preparation for graduate studies or employment in the research laboratory in the following areas: biochemistry, biophysics, cell biology, immunology, microbiology, and molecular biology. Students interested in medical or dental school would also benefit from the breadth and depth of the science course offerings.

Requirements for the Track

The curriculum presented below includes 30-33 upper-division credits of required courses and three upper-division elective credits. The course requirements for this thematic option reflect the interdisciplinary nature of molecular biology.

Required Courses

- BIOL.201 Biology I: Cellular Biology and Genetics (4)
 BIOL.318 Microbiology (4)
 BIOL.401 Genetics (4)
 BIOL.408 Cell Biology (4)
 CHEM.101- General Chemistry I and II (4,4)

Electives

One of the following

- BIOL.403 Advanced Genetics (3)
 BIOL.421 Immunology (3)
 CHEM.452 Advanced Biochemistry (3)

Recommended Courses

An independent research project related to molecular biology is also recommended, especially for those students contemplating graduate school. The appropriate courses are:

BIOL.491	Independent Research in Biology, (2-3)
or
CHEM.491-494	Introduction to Research in Chemistry (1-3)

PRELAW

Students contemplating law school after graduation should make an appointment with the University's Prelaw Advisor, who is a member of the Department of Political Science. He can provide prospective students with a copy of the "Towson State Prelaw Handbook," introduce them to the Prelaw Society, and offer advice concerning courses of study, preparation for the Law School Admissions Test, and other matters pertaining to what students need for their application to law school. In general, students should concentrate on improving their reading, writing, and speaking skills.

Dual Law Program

Towson State University offers to qualified students the opportunity to apply to the early admission program at the University of Baltimore School of Law. Admission is not automatic, but is contingent upon acceptance by the University of Baltimore Law School (including review of LSAT scores). Transfer to the UB Law program can only take place at the end of a spring semester. To qualify for entrance to the dual-degree program, students must fulfill the first three of the standards listed below; to qualify for graduation from Towson State University, they must also fulfill the fourth standard listed:

1. Completion of at least 91 credits at TSU with at least a 3.0 GPA.
2. Completion of all TSU General University Requirements.
3. Completion of a major at TSU with at least a 3.25 GPA in the major. No specific areas of study or disciplines are required for this program; accordingly, students may choose majors in which they are most interested.
4. Successful completion of 29 credits at the University of Baltimore School of Law, and of all other TSU graduation requirements as listed in the undergraduate catalog under the heading, "Degree Requirements."

Subsequent completion of all requirements at the University of Baltimore Law School is necessary in order to earn the J.D. degree from the University of Baltimore.

Students interested in this program should contact the TSU Prelaw Advisor, Dr. Jack Fruchtmann, in the Department of Political Science.

RELIGIOUS STUDIES

Advisory Committee: WOOD (English, Coordinator); JOCHENS (History); JONES (Sociology)

The Program

The Religious Studies concentration is an interdisciplinary program which offers students the opportunity to study religion from a variety of perspectives. The program is administered by a faculty committee.

Requirements for the Concentration

As in all thematic options, 45 credits must be taken in upper-division courses. For the Religious Studies option, 36 credits must be from the approved list of courses having substantial religious content. No more than four lower-division credits may be applied to this 36 credit requirement, and no more than 21 of the 36 credits may be taken in any one department. The distribution of 18 of the 36 credits must be: six from the Department of History, six from the Department of Philosophy and Religion, and six from other departments.

Directed readings, research methods, independent study, honors thesis or minimester courses in religious topics, when approved by the Religious Studies committee, must be undertaken within the requirements of the department that offers them and with the approval of the teaching faculty member.

The following courses are approved for credit in the Religious Studies option. However, courses marked with an asterisk are only applicable during semesters when they have been approved for credit by the Religious Studies committee. The committee shall meet prior to pre-registration each semester to determine which of the courses marked with an asterisk shall be applicable for credit to the Religious Studies program for the following semester. Students may also apply to the committee for approval of transfer credits from other colleges into the Religious Studies option within the existing college rules for transfer.

The Program

The Women's Studies concentration within the Interdisciplinary Studies major is an interdisciplinary program which offers students the opportunity to study the particular nature and role of women as individuals and as members of society. The concentration consists of 12 hours in a core curriculum of four interdisciplinary courses, plus a minimum of 18 hours selected from other courses in women's studies. Women in Perspective (WMST.231) is strongly recommended as preparation for any upper-division work in women's studies. Each program is individually tailored to the needs and interests of the student. Students must consult with a women's studies faculty advisor to plan their program. The student is reminded that a total of 45 upper-division hours, including the hours in women's studies, is required for the completion of an Interdisciplinary major.

The Women's Studies concentration is administered by a committee of faculty and students. The faculty members on the committee will serve as advisors to students majoring in the program.

The following interdisciplinary and departmental women's studies courses are currently in the curriculum. More courses are under development. The departmental courses can be taken as electives for departmental credit and/or applied to the thematic concentration in women's studies. Some courses fulfill General University Requirements.

WMST.332	Women's Culture and Creativity (3)
WMST.335	Women, Work, and Family (3)
WMST.337	Feminism (3)

Approved Courses

Students concentrating in Women's Studies must complete a minimum of 18 additional credits in women's studies selected from any of the following courses. Twelve hours must be taken at the 300-400 upper-division course level. It is strongly recommended that the student's program include at least one course in minority women or multicultural issues.

The Minor in Women's Studies

Many students will wish to major in a traditional subject (history, English, sociology), but want to take a minor in women's studies. Some students plan to do graduate work in a traditional discipline, with emphasis on women within it.

Suggested Program for the Minor in Women's Studies

- WMST.231 Women in Perspective (3)
plus
15 hours in other departmental or women's studies courses, at least 12 hours of which shall be upper-division.

MEETING GENERAL UNIVERSITY REQUIREMENTS

Several Women Studies courses fulfill General University Requirements. WMST.332, Women's Culture and Creativity; WMST.335, Women, Work and Family; WMST.231, Women in Perspective all fulfill Group III requirements. WMST.333, Women's Words, Women's Lives is an approved advanced writing course for Group IC.

TRANSFER CREDIT POLICY

Students may transfer no more than 12 of the 30 credits required for the Women's Studies concentration, and no more than 6 of the credits required for the special work in Women's Studies.

HONORS PROGRAM

Honors work is available to students with a Women's Studies concentration. Interested students should consult the Women's Studies Coordinator for information, preferably during their sophomore year.

International Studies Program

THE PROGRAM

The International Studies program is designed primarily as preparation for students planning careers in government, foreign service, international trade, finance and business, economic development, and international education. The program aims to achieve a global perspective through an interdisciplinary network of courses and experiences which will lead to a Bachelor of Arts degree in International Studies.

The program is administered by a committee composed of representatives from the following disciplines: management, economics, geography and environmental planning, history, political science, and sociology/anthropology.

MAJOR IN INTERNATIONAL STUDIES

All students majoring in International Studies will complete 30 credit hours of required courses and 15 credit hours of related upper-division electives under one of the two plans listed below:

Plan A—Regional Track

Under this plan students concentrate on a particular world region such as Asia, Latin America, Western Europe, etc. and complete 15 upper-division credits in courses related to the student's geographical area of concentration.

Plan B—Non-Regional Track

Under this plan students complete 15 upper-division credits of approved elective courses relating to international affairs.

Requirements for the Major

Thirty required credits, 15 credits of upper-division related electives, and foreign language proficiency through Intermediate II (4 semesters of college-level foreign language) are needed to complete the major in International Studies.

Required Courses (30 credits)

- | | |
|----------|--|
| ANTH.207 | Cultural Anthropology (3) |
| ECON.201 | Microeconomic Principles (3) |
| ECON.202 | Macroeconomic Principles (3) |

| ECON.323 | Comparative Economic Systems (3) |
| ECON.325 | Economic Development (3) |
| ECON.421 | International Economics (3) |

One of the following

- HIST.151 The World Since 1945 (3)
HIST.370 Diplomatic History of U.S. Since 1900 (3)
HIST.479 History of Diplomacy (3)

*Students should consult their advisors concerning the prerequisites for these courses.

Related Electives (15 credits, upper-division)

These courses must be selected by students with the written approval of their advisor in International Studies. Each advisor has a current list of approved courses in International Studies that students must use in selecting these electives. Students who are under Plan A (regional concentration) must have at least three of their five related elective courses in their area of regional concentration.

Foreign Language Requirement

Students should plan on achieving a level of proficiency in one foreign language that is the equivalent of four semesters of college level foreign language training. This requirement may be completed by taking Elements I and II and Intermediate I and II or by an Equivalence Examination at the Intermediate level administered each November by the Department of Modern Languages. Students who have completed several years of foreign language in high school should consult with the Chair of Modern Languages to determine the number of courses or credits needed to fulfill this requirement for the major.

TRANSFER CREDIT POLICY

Transfer students must take a minimum of 18 credits of upper-division courses in international studies at Towson State to fulfill the requirements for the major.

INTERNATIONAL STUDIES ACTIVITIES AND PROGRAMS

The International Studies major offers students the opportunity to participate in the following special programs and activities:

- Editing and managing the Towson State Journal of International Affairs for academic credit.
- An annual Model Organization of American States (OAS) in Washington, D.C. for academic credit
- The Naval Academy's Foreign Affairs Conference.
- The annual Earle T. Hawkins Symposium on International Affairs.
- Internships for academic credit in Washington, D.C. and metropolitan Baltimore.
- Foreign travel, study abroad programs, and student exchange programs for academic credit.

PROGRAMS OF THE DEPARTMENT

The Department of Modern Languages offers the following programs: 1) the major or minor in French, German and Spanish; 2) the major in French, German and Spanish in Secondary Education; 3) the major in French, German and Spanish Literature; 4) the major in French, German and Spanish in Professional Program; 5) the Certificate of Proficiency in French, German and Spanish, for non-language majors or minors planning for careers which require reasonable oral and written competency in a foreign language; and 6) language electives, for all students who wish to acquire a reading or conversational ability in one of the following languages: Russian, Chinese, Portuguese, Hebrew, Japanese, Greek, Latin, Italian and Hindi. Expansion of these non-major languages will be made in response to expressed student interest.

Students majoring or minoring in French, German or Spanish must declare their major or minor in the Modern Languages Department and are required to have academic advisors in their major and minor field and maintain close contacts with the faculty advisors in order to select and prepare their course of study. Majors should see their advisors at least once a semester. It is recommended that the major be declared during or before the sophomore year.

Culture and Civilization Course Requirement

The requirement of six hours of Culture and Civilization for Spanish majors is strongly felt by the Spanish faculty to be a necessity in their program, primarily because of the great diversity of Spanish-speaking countries in Europe, South America and Central America, and the importance of a knowledge of this diversity for all who teach or otherwise use Spanish. The French faculty feels likewise that French Culture and Civilization represents a necessary aspect of the language program and considers it important since the study of the culture and civilization of the French-speaking people and their countries cannot be separated from the study of the language. The German Culture & Civilization course is required for the Program in Teacher Education in German.

Dual Majors

The Department of Modern Languages encourages its language majors in French, German or Spanish to carry an additional major in either another language or combine their language with another field of study. Interested students should consult the Modern Languages Department.

FRENCH

MAJOR IN FRENCH LITERATURE

In addition to the General University Requirements, French Literature majors must complete 30 credit hours with a grade of "C" or higher in French beyond the intermediate level. Of the 30 hours, at least 15 credit hours must be taken at Towson State University.

MINOR IN MODERN LANGUAGE

This program is designed to provide majors in other disciplines with the educational background necessary to broaden and enhance their career opportunities and to enable teacher candidates to meet the requirements for a Maryland State Department of Education teaching certificate.

The minor in French, German and/or Spanish requires students to complete 12 upper-division credit hours plus the Intermediate level courses I, II, to complete 20 credits. SCED.353, Teaching Modern Language in the Secondary Schools, is required of teaching candidates in addition to the minor.

Language minors may transfer up to eight hours toward a minor and must earn 12 upper-division credit hours at Towson.

The minor should be approved by the student's Modern Languages Department advisor.

Requirements for the Minor

Required Courses (20 credits)

- Intermediate Level Courses I and II (4,4)
- Composition and Conversation I or II (3)
- Culture and Civilization I or II (3)
- Advanced Grammar (3)
- Elective course (3)

CERTIFICATION OF PROFICIENCY IN A MODERN FOREIGN LANGUAGE

The Department of Modern Languages has designed a program of studies that offers the non-language major a Certificate of Proficiency in French, German or Spanish upon satisfactory completion of prescribed requirements.

The Certificate of Proficiency may be earned by a degree candidate at Towson State University as well as by an individual whose sole interest in attending the university is for the purpose of obtaining the certificate.

A Certificate of Proficiency is an important document for those individuals who are planning or practicing careers which require reasonable oral and written competency in a given modern language. In the job market, national and international, we are aware that a large number of opportunities await persons whose knowledge of one or more modern foreign languages has been well established through intensive college study. The Certificate of Proficiency is quite advantageous for aspiring professionals in the fields of communications, public services, business and finance, agriculture, transportation, health services, education, energy, natural resources, journalism, law, foreign service, governmental service, air traffic management, import/export purchasing and selling, etc.

In order to receive the Certificate of Proficiency, the student must pass all required courses with acceptable grades (A, B or C's). The student who is prepared to begin at the advanced level will need to complete 12 credits of study whereas the student who begins at the elementary level will have to earn 28 credits in the particular language.

Requirements for the Certificate of Proficiency in French, German or Spanish

Required Courses (28 credits)

101-102	Elements (4,4)
201-202	Intermediate I, II (4,4)
301	Composition and Conversation I, (3) or
302	Composition and Conversation II (3)
311	Culture and Civilization I (3) or
312	Culture and Civilization II (3)
391	Advanced Grammar (3)
495	Internship for the Certificate of Proficiency (3)

Special courses will be planned and introduced in accordance with student needs.

MEETING GENERAL UNIVERSITY REQUIREMENTS

The completion of the intermediate level, or its equivalent, is required of all candidates for the Bachelor of Arts degree. This requirement may be met by (a) completing two or more years of the language in high school plus the intermediate level courses in college, (b) completing the elementary and intermediate level courses in the language in college, *(c) successfully completing an equivalence examination administered once a year, during November, by the Department of Modern Languages at Towson State University, (d) successfully completing one semester of any course beyond the intermediate level or *(e) successfully completing a credit for experience examination at the 300 level administered once a year, during November, by the Department of Modern Languages at Towson State University.

*Students interested in (c) or (e) should consult the Modern Languages Department for further information.

COMPETENCY CREDITS IN MODERN FOREIGN LANGUAGES

Degree candidates successfully completing courses numbered 102, 201, 202, or 301 in any foreign language offered by the Modern Languages Department at Towson State University may earn a maximum of eight (8) credits for the two preceding courses if the course in which they are enrolled is successfully completed with a grade of "C" or higher in the first attempt. Students registering for any of these language courses for the purpose of receiving competency credits must select the regular grading option. Students may attempt to earn competency credits by completing a higher level language course only once. Students should consult the Modern Languages Department for detailed information about the Competency Credits in foreign languages.

PLACEMENT IN LANGUAGES

The Modern Languages Department's policy regarding placement of entering students with high school language study follows:

1. One year of high school language study, the student may register for 101 or 102.
2. Two years of high school language study, the student may register for 102 or 201.
3. Three years of high school language study, the student may register for 201 or 202.
4. Four years of high school language study, the student may register for 202 or any 300 level course.
5. Five years of high school language study, the student may register for any 300 level course.

Students will normally want to register for the higher level course for which they are qualified. Deviations from this plan must be approved by the Department of Modern Languages.

TRANSFER CREDIT POLICY

Transfer students may transfer a maximum of 15 hours toward the major.

HONORS PROGRAM

The Department of Modern Languages participates in the University Honors Program. Students interested in completing a language major with honors should consult the department Honors Board representative no later than the first semester of their junior year.

SPECIAL DEPARTMENTAL PROGRAMS

The department sponsors the Eta Gamma Chapter of the National Spanish Honor Society, Sigma Delta Pi and encourages all Spanish students to participate in the activities of the Society.

The department offers internship and practicum programs through the Cooperative Education Office.

A junior year abroad in France and a travel studies program to Spain are also available.

The Modern Languages department is a testing center for the Certificat Pratique du Francais Commercial et Economique.

Students may take the test for the "Certificat" after having completed the French for Business course.

GRADUATE PROGRAM

A Master in Education with a specialization in French or Spanish and the Master of Arts in Foreign Languages with a concentration in French or Spanish are also available through this department. See the Graduate Catalog for details of this program.

Assistant Professors: BURNOR, CHRISTIAN, EVANGELIOU, KEALEY, PILARDI

OFFICE

Linthicum Hall, Room 219F, (301) 830-2755

PROGRAMS OF THE DEPARTMENT

Through the study of the arts, sciences and religion, philosophy attempts to uncover the often hidden or implied assumptions of a culture. As a result, philosophy seeks to give students some unity to all the knowledge they acquire in college. It develops the habits of precise thinking and reflection. Philosophy is basic to a liberal education and is of special value in preparation for many areas of endeavor, especially for the law, the ministry and politics.

The Department of Philosophy and Religion offers the major and minor in Philosophy. The program is designed to encourage students to take as great a diversity of courses as possible. Courses offered by the department are historical, systematic, analytic or speculative, according to the nature of the course, the interest of the instructor, and the composition of the particular class. The attitude that informs all courses is scholarly or speculative, rather than sectarian or dogmatic.

In exceptional instances the student may, with the permission of the chair, make substitution of courses within the department for required courses, e.g., a higher numbered course may be substituted for a lower numbered course. Three credits may, with the permission of the chair, be taken in an allied discipline.

MAJOR IN PHILOSOPHY

The major in Philosophy requires 33 credits with a grade of "C" or higher from among the following courses.

Requirements for the Major

Required Courses (6 credits)

PROGRAMS OF THE DEPARTMENT

The program of courses in political science aims to promote understanding of the nature of political relationships. The Department of Political Science offers a major and minor in Political Science. In addition, the Department of Political Science offers a double major with the Department of Economics. Students wishing to major in both Political Science and Economics can obtain a double major which certifies that the requirements of both departments have been completed. Students should refer to section on double major listed below. The major prepares students for advanced study and provides the foundation for careers in public administration, law, public relations, business and research.

MAJOR IN POLITICAL SCIENCE

Thirty credit hours are required for the major in Political Science to be completed as follows:

Clinical Concentration Program for Psychology Majors

The Clinical Concentration program offers training in clinical psychology leading to a B.S. degree in psychology from Towson State University and a certificate in Mental Health from the Education Center of the Sheppard and Enoch Pratt Hospital. The program provides a four-semester course sequence, beginning in the first term of the junior year. Courses are organized around practicum experience with extensive supervision so that there is unbroken continuity between theory and practice of clinical skills. This is a selective program for which students must apply by Feb. 15 of their sophomore year.

The curriculum requirements consist of three components: General University Requirements and Psychology Department requirements; two prerequisite courses which must be completed during the sophomore year and before entry into the program, Abnormal Psychology and Introduction to the Helping Relationship; and the following Clinical Concentration program courses.

SEMESTER 1

- PSYC.430 Systems and Techniques of Psychotherapy (3)
 PSYC.439 The Initial Interview (3)

SEMESTER 2

- PSYC.453 Issues in Mental Health Intervention (2)
 PSYC.454 Internship in Psychotherapy (4)

SEMESTER 3

- PSYC.431 Group Dynamics I (3)
 PSYC.454 Internship in Psychotherapy (4)

SEMESTER 4

- PSYC.433 Group Psychotherapy Internship (3)
 PSYC.454 Internship in Psychotherapy (4)

MINOR IN PSYCHOLOGY

The Psychology minor is required to complete 23 credits in psychology with a grade of "C" or higher in each course. Of these 23 credits, students must complete 11 credits in core courses, and 12 credits in elective courses which must include one course from the topical area "Learning-Cognition." The remaining nine elective credits may be selected from any of the 200, 300 or 400 level courses with the exception of PSYC.211 and PSYC.230, neither of which may be taken for minor credit.

TRANSFER CREDIT POLICY

Students entering TSU from another institution may transfer up to a maximum of 15 credits toward the major and 10 credits toward the minor in psychology upon approval by the department chair.

HONORS IN PSYCHOLOGY

The Department of Psychology seeks to give special recognition to students for academic excellence through its Honors Program. The guiding philosophy of the program is to provide the student with a specialized learning experience in both scholarly investigation and scholarly writing. The student who completes an approved program will receive a diploma with the designation Bachelor of Arts or Bachelor of Science with Honors in Psychology. Departmental honors will also appear on the student's transcript.

The program is developed for the junior and senior years and includes nine to ten credit hours in PSYC.381, PSYC.485, and PSYC.491. A colloquium presentation based on the Senior Thesis PSYC.499 is required. An honors candidate will also be required to take the Graduate Record Examination and is expected to achieve no less than the 50th percentile on the Aptitude Test (Verbal and Quantitative) and no less than the 70th percentile on the Area Specialization Test in Psychology.

To be admitted to the program a student must present an overall cumulative average of 3.25 with a cumulative average of 3.50 in Psychology. To graduate from a program the recipient of the honors degree must maintain as a minimum the aforementioned cumulative averages. For additional procedural details contact the department's Honors Coordinator.

MASTER OF ARTS IN PSYCHOLOGY

The Master of Arts in Psychology is designed for students who are primarily interested in an advanced degree in Experimental Psychology, School Psychology, Clinical Psychology or Counseling. For detailed information, see the Graduate Catalog.

THE PROGRAM

The Social Sciences program is an interdepartmental major offering courses from the Departments of Economics, Geography, History, Political Science, Sociology and Anthropology.

The program is designed for those students who do not wish to be confined to a major in a single discipline, but are interested in a broad education, transcending traditional department boundaries. It is useful for those students who plan to enter graduate school for an advanced degree in one of the disciplines of the program; for those students who plan to enter professional schools for a degree in law, social service, or a phase of law enforcement; for those students who seek a broad background in preparation for employment in business and industry, or with a governmental agency. It is particularly designed for students planning to teach social studies at the secondary school level.

A coordinator administers the program and faculty from the Departments of Economics, Geography, History, Political Science, Sociology and Anthropology advise students majoring in the program. Policies and requirements for the majors in Social Science are established by an advisory committee composed of representatives from the various disciplines included in the program.

The major offers the student the choice of two Social Science programs: a Social Science major in Secondary School Education or a Social Science major in Liberal Arts.

The Bachelor of Arts degree may be earned in either Social Science program by adding a foreign language to the major course requirements. The language requirement can be met by completing the intermediate courses of a modern foreign language or its equivalent.

MAJOR IN SOCIAL SCIENCE

Social Science majors must complete 60 credits with a grade of "C" or higher from among the following courses. The General University Requirements must also be fulfilled.

Requirements for the Major

Required Courses (30 credits)

Two of the following

- HIST.145 History of United States to Mid-Nineteenth Century (3)
- HIST.146 History of United States Since Mid-Nineteenth Century (3)
- HIST.241 History of European Civilization Through Seventeenth Century (3)
- HIST.242 History of European Civilization From Seventeenth Century (3)

One of the following

- GEOG.101 Physical Geography (3)
- GEOG.102 World Regional Geography (3)
- GEOG.109 Intro. to Human Geography (3)

One of the following

- GEOG.101 Physical Geography (3)
- GEOG.102 World Regional Geography (3)
- GEOG.105 Geography of International Affairs (3)
- GEOG.109 Intro. to Human Geography (3)
- GEOG.221 Interpretation of Maps (3)
- GEOG.299 Intro. to Source Materials and Research in Geography (3)

Two of the following

- POSC.101 Intro. to Political Science (3)
- POSC.103 American National Government (3)
- POSC.107 Intro. to International Relations (3)
- POSC.137 Intro. to Comparative Politics (3)
- POSC.207 State Government (3)

All of the following

- ANTH.207 Cultural Anthropology (3)
- ECON.201 Microeconomic Principles (3)
- ECON.202 Macroeconomic Principles (3)
- SOCI.101 Introduction to Sociology (3)

Upper-Division Requirements (24 credits)

Students must complete two courses in each of four disciplines of the six disciplines in the program. At least 12 credits of upper-division courses must be taken at Towson State University.

Electives (6 credits)

Select six credits of upper- or lower-division courses in any of the six disciplines in the program.

SOCIAL SCIENCE: SECONDARY EDUCATION

Social Science majors in this Secondary Education program receive certification to teach social science at the secondary level in Maryland upon graduation. See Secondary Education Department requirements. In addition to the General University Requirements, and the requirements specified by the Department of Secondary Education, students must complete 54 credits with a grade of "C" or higher from among the following courses.

Requirements for the Major

Required Courses (45 credits)

- ANTH.207 Cultural Anthropology (3)
- ECON.201 Microeconomic Principles (3)
- ECON.202 Macroeconomic Principles (3)
- GENL.401 Topics in Social Science (3)
- HIST.145 History of United States to Mid-Nineteenth Century (3)
- HIST.146 History of United States Since Mid-Nineteenth Century (3)
- HIST.241 History of European Civilization Through Seventeenth Century (3)
- HIST.242 History of European Civilization From Seventeenth Century (3)
- HIST.xxx African, Asian or Latin American History course (3)
- HIST.xxx History Course (3)
- SOCI.101 Introduction to Sociology (3)

- GEOG.101 Physical Geography (3)
- GEOG.102 World Regional Geography (3)
- GEOG.109 Intro. to Human Geography (3)

One of the following

- GEOG.101 Physical Geography (3)
- GEOG.102 World Regional Geography (3)
- GEOG.105 Geography of International Affairs (3)
- GEOG.109 Intro. to Human Geography (3)
- GEOG.221 Interpretation of Maps (3)
- GEOG.299 Intro. to Source Materials and Research in Geography (3)

Two of the following

- POSC.101 Intro. to Political Science (3)
- POSC.103 American National Government (3)
- POSC.107 Intro. to International Relations (3)
- POSC.137 Intro. to Comparative Politics (3)
- POSC.207 State Government (3)

Electives (9 credits)

Select three additional upper-division electives from any of the disciplines in the program. The upper-division courses must be taken at Towson State University.

TRANSFER CREDIT POLICY

Transfer students in the Social Science program are required to earn at Towson State University a minimum of one-half the total number of credits required for the major.

PROGRAMS OF THE DEPARTMENT

The Department of Sociology and Anthropology offers four concentrations whose differing requirements reflect the varied nature of the professional disciplines represented. All are intended to acquaint students with methods and perspectives necessary to understand the society in which they live as well as societies with which they may have been unfamiliar. All are designed to prepare the student for entry level occupational positions, and all provide the knowledge and skill necessary for acceptance by appropriate graduate and professional schools.

For all concentrations, the Bachelor of Arts degree may be earned by adding a foreign language to the major requirements. The language requirement can be met by completing the intermediate courses of a modern language or the equivalent.

Towson State University does not offer an undergraduate program approved by the State of Maryland for certification in social work. However, many students continue their education at another university in order to obtain the Masters in Social Work degree required for higher level positions in that field.

MAJOR IN SOCIOLOGY

Students majoring in Sociology may choose from four areas of concentration: Sociology, Anthropology, Gerontology, or Corrections. The requirements for each concentration are listed below.

SPECIAL RECOMMENDATIONS FOR MAJORS

Superior students are encouraged to undertake the sequence of courses which allow for graduation with honors in the department. See the honors advisor, Dr. Jones, in your freshman or sophomore year for information.

For concentrates in Sociology, it is strongly recommended that the Statistics course (MATH.231 or PSYC.212) be taken no later than the first semester of the junior year. Most majors take Behavioral Statistics (PSYC.212).

Students interested in Law Enforcement, but desiring the major in Sociology, should consult Dr. Toland who serves as advisor.

Internship

All majors should acquaint themselves as early as possible with the opportunities provided by the Internship (SOC.491 & 492; ANTH.491 & 492) for placement in agencies dealing with law enforcement and corrections, aging, family planning and counseling, social services and medical social work, alcoholism, child care and drug abuse, and other aspects of social life in the Baltimore metropolitan area. Course credit is obtained as well as familiarization with potential careers and valuable experience which enhances later job applications. A fee is assessed upon each student participating in the Internship. Each year, the Lieberman Endowment provides a cash award to the best intern.

Sociology Concentration

The concentration in Sociology requires 30 credits completed with a grade of "C" or higher. A minimum of 12 of the required 30 credits must be taken at Towson State University.

Required Courses

SOCI.101	Introduction to Sociology (3)
SOCI.381	Sociological Theory (3)
SOCI.391	Research Methods (3)

One of the following

MATH.231	Basic Statistics I (3)
PSYC.212	Behavioral Statistics (4)

Electives

Students must complete 18 hours of electives offered by the department, at least 12 of which must be upper-division.

Anthropology Concentration

The concentration in Anthropology requires 30 credits completed with a grade of "C" or higher. A minimum of 12 of the required 30 credits must be taken at Towson State University.

Required Courses

ANTH.207	Cultural Anthropology (3)
ANTH.208	Human Evolution & Prehistory (3)
ANTH.401	Anthropological Theory (3)

Electives

Students must complete 21 hours of electives offered in Anthropology, 15 of which must be upper-division. The following courses may be credited to the required 21 hours of electives.

SOCI.381	Sociological Theory (3)
SOCI.391	Research Methods (3)
ENGL.350	Comparative Grammar (3)
ENGL.351	Historical Linguistics (3)
ENGL.352	Structural Linguistics (3)

Gerontology Concentration

The Gerontology concentration is an interdisciplinary area of study. While the emphases of courses in sociology is on aging in a social context, attention is also directed to understanding the interaction of the social with physical and psychological aspects of the aging process. Courses in other departments such as Health and Psychology are valuable supplements to students' general understanding of the aging experience. The Internship provides the opportunity for integration of theoretical and practical concerns and familiarizes students with potential career opportunities. The course of study is designed to prepare students for employment in service-oriented agencies and organizations which are involved in research and planning for facilities, services and opportunities for the aged.

Substitution of courses in any category may be made with the permission of the program director. Students are reminded that an advanced writing course is required to fulfill the General University Requirements. Currently, none is offered as part of the Gerontology concentration. Sociological Theory (SOC.381), Anthropological Theory (ANTH.401), Controversies in Anthropology (WRIT.361), and Introduction to Criminal Justice (WRIT.354) are available within the department; however, the student may select an advanced writing course from those approved in other departments. Students are advised to take the prerequisites for the courses in the program as early as possible.

The concentration in Gerontology requires 36 credits completed with a grade of "C" or higher. A minimum of 12 of the required 36 credits must be taken in residence at Towson State University.

Required Courses

SOCI.101	Introduction to Sociology (3)
SOCI.329	Demography (3)
	or
SOCI.391	Research Methods (3)
SOCI.359	Social Gerontology (3)
SOCI.360	Sociology of Aging (3)
SOCI.361	The Aging Worker (3)
SOCI.367	Sociology of Death, Dying & Bereavement (3)

Students who received credit for Social Gerontology (SOCI.360) prior to Fall, 1986 will not receive credit for Sociology of Aging (SOCI.360) if taken in Fall, 1986 or later. Students who received credit for Sociology of Aging (SOCI.359) prior to Fall, 1986 will not receive credit for Social Gerontology (SOCI.359) if taken in Fall, 1986 or later.

Two of the following

- EDUC.470 Special Topics in Education: Aging (3)
- ENGL.471 Topics in World Literature (3)
- GEOG.329 Medical Geography (3)
- GEOG.407 Geography of the Aged (3)
- HLTH.411 Health and Later Maturity (3)
- PSYC.405 Psychology of Aging (3)
- PSYC.470-79 Seminars in Psychology: Selected Topics: Psychology of Death (3)
- SPPA.476 Special Topics Seminar in Speech/Language Pathology & Audiology: Aging & Communication (3)

Three of the following

- SOCI.301 The Family (3)
- SOCI.311 Individual and Society (3)
- SOCI.313 Introduction to Social Psychology (3)
- SOCI.329 Demography (if not taken before) (3)
- SOCI.335 Medical Sociology (3)
- SOCI.339 Community Organizations (3)
- SOCI.357 Social Welfare (3)
- SOCI.362 Basic Methods in Human Services Practice (3)
- SOCI.370-75 Topics in Sociology: Social Security in Action (3)
- ANTH.209 Anthropology of American Culture (3)
- or
- ANTH.211 Honors Anthropology of American Culture (3)

One of the following

- SOCI.491 Internship in Sociology I (3)
- SOCI.492 Internship in Sociology II (3)

Corrections Concentration

The Corrections concentration is a cross-disciplinary area of study emphasizing counseling and social service skills. Although designed for students working with prisons, probation and parole, it is also appropriate for those interested in juvenile services, social services, crisis intervention and drug treatment programs. Through courses in Sociology and Psychology, the student will learn alternative problem solving mechanisms for service and support agencies. Emphasis is placed on the social milieu of the clientele as well as on the organizations which provide the services. Courses in other departments such as Health will provide additional expertise for specific problems faced in the service agencies. Since there is concern for both the theoretical and practical aspects of interpersonal relationships and deviancy, the concentration provides job related experiences through the Internship.

Substitutions of courses in any category may be made with permission of the chair. Students are reminded that an advanced writing course is required to fulfill Group IC of the General University Requirements. Introduction to Criminal Justice, if taken as WRIT.354, will satisfy this writing requirement for majors in the Corrections concentration. Students are advised to take the pre-requisites for the courses in the program as early as possible.

The Corrections concentration requires 45 credits completed with a grade of "C" or higher. A minimum of 12 of the required 45 credits must be taken in residence at Towson State University.

Required Courses

All of the following

- SOCI.343 Minority Groups (3)
- SOCI.353 Criminology (3)
- SOCI.356 Corrections in America (3)
- SOCI.370-79 Topics in Soci.: Sociology of Law (3)
- SOCI.391 Research Methods (3)
- SOCI.491 Internship in Sociology I (3)

One of the following

- ANTH.209 Anthropology of American Culture (3)
- or
- ANTH.211 Honors Anthropology of American Culture (3)
- SOCI.311 Individual & Society (3)
- SOCI.313 Introduction to Social Psychology (3)
- SOCI.331 Organizations (3)
- SOCI.339 Community Organization (3)
- SOCI.357 Social Welfare (3)

One of the following

- SOCI.351 Social Deviance (3)
- SOCI.354 Intro to Criminal Justice (3)
- SOCI.355 Juvenile Delinquency (3)
- SOCI.370-79 Additional Topics Courses approved by advisor (3)

Any three courses from among the following

- PSYC.205 Intro to the Helping Relationship (3)
- PSYC.429 Intro to the Counseling of Minorities (3)
- PSYC.430 Systems & Techniques of Counseling Practice (3)
- SOCI.330 Vocational Rehabilitation (3)
- SOCI.362 Basic Methods in Human Services Practice (3)
- SOCI.363 Jobs and Joblessness (3)
- SOCI.365 Issues in Youth Unemployment (3)
- SOCI.369 Group Vocational Counseling (3)

One of the following

- PSYC.350 Personality (3)
- PSYC.361 Abnormal Psychology (3)
- PSYC.404 Adolescent Psychology (3)

Three of the following with at least one in Health

- ART.461 Intro to Art Therapy I (3)
- HLTH.208 Mental Health (3)
- HLTH.221 Human Sexuality (3)
- HLTH.405 Drugs in Our Culture (3)
- POSC.305 Urban Government & Politics (3)
- POSC.375 Public Administration (3)
- POSC.401 Intro to Law (3)
- POSC.470-79 Spc. Tpcs: Women and the Law (3)
- PSYC.203 Human Development (3)
- SCED.405 Field Experience in Juvenile Institutions (3)

MINOR IN ANTHROPOLOGY

The minor in Anthropology consists of 24 hours in anthropology, at least 12 of which must be upper-division.

Required Courses

- ANTH.207 Cultural Anthropology (3)
- ANTH.208 Human Evolution & Prehistory (3)
- ANTH.401 Anthropological Theory (3)

MINOR IN SOCIOLOGY

The minor in Sociology consists of 24 hours of sociology, at least 12 of which must be upper-division.

Required Courses

- MATH.231 Basic Statistics I (3)
- or
- PSYC.212 Behavioral Statistics (4)
- SOCI.101 Introduction to Sociology (3)
- SOCI.381 Sociological Theory (3)
- SOCI.391 Research Methods

TRANSFER CREDIT POLICY

Transfer of courses from the Departments of Sociology and/or Anthropology from public colleges and universities in Maryland are routinely made. Transfers from other institutions are made upon assessment of each individual course and institution. For courses taken in departments other than those labeled Sociology or Anthropology, for which a student seeks credit, evidence as to content and qualifications of the instructor are generally required.

A minimum of 12 of the required credits in each concentration must be taken at Towson State University.

GRADUATION WITH HONORS

With the support of the Lieberman Endowment, funded by Dr. & Mrs. Sidney Lieberman, the Department honors the best academic performance among graduating seniors in each of its concentrations. The outstanding student within that group receives the Lieberman Award for the most notable academic achievements for a major in the graduating class. Additional honors are bestowed for special achievement in research. Seniors are urged to consult with Dr. Jones early in their last semester before graduation.

These awards are exclusive of those granted for successful completion of the university sponsored Honors program which involves performance in a sequence of honors courses in sociology. (See section "Special Recommendations for Majors.")

SOCIOLOGY HONOR SOCIETY

Students concentrating in sociology with junior or senior status may qualify for membership in the Theta of Maryland chapter of Alpha Kappa Delta, the national honor society of sociologists. A grant from the Lieberman Endowment, funded by Dr. and Mrs. Sidney Lieberman, subsidizes student membership fees. Interested students consult Dr. Jay Stanley, faculty advisor to the chapter.

The College of Natural and Mathematical Sciences

The principal goal of the College of Natural and Mathematical Sciences is to provide students with a technological scientific dimension to their liberal arts-based education. Courses are offered in all of the traditional physical, mathematical, and life science disciplines: Biology, Chemistry, Computer and Information Sciences, Mathematics and Physics.

"In a technological society, science is an indispensable part of the liberal arts curriculum." (D. Saxon, President Emeritus, University of California). The College of Natural and Mathematical Sciences plays an integral role in the implementation of this philosophy.

Students in the College of Natural and Mathematical Sciences may major in one of the traditional, liberal arts areas listed above. In addition, students may choose to concentrate in a variety of areas such as engineering, prepharmacy, premedicine, predentistry, preveterinary medicine or molecular biology. Also, students may wish to pursue majors in the areas of science and/or mathematics teaching at either the secondary or elementary levels. The programs available in the college are traditional yet highly flexible. The departments provide quality education by professionally qualified faculty members who are dedicated to excellence in teaching and scholarship.

College-Based Pre-Professional Preparation

DUAL-DEGREE ENGINEERING PROGRAM

The objective of the Dual Degree Program at Towson State University is to provide an educational opportunity for students interested in both a "liberal science" and a professional education at the undergraduate level. Students choosing this program will be able to obtain a Bachelor of Science or Arts degree from Towson State, and a Bachelor of Engineering degree from University of Maryland at College Park. In principle, students can seek a degree in any discipline offered by Towson State; but in practice, Chemistry, Computer Science, Mathematics, and Physics are the natural choices of students interested in the Dual Degree program.

Dual degree candidates from Towson State are eligible to seek a baccalaureate degree majoring in any one of the following areas at University of Maryland:

Aerospace Engineering	Engineering Materials
Agricultural Engineering	Fire Protection
Chemical Engineering	Mechanical Engineering
Civil Engineering	Nuclear Engineering
Electrical Engineering

In order to be eligible for transfer into the engineering program of his or her choice at University of Maryland, the student must have included in his or her work at Towson the following courses:

CHEM.101.102	General Chemistry I, II
COSC.165	Fundamentals of Computing
MATH.273, 274, 373	Calculus I, II, and III
MATH.374	Differential Equations
PHYS 241, 242, 243	Physics I, II, and III
PHYS.351, 451	Mechanics I, II
PHYS.354	Electricity and Magnetism I
	or
PHYS.352	Thermodynamics and Kinetic Theory

Students interested in Electrical Engineering are required to take PHYS.354, Electricity and Magnetism I, and PHYS.454, Electricity and Magnetism II is recommended but not required. In addition to the courses listed, students interested in Chemical Engineering are required to take CHEM.331 and 332, Organic Chemistry I, II. Students should consult the Physics Department for specific QPA requirements; normally students should maintain at least a 3.00 overall and above 3.00 in science and mathematics.

Normally after the completion of the junior year (minimum of 90 credits) at Towson State, the student transfers to the University of Maryland for approximately two additional years. Upon completion of the academic requirements for Towson State University, which should be done by the end of the first year at the University of Maryland, the student is awarded a bachelor's degree from Towson State University. The baccalaureate engineering degree in the student's area of specialization is awarded when the requirements of the University of Maryland College of Engineering are completed.

For further information, contact the Physics Department.

PRE-DENTAL AND PRE-MEDICAL REQUIREMENTS

Students who are interested in pursuing a career in medicine or dentistry should keep the following facts in mind in their undergraduate studies:

- It is difficult to gain admission to medical or dental school. Students must have an outstanding undergraduate record in order to be competitive for admission.

- Most students who enter medical school have a B.S. or B.A. degree, although a few very outstanding students are admitted to medical school with the minimum required 90 credits of university work. The same is true for dental school.
- The B.S. and B.A. degree must be in some specific discipline; as in most institutions there is no pre-medical or pre-dental degree at Towson State University. The B.S. or B.A. degree can be in any discipline. However, students must complete the courses required by the professional schools as described in their catalogues.
- Students interested in medical school or dental school must take the Medical College Admission Test (MCAT) or Dental Aptitude Test (DAT) one to one and one-half years in advance of entering professional school. Students must apply in advance to take these tests. Information about the tests and about applying for them can be obtained from the Pre-medical and Pre-dental Committee at Towson State University (see below).
- Medical and dental schools usually require letters of recommendation from the student's undergraduate school. At Towson State University, these letters are prepared by the Pre-medical and Pre-dental Committee.

For further information about medical and/or dental school, the Pre-medical and Pre-dental Committee should be contacted as soon as possible after entering Towson State University. Call or write to the Pre-medical and Pre-dental Committee, Department of Biological Sciences, Towson State University, Towson, Maryland 21204; (301) 830-3042. Careful planning is essential.

PRE-PHARMACY REQUIREMENTS

A student planning a career in pharmacy may apply to a pharmacy school, after taking or expecting to complete a total of 60 semester hours of university credit including the required core courses. Student averages in the following four areas are evaluated: (a) overall college work, (b) required core courses, (c) chemistry courses, and (d) mathematics and physics courses. In addition, an applicant is required to take and satisfactorily pass the Pharmacy College Admission Test (PCAT) followed by personal interviews by the admission committee of the pharmacy school.

Required core courses include: six credits of English, six credits of mathematics, four credits of biology, eight credits of physics and, 16-18 credits of chemistry. The remaining credits (18-20) include elective courses such as Introduction to Sociology, Economic Principles and Problems, Public Speaking, Modern Languages, Art, Music, General Psychology, Botany, Biology and Computer Programming.

A student interested in pharmacy as a professional career should consult with the prepharmacy advisor in the department of chemistry upon admission to Towson State University. The student needs to plan a course program, declare an academic major, for example, chemistry, physics, mathematics, biology, since we do not have a prepharmacy major, and become cognizant of the specific admissions requirements of the pharmacy college that he or she plans to attend. The following recommended schedule is based upon the requirements of the University of Maryland and is typical of most pharmacy schools, with the exception that some also include in their core courses requirements, six credits of biology and three credits of economics.

The specific core course requirements are given below; these courses can be completed during the first two years of university work.

BIOL.110	Contemporary General Biology (FR) (4)
CHEM.101	General Chemistry I (FR) (4)
	and
CHEM.102	General Chemistry II (4)

CHEM.331	Organic Chemistry I (SO) (5) and
CHEM.332	Organic Chemistry II (5)
ENGL.102	Writing for a Liberal Education (FR) (3)
ENGL.204	English Literature (FR) (3)
MATH.116	Mathematics II (3) or
MATH.119	Pre-Calculus (FR) (4)
MATH.273	Calculus I (FR) (4)
PHYS.211	General Physics I, II (SO) (4, 4) and
PHYS.212	(Physics 1902.241 and 1902.242 can be substituted for the above, but these two courses require Calculus)

PRE-VETERINARY REQUIREMENTS

Students planning a career in veterinary medicine should be aware of the following considerations as they prepare for admission to veterinary school:

- To be admitted to these very selective schools, students must have an outstanding record, usually with a minimum of 90 undergraduate credits.
- Most entering veterinary students have a B.S. or B.A. degree in Biology or Chemistry, although other specific disciplines may be acceptable if basic courses in biology, chemistry, physics and math are included.
- Although there are no specific tests required for admission to most veterinary schools, many request indications of aptitude as reflected in SAT, GRE or other standardized examinations.
- Veterinary schools expect the applicant to have experience in aiding or assisting a veterinarian or working in adjunct fields as a volunteer or paid assistant. Varied experience is considered valuable.
- Advising for pre-veterinary students is available through the Department of Biological Sciences. It is strongly suggested that students seek these advisory services upon entering Towson State University to maximize their career planning strategies.

Careful planning and early contact with veterinary schools is crucial.

SCIENCE AND TECHNOLOGY TODAY

Our technological society demands an ever increasing number of highly trained technical personnel in such diverse fields as government, business and industry, medicine and other health professions, education, and public services.

Towson State is responding to these new demands by making available to students a wide variety of programs, inter-disciplinary as well as traditional. For example, students interested in careers in environmental planning may wish to combine work in the physical sciences with courses in geography, mathematics, economics, political science, and psychology. Students whose primary interest is in ecology, air and water pollution control, or conservation of natural resources may wish to combine their work in geography and environmental planning with courses in biology and chemistry. Those with primary interest in materials transport or model systems design may emphasize work in mathematics and physics in addition to their courses in environmental planning. If one is planning to work in the area of genetic engineering, a strong foundation in biology, chemistry, mathematics and physics is essential. Students interested in careers in mathematics or statistics in government or business may major in mathematics and elect other courses from areas such as computer science, the social sciences, or the physical sciences according to their interests and plans. Students wishing to enter actuarial work, would elect additional courses in economics, business administration, accounting and business law. Virtually everyone will require some familiarity with the computer.

A program, designed to meet the needs of the student is available. Advisors in each department can assist in designing a specific program.

PROGRAMS OF THE DEPARTMENT

The Department of Biological Sciences offers the following programs of study: the major in Biology; the minor in Biology; and the Master of Science in Biology. For more information about the master's program consult the Graduate Catalog.

A major in Biological Sciences is recommended for students interested in pursuing general careers in botany, zoology, ecology, microbiology or molecular biology. It is also recommended for individuals preparing for: graduate studies in biology; medicine, dentistry or medically oriented fields including optometry, pharmacy, podiatry or veterinary science; teacher education in secondary schools, i.e., teaching of biological or natural sciences; basic or applied research in the biological sciences; or environmental studies including conservation, wildlife biology, forestry, fisheries, pollution control, oceanography, etc.

Students selecting this major should contact the Biology Department to be assigned an advisor to assist them in designing a program to meet their special needs. Students are encouraged to meet with their advisor each semester to discuss their progress and to facilitate necessary changes in their programs of study.

MAJOR IN BIOLOGY

The Biology major requires a total of 36 biology credits with a grade of "C" or higher: 17 credits in core courses and 19 credits in electives. Additionally 21-30 credits are required in ancillary courses.

Selection of appropriate electives allows the student to fulfill the requirements for a concentration in any of nine areas of specialty: Animal Anatomy and Physiology, Biocommunications, Botany, Ecology, Marine Biology, Microbiology, Pre-medical/Pre-dentistry, Secondary School Biology and General Science Teaching, and Zoology. Completion of a concentration is not required to graduate with a Biology major.

Requirements for the MajorCore Courses (17 credits)

BIOL.201	Biology I: Cellular Biology and Genetics* (4)
BIOL.202	Biology II: Organismic and Population Biology (4)
BIOL.205	General Botany (4)
BIOL.207	General Zoology (4)
BIOL.486	Biology Majors Seminar (1)
*BIOL.110 or 112 with a "B" or better fulfills this requirement

Electives (19 credits)

Option I students may select their own electives from offerings within the department (see exceptions noted below) and are strongly urged to work closely with a faculty advisor in designing a program to meet their individual needs.

Option II students may select a series of courses recommended within concentrations developed by the department.

At the request of the student, completion of a concentration will be noted on his or her official transcript. Because of the diversity of career opportunities within these concentrations, a faculty advisor should be consulted before selecting a specific program of study.

A total of four credit hours in any combination from 481 Directed Reading in Biology, 491 Independent Research in Biology, 494 Travel Study, 495 Course Research, 498 Honors Research in Biology or 499 Senior Thesis in Biology may count toward the Biology major.

The following courses MAY NOT be used to fulfill biology elective requirements for the major in either Option I or Option II: 100 Humanistic Botany; 103 Human Biology; 171-172 Functional Human Anatomy I, II; 173 Principles of Microbiology; 295 Course Research; 301 Field Natural Science; 303 Life Science for the Elementary Teacher; 381 Biological Literature; 387 Biology in Society; 493 Internship in Biology.

Ancillary Courses (21-30 credits)

Option I Students must select from the following courses in chemistry, physics and mathematics.

Chemistry (13-18 credits)

CHEM.101-102	General Chemistry I, II (4,4)
CHEM.330	Essentials of Organic Chemistry* (5)
	or
CHEM.331-332	Organic Chemistry I, II (5,5)

Physics (5-8 credits)

PHYS.203	Topics in Physics for Biology Majors* (5)
	or
PHYS.211-212	General Physics I, II (4,4)

Mathematics (3-4 credits)

One of the following

MATH.119	Pre-calculus (4)
MATH.273	Calculus I (4)
MATH.237	Elementary Biostatistics (4)
PSYC.212	Behavioral Statistics (4)
COSC.xxx	Computer Science Course (3-4) (with the exception of COSC.101)

*Graduate schools often require two semester courses in these subjects.

In all subsequent concentrations and course prerequisites PHYS.241-242 may be substituted for PHYS.211-212.

Since material covered in the Basic Mathematics for the Sciences (MATH.115) is prerequisite for Chemistry and Physics, students who have not completed high school trigonometry and two years of high school algebra in good standing should take this course in addition to one of the options listed above.

Option II students must complete a specified group of ancillary courses within a concentration.

In both options General Chemistry should be taken during the freshman year, Organic Chemistry during the sophomore year and Physics as soon as possible.

ANIMAL ANATOMY AND PHYSIOLOGY CONCENTRATION

Students completing this concentration will be prepared for advanced study in anatomy and physiology or vocations requiring proficiency in these areas.

Biology Core (17 credits)Electives (19 credits)

BIOL.213-214	Human Anatomy and Physiology I, II (4,4)
	or
BIOL.311	Functional Anatomy of Humans (4)

Select three from the following, at least one of which must be BIOL.465 or BIOL.469

BIOL.360	Histology (4)
BIOL.367	Endocrinology (3)
BIOL.408	Cell Biology (4)
BIOL.463	Animal Embryology (4)
BIOL.465	Mammalian Physiology (4)
BIOL.469	Comparative Animal Physiology (4)
	Biology electives, if needed to complete the required 19 credits (see recommendations)

Ancillary Courses (21-30 credits)

CHEM.101-102	General Chemistry I, II (4,4)
CHEM.330	Essentials of Organic Chemistry (5)
	or
CHEM.331-332	Organic Chemistry I, II (5,5)
PHYS.203	Topics in Physics for Biology Majors (5)
	or
PHYS.211.212	General Physics I, II (4,4)

One of the following

MATH.119	Pre-calculus (4)
MATH.237	Elementary Biostatistics (4)
MATH.273	Calculus I (4)
PSYC.212	Behavioral Statistics (4)
COSC.xxx	Computer Science course (with the exception of COSC.101) (3-4)

Recommended Courses

BIOL.318	Microbiology (4)
BIOL.355	Animal Parasitology (4)
BIOL.401	Genetics (4)
BIOL.427	Neuromuscular Mechanisms of the Upper Body (2)
CHEM.350	Principles of Biochemistry (5)

BIOCOMMUNICATIONS CONCENTRATION

This concentration is designed to prepare students to be effective spokespersons for Biology in the marketplace. Students electing this concentration may wish to secure employment in industry, government, or public relations work in which they represent their employer's biological products, services, or consumer information program.

Biology Core (17 credits)Electives (19 credits)

BIOL.213-214	Human Anatomy and Physiology I, II (4,4)
	or

BIOL.311	Functional Anatomy of Humans (4)
BIOL.315	Medical Microbiology (4) or
BIOL.318	Microbiology (4)
BIOL.353	Invertebrate Zoology (4) or
BIOL.355	Animal Parasitology (4)
BIOL.381	Biological Literature (3) Advanced writing course. (Does not count in the 19 credits required)
BIOL.421	Immunology (3) Biology electives, if needed to complete the required 19 credits (see recommendations)

Ancillary Courses (21-30 credits)

Many of the following courses may also be used to fulfill General University Requirements.

CHEM.101-102	General Chemistry, I, II (4,4)
CHEM.330	Essentials of Organic Chemistry (5)
CHEM.350	Principles of Biochemistry (5)
CHEM.363	Chemistry of Dangerous Drugs (3)
PHYS.203	Topics in Physics for Biology Majors (5)

One of the following

COSC.165	Fundamentals of Computing (3)
COSC.212	Introduction to Business Programming (3)
MATH.237	Elementary Biostatistics (4)
MATH.273	Calculus I (4)
COMM.131	Fundamentals of Speech Communications (3)
ECON.201	Microeconomic Principles (3)
GEOG.359	Economic Geography (3)

Recommended Courses

BIOL.335	Economic Botany (3)
BIOL.401	Genetics (4)
BIOL.461	Entomology (4)
MCOM.353	Principles of Public Relations (3)

BOTANY CONCENTRATION

Background acquired in this concentration will train graduates for positions in botanically-related industry or advanced study in botany, horticulture, or forestry.

Biology Core (17 credits)

Electives (20 credits)

A minimum of 20 credits from the following courses, of which one must be from Group A, two from Group B and the remainder from Groups A, B, and C.

Group A

BIOL.436	Plant Physiology (4)
BIOL.439	Plant Anatomy (4)

Group B

BIOL.318	Microbiology (4)
BIOL.331	Plant Morphology (4)
BIOL.341	Fresh Water Algae (4)
BIOL.345	Mycology (4)
BIOL.349	Marine Botany (4)
BIOL.432	Vascular Plant Taxonomy (4)

Group C

BIOL.305	Electron Microscopy (4)
BIOL.317	Microtechnique (4)
BIOL.335	Economic Botany (3)
BIOL.431	Horticulture (4)
BIOL.435	Plant Ecology (4)
BIOL.441	Plant Pathology (4)

Ancillary Courses (21-30 credits)

As in Biology Major: Option I (21-30)

Recommended Course

CHEM.350	Principles of Biochemistry (5)
----------	--------------------------------

ECOLOGY CONCENTRATION

Completion of this concentration provides background for advanced study and career opportunities in environmental education, government environmental regulatory agencies, and the private sector.

Biology Core (17 credits)

Electives (19-20 credits)

A minimum of 19 credits from the following courses with at least one course selected from each of Group A, Group B, Group C and Group D.

Group A

BIOL.402	General Ecology (4)
BIOL.435	Plant Ecology (4)

Group B

BIOL.436	Plant Physiology (4)
BIOL.469	Comparative Animal Physiology (4)

Group C

BIOL.331	Plant Morphology (4)
BIOL.341	Fresh Water Algae (4)
BIOL.345	Mycology (4)
BIOL.349	Marine Botany (4)
BIOL.432	Vascular Plant Taxonomy (4)
BIOL.441	Plant Pathology (4)

Group D

BIOL.310	Environmental Conservation (4)
BIOL.347	Marine Biology (3)
BIOL.351	Field and Systematic Vertebrate Zoology (4)
BIOL.353	Invertebrate Zoology (4)
BIOL.371	Animal Behavior (4)
BIOL.404	Ecological Techniques (3)
BIOL.406	Limnology (4)
BIOL.411	Wildlife Biology (3)
BIOL.413	Evolution (3)
BIOL.456	Ornithology (4)
BIOL.458	Mammalogy (4)
BIOL.461	Entomology (4)
BIOL.467	Herpetology (4)

Ancillary Courses (21-30 credits)

Chemistry and Physics requirements as in the Biology Major: Option I, and either

MATH.237	Elementary Biostatistics (4) or
PSYC.212	Behavioral Statistics (4)

Recommended Courses

MATH.273	Calculus I (4)
CHEM.350	Principles of Biochemistry (5)
BIOL.401	Genetics (4)

MARINE BIOLOGY TRACK

This track provides background for advanced study in the marine sciences. It also offers training appropriate for a career in private or public agencies which are concerned with aquatic environments.

Biology Core (17 credits)

Electives (21-23 credits)

Required Biology Elective

BIOL.347 Marine Biology (3)

A minimum of four courses selected from the following

BIOL.349 Marine Botany (4)
BIOL.351 Field and Systematic Vertebrate Zoology (4)
BIOL.353 Invertebrate Zoology (4)
BIOL.389 Current Developments in Biology (3)
(When focusing on a marine-related topic)
BIOL.406 Limnology (4)

Required Marine Experience

An intensive field and/or laboratory experience in the area of Marine Biology. Such an experience will normally involve a summer course at a marine research facility. The Biology Department has a current list of approved courses and programs. All experiences must be approved in advance. (3-4)

Recommended Courses

BIOL.401 Genetics (4)
BIOL.402 General Ecology (4)
BIOL.436 Plant Physiology (4)
BIOL.469 Comparative Animal Physiology (4)

Ancillary Courses (18-26 credits)

Chemistry and Physics requirements as in Biology Major: Option I

One of the following

MATH.237 Elementary Biostatistics (4)
MATH.273 Calculus I (4)
PSYC.212 Behavioral Statistics (4)

Recommended Courses

CHEM.350 Principles of Biochemistry (5)
PHSC.121 Physical Geology (4)
PHSC.123 Historical Geology (3)
PHSC.357 Physical Oceanography (4)
PHSC.443 Sedimentology and Sedimentary Petrology (3)

MICROBIOLOGY CONCENTRATION

This concentration will provide knowledge of the characteristics of microorganisms and the laboratory skills necessary for isolation, cultivation, and identification of microorganisms and the evaluation of microbiological data. Careers in microbiology are available in food technology, pharmaceutical production, fermentation industries, agriculture, medical laboratories, water quality control, and basic research. Completion of this concentration will qualify students for registry as microbiologists with the Federal Civil Service and the American Academy of Microbiology.

Biology Core (17 credits)

Electives (20 credits)

BIOL.315 Medical Microbiology (4)
or
BIOL.318 Microbiology (4)
BIOL.401 Genetics (4)

A minimum of 12 credits selected from the following

BIOL.305 Electron Microscopy (4)
BIOL.317 Microtechnique (4)
BIOL.341 Freshwater Algae (4)
BIOL.345 Mycology (4)
BIOL.355 Animal Parasitology (4)

BIOL.403 Advanced Genetics (3)
BIOL.408 Cell Biology (4)
BIOL.421 Immunology (3)
BIOL.428 Virology (3)
BIOL.485 Seminar in Microbiology and Cell Biology (1)

Ancillary Courses (27-35 credits)

CHEM.101-102 General Chemistry I, II (4,4)
CHEM.330 Essentials of Organic Chemistry (5)
or
CHEM.331-332 Organic Chemistry I, II (5,5)
CHEM.350 Principles of Biochemistry (5)
PHYS.203 Topics in Physics for Biology Majors (5)
or
PHYS.211-212 General Physics I, II (4,4)
MATH.119 Pre-calculus (4)
or
MATH.273 Calculus I (4)

Recommended Courses

BIOL.213-214 Human Anatomy and Physiology I, II (8)
BIOL.311 Functional Anatomy of Humans (4)
HLTH.311 Chronic and Communicable Diseases (3)
MATH.237 Elementary Biostatistics (4)
CHEM.210 Principles and Methods of Chemical Analysis (5)
CHEM.341 Physical Chemistry — Thermodynamics (3)
CHEM.342 Physical Chemistry — Structure & Kinetics (3)

PRE-MEDICINE/PRE-DENTISTRY CONCENTRATION

Students planning to enter medical or dental school should select this concentration. It is also recommended for those interested in medically related fields such as osteopathy, podiatry and optometry.

Biology Core (17 credits)

Electives (19-20 credits)

BIOL.213-214 Human Anatomy and Physiology I, II (4,4)
BIOL.401 Genetics (4)
BIOL.408 Cell Biology (4)

A minimum of one of the following

BIOL.360 Histology (4)
BIOL.463 Animal Embryology (4)
BIOL.465 Mammalian Physiology (4)

Ancillary Courses (29-30 credits)

CHEM.101-102 General Chemistry (4,4)
CHEM.331-332 Organic Chemistry I, II (5,5)
PHYS.211-212 General Physics I, II (4,4)

One of the following

MATH.119 Pre-calculus (4)
MATH.237 Elementary Biostatistics (4)
MATH.273 Calculus I (4)
PSYC.212 Behavioral Statistics (4)
COSC.xxx Computer Science Course (with the exception of COSC.101) (3-4)

Recommended Courses

BIOL.315 Medical Microbiology (4)
CHEM.350 Principles of Biochemistry (5)

SECONDARY SCHOOL BIOLOGY AND GENERAL SCIENCE TEACHING CONCENTRATION

Students who complete this concentration and the required courses in the Secondary Education Department will meet certification requirements to teach secondary school biology and general science in at least 33 states including Maryland. Students must register with the Department of Secondary Education and should have an advisor in that department in addition to their Biology advisor. Students should consult the Department of Secondary Education regarding any recent changes in certification requirements.

Students with Bachelor's degrees who desire to become certified to teach either Biology or General Science in Maryland or other states should contact either Prof. John Buchanan or Dr. Virginia Anderson, of the Biology Department, for advising. They should also consult with the Department of Secondary Education for advising in the Professional Education Program.

Biology Core (17 credits)

Electives (19-20 credits)

BIOL.213-214 Human Anatomy and Physiology I, II (4,4)
or
BIOL.311 Functional Anatomy of Humans (4)

Two of the following

BIOL.310 Environmental Conservation (4)
BIOL.401 Genetics (4)
BIOL.431 Horticulture (4)
Biology electives, if needed, to complete 19 credits (see recommendations)

Ancillary Courses (28-29 credits)

CHEM.101-102 General Chemistry I, II (4,4)
CHEM.330 Essentials of Organic Chemistry (5)
PHYS.211-212 General Physics I, II (4,4)

BIOL.315 Medical Microbiology (4)
BIOL.318 Microbiology (4)
BIOL.461 Entomology (4)

ZOOLOGY CONCENTRATION

This concentration is recommended for individuals preparing for careers and/or advanced study in vertebrate zoology, invertebrate zoology, entomology, wildlife biology or fisheries biology.

Biology Core (17 credits)

Electives (19-20 credits)

BIOL.469 Comparative Animal Physiology (4)

A minimum of four courses from the following, at least one of which must be selected from Group A and one from Group B:

Group A

BIOL.371 Animal Behavior (4)
BIOL.402 General Ecology (4)
BIOL.411 Wildlife Biology (4)
BIOL.413 Evolution (3)

Group B

BIOL.351 Field and Systematic Vertebrate Zoology (4)
BIOL.353 Invertebrate Zoology (4)

BIOL.355 Animal Parasitology (4)
BIOL.456 Ornithology (4)
BIOL.458 Mammalogy (4)
BIOL.461 Entomology (4)
BIOL.467 Herpetology (4)

Ancillary Courses (21-30 credits)

Chemistry and Physics requirements as in Biology major:
Option I

One of the following

MATH.237 Elementary Biostatistics (4)
PSYC.212 Behavioral Statistics (4)
COSC.xxx Computer Science (with the exception of COSC.101) (3-4)

Recommended Courses

MATH.273 Calculus I (4)
CHEM.350 Principles of Biochemistry (5)

MINOR IN BIOLOGY

To fulfill the requirements of a Biology minor, students must complete the following courses. A minimum of 12 hours of the biology credits applied toward the minor must be earned at Towson State University.

Biology Requirements (24 credits)

BIOL.110 Contemporary General Biology (4)
BIOL.205 General Botany (4)
BIOL.207 General Zoology (4)
BIOL.xxx Upper Division Biology courses (12)

The following courses MAY NOT be used to fulfill this requirement: 301 Field Natural Science; 303 Life Science for the Elementary Teacher; 387 Biology in Society; 481 Directed Readings in Biology; 491 Independent Research; 494 Travel Study; 495 Course Research

Ancillary Courses (8 credits)

CHEM.101-102 General Chemistry I, II (4,4)

BIOLOGY SELECTIONS PROVIDING CERTIFICATION AS MIDDLE SCHOOL AND HIGH SCHOOL BIOLOGY TEACHER

Students who complete the following list of courses as well as the professional education courses required by the Department of Secondary Education will meet the requirements for Maryland state certification as a Middle School Science Teacher and High School Biology Instructor. Students should consult The Department of Secondary Education regarding any recent changes in certification requirements.

Biology Requirements (24-28 credits)

BIOL.110 Contemporary General Biology (4)
BIOL.205 General Botany (4)
BIOL.207 General Zoology (4)
BIOL.213-214 Human Anatomy and Physiology I, II (4,4)
or
BIOL.311 Functional Anatomy of Humans (4)

Two of the following

BIOL.310 Environmental Conservation (4)
BIOL.401 Genetics (4)
BIOL.431 Horticulture (4)

Recommended Course

BIOL.358 Invertebrate Zoology (4)

Ancillary Courses (19 credits)

CHEM.101-102 General Chemistry I, II (4,4)
PHYS.211-212 General Physics I, II (4,4)
MATH.115 Basic Mathematics for the Sciences (3)

NATURAL SCIENCE MAJOR

The Natural Science major provides several interdisciplinary concentrations designed either to give a broad view of the sciences, or to provide for specialization in the earth sciences. The concentrations are: general science, environmental science, earth science, and geology. For detailed information about this major see the description under the Department of Physics.

MOLECULAR BIOLOGY

The rapidly expanding field of molecular biology offers many opportunities in industry and research. Students may obtain excellent preparation in molecular biology by following the track in Molecular Biology described in this Catalog under Interdisciplinary Studies. Faculty in the Biology and Chemistry departments are available to advise students interested in this program.

ANIMAL BEHAVIOR

The study of Animal Behavior has become of increasing interest to the public, and requires a broad array of skills for those who are interested in this field. Students may receive this background by following the program described under the Animal Behavior thematic option in the Interdisciplinary Studies section of this Catalog. Faculty in the Biology and Psychology departments are available to advise students interested in this program.

TRANSFER CREDIT POLICY

The Biology Department accepts credit toward the Biology major from other accredited colleges and universities. However, a minimum of 18 hours of biology credits applied toward the major must be earned at Towson State University. Additionally, there are equivalency exams available for all the major biology core courses, as well as several others. The Biology Department should be contacted to determine equivalency of specific transfer credits.

HONORS PROGRAM

To graduate with honors in biology a student must complete BIOL.498 and BIOL.499 to be taken in consecutive semesters of the senior year. The research thesis must be presented in an oral defense before the honors research committee. An oral presentation open to the public is also required. In addition, a minimum of three credit hours must be selected from BIOL.491 and/or BIOL.481 in the junior year. For eligibility and general information consult the College Honors Program description.

GRADUATE PROGRAM

The course of study leading to the Master of Science in Biology is designed to provide greater knowledge and understanding of biology and to help the student develop a proficiency in independent thought, inquiry and research. The student may pursue either the Thesis Program (30 credits and a thesis) or the Non-Thesis Program (36 credits). Detailed information regarding both programs is given in the Graduate Catalog.

PROGRAMS OF THE DEPARTMENT

The Department of Chemistry offers the following programs: the major in Chemistry; the American Chemical Society Accredited Degree in Chemistry; the Chemistry Secondary Education program, for students planning to teach chemistry at the secondary level; and the minor in Chemistry.

To offer the broadest possible service and to meet the needs of a full range of students at the university, the Chemistry major provides a strong background in all major areas of chemistry: physical chemistry, inorganic chemistry, organic chemistry, biochemistry, analytical chemistry, and instrumental analysis. Students are given the opportunity to concentrate in one or more of these areas during their senior year by taking advanced courses in areas of specific interest. Emphasis is placed upon the role of instrumentation in an experimental science, and students are required to learn to use instruments commonly encountered in chemistry. Small-sized classes are prevalent in all Chemistry courses, and students are taught by qualified faculty in both lecture and laboratory. Special topics courses are offered periodically in order to provide students with the opportunity to obtain a diverse background in chemistry.

Chemistry majors are able to pursue many different avenues upon graduation, including graduate school in chemistry and related areas, employment in government or industry, professional school (medicine, dentistry, pharmacy, and so forth), or secondary school teaching. There are many diverse employment opportunities available to Chemistry majors, including those in water pollution, forensic chemistry, environmental chemistry, molecular biology, research and quality assurance, genetic engineering, and so forth. Students planning careers in industry are encouraged to take courses in business and finance as part of their undergraduate program.

EVENING CHEMISTRY MAJOR PROGRAM

The Chemistry Department offers a six-year program which permits students to take all Chemistry courses required for the Chemistry major at night. Contact the Department of Chemistry for further information and long range schedule of course offerings.

MAJOR IN CHEMISTRY

This major is recommended for students who intend to do graduate work in chemistry, to teach in secondary schools, to work in industrial, government and hospital laboratories, technical libraries, and related professions. Students who plan chemically-oriented careers such as fundamental and industrial research, medicine, dentistry, pharmacy, veterinary medicine, agriculture, and other allied fields, may also elect this major. Students electing the major should contact the Chemistry Department and be assigned advisors to assist them in designing programs to meet their special needs. Students should see a Chemistry faculty advisor early in their time at Towson State University and upon occasion of any change in courses or schedule in their program.

For those who intend to go to graduate school in chemistry, at least two post-physical chemistry courses and two semesters of German or Russian are strongly recommended. Additional physics and mathematics courses are also recommended, especially COSC.165 and/or MATH.373 and/or MATH.374 (See ACS Certification.)

The major in Chemistry requires a total of 64 credits completed in chemistry and supporting courses. Majors must also complete the General University Requirements. The abbreviations following the titles of courses indicate the recommended year in which the course should be taken.

Requirements for the Major

Required Courses (64 credits)

MATH.273	Calculus I (FR) (4)
MATH.274	Calculus II (SO) (4)
PHYS.241	General Physics I (SO) (4) (or PHYS.211 but this is not recommended and is not allowed for the ACS certified degree)
PHYS.242	General Physics II (SO) (4) (or PHYS.212 but this is not recommended and is not allowed for the ACS certified degree)
CHEM.101	General Chemistry I (FR) (4)
CHEM.102	General Chemistry II (FR) (4)
CHEM.211	Quantitative Analytical Chemistry (SO) (5)
CHEM.331	Organic Chemistry I (SO) (5)
CHEM.332	Organic Chemistry II (JR) (5)
CHEM.342	Physical Chemistry—Structure & Kinetics (SO) (3)
CHEM.341	Physical Chemistry—Thermodynamics (JR) (3)
CHEM.343	Physical Chemistry Laboratory I (JR) (2)
CHEM.344	Physical Chemistry Laboratory II (JR) (2)
CHEM.355	Biochemistry (JR) (3)
CHEM.423	Inorganic Chemistry (JR) (3)
CHEM.356	Biochemistry Laboratory (JR) (2) or
CHEM.424	Inorganic Chemistry Laboratory (JR) (2)
CHEM.413	Theory of Instrumental Analysis (SR) (3)
CHEM.415	Instrumental Analysis Laboratory (SR) (2)
CHEM.401	Seminar in Chemistry (SR) (1)
CHEM.391	Special Problems in Chemistry (SR) (1) or
CHEM.491	Introduction to Research in Chemistry (SR) (1)

AMERICAN CHEMICAL SOCIETY ACCREDITED DEGREE (ACS CERTIFICATION)

The department offers an American Chemical Society (ACS) accredited degree. The ACS degree is widely recognized throughout the industry, government and education as a standard of excellence. Students with a good scholastic record are therefore urged to take this degree program.

Course Requirements. A student must also complete these courses to obtain an ACS-accredited degree: (1) CHEM.424, (2) CHEM.491, and (3) two advanced chemistry courses from the following: CHEM.356, CHEM.417, CHEM.431, CHEM.432, CHEM.441, CHEM.452, CHEM.453. Students who have taken General Physics without calculus (PHYS.211 and PHYS.212) may count these courses for ACS certification provided an additional advanced physics lecture course is taken; consult the Chemistry Department for information about acceptable physics courses. An advanced course in either physics or mathematics may be substituted for one advanced course in chemistry (excluding CHEM.424 and CHEM.491). A student selecting this substitution must obtain prior departmental approval.

In selecting this program, students should plan their college careers carefully as not all the advanced chemistry courses are offered every semester. A tentative schedule of when these courses will be offered may be obtained from the Chemistry Department. Advanced chemistry electives are offered periodically, subject to adequate enrollment.

RESEARCH IN CHEMISTRY

To satisfy one of the requirements for the ACS Certified Degree, students must take CHEM.491, Introduction to Research in Chemistry. Students interested in taking this course must first see the Coordinator of Undergraduate Research who will assist the student in finding a research project of interest. The student's performance will be evaluated by the research director and two other faculty members selected by the research director. Normally, students should have the following before attempting CHEM.491: an overall QPA of 2.50 or better; a QPA of 2.50 or better in all courses taken in the College of Natural and Mathematical Sciences; CHEM.211 and CHEM.332; consent of instructor and of Coordinator of Undergraduate Research.

CHEMISTRY SECONDARY EDUCATION PROGRAM

Chemistry majors may obtain certification to teach chemistry at the secondary level. Students in the Secondary Education program receive certification to teach in Maryland upon graduation.

Students must complete the requirements for the Chemistry major plus BIOL.110. Additionally, students must meet the requirements specified by the Department of Secondary Education.

Students must register with the Department of Secondary Education, and should have an advisor in that department in addition to their chemistry faculty advisor.

MINOR IN CHEMISTRY

Students whose major interest is in cell or molecular biology, physiology, physiological psychology, environmental studies, natural science, molecular physics or medical technology will find a good chemistry background to be a useful adjunct to their major. The Chemistry minor can provide this background and offers some flexibility in catering to the specific interests of the student.

Students should consult the Chemistry minor advisor as soon as possible after entering Towson State in order to design programs to meet their special needs.

Requirements for the Minor

The minor in Chemistry requires a minimum of 24 credits in chemistry, 12 of which must be upper-division. At least eight upper-division credits must be taken at Towson State. A grade of "C" or better must be earned in each course. Courses taken elsewhere and accepted for transfer to Towson State University may be used for the Chemistry minor.

Required Courses (24 credits)

CHEM.101	General Chemistry I (4)
CHEM.102	General Chemistry II (4)
CHEM.210	Principles and Methods of Chemical Analysis (4) or
CHEM.211	Quantitative Analytical Chemistry (5)
CHEM.330	Essentials of Organic Chemistry (5) or
CHEM.331	Organic Chemistry I (5) and
CHEM.332	Organic Chemistry II (5)

Upper-Division Chemistry Electives

In addition to the above required courses, one or more upper division Chemistry courses may have to be taken to make a total of 12 upper-division credits. The following courses are recommended as being of potential interest to Chemistry minors, but other upper-division chemistry courses may be counted if they are approved in advance by the Chemistry Minor advisor.

CHEM.340	Physical Chemistry: Principles and Applications (3)
CHEM.341	Physical Chemistry — Thermodynamics (3)
CHEM.342	Physical Chemistry — Structure and Kinetics (3)
CHEM.343	Physical Chemistry Laboratory I (2)
CHEM.350	Principles of Biochemistry (5)
CHEM.361	Chemical and Bacteriological Studies of Water Pollution (3)
CHEM.363	Chemistry of Dangerous Drugs (3)
CHEM.367	Forensic Chemistry (3)

Clinical Chemistry taken in the Medical Technology program may count as two upper-division credits.

INTERDISCIPLINARY PROGRAMS

Molecular Biology Track

The rapidly expanding field of molecular biology offers many opportunities in industry and research. Students may obtain excellent preparation in molecular biology by following the track in Molecular Biology described in this Catalog under Interdisciplinary Studies. Faculty in the Biology and Chemistry Departments are available to advise students interested in this program.

Natural Science Major

The Natural Science major provides several interdisciplinary concentrations designed either to give a broad view of the sciences, or to provide for specialization in the earth sciences. The concentrations are: general science, environmental science, earth science, and geology. For detailed information about this major see description under the Department of Physics.

Dual-Degree Program in Engineering

A student may obtain a bachelor's degree with a major in Chemistry from Towson State University and a degree in Engineering from the University of Maryland at College Park as part of a joint program. This program is described in the College of Natural and Mathematical Sciences' Pre-Professional Preparation area of this Catalog. Further information may be obtained from the Physics Department.

Pre-Medical, Pre-Dental, and Pre-Pharmacy Requirements

Students majoring in Chemistry must also complete certain pre-professional requirements for admission to Medical, Dental, or Pharmacy school; see the College of Natural and Mathematical Sciences' Pre-Professional Preparation area of this Catalog for further information about admission requirements for Medical, Dental, or Pharmacy school. Pre-Medical and Pre-Dental students should contact the Pre-Medical/Pre-Dental Committee for assistance with their applications, advice about pre-professional courses, and letters of recommendation. For admission requirements and advice about pre-professional courses for Pharmacy school, contact the Pre-Pharmacy advisor, Professor Frank Milio, in the Chemistry Department.

TRANSFER CREDIT POLICY

Students who transfer to Towson State University from a regionally accredited two-year or four-year college should have completed two semesters of General Chemistry, two semesters of Organic Chemistry, two semesters of Calculus, and two semesters of calculus-based Physics in order to ensure completion of the Chemistry major in a total of four years of college. Transfer students should consult the Chemistry Department concerning the transferability of chemistry courses other than the ones mentioned above.

Students must complete at least 12 upper-division credits in chemistry at Towson State in order to graduate with a degree in Chemistry. CHEM.331 and CHEM.332, Organic Chemistry I and II, MAY NOT be counted as part of these upper-division credits.

ADVANCED PLACEMENT AND CREDIT FOR PRIOR LEARNING

The Department of Chemistry awards credit for General Chemistry through the Advanced Placement Examinations given by the Educational Testing Service.

Students may also receive credit for General Chemistry by taking the Credit for Prior Learning examination which is administered through the College of Continuing Studies. Students may also receive credit for other chemistry courses by passing the appropriate examinations. Further information may be obtained from the Department.

DEPARTMENT AND COLLEGE MERIT SCHOLARSHIPS

Department and College Merit Scholarships are awarded on an annual basis. Further information regarding these opportunities may be obtained from the Chemistry Department.

COOPERATIVE EDUCATION

Chemistry majors are encouraged to participate in the Cooperative Education Program and receive academic credit for practical work experience in areas of special student interest. Academic credit can be acquired by taking CHEM.395, Internship in Chemistry. For further information, contact the Department of Chemistry and/or the Internship/Cooperative Education Office.

DEPARTMENTAL ACTIVITIES AND AWARDS

Most Chemistry majors actively participate in the Student Affiliates of the American Chemical Society, which is a student group supported by the department under the auspices of the American Chemical Society. This organization permits students to join the national organization and to procure certain chemistry publications at reduced rates.

Several awards are given each year to outstanding chemistry students and majors and include the following: Outstanding Freshman Chemistry award, Outstanding Organic Chemistry award, Outstanding Analytical Chemistry award, the Maryland Section of the American Chemical Society award. In addition, Undergraduate Research Participation awards are given on a competitive basis by the university to provide support for research.

PROGRAMS OF THE DEPARTMENT

The Department of Computer and Information Sciences offers the following programs of study: the major in Computer Science; the major in Computer Science with a second major in Mathematics; the major in Computer Science with a concentration in Information Systems; the minor in Computer Science.

The Computer Science major offers students an opportunity to study for both a theoretical and practical background, which can lead to computer-oriented careers in a variety of settings. Students will receive an excellent foundation for jobs such as computer programmer/analyst, management information systems specialist, systems analyst, systems programmer, or computer specialist in such industry areas as aerospace, telecommunications and other high technology domains. Students are encouraged to expand their studies in computer science by taking fundamental courses in areas such as business, education, or any of the sciences. Computer expertise combined with knowledge in an application area often is attractive to specific employers. The programs also prepare students for graduate work in computer sciences, mathematics, or management information systems.

The curriculum seeks to provide factual knowledge as well as a mode of thinking which permits continued growth on the part of graduates. Thus, in addition to exposing students to a depth of knowledge in computer science sufficient to lay the basis for professional competence, the curriculum also provides students with the intellectual maturity to stay abreast of their own discipline and to interact with other disciplines.

PRE-MAJOR REQUIREMENTS

Criteria for admission to the Computer Science major are based on student category as outlined below:

- A. Freshmen must have one of the following:
 - 1) an SAT total (combined score) of 1100 or higher
 - 2) an advanced placement score in computer science of "3" or better
 - 3) satisfactory completion of one year of calculus with a grade of "C" or better
- B. Community college transfer students must have an A.A. degree in Computer Science with a 3.00 cumulative average on a 4.00 scale in the major.
- C. Official second bachelor's degree candidates are automatically eligible to major in Computer Science.
- D. Other students must have taken the following courses: Calculus I (MATH.273) or its equivalent with a grade of "C" or better and Introduction to Computer Science (COSC.236) or its equivalent with a grade of "B" or better.

Students who feel that they have met similar criteria through other courses or experiences may petition the department for admission.

MAJOR IN COMPUTER SCIENCE

The computer science major requires 67-70 credits to be earned with a grade of "C" or higher.

Mathematics Requirement (18-19 credits)

MATH.263	Discrete Mathematics (3)
MATH.273	Calculus I (4)
MATH.274	Calculus II (4)
MATH.330	Introduction to Statistical Methods (4) (Students may take MATH.331 & 332 to satisfy MATH.330 and the one additional Math course)

And at least one of the following:

MATH.264	Discrete Mathematics II (3)
----------	-----------------------------

MATH.331	Probability (3)
MATH.332	Mathematical Statistics (3)
MATH.361	Algebraic Structures (4)
MATH.365	Linear Algebra (3)
MATH.373	Calculus III (4)
MATH.374	Differential Equations
MATH.377	Mathematical Models (3)
MATH.435	Numerical Analysis I (3)
MATH.436	Numerical Analysis II (3)
MATH.437	Operations Research (3)
MATH.451	Graph Theory (3)

Science Requirement (8 credits)

A sequence of two courses taken from Physics, Biology, Chemistry, or Physical Sciences. These must be courses accepted as courses for majors in that discipline and must have the equivalent of 1 credit of laboratory work.

Required COSC Courses (26 credits)

COSC.236	Introduction to Computer Science I (4)
COSC.237	Introduction to Computer Science II (4)
COSC.280	Assembly Language & Computer Architecture (3)
COSC.336	Data Structures & File Organization (4)
COSC.338	Computer Architecture (4)
COSC.355	Programming Languages: Design & Implementation (3)
COSC.439	Operating Systems (3)
COSC.480	Senior Seminar (1) (This requirement may be met by taking COSC.418 as one of the electives.)

Elective COSC Courses (15-17 Credits)

At least 2 courses from the following list:

COSC.350	Data Communication and Teleprocessing (4)
COSC.367	Discrete Structures (3)
COSC.383	Design & Analysis of Algorithms (3)
COSC.415	Compiler Design (3)
COSC.417	Introduction to the Theory of Computation (3)
COSC.457	Database Management Systems (3)
COSC.461	Artificial Intelligence (3)

At least 3 courses from the following list (or from list (a) not already taken):

COSC.397	Internship (3)
COSC.411	Systems & Design (3)
COSC.412	Software Engineering Using ADA (4)
COSC.418	Ethical & Social Issues in Computing Professions (3)
COSC.421	Logic Applications & Programming (3)
COSC.431	Selected Topics in Computer Science (1-3)
COSC.441	Computer Performance Evaluation (3)
COSC.457	Database Management Systems (3)
COSC.471	Computer Graphics (3)
COSC.495	Independent Study in Computer Science (1-3)

COMPUTER SCIENCE MAJOR WITH A SECOND MAJOR IN MATHEMATICS

The computer science major with a second major in mathematics requires 74-78 credits to be earned with a grade of "C" or higher.

Required CORE Courses (51 credits)

COSC.236	Introduction to Computer Science I (4)
COSC.237	Introduction to Computer Science II (4)
COSC.280	Assembly Language & Computer Architecture (3)

COSC.336	Data Structures & File Organization (4)
COSC.338	Computer Architecture (4)
COSC.355	Programming Languages: Design & Implementation (3)
COSC.439	Operating Systems (3)
COSC.480	Senior Seminar (1)
	(This requirement may be met by taking COSC.418 as one of the electives.)
MATH.263	Discrete Mathematics (3)
MATH.273	Calculus I (4)
MATH.274	Calculus II (4)
MATH.330	Introduction to Statistical Methods (4)
MATH.365	Linear Algebra (3)
MATH.373	Calculus III (4)
MATH.435	Numerical Analysis I (3)

Elective Courses (15-19 credits)

Computer Science (9-10 credits) {2 courses from the following List "A", at least one must be from COSC.367, 383, 417, 441}

COSC.350	Data Communications and Teleprocessing (4)
COSC.367	Discrete Structures (3)
COSC.383	Design & Analysis of Algorithms (3)
COSC.415	Compiler Design (3)
COSC.417	Introduction to the Theory of Computation (3)
COSC.441	Computer Performance Evaluation (3)
COSC.457	Database Management Systems (3)
COSC.461	Artificial Intelligence (3)

{1 course from the following List "B" (or one additional course from List "A")}

COSC.397	Internship (3)
COSC.411	Systems & Design (3)
COSC.412	Software Engineering Using Ada (4)
COSC.418	Ethical & Social Issues in Computing (3)
COSC.421	Logic Applications & Programming (3)
COSC.431	Selected Topics in Computer Science (1-3)
COSC.471	Computer Graphics (3)
COSC.495	Independent Study in Computer Science (1-3)

Mathematics (6-8 credits) {2 courses from the following List "C", at least one must be from MATH.377, 436, 437, 451}

MATH.331	Probability (3)
MATH.361	Algebraic Structures (4)
MATH.374	Differential Equations (3)
MATH.377	Mathematical Models (3)
MATH.436	Numerical Analysis II (3)
MATH.437	Operations Research (4)
MATH.451	Graph Theory (3)
MATH.473	Introductory Real Analysis (4)
MATH.475	Complex Analysis (3)
MATH.477	Topology (3)

Science Courses (8 credits)

A sequence of two courses taken from Physics, Biology, Chemistry, or Physical Sciences. These must be courses accepted for majors in that discipline and must have the equivalent of 1 credit of laboratory work.

MAJOR IN COMPUTER SCIENCE WITH INFORMATION SYSTEMS CONCENTRATION

The computer science major with Information Systems Concentration requires 70-71 credits to be earned with a grade of "C" or higher.

Information Systems Concentration students take all but the elective courses specified for the Computer Science major. Instead of 15-17 credits of COSC electives, they must complete the following courses.

COSC.335	Advanced Business Programming (3)
COSC.411	Systems Analysis and Design (3)
COSC.457	Database Management Systems (3)

ACCT.201	Accounting Principles I (3)
ACCT.202	Accounting Principles II (3)

One upper-division course in the School of Business & Economics (3)

MINOR IN COMPUTER SCIENCE

All Computer Science minors are required to take 21 semester hours in computer science, of which 10 hours must be upper-division. Numerical Analysis I and II (MATH.435 and MATH.436) may be counted toward a Computer Science Minor.

MEETING GENERAL UNIVERSITY REQUIREMENTS

While any computer and information sciences course will satisfy General University Requirements, several introductory courses are designed to meet this need. COSC.101 (Computers and Society) is an overview of the capabilities of computers and their applications with emphasis on societal issues created by their use. It includes computer demonstration and some limited laboratory experiences. COSC.115 (Introduction to Information Systems) is a broad overview of the information processing industry, with extensive microcomputer laboratory projects from business. It includes some elementary programming using BASIC. COSC.165 (Fundamentals of Computing) is an in-depth computer programming course in BASIC using microcomputers. It includes development of algorithms and extensive laboratory work.

TRANSFER CREDIT POLICY

Students intending to transfer into the Computer Science program should provide course descriptions and supportive materials from their institution for review by a departmental advisor. Community college students from local public institutions should be aware that agreements on equivalency of courses are maintained; they should inquire about the current agreement either at their institution or at Towson State University. They should also be aware that community college courses can only be counted as lower-division work. Transfer students are urged to gain a good background in mathematics. Refer to screening procedures, above, for further information.

SECOND BACHELOR'S PROGRAM

Baccalaureate degree holders may apply for enrollment in the second bachelor's program through the College of Continuing Studies. Because of the high demand for computer personnel, the Computer Science major is often of interest to persons who wish to change careers. Students in this program must satisfy the requirements for the major and earn at least the last 30 hours at Towson State University. Although there are computer science courses offered in the evening, students may find that some required courses must be taken during the day. Because of the sequence of prerequisites, a minimum of five terms is normally needed to complete the program.

DEPARTMENTAL ACTIVITIES AND AWARDS

A student chapter of the Association for Computing Machinery (ACM) is the basis for the Computer Science Club. The Mary Hudson Scarborough Award in science is given annually to the outstanding Computer Science graduate.

PROGRAMS OF THE DEPARTMENT

The mathematics curriculum provides opportunities for students to do abstract reasoning applicable to many scientific or academic areas, to survey the field of mathematics, to study the applications of the discipline, and to prepare for additional study or for a career.

The Department of Mathematics offers the following programs: the major in Mathematics; the Mathematics Secondary Education program, for students who wish to be certified to teach mathematics in secondary schools; the minor in Mathematics, designed to enhance major programs to which mathematics is readily applied; the minor in Mathematics with the Elementary Education major, for prospective elementary teachers who may wish to teach mathematics at the middle school or junior high school level; and the second major programs offered with the Departments of Economics, Marketing, Management, and Computer and Information Sciences.

The Mathematics major has several areas of concentration from which to choose. The Pure Mathematics concentration emphasizes abstract mathematics and provides the courses required for graduate study in mathematics. For students interested in the actuarial profession there is an Actuarial Science concentration which provides the necessary background required for entry-level positions in that field. The Applied Mathematics concentration and the Applied Mathematics and Computing concentration are designed for students who wish to apply mathematics to problems in business and industry.

The Bachelor of Arts degree may be earned by adding a foreign language to the major course requirements. The language requirement can be met by completing the intermediate course of a modern foreign language or its equivalent.

MATHEMATICS SECONDARY EDUCATION PROGRAM

Mathematics majors in this Secondary Education program receive certification upon graduation to teach mathematics at the secondary level in Maryland. Students in this program should student teach in their senior year. Any student who wishes to deviate from this policy must obtain permission from the Department of Mathematics prior to the beginning of the student's junior year. Secondary Education majors who plan to teach at the high school level are advised to take MATH.373 Calculus III. Consult the Secondary Education Department section in this Catalog for additional course requirements for prospective secondary school teachers.

In addition to the General University Requirements and the requirements specified by the Department of Secondary Education, students must complete 72 credits with a grade of "C" or higher from among the following courses.

Requirements for the Major

Required Courses (42-44 credits)

COSC.236	Intro. to Computer Science I (4)
MATH.263	Discrete Mathematics I (3)
MATH.273	Calculus I (4)
MATH.274	Calculus II (4)
MATH.301	History of Mathematics (3)
MATH.330	Intro. to Statistical Methods (4)
	or
MATH.231	Basic Statistics (3)
	or
MATH.237	Biostatistics (4)
	or
MATH.332	Mathematical Statistics (3)
MATH.353	Elementary Geometry from an Advanced Standpoint (3)
	or
MATH.361	Algebraic Structures (4)
MATH.365	Linear Algebra (3)
MATH.423	Teaching Mathematics in Secondary Schools (3)
PHYS.241-242	General Physics I and II (4,4)

Upper-Division Required Courses (12 credits)

Students must take enough additional upper-division mathematics courses to make a total of 19 upper-division hours in mathematics courses. MATH.321, MATH.323, MATH.325, MATH.351, MATH.421, MATH.422, MATH.423, MATH.425, MATH.426, MATH.427, MATH.429, MATH.491, MATH.493, MATH.495, MATH.496, and MATH.499 may not be counted in these 19 hours. At most, one upper-division computer science course may be counted toward these 19 hours.

Education Courses (28 credits)

EDUC.401	Foundations of Education (3)
ISTC.269	Laboratory in Instructional Hardware (1)
PSYC.201	Educational Psychology (3)
SCED.341	Principles of Secondary Education (3)
MATH.426	Student Teaching in Secondary Education-Mathematics (12)
SCED.460	Teaching Reading in the Secondary Schools (3)
SPED.301	Introduction to Special Education (3)

MAJOR IN MATHEMATICS

Mathematics majors may choose from the following areas of concentration: Pure Mathematics, Actuarial Science, Applied Mathematics, and Applied Mathematics and Computing. Students must complete the General University Requirements in addition to the requirements for each concentration.

PURE MATHEMATICS CONCENTRATION

This concentration requires 48-54 credits completed with a grade of "C" or higher.

Required Courses (30 credits)

COSC.236	Intro. to Computer Science I (4)
MATH.263	Discrete Mathematics I (3)
MATH.273	Calculus I (4)
MATH.274	Calculus II (4)
MATH.361	Algebraic Structures (4)
MATH.365	Linear Algebra (3)
MATH.373	Calculus III (4)
MATH.473	Introductory Real Analysis (4)

Two courses from among: PHYS.241, PHYS.242, BIOL.401, MNGT.363, ECON.451, GEOG.375, SOCI.391, PHYS.337, PHYS.437, COSC.417,

COSC.461, COSC.471 with the restriction that at most one of these courses may be selected from among: BIOL.401, MNGT.363, GEOG.375 and SOCI.391. (6-8)

Upper-Division Mathematics Courses (12-16 credits)

Students must complete 4 additional upper-division mathematics courses excluding MATH.301, MATH.321, MATH.323, MATH.325, MATH.351, MATH.421, MATH.422, MATH.423, MATH.425, MATH.426, MATH.427, MATH.429, MATH.493, MATH.495, MATH.496, and MATH.499.

ACTUARIAL SCIENCE CONCENTRATION

The Actuarial Science concentration requires 61-63 credits completed with a grade of "C" or higher.

Required Courses (52 credits)

ACCT.201, 202	Accounting Principles I and II (6)
COSC.236	Intro. to Computer Science I (4)
ECON.201-202	Microeconomic and Macroeconomic Principles (6)
FIN.331	Financial Management (3)
FIN.332	Advanced Financial Management (3)
MATH.263	Discrete Mathematics I (3)
MATH.273	Calculus I (4)
MATH.274	Calculus II (4)
MATH.331	Probability (3)
MATH.332	Mathematical Statistics (3)
MATH.365	Linear Algebra (3)
MATH.373	Calculus III (4)
MATH.377	Mathematical Models (3)
MATH.435	Numerical Analysis I (3)

One course from among MATH.374, MATH.436, MATH.437 (3-4)

One course from among MATH.361, MATH.451, MATH.473, MATH.475, MATH.477, MATH.484-489 (3-4)

One of the following

ENGL.313	Advanced Composition (3)
ENGL.317	Writing for Business and Industry (3)

APPLIED MATHEMATICS CONCENTRATION

The Applied Mathematics concentration requires 46-51 credits completed with a grade of "C" or higher.

Required Courses (22 credits)

COSC.236	Intro. to Computer Science I (4)
MATH.263	Discrete Mathematics I (3)
MATH.273	Calculus I (4)
MATH.274	Calculus II (4)
MATH.365	Linear Algebra (3)
MATH.373	Calculus III (4)

Four courses from among MATH.331, MATH.332, MATH.374, MATH.377, MATH.435, MATH.436, MATH.437 (12-13)

Two courses from among MATH.357, MATH.361, MATH.367, MATH.451, MATH.457, MATH.461, MATH.473, MATH.475, MATH.477 (6-8)

Two courses from among PHYS.241, PHYS.242, BIOL.401, MNGT.363, ECON.451, GEOG.375, SOCI.391, PHYS.337, PHYS.437, COSC.417, COSC.461, COSC.471 with the restriction that at most one of these courses may be selected from among: BIOL.401, MNGT.363, GEOG.375 and SOCI.391. (6-8)

APPLIED MATHEMATICS AND COMPUTING CONCENTRATION

The Applied Mathematics and Computing concentration requires 54-60 credits completed with a grade of "C" or higher.

Required Courses (30 credits)

COSC.236	Intro. to Computer Science I (4)
COSC.237	Intro. to Computer Science II (4)
COSC.336	Data Structures and File Organization (4)
MATH.263	Discrete Mathematics I (3)
MATH.273	Calculus I (4)
MATH.274	Calculus II (4)
MATH.365	Linear Algebra (3)
MATH.373	Calculus III (4)

Two courses from among: PHYS.241, PHYS.242, BIOL.401, MNGT.363, ECON.451, GEOG.375, SOCI.391, PHYS.337, PHYS.437, COSC.417, COSC.461, COSC.471 with the restriction that at most one of these courses may be selected from among: BIOL.401, MNGT.363, GEOG.375 and SOCI.391. (6-8)

Three courses from among MATH.331, MATH.332, MATH.374, MATH.377, MATH.435, MATH.436, MATH.437 (9-10)

Two courses from among MATH.361, MATH.367, MATH.451, MATH.473, MATH.475, MATH.477 (6-8)

One course from among COSC.280, COSC.338, COSC.355, COSC.367, COSC.383, COSC.441, COSC.457, COSC.461, COSC.471 (3-4)

SECOND MAJOR PROGRAMS

A student may declare a second major and obtain a degree which certifies that both majors have been completed. The Mathematics Department encourages majors to pursue a second major or a minor in subjects in which mathematics is applied. In cooperation with the Economics, Marketing, Management, and Computer & Information Sciences Departments the following courses of study have been developed to enable a student to obtain a second major in economics, business or computer science.

Mathematics Major with a Second Major in Economics

The Mathematics major with the second major in Economics requires 61-63 credits completed with a grade of "C" or higher.

Required Courses (49 credits)

COSC.236	Intro. to Computer Science I (4)
ECON.201	Microeconomic Principles (3)
ECON.202	Macroeconomic Principles (3)
ECON.309	Intermediate Price Theory (3)
ECON.313	Money and Banking (3)
ECON.310	Macroeconomic Theory (3)
ECON.451	Introduction to Mathematical Economics (3)
MATH.263	Discrete Mathematics I (3)
MATH.273	Calculus I (4)
MATH.274	Calculus II (4)
MATH.331	Probability (3)
MATH.332	Mathematical Statistics (3)
MATH.365	Linear Algebra (3)
MATH.373	Calculus III (4)
MATH.377	Mathematical Models (3)

Two courses from among MATH.374, MATH.435, MATH.436, MATH.437 (6-7)

One course from among MATH.361, MATH.367, MATH.451, MATH.473, MATH.475, MATH.477 (3-4)

And one additional course to be chosen in Economics (3)

Courses recommended are MATH.374, MATH.435, MATH.436, ECON.337, ECON.401, ECON.410 and ECON.421.

Mathematics Major with a Second Major in Business

The Mathematics major with the second major in Business requires 85-87 credits completed with a grade of "C" or higher.

Required Courses (64 credits)

ACCT.201	Accounting Principles I (3)
ACCT.202	Accounting Principles II (3)
BULA.225	Legal Environment of Business (3)
COSC.236	Intro. to Computer Science I (4)
ECON.201	Microeconomic Principles (3)
ECON.202	Macroeconomic Principles (3)
FIN.331	Financial Management (3)
MATH.263	Discrete Mathematics (3)
MATH.273	Calculus I (4)
MATH.274	Calculus II (4)
MATH.331	Probability (3)

Mathematics Major with a Second Major in Computer Science

See Computer Science Major with a Second Major in Mathematics under Computer Science.

MINOR IN MATHEMATICS

The Minor in Mathematics requires 20 credits completed with a grade of "C" or higher. The minor requires the three courses listed below, plus at least 9 upper-division credits in mathematics (excluding MATH.321, MATH.323, MATH.325, and MATH.423).

Required Courses (11 credits)

MATH.263	Discrete Mathematics I (3)
MATH.273	Calculus I (4)
MATH.274	Calculus II (4)

Electives (9 credits)

Students must complete nine credits of upper-division electives in mathematics (excluding MATH.321, MATH.323, MATH.325, and MATH.423).

ELEMENTARY EDUCATION MAJOR WITH THE MATHEMATICS MINOR

Elementary Education majors who complete a Mathematics minor will be certified to teach junior high school mathematics as well as elementary school mathematics. Special student teaching assignments are available so that the student will get experience in teaching mathematics in addition to the regular elementary experience. Students in this program should be advised by the chair of the Elementary Education Department and by a member of the Mathematics Department.

The Minor in Mathematics for the Elementary Education Major requires 23 credits completed with a grade of "C" or higher. Students must also complete requirements for their major as specified by the Department of Elementary Education.

The minor requires the five courses listed below, plus at least six credits of upper-division electives in mathematics (at most one of the courses MATH.321, MATH.323, MATH.325, MATH.423 may be counted).

Required Courses (17-18 credits)

MATH.204	Concepts of Mathematics for Elementary Teachers I (3)
MATH.231	Basic Statistics I (3)
	or
MATH.237	Elementary Biostatistics (4)
MATH.263	Discrete Mathematics I (3)
MATH.273	Calculus I (4)
MATH.274	Calculus II (4)

Electives (6 credits)

Students must complete six credits of upper-division electives in mathematics where at most one of MATH.321, MATH.323, MATH.325, or MATH.423 may be counted.

MINOR IN APPLIED STATISTICS

The Minor in Applied Statistics is designed to provide the knowledge and skills necessary for students to successfully enter quantitative career specialties within their chosen majors. It also provides an excellent background for students to successfully complete graduate studies and research within their chosen majors. The Minor in Applied Statistics requires six courses (18 to 20 credits) completed with a grade of "C" or better. The minor consists of two required courses, three statistics electives and one additional elective.

Required Courses (6-8 credits)

One course from among:

MATH.231	Basic Statistics I (3)
MATH.237	Elementary Biostatistics (4)
MATH.330	Introduction to Statistical Methods (4)
MATH.332	Mathematical Statistics (3)
ECON.301	Fundamental Statistics for Economics (3)
PSYC.212	Behavioral Statistics (4)

One course from among:

MATH.211	Calculus for Applications (3)
MATH.273	Calculus I (4)

Statistics Electives (9 credits)

Three courses from among:

MATH.333	Applied Regression and Correlation Analysis (3)
MATH.334	Nonparametric Statistical Methods (3)
MATH.335	Sampling Techniques (3)
MATH.336	Statistical Methods in Quality Control (3)
MATH.433	Applied Analysis of Variance (3)

Additional Elective (3 credits)

One course from among:

Any of the Statistics Electives (3)
ACCT.401	Auditing I (3)
COSC.441	Computer Performance Evaluation (3)
ECON.401	Introduction to Econometrics (3)
EDUC.414	Educational Tests and Measurements (3)
MATH.331	Probability (3)
MNGT.363	Quantitative Methods (3)
SOCI.391	Research Methods (3)

DUAL-DEGREE ENGINEERING PROGRAM

Refer to College's Pre-Professional Preparation area of this Catalog.

COURSE PREREQUISITES

The Department strictly enforces prerequisites for all mathematics courses.

TRANSFER STUDENT POLICIES

Only courses approved by the Mathematics Department may be applied to a Mathematics Major or Mathematics Secondary Education Major Program.

If a student submits mathematics credits which are more than ten years old at the time of admission or readmission, the chair, after reviewing these records, may ask that some courses be repeated or that new courses be substituted.

Secondary Education Mathematics majors are required to take MATH.423 and at least three upper-division courses of their Mathematics major program at Towson State University.

Mathematics majors are required to take at least four upper-division courses of their mathematics major programs at Towson State University.

Mathematics minors must take at least three courses of their mathematics minor program at Towson State University; at least two of these courses must be upper-division.

NOTES FOR MAJORS AND MINORS

Mathematics majors with minors in economics may substitute ECON.451 for the physics requirement.

Mathematics majors or minors who receive a grade of "D" in a 100 level course prerequisite to calculus must repeat the course no later than concurrent with calculus.

Mathematics majors or minors must attain a grade of "C" in any 200, 300 or 400 level course used as a prerequisite or applied towards a major or minor. Unless otherwise noted, prerequisites must be satisfied prior to taking a course.

The program of the minor should be approved by the student's mathematics department advisor.

MEETING GENERAL UNIVERSITY REQUIREMENTS

Each student should consult those portions of this Catalog describing his major and minor programs to see whether specific mathematics courses are required or recommended.

For most majors, any level mathematics course, except as noted and MATH.293, may be used to satisfy the Group IV, General University Requirement. Students, however, should enroll in the mathematics course for which they have the necessary high school or collegiate background.

MATH.111 is a course designed specifically for students majoring in business, economics, psychology, or the social sciences, and satisfies Group IV, General University Requirements.

MATH.115, 116, or 119, are courses designed specifically for students majoring in mathematics, computer science, and the natural or biological sciences, and satisfy Group IV, General University Requirements.

MATH.204 and MATH.205 are courses designed specifically for students majoring in elementary or early childhood education. These courses satisfy the Group IV General University Requirements.

MATHEMATICS COURSE NUMBERS

A note on the numbering system: the left digit of the course number indicates the level of the content. The middle digit of the course number indicates the area of the content; zero-general; 1-service; 2-mathematics education; 3-probability and statistics; 4-numerical analysis; 5-geometry; 6-algebra; 7-analysis; 9-readings, special topics, and seminars in mathematics.

PROGRAMS OF THE DEPARTMENT

The Physics Department offers the following programs: the General Concentration in Physics; the Applied Concentration in Physics; the Teaching Concentration in Physics, for students planning to teach physics; the Physics-Engineering Dual Degree Program, offered in cooperation with the University of Maryland School of Engineering; the minor in Physics; and the major in Natural Science which includes concentrations in geology, earth science, general science, and environmental science.

MAJOR IN PHYSICS

The Physics Department offers an undergraduate program leading to a Bachelor of Science or Arts degree in Physics. This program is divided into two main concentrations designed to give the greatest possible flexibility as preparation for graduate study in physics, astrophysics, medicine, engineering or other allied fields and for professional practice as a physicist in industrial, governmental or institutional laboratories.

In order to provide students a broad and solid base in physics and also to provide the flexibility which enables the student to take courses in areas where physics can be applied, all Physics majors take a series of basic physics core courses. The first courses are General Physics I, II and III (PHYS.241, 242 and 243). They provide an introduction to both classical and modern physics. The junior and senior core physics courses treat classical and modern physics in greater depth.

It is recommended that those who intend to pursue graduate studies in Physics take the General Physics Concentration as well as additional physics electives and mathematics courses. Those who intend to participate in fundamental or applied research and development in industrial or government laboratories are encouraged to take the Applied Physics Concentration and other physics electives. Recommended mathematics electives are: Calculus III, Numerical Analysis I, Numerical Analysis II and Differential Equations.

Students may wish to elect some foreign language also as preparation for graduate study. Students may also supplement the core program of study by participation in a guided independent study and/or ongoing research project. A combination of well-grounded preparation in fundamentals plus the availability of an individually tailored program of study is designed to optimize the student's preparation for graduate school or a professional career. In addition to physics courses, all majors are required to complete courses in computer science, mathematics and chemistry.

Students who intend to major in Physics should contact the Physics Department in order to be assigned a faculty advisor. The faculty advisor will assist students in planning a program which will meet their special needs and is also available for advising on career opportunities and employment. Physics majors are required to complete 16, and minors 8, of the required upper-division credits in physics at this university. Students should be aware that most advanced physics courses (300 and 400 level) may be offered in either the first semester or the second semester, but not in both semesters. Some physics electives are only offered every other year. Advisors will have information on the courses offered and on the schedules.

Students must see their advisor no later than the time of their matriculation for the third semester in general physics which is normally the beginning of the spring semester of their sophomore year. The student, after consultation with his or her advisor, will propose a tentative plan for completing all graduation requirements including those for the major. This selection of electives for the various concentrations must be approved by their advisor. The plan may be modified from time to time, but the modification must be approved by the major advisor.

Students may also organize an individualized course of studies. This gives the students the option to select a plan which reflects their interest in a special area of physics. The array of courses must have internal coherence and be approved by the major advisor.

Physics Honors Program

The Physics Department offers an honors program for students with superior scholarship in Physics. The honors program is designed to provide exceptional students with maximum opportunity for intensive study of physics at an advanced level. Students with demonstrated ability will be invited by the department to participate in this program. Such students will work closely with faculty members and will participate in an individualized program of research, directed readings, and independent studies. Students who complete an approved program will receive a diploma with the designation of Bachelor of Arts or Bachelor of Science with Honors, and Departmental Honors will also appear on the transcript.

Edward I. Rubendall Physics Achievement Awards

The awards were established in Honor of Professor Emeritus Rubendall by friends of the department. The awards are presented annually to outstanding juniors and seniors majoring in Physics.

Requirements for the Major

The major in Physics requires 54-55 credits completed with a grade of "C" or higher. The General University Requirements must also be completed.

Required Physics Core Courses (31 credits)

PHYS.241, 242 & 243	General Physics I, II, III (4,4,3)
PHYS.307	Introductory Mathematical Physics (3)
PHYS.311	Modern Physics (4)
PHYS.341-342	Intermediate Physics Laboratory I, II (3,3)
PHYS.351	Mechanics I (3)
PHYS.354	Electricity and Magnetism I (3)
PHYS.485	Physics Seminar I (1)

Non-Physics Requirements (23-24 credits)

CHEM.101-102	General Chemistry I, II (4,4)
COSC.165	Fundamentals of Computing or equivalent (3)
MATH.273-274	Calculus I, II (4,4)
MATH.xxx	Upper-Division Mathematics course (3-4)

Requirements for the General Track in Physics

All required courses in this track must be completed with a grade of "C" or higher. The General University Requirements must be completed. The Physics core courses and the non-physics requirements must be completed as well as the following courses:

Advanced Physics Courses (14 credits)

PHYS.455	Quantum Mechanics (3)
----------	-----------------------

Two courses from among the following (6)

PHYS.352	Thermodynamics and Kinetic Theory (3)
PHYS.451	Mechanics II (3)
PHYS.454	Electricity and Magnetism II (3)
PHYS.457	Solid State Physics (3)
PHYS.459	Nuclear Physics (3)

Five credits of physics electives

Recommended Physics Electives

PHYS.335	Basic Electronics (4)
PHYS.352	Thermodynamics and Kinetic Theory (3)
PHYS.361	Optics Fundamentals (4)
PHYS.370	Selected Topics in Contemporary Astrophysics (3)
PHYS.421	Fundamental Particles (3)
*PHYS.451	Mechanics II (3)
PHYS.453	Physical Optics (3)
*PHYS.454	Electricity and Magnetism II (3)
PHYS.457	Solid State Physics (3)
PHYS.459	Nuclear Physics (3)

*Highly recommended for students planning to attend graduate school.

Required Courses for Applied Track in Physics

All required courses in this track must be completed with a grade of "C" or higher. The General University Requirements must be completed. The Physics core courses and the non-physics requirements must be completed as well as the following courses:

Advanced Physics Courses (14 credits)

PHYS.361	Optics Fundamentals (4)
----------	-------------------------

One course from

PHYS.335	Basic Electronics (4)
PHYS.337	Digital Electronics (4)
PHYS.437	Introduction to Microprocessor-Based Digital Systems (3)

One course from

PHYS.453	Physical Optics (3)
PHYS.457	Solid State Physics (3)

Three or four credits of physics electives

Recommended Physics Electives

PHYS.335	Basic Electronics (4)
PHYS.337	Digital Electronics (4)
PHYS.352	Thermodynamics and Kinetic Theory (3)
PHYS.435	Electronics (3)
PHYS.437	Introduction to Microprocessor-Based Digital Systems (3)
PHYS.445	Lasers and Holography (3)
PHYS.453	Physical Optics (3)
PHYS.455	Quantum Mechanics (3)
PHYS.457	Solid State Physics (3)
PHYS.459	Nuclear Physics (3)
PHYS.461	Electro-Optics (4)

PHYSICS SECONDARY EDUCATION PROGRAM

The Physics Department offers a Physics Secondary Education program that leads to a Bachelor of Science or Arts degree in Physics. This program is designed for those students who plan to teach Physics at the secondary level.

In addition to the General University Requirements, and the requirements specified by the Department of Secondary Education, students must complete 31 credits in physics courses and 19 credits in non-physics courses. All courses required for the major must be completed with a grade of "C" or higher.

Requirements for the Major

Physics Core Courses (31 credits)

Non-Physics Requirements (19 credits)

CHEM.101-102	General Chemistry I, II (4,4)
COSC.165	Fundamentals of Computing (3)
MATH.273-274	Calculus I, II (4,4)

Required Secondary Education Courses (29-32 credits)

EDUC.401	Foundations of Education (2)
PSYC.201	Educational Psychology (3)
SCED.341	Principles of Secondary Education* (3)
SCIE.380	Teaching Science in the Secondary School* (3)
SCIE.393	Student Teaching in Secondary Education-Science (12)
SCIE.421	Field Course in Secondary Science Teaching Methods (2)
SCED.460	Teaching Reading in Secondary School (3)
SPED.301	Introduction to Special Education (3)

*Must be taken prior to student teaching.

To be taken concurrent with student teaching.

Suggested Course Schedules for Majors

By its very nature, physics is more hierarchical in its course structure than typical humanities or social science disciplines. Therefore, many courses depend heavily on prerequisite courses (such as calculus and general physics). Any time which is required to prepare for calculus (MATH 115) must be added to the four year minimum. Normally, progress in mathematics and general physics is the pacesetter.

Suggested Course Schedule for the Physics Secondary Education Major

Physics Teaching Majors are not required to take any physics electives but are encouraged to take as much physics and mathematics as possible.

For recommended course schedule contact the Physics Department.

MINOR IN PHYSICS

An important aspect of the overall contribution of physics is its impact on other disciplines. This program is designed to provide majors in any of the sciences, mathematics, business, or humanities with a background in physics which will broaden their understanding and enhance their career opportunities. This program requires the student to complete the following courses.

Required Courses (24 credits)

PHYS.241,242 & 243 General Physics I, II, III (4,4,3)
 PHYS.311 Modern Physics (4)
 PHYS.xxx Upper-division physics courses (9)

Students interested in the Physics minor program should consult the Physics Minor Advisor as soon as possible in order to design a program to meet their special needs.

To provide greater flexibility in selecting electives, students may organize their course of studies to supplement their major programs and/or reflect their special interests. The array of courses should have internal coherence and must be approved by their major advisor.

The minor in Physics requires a minimum of 24 credits in physics. At least 8 upper-division credits must be taken at Towson State. A grade of "C" or better must be earned in each course.

DUAL-DEGREE ENGINEERING PROGRAM

The Dual-Degree Engineering Program offers a student the opportunity to obtain a Bachelor of Science or Arts in Physics and an Engineering degree from University of Maryland at College Park. Physics has traditionally been an important part of the curriculum for engineers, and many engineering programs (Electrical, Nuclear Engineering, and others) grew out of physics departments. Completion of the physics program at Towson State, complemented by the engineering education, will provide the student a foundation in the fundamentals that allows him or her to meet the challenges of future technologies. Dual Degree candidates from Towson State are eligible to seek a baccalaureate degree majoring in any one of the following areas at University of Maryland, College Park:

Aerospace Engineering	Engineering Materials
Agricultural Engineering	Fire Protection
Chemical Engineering	Mechanical Engineering
Civil Engineering	Nuclear Engineering
Electrical Engineering

In order to be eligible for transfer into the engineering program of his or her choice at the University of Maryland, the student must have included in his or her work at Towson the following courses: CHEM.101, 102; COSC.165; MATH.273, 274, 373, 471; and PHYS.241, 242, 243, 351, 451, and 352 or 354. Normally students must maintain a GPA of at least 3.00 overall and above 3.00 in science and mathematics. Students should consult the Department on specific GPA requirements.

After completing the Physics degree requirements of Towson State University (normally by the end of the first year at the University of Maryland), the student will receive a Bachelor's degree in Physics from Towson State University. The baccalaureate engineering degree in the student's area of specialization will be awarded when the requirements in the College of Engineering are completed.

For further information contact the Physics Department.

MAJOR IN NATURAL SCIENCE

The Natural Science Major offers four interdisciplinary concentrations designed to give a broad view of the sciences, or to provide specialization in the Earth Sciences. The concentrations available are: Geology, Earth Science, General Science, and Environmental Science.

Students who plan geology related careers, graduate school in the geological sciences, or secondary school earth science teaching should consider this major with a Geology concentration. Students interested in this concentration should see Dr. Molitor early in their education at this university.

Prospective secondary or middle school teachers of Earth Science are advised to select the Earth Science concentration, while those who intend to teach General Science may find the interdisciplinary General Science concentration more suited to their needs. Students planning on teaching careers need to plan their programs to meet state certification requirements and should have an advisor in the Secondary Education Department as well as a science advisor.

The Environmental Science concentration is the most interdisciplinary of the concentrations available. It provides not only for a broad background in the sciences but also includes opportunities to work in the areas of health sciences and geography.

Students selecting the Natural Science major should be aware that the interdisciplinary nature of the program necessitates many lower-division course credits. In order to meet the university requirement of 32 upper-division credits, some upper-division credits may be earned outside the major.

Students should also be aware that the requirements for entrance into graduate programs in a science might not be met by any of the concentrations except Geology.

A minimum of 50 percent of the credits applied toward completion of a concentration must be taken at Towson State University.

Students selecting concentrations in Earth Science, General Science, or Environmental Science should see Dr. Greene early in their education at this university.

Requirements for the Major

The following core courses are required for all concentrations in the Natural Science major. Students in the Geology concentration may substitute MATH.274, Calculus II, or MATH.231, Basic Statistics I, for COSC.165, Fundamentals of Computing.

Core Courses (36-37 credits)

BIOL.201-202	Biology I, II (4,4) or
BIOL.110	Contemporary General Biology (4) and either
BIOL.205	General Botany (4) or
BIOL.207	General Zoology (4)
CHEM.101-102	General Chemistry I, II (4,4)
PHYS.211-212	General Physics I, II (4,4) or
PHYS.241-242	General Physics, I, II (4,4)
PHSC.121	Physical Geology (4) or
BIOL.301	Field Natural Science (Environmental Science concentration only) (4)
PHSC.123	Historical Geology (3) or
PHSC.323	Geomorphology (4) or
BIOL.301	Field Natural Science (General Science concentration only) (4) or
BIOL.402	General Ecology (Environmental Science concentration only) (4)
COSC.165	Fundamentals of Computing (3)
BIOL.491	Independent Research in Biology (2-3)

PHSC.401	or Advanced Laboratory in Physical Science (2)
CHEM.391	or Special Problems in Chemistry (2-3)
CHEM.395	or Practicum in Chemistry (2-3)

Geology Concentration

The Geology concentration requires 18-21 credits (in addition to the core courses) completed with a grade of "C" or higher. Students complete five upper-division geology courses or four such courses and one of the following.

BIOL.307	Introduction to Paleontology (4)
CHEM.210	Principles and Methods of Chemical Analysis (5)
CHEM.340	Physical Chemistry: Principles and Applications (4)
GEOG.321	Interpretation of Aerial Photographs (3)

Earth Science Concentration

The Earth Science concentration requires 22 credits (in addition to the core courses) completed with a grade of "C" or higher.

Required Courses (10 credits)

BIOL.301	Field Natural Science (4)
GEOG.373	Climatology (3)
	or
GEOG.337	Descriptive Meteorology (3)
PHSC.161	Astronomy I (3)

Electives (12 credits)

Twelve elective credits should be chosen from the following

GEOG.373	Applied Climatology (3)
	or
GEOG.377	Descriptive Meteorology (if not taken as required above) (3)
GEOG.321	Interpretation of Aerial Photographs (3)
GEOG.411	Studies in Environmental Hazards (2)
	Any upper-division geology course
PHSC.361	Astronomy II (3)

General Science Concentration

The General Science concentration requires 23 credits (in addition to the core courses) completed with a grade of "C" or higher.

Required Courses (11 credits)

BIOL.213-214	Human Anatomy and Physiology I, II (4,4)
PHSC.161	Astronomy I (3)

Electives (12 credits)

Any upper-division courses in the biological and/or physical sciences (Chemistry, Physics, Geology, and Astronomy) and/or geography (no more than 6 credits from the geography courses listed under the Earth Science Concentration).

Environmental Science Concentration

The Environmental Science concentration requires 22 credits (in addition to the core courses) completed with a grade of "C" or higher.

Electives (22 credits)

Twenty-two elective credits should be chosen from the following. No more than 10 credits may be taken in any one discipline.

BIOL.310	Environmental Conservation (4)
BIOL.387	Biology in Society (3)
BIOL.404	Ecological Techniques (3)
BIOL.435	Plant Ecology (4)
CHEM.361	Chemical and Bacteriological Studies of Water Pollution (3)
GEOG.319	Biogeography (Soils and Vegetation) (3)
GEOG.321	Interpretation of Aerial Photographs (3)
GEOG.329	Medical Geography (3)
GEOG.373	Climatology (3)
GEOG.377	Descriptive Meteorology (3)
GEOG.385	Population Geography (3)
GEOG.411	Studies in Environmental Hazards (3)
GEOG.413	Technology and the Environment (3)
GEOG.415	Geographical Aspects of Pollution (3)
HLTH.302,421	Field Work in Community Health (Obtain prior approval of topic in environmental health from instructor and advisor) (4-10)
HLTH.451	Ecological Aspects of Health (3)
PSYC.341	Environmental Psychology (3)

The School of Business and Economics

The mission of the School of Business and Economics is to provide a broad-based quality education in major areas of business and economics. The School is committed to providing students an excellent educational experience grounded in liberal arts and sciences and espouses the philosophy of liberal education at TSU as published in "The University" section of this Catalog. Fifty percent of the academic program for business students is in the liberal arts and sciences including the mathematical and computer sciences. Solid exposure to fine arts, liberal arts, social and physical sciences, physical education and other disciplines ensures that graduates have the breadth of background recommended by professional accreditation organizations and valued by the business community.

Consistent with its mission, the objectives of the School of Business and Economics encompass: (1) teaching, (2) research, and (3) service to the community. While highest priority is given to the teaching objectives of the School, the research and service objectives are integral parts of the total program.

Students completing programs in the School of Business and Economics are required to satisfy the General University Requirements as well as the requirements set forth in the Common Body of Knowledge and the major and/or area of concentration. Degrees are offered in Accounting, Economics, or Business Administration. Concentrations within the Business Administration degree are: Finance, Marketing, Management, and Economics.

The School of Business and Economics maintains an Assembly Membership with The American Assembly of Collegiate Schools of Business (AACSB).

Business Administration

THE PROGRAM

The Business Administration program operates in a liberal arts framework, emphasizing oral and written communication skills. Completion of major requirements provides a core of basic skills as well as in-depth study in an area of interest chosen by the student. Students who fulfill the major requirements and the General University Requirements are awarded the Bachelor of Science degree. The Bachelor of Arts degree may be earned by completing the intermediate courses (or the equivalent) of a modern foreign language.

Students may elect to major in any program in the university and complement their major area of study with a minor in Business Administration. The minor consists of 24 credit hours in course work from the Business Administration Core. These core courses are selected to provide a basic understanding of the accounting, finance, and management functions. All courses in the minor must be completed with the grade of "C" or better.

PRE-ADMISSION REQUIREMENTS

Effective fall, 1989, students will be admitted as juniors on a competitive basis to the Business Administration major. Candidates for the Business Administration major must be formally admitted to the University. However, admission to the University does not constitute or guarantee admission to the major. Each semester, the Business Administration Selection Committee will consider applications for entry into the major in the following semester. In order to be considered for admission as a junior, students must have earned at least 56 credits, completed the pre-Business courses (i.e., freshmen—sophomore General University Requirements), and all of the 200 level courses in the Common Body of Knowledge (i.e., Microeconomic and Macroeconomic Principles, Basic Statistics I, Legal Environment of Business, Accounting Principles I and II, and one of the specific Computer Science courses) of the School of Business and Economics. Further, applicants must have at least a 2.50 cumulative quality point average (on a 4.0 scale) and must have earned a "C" grade or higher in all Common Body of Knowledge courses. The minimum grade point average requirement will be reviewed each year and may be adjusted as space availability dictates.

At the time of evaluation, applicants will be considered if their transcripts of courses already completed and their current schedules of courses include all of the requirements stated above. Students who are admitted to Towson State University with interest in Business but who do not have junior standing will be designated as "pre-Business Administration" majors and will be advised by faculty members in the respective departments of the School of Business and Economics.

Transfer students with more than 25 and fewer than 56 credit hours may be considered for admission to the program after accumulating 56 credit hours providing one of the following conditions is met:

1. Combined average of all college-level work taken at all institutions is at least 2.50.
2. Cumulative quality point average at Towson State, based on at least 30 attempted hours, is at least 2.50.

Students who believe that they have met similar criteria or have extenuating circumstances may petition the Business Administration Selection Committee.

Students who are officially declared business majors before the fall, 1989 semester will remain in the major as long as they maintain degree candidacy.

Selection Procedures

Students who will have met the pre-admission requirements by the end of the semester before their anticipated entry are eligible to apply. Applications should be submitted to the Business Administration Selection Committee in care of the School of Business and Economics, Towson State University, Towson, MD 21204, during the semester immediately preceding anticipated entry into the major. Transfer students must have official transcripts sent from all institutions attended to the Business Administration Selection Committee. These will be in addition to the transcripts submitted for undergraduate admission or readmission.

Each semester, the Selection Committee will determine the number of new major students that can be accommodated in the following semester. This determination will be made after consideration of faculty and space resources and the anticipated number of returning business students. All candidates will be ranked according to cumulative quality point average in all college level courses. Selections will be made from the top of the candidate ranking until the stipulated number is reached. Should any selected candidates cancel before the last opportunity to register, the next highest will be selected. Candidates selected by the committee after special consideration due to extenuating circumstances or in accordance with affirmative action guidelines will not replace any regularly selected candidates who have not cancelled.

Affirmative Action Policy

Towson State University does not discriminate on the basis of race, national origin, religion, color, sex, age, or condition of handicap. Factors such as sex, race, and handicap will be considered during the selection process for Business Administration if the Selection Committee discovers that the QPA requirements have an inequitable impact on any minority student population.

Academic Standards

Once admitted to the Business Administration major, students shall not be dismissed from the major unless they are academically dismissed from the University. Academically suspended students must meet with a faculty advisor in the School of Business and Economics after being readmitted to the University on probation. Readmitted students must follow the catalog in effect at the time of their original matriculation provided seven years have not elapsed.

MAJOR IN BUSINESS ADMINISTRATION

The degree in Business Administration is earned by completing the business core of 15 courses (45-46 credit hours) and by completing 5 courses (15 credit hours) in one of the four available areas of concentration. These are Finance, Marketing, Management, and Economics. In addition, each student majoring in Business Administration must complete two upper-division courses in the liberal arts selected from approved listings available in the appropriate departmental office.

MINOR IN BUSINESS ADMINISTRATION

The 24-credit minor is designed to provide students in other majors with a background in the functional components of the business administration major: accounting, economics, finance, management and law or government relations.

Required Courses (24 credits)

ACCT.201	Accounting Principles I (3)
ACCT.202	Accounting Principles II (3)
ECON.201	Microeconomic Principles (3)
ECON.202	Macroeconomic Principles (3)
FIN.331	Principles of Financial Management (3)

ACCOUNTING MAJOR

The Accounting major assists students in the development of skills and knowledge in accounting and related disciplines which will prepare the student for a professional career. It provides preparation for the CPA examination and for graduate study, as well as a thorough exposure to liberal arts which are most valuable in a business environment.

Students who fulfill the major requirements and the General University Requirements are awarded the Bachelor of Science degree. The Bachelor of Arts degree may be earned by completing the intermediate courses (or the equivalent) of a modern foreign language in addition to the major and General University Requirements.

A minimum of seven semesters is required to complete all required accounting courses in sequence. Majors are therefore advised to begin taking accounting courses very early in their college careers.

Because of the rigorous course work, the department recommends that students complete the following courses before declaring the major: two lab oriented sciences such as chemistry and physics, American or world literature, and algebra 2, trigonometry, or pre-calculus. Students who have not completed courses such as these in high school or in their first two years of college to take MATH.111 and/or MATH.211 here at Towson. These courses or their equivalents are required as pre-requisites for other higher level MATH, MNGT, ECON and ACCT courses.

PRE-ADMISSION REQUIREMENTS FOR ACCOUNTING

Students interested in majoring in accounting must first gain admission to Towson State University. Admission to the university, however, does not guarantee admission to the accounting major. After completing a minimum of 9 credits in accounting, the student must meet with an Accounting Department faculty advisor to determine whether the requirements have been met. The following academic criteria shall be met in order to declare the accounting major:

1. A student must pass the AICPA Level I achievement test with a score in the 55th percentile or higher. This will permit/prohibit registration in Intermediate Accounting II (302).

Students who transfer to Towson from community colleges which have articulation agreements with TSU, and students who transfer from four-year institutions, shall be allowed to transfer Intermediate Accounting II (ACCT. 302) upon passing the AICPA Level I achievement test with a score in the 75th percentile or higher.

2. Present an overall Quality Point Average of at least 2.50 on a 4.00 scale for all courses completed at the time of declaring the major.

This requirement may be waived under certain circumstances by the department chair.

3. Present a Quality Point Average of at least 2.50 on a 4.00 scale for all Accounting courses completed at the time of declaring the major.

4. A student must have passed either one Calculus or one Statistics course with a grade of "C" or better. The Towson State courses that shall be considered are:

Calculus I or II (MATH.273/274) or Calculus for Applications (MATH.211)

Basic Statistics (MATH.231) or Math Statistics (MATH.332) or Fundamental Statistics for Economics (ECON.301)

Equivalent courses, taken at other institutions and properly transferred to Towson State, shall also be considered.

Affirmative Action Policy

Towson State University does not discriminate on the basis of race, national origin, religion, color, sex, age, or condition of handicap in its academic program. Some groups, however, have been historically under-represented in the field of accounting.

The department maintains relevant data on admission to the accounting major in order to monitor the impact of these standards on minority student populations.

The department shall waive any one of the above criteria if it is demonstrated to have an inequitable impact on the minority student population.

Academic Standards

Students who have been admitted to the accounting major should regularly meet with their faculty advisors (at least once a year) in order to evaluate their progress in completing degree requirements.

Once admitted to the accounting major, a student shall not be dismissed from the major unless that student is academically dismissed from the university. In such cases, the student shall meet with an accounting faculty advisor after being readmitted to the university as a degree candidate in order to reenter the accounting major.

MAJOR IN ACCOUNTING

The major in Accounting requires 73 credits completed with a grade of "C" or higher and a score above the 50th percentile on the AICPA Level II Achievement Test.

Requirements for the Major

Required Courses (46 credits)

The Common Body of Knowledge (CBK) for accounting majors will comprise a total of 46 credits. In addition all accounting majors must complete 27 credits of upper level accounting courses as indicated below.

ACCT.201 & 202	Accounting Principles I & II (6)
BULA.225	Legal Environment of Business (3)
BULA.226	Business Law (3)

ACCT.361	Tax Accounting I (3)
ACCT.401	Auditing I (3)
ACCT.402	Auditing II (3)
ACCT.410	Accounting Control Systems (3)

Required Testing

Students must achieve a score above the 50th percentile on the AICPA Level II Achievement Test in order to complete the Accounting Major.

Recommended Courses

ACCT.322	Advanced Accounting II (3)
ACCT.342	Cost Accounting II (3)
ACCT.362	Tax Accounting II (3)
PSYC.315	Motivation (3)
PSYC.327	Industrial Psychology (3)
PSYC.409	Organizational Psychology (3)

One of the following

PHIL.101	Introduction to Philosophy (3)
PHIL.111	Logic (3)
PHIL.371	Ethical Problems: Business and Society

Advanced Writing Course Recommendation

All students are required to take an advanced writing course to fulfill Group IC of the General University Requirements. Accounting majors are encouraged to fulfill this requirement by taking one of the following.

ECON.325	Economic Development (3)
ECON.333	Economics of Poverty and Discrimination (3)
ENGL.313	Advanced Composition (3)
ENGL.317	Writing for Business and Industry (3)
ENGL.318	Advanced Informational Writing (3)
WRIT.411	Organizational Communication (3)

Sample Course Sequence

The following sample curriculum indicates how the Accounting major requirements and the General University Requirements may be completed in four years. Unless you have completed equivalent courses in high school or in your first two years of college, you should take MATH.111 and/or MATH.211 here at Towson in order to complete the pre-requisites for MATH.231 or ECON.301.

The Roman numerals in parentheses indicate the General University Requirements which are fulfilled.

Transfer Credit Policy

Credit toward the Accounting major will be given for approved courses taken at other schools.

Students planning to transfer from junior or community colleges are encouraged to take six hours of Accounting Principles and six hours of Economic Principles as part of their first two years of college. Major credit will also be granted for any two of the following courses successfully completed at a community or junior college: Intermediate Accounting I (validated by Intermediate Accounting 302), Cost Accounting I (validated by Cost Accounting 342), and Tax Accounting I (validated by Tax Accounting 362). Because the Accounting Major requires a minimum of five sequential, one semester, upper-division accounting courses, students may wish to consider transferring to Towson after three semesters at the junior or community college in order to complete their undergraduate programs in a total of four years.

Upper-division courses required for the major which are taken at a two-year/community college must be validated by taking an advanced upper-division course at TSU.

Students who complete Intermediate Accounting I at another institution must achieve a score above the 55th percentile on the AICPA Level I Test before entering Intermediate Accounting II (ACCT.302) at Towson.

Students currently enrolled at Towson State University may be given credit for courses at other accredited four-year colleges if approval is granted in advance.

Department of Economics

Professors: BARONE, DORN, FENSTERMAKER (Chair), PAUL, SHIN

Associate Professors: GEORGIU, KONG, WEINTRAUB, WOROBY

Assistant Professors: EGGER, FABRICANT, GERMAN, LAURENCE, LEE, PALASEK, SABELHAUS, SULLIVAN

OFFICE

Stephens Hall, Room BO17, (301) 830-2959

PROGRAMS OF THE DEPARTMENT

The Department of Economics offers three alternative major programs: (1) A major in Business Administration with a concentration in Economics; (2) A liberal arts major in Economics; and (3) A double major program in Economics with Geography, Mathematics, or Political Science. The purpose of a major or concentration in Economics is to help students understand the workings of the society in which they live. These programs are designed to provide preparation for careers in industry, government, and teaching as well as preparation for graduate study in Economics.

All students majoring or concentrating in Economics must contact the department to select an advisor who will assist them in designing their program. Students should meet with their advisors each semester to discuss their progress and plans of study.

MAJOR IN BUSINESS ADMINISTRATION— CONCENTRATION IN ECONOMICS

Requirements for the Major

The Common Body of Knowledge (CBK) (45 credits) for Business major concentrating in Economics consists of the same courses required in other programs in Business Administration with the additional note that ECON.301 (Fundamentals of Statistics) is substitutable for MATH.231 (Basic Statistics I). (For students wishing to concentrate in both Economics and Accounting, the Accounting CBK is acceptable.) An additional 15 credits in Economics beyond the CBK will fulfill the concentration and must be completed with a grade of "C" or better. These include three required courses:

ECON.309 Intermediate Price Theory (3)

ECON.310 Macroeconomic Theory (3)

ECON.313 Money and Banking (3)

and two elective courses in Economics. Independent Study cannot be counted toward the fulfillment of the 15 credits.

MAJOR IN ECONOMICS IN LIBERAL ARTS

Requirements for the Major

A total of 33 credits in Economics will satisfy the requirements for the major. Of these, the following 18 credits are required:

ECON.201 Microeconomic Principles (3)

ECON.202 Macroeconomic Principles (3)

ECON.301 Fundamentals of Statistics (3)

ECON.309 Intermediate Price Theory (3)

ECON.310 Macroeconomic Theory (3)

ECON.313 Money and Banking (3)

The remaining five courses (15 credits) must consist of electives in Economics. In addition, to complete these five courses, a maximum of one course may be taken outside the department from the following list:

MNGT.451 Industrial Relations (3)

MATH.377 Mathematical Models (3)

HIST.366 History of American Business (3)

GEOG.359 Economic Geography (3)

DOUBLE MAJOR PROGRAM

Requirements for the Major

The Economics Department offers three double major programs: (1) Economics and Mathematics, (2) Economics and Geography/Environmental Planning, and (3) Economics and Political Science. Thus, a student majoring in Economics may declare a second major and obtain a degree which certifies that both majors have been completed. A total of 33 credits in Economics must be earned to complete this major. Of these, a total of 21 credits are required, including the following:

ECON.201 Microeconomic Principles (3)

ECON.202 Macroeconomic Principles (3)

ECON.309 Intermediate Price Theory (3)

ECON.310 Macroeconomic Theory (3)

ECON.313 Money and Banking (3)

In addition to the required Economics courses listed above, one course in Statistics from the following list is required:

ECON.301 Fundamentals of Statistics (3)

MATH.231 Basic Statistics (3)

MATH.332 Mathematical Statistics (3)

GEOG.375 Quantitative Methods in Geography (3)

In addition, a 400 level course in Economics is required. The remaining courses for double majors with other departments are listed below.

Economics and Mathematics

The double major with Mathematics requires these additional courses:

MATH.377 Mathematical Models (3)

COSC.236 Fundamentals of Computing (3)

ECON.451 Introduction to Mathematical Economics (3)

plus one elective in Economics. The student should consult with the Mathematics Department to insure fulfilling the Mathematics Department requirements.

Economics and Geography

The double major with Geography requires four additional courses. Two of the following upper-level Economics courses are approved by both departments:

ECON.323	Comparative Economic Systems
ECON.325	Economic Development
ECON.351	Urban Economics
ECON.421	International Economics
ECON.470-479	Topics in Economics (to be approved by the Geography Department)
ECON.001	Practicum in Regional Economics (Minimester course)

In addition, the Economics Department accepts two of the following courses in Geography toward fulfilling the Economics major:

GEOG.359	Economic Geography
GEOG.385	Population Geography
GEOG.393	Transportation and Infrastructure Planning
GEOG.391	Urban Systems I
GEOG.403	Planning Implementation
GEOG.484	Land Use Planning
GEOG.470-479	Seminar: Selected Topics in Geography (to be approved by the Economics Department)
GEOG.481	Environmental Impact Analysis

The student should consult the Geography Department to insure fulfilling the Geography Department requirements.

Economics and Political Science

The double major with Political Science requires four additional courses in addition to the required courses listed above. Two of the following upper-level Economics courses are approved by both Departments:

ECON.323	Comparative Economic Systems
ECON.331	Government and Economic Life
ECON.337	Public Finance
ECON.351	Urban Economics

In addition, the Economics Department accepts two of the following courses in Political Science toward fulfilling the Economics major:

POSC.375	Public Administration
POSC.305	Urban Government and Politics
POSC.473	Special Topics Course "Energy"
POSC.470	Special Topics Course "Comparative Public Policy"
POSC.482	Public Policy Analysis (seminar or lecture course)

The student should consult the Political Science Department to insure fulfilling the Political Science Department requirements.

MINOR IN ECONOMICS

Economics minors must complete 24 credits with a grade of "C" or higher. The minor includes the 3 required courses listed below and 15 hours of approved electives. A maximum of 2 of these may be from the approved list of electives outside the Department. (See list under MAJOR IN ECONOMICS IN LIBERAL ARTS.)

Required Courses (9 credits)

ECON.201	Microeconomic Principles (3)
ECON.202	Macroeconomic Principles (3)
ECON.313	Money and Banking (3)

TRANSFER CREDIT POLICY

The Economics Department accepts economics credit from other accredited colleges and universities. Transfer students must take at least 15 credits within this department.

DEPARTMENTAL ACTIVITIES

The Department sponsors an Economics Club which presents lectures, seminars, film and other activities relating to economic analysis and problems. The department works with the Internship/Cooperative Education Office to provide internships to qualified students. There is a Minimester course which visits points of economic interest in the Baltimore area. An award is given by the Department to the outstanding senior majoring in Economics.

COUNCIL ON ECONOMIC EDUCATION IN MARYLAND (CEEM)

CEEM is affiliated with the Institutional Advancement Division and works in close cooperation with the Department of Economics and the College of Education. The Council has the responsibility of increasing the quantity and quality of economics taught at Maryland schools and colleges and in the general community. The Council administers its program throughout the state. The Council Trustees comprise major Maryland business, labor, government, agriculture, and education leaders. Dr. Hoke L. Smith, president of Towson State University, is chairman, and the president is William H. Daiger, Jr., President and Chief Executive Officer, Maryland National Bank. The Council's executive director is Dr. Carol Adams.

CENTER FOR ECONOMIC EDUCATION

The Towson State University Center for Economic Education is one of nine CEEM-affiliated centers located at colleges and universities in Maryland. The Towson Center fulfills four primary functions towards meeting the economic education objectives of the University.

They include:

- providing consultation for schools, educational agencies, and community organizations;
- developing and distributing economic education materials;
- improving the regular on- and off-campus instructional programs in economics; and
- conducting research in economic education.

The Towson Center's director is Dr. George C. Georgiou.

Department of Finance

Professors: HAIGHT (Chair), HOLT

Associate Professors: AVERY, GRIMSHAW, VENNOS

Assistant Professor: KAYVAN

Instructor: RHEE

OFFICE

Stephens Hall Annex, Room 139

THE PROGRAM

The Department of Finance offers a concentration in Finance. In addition to the core course requirements, the Common Body of Knowledge, students must complete a minimum of 15 credit hours in the Finance concentration. Students are also required to complete 6 credit hours of upper-division elective courses selected from approved listings.

All coursework required for the major must be completed with the grade of "C" or higher. To enroll in Finance courses, students must satisfy all prerequisites published in this catalog.

Requirements for the Major

Core Courses (45 credits) (Common Body of Knowledge)

The following 45 credits of core courses must be completed for the concentration.

ECON.201	Microeconomic Principles (3)
ECON.202	Macroeconomic Principles (3)
MATH.231	Basic Statistics I (3)
	or
ECON.301	Fundamental Statistics for Economics (3)
BULA.225	Legal Environment of Business (3)
ACCT.201	Accounting Principles I (3)
ACCT.202	Accounting Principles II (3)
COSC.115	Intro. to Information Systems (4)

COSC.212	Intro. to Business Programming (3)
	or
COSC.165	Fundamentals of Computing (3)
FIN.331	Principles of Financial Management (3)
MKTG.341	Principles of Marketing (3)
MNGT.361	Management and Organization Theory (3)
MNGT.363	Quantitative Methods for Business I (3)
MNGT.365	Production Management (3)
MNGT.437	Management Info. Systems (3)
MNGT.481	Business Strategy and Policy (3)
MNGT.482	Business Environment and Public Policy (3)

TRANSFER STUDENT POLICIES

Credit toward the Business Administration major will be given for approved courses taken at other schools. Students planning to transfer from junior or community colleges are encouraged to take six hours of accounting as part of their first two years of college. Six hours of economics may also be taken. Students are encouraged to take finance, marketing and management after transferring to Towson State University. Transfer students must complete, with a "C" or better, at least 30 hours of upper-division credits in the following: ECON, FIN, MKTG, and MNGT at Towson State University in order to qualify for the Business Administration Major.

Lower-division courses taken at another four-year college or community college that correspond to courses offered only at the upper-division for native students at Towson State University have restrictions as to transferability at Towson State. Basic business courses in the Common Body of Knowledge (CBK) which are offered only at the junior level at TSU such as: Principles of Marketing; Principles of Financial Management; and Management and Organization Theory may be transferable from a community college only upon meeting validation requirements. Validation generally means that another specified course in the discipline must be completed with a minimum grade of "C" for the transfer credit to be granted.

A transferred course from a four-year college that possesses level and content equivalency of a TSU course may be used to satisfy a core/elective requirement with the approval of the Finance department. The department will accept only one transferred course in fulfillment of a concentration requirement and it must be validated.

MAJOR IN BUSINESS ADMINISTRATION— CONCENTRATION IN FINANCE

Requirements for the Major

The Common Body of Knowledge (CBK) for business majors concentrating in finance consists of the same courses that are required for Marketing and Management concentrations comprising 45 credits. In addition, the concentration courses below must be completed with a grade of "C" or better.

Required Courses (15 credits)

FIN.332	Advanced Financial Management (3)
FIN.333	Investments and Security Analysis (3)
FIN.430	Management of Financial Institutions (3)
FIN.435	International Finance (3)
FIN.439	Financial Policy (3)

Recommended Courses

FIN.433	Portfolio Management (3)
FIN.470	Topics in Finance (3)
FIN.491	Seminar in Finance (3)

Upper-Division Electives (6 credits)

Each Business Administration major must complete 6 credits of upper-division courses selected from the following disciplines:

Anthropology	Modern Languages
Art	Music
Dance	Philosophy
Economics	Political Science
English	Psychology
Geography	Sociology
History	Theatre Arts

Students should obtain approval for course selections from their Finance concentration advisor. Additional writing courses are encouraged; however, courses used to satisfy this requirement for the major cannot be used to satisfy any General University Requirement.

MINOR IN BUSINESS ADMINISTRATION

The 24-credit minor is designed to provide students in other majors with a background in the functional components of the business administration major: accounting, economics, finance, management, marketing and law or government relations.

See the "Business Administration" section of this Catalog for required courses.

TRANSFER STUDENT POLICIES

Credit toward the Business Administration major will be given for approved courses taken at other schools. Students planning to transfer from junior or community colleges are encouraged to take six hours of accounting as part of their first two years of college.

Six hours of economics may also be taken. Students are encouraged to take finance, marketing and management after transferring to Towson State University. Transfer students must complete, with a "C" or better, at least 30 hours of upper-division credits in the following: FIN, MKTG, and, MNGT at Towson State University in order to qualify for the Business Administration major.

Lower-division courses taken at another four-year college or a community college that correspond to courses offered only at the upper-division for native students at Towson State University have restrictions as to transferability at Towson State. Basic business courses in the Common Body of Knowledge (CBK) which are offered only at the junior level at TSU such as: Principles of Marketing; Principles of Financial Management; and Management and Organization Theory may be transferable from a community college only upon meeting validation requirements. Validation generally means that another specified course in the discipline must be completed with a minimum grade of "C" for the transfer credit to be granted.

A transferred course from a four-year college that possesses level and content equivalency of a TSU course may be used to satisfy a core/elective requirement with the approval of the Management department. The department will accept only one transferred course in fulfillment of a concentration requirement and it must be validated.

DEPARTMENTAL PROGRAMS, ACTIVITIES

The department offers the following programs: Internship/Cooperative Education Program, Directed Independent Study Program, Credit for Prior Learning Program, and sponsors these business clubs: American Production and Inventory Control Society, American Society of Personnel Administrators, Society for the Advancement of Management, AIESC.

Students should consult their advisors for more information.

Department of Marketing

Professor: KING (Chair)

Associate Professors: GRAZER, MARONICK, MILLER,
NICHOLAS, L. SMITH

Assistant Professors: KAYNAMA, ROSECKY, SCHLIMM, STONE

OFFICE

Stephens Hall, Room B70, (301) 830-3351

THE PROGRAM

The Department of Marketing offers a concentration in Marketing. In order to concentrate in Marketing, students must be admitted to the Business Administration major, effective Fall, 1989. For detailed requirements for admission to the Business Administration major, see the Business Administration section of this Catalog. In addition to the core course requirements, students must complete 15 credit hours in the area of concentration. Students are also required to complete 6 credit hours of upper-division work selected from a listing of approved disciplines.

All course work required for the major must be completed with the grade of "C" or higher.

Requirements for the Major

Core Courses (45-46 credits) (Common Body of Knowledge)

The following 45-46 credits of core courses must be completed for this concentration.

Course Descriptions

THE MEANING OF COURSE NUMBERS

Each department of the university has one or more code numbers and abbreviations for each general subject area (e.g., French in the modern language department). The code abbreviations are shown in parentheses at the head of the course listings. These abbreviations form a four letter code, which precedes a three digit Course Classification Number, forming a seven character Course Number. Each course has a distinctive number with the following significance:

Course Classification Numbers	Significance of Numbers
.001-.009	Temporary, Minimester Courses and Special Courses with and without credit.
.101-.299	Lower-Division Undergraduate Courses (UG) and Physical Education Lab skill courses with credit.
.301-.499	Upper-Division Undergraduate Courses. Certain courses may be taken for either graduate or undergraduate credit. (UG & G) Their graduate course numbers are in brackets.
.500-.899	Graduate Division Courses.

SEQUENTIAL COURSES

Courses whose numbers are separated by a hyphen are to be taken in sequence. When course numbers are separated by a comma, either semester may be taken independently of the other (See Prerequisites).

ELECTIVE COURSES

Students majoring in the various areas will need to choose their electives with extreme care. Before registering for courses which are not required students should consult their advisors. The advice of the instructor of the course or the chair of the department in which the elective course is listed may be needed before a wise decision is made concerning the choice of an elective.

CREDIT VALUE OF COURSES

The semester credit value of the course is indicated in the parentheses following the title.

TIME OF OFFERING

All required courses are usually offered each semester. Elective courses in each department are usually offered at least one semester each year. All non-required courses are offered subject to sufficient enrollment.

PREREQUISITES

Prerequisites are indicated to assist students in determining the proper sequence of courses and in identifying any special skills and knowledge they should possess before attempting a particular course. Students should remember that they are responsible for meeting published prerequisites, which are to be enforced by the appropriate Departments and Colleges.

ACCOUNTING (ACCT)Lower Division

ACCT 201 ACCOUNTING PRINCIPLES I (3) This course covers the fundamental accounting principles beginning with the analysis of business transactions, and emphasizes the procedural aspects of the recording process, record-keeping and management techniques. The specific accounting principles concerning cash receivables, inventory, fixed assets, current liabilities and payroll are covered in a less theoretical and more procedural approach. Not open to students who have taken ACCT 205 or 0506.201. Preferred sequence for accounting majors (UG)

ACCT 202 ACCOUNTING PRINCIPLES II (3) This course covers the fundamental accounting principles concerning financial statements and their analysis. It emphasizes the procedural aspects of accounting principles concerning long-term liabilities, partnership and corporation equity accounts, operating expense applications, and manufacturing accounting. It also covers preparation of the statement of cash flows and the techniques of financial analysis. Not open to students who have taken ACCT 206, 0506.202, or 0506.203. Preferred sequence for accounting majors. Prerequisite: ACCT 201. (UG)

ACCT 211 HONORS ACCOUNTING PRINCIPLES I This course is similar to ACCT 201 except that it emphasizes more conceptual approaches to accounting and requires completion of a research paper, case studies and practice sets. It also requires a considerable amount of computer based instruction. Prerequisites: SAT scores 550 or above, Verbal; 600 or above, Math.

ACCT 212 HONORS ACCOUNTING PRINCIPLES II This course is similar to ACCT 202 except that it emphasizes more conceptual approaches to accounting and requires completion of a research paper, case studies and practice sets. It also requires a considerable amount of computer based instruction. Prerequisites: SAT scores 550 or above, Verbal; 600 or above, Math and ACCT 211.

Upper Division

ACCT 301 INTERMEDIATE ACCOUNTING (3) Fundamental accounting theory as contained in G.A.A.P. - ART 319 [519] METALSMITHING (3) Lecture, demonstration, and directed studio problems in raising, forging, joining, and finishing various metals with emphasis on design and creation of hollowware and flatware. The historic and aesthetic aspects of the media are considered. Prerequisite: ART 318. (UG & G)
- ART 320 FIBER CONSTRUCTION (3) Non-loom fiber construction including macrame, twining, coiling, crochet, plaiting and basketry. Functional and non-functional forms and historical and aesthetic considerations included. Prerequisites: ART 103 or ART 104. (UG)
- ART 321 VISUAL COMMUNICATION USING COMPUTER GRAPHICS (3) Functions of graphic communication through design utilizing computer systems, software and utilities. Prerequisites: ART 225 and COSC 101. (UG)
- ART 322 AMERICAN ART (3) Studies of U.S. Architecture, Art and crafts from the colonial period to the present. Prerequisites: ART 105, or ART 222 or consent of instructor. (UG)
- ART 325 [521] DESIGN FOR VISUAL COMMUNICATION II (3) Continued studio in drawing, painting and typography. Advanced assignments in preparing brochures—booklets—for commercial printing. Prerequisites: ART 225 or consent of instructor. (UG & G)
- ART 326 FABRIC DESIGN: DYEING (3) Design problems executed in dye on fabric using the resist techniques of batik and tie-dye, in addition to stencilwork and handpainting. Prerequisites: ART 103 and ART 111. (UG)
- ART 327 FABRIC DESIGN: PRINTING (3) Technical instruction in block and screen printing on fabric. Design problems include all-over repeat patterns. Prerequisites: ART 103. (UG)
- ART 328 WEAVING I (3) Instruction in the basics of handweaving on the loom. Students will experiment with a variety of samplers then plan and execute a final project. Aesthetic and historical aspects of the media are considered. Prerequisites: ART 103, ART 104 or consent of instructor. (UG)
- ART 329 OIL PAINTING AND RELATED MEDIA II (3) Continued studio experiences in painting. Prerequisite: ART 229 or consent of instructor. (UG)
- ART 330 WATERCOLOR AND RELATED MEDIA II (3) Continued studio experiences in painting. Prerequisite: ART 230 or consent of instructor. (UG)
- ART 333 PAPERMAKING (3) Two and three dimensional creative problems in the making of paper. Prerequisites: ART 103 or ART 104. (UG)
- ART 334 [534] PHOTOGRAPHY II (3) Continued research with the photographic aesthetic. Emphasis on independent investigation. Student must have camera with adjustable diaphragm and shutter. Prerequisite: ART 234 or written consent of the instructor based on demonstration of technical competence. (UG & G)
- ART 335 [535] COLOR PHOTOGRAPHY I (3) An investigation into the use of color and form in still photography through the use of positive and negative transparencies. Prerequisites: ART 234 and ART 334 or equivalent. (UG & G)
- ART 338 BLACKSMITHING (3) Studio problems in the use of tools and techniques of forming ferrous metals to produce works of art. Prerequisites: ART 318 or consent of instructor. (UG)
- ART 339 METAL SCULPTURE I (3) Lecture and directed studio problems in forging, fabricating, welding, soldering and finishing ferrous and non-ferrous metals. Lecture and directed studio problems in bronze and aluminum lost wax casting, including mold making, investing, pouring and finishing. Prerequisites: ART 240 or ART 241. (UG)
- ART 340 SCULPTURE: MODELING STUDIO II (3) Continued studio experiences in modeling the human figure with emphasis on larger figures. A casting experience and written proposal to be included. Prerequisite: ART 240. (UG)
- ART 341 SCULPTURE: CONTEMPORARY MEDIA AND CONCEPTS II (3) Continued lecture and directed studio problems in contemporary sculpture. Prerequisites: ART 241 or consent of instructor. (UG)
- ART 342 SCULPTURE: CARVING STUDIO II (3) Continued studio experience in carving; individually selected studio problems in area of special interest. Prerequisite: ART 242. (UG)
- ART 347 SCREEN PROCESS I (3) Personal expression in traditional and experimental techniques of screen printing: Serigraphy in color, tusche, stencil, glue. Prerequisites: ART 103, ART 111 or consent of instructor. (UG)
- ART 349 RELIEF PROCESS I (3) Personal expression in printmaking: Woodcut, wood engraving, linocut, subtractive color printing and other relief processes. Prerequisites: ART 103, ART 111 or consent of instructor. (UG)
- ART 350 INTAGLIO PROCESS I (3) Personal expression in printmaking: Etching, drypoint, aquatint, engraving, and other intaglio processes. Prerequisites: ART 103, ART 111 or consent of instructor. (UG)
- ART 351 WRITING ABOUT ART (3) Expository writing about the visual arts, including critiques, articles, press release, and other formats. Emphasis on effective writing with aesthetic insight. Prerequisites: ENGL 102 or 190; ART 221 or 222 or consent of instructor. (UG)

BIOLOGY (BIOL)

NOTE: Either BIOL 110 (Contemporary General Biology), BIOL 112 (Honors Contemporary General Biology), or BIOL 201 (Biology I) is required as prerequisite for all other biology courses except BIOL 100, BIOL 103, BIOL 171, BIOL 172 and BIOL 173.

Lower Division

BIOL 100 HUMANISTIC BOTANY (3) Selected botanical topics of interest to the non-science major. Topics will include poisonous plants, medicinal plants, plant hallucinogens, tree-ring dating, botanical genetics, bonsai and commercial uses of major plant groups. No credit will be given to those who have completed BIOL 205. (UG)

BIOL 103 HUMAN BIOLOGY (3) Basic principles of human body processes in normal and certain abnormal conditions for nonscience majors. The emphasis will be on physiology with sufficient anatomy for its understanding. No credit will be given to those who have completed BIOL 171, BIOL 172, BIOL 213, BIOL 214 or BIOL 311. (UG)

BIOL 110 CONTEMPORARY GENERAL BIOLOGY (4) Biological principles common to plants and animals. Topics include cell structure and process (both physical and biochemical), mitosis, gametogenesis, aspects of embryology, genetics, evolution and ecology. Average of two laboratory hours per week. No credit for those who have completed BIOL 201. Not open to those who have completed BIOL 101. (UG)

BIOL 112 HONORS CONTEMPORARY GENERAL BIOLOGY (4) Biological principles common to plants and animals. Topics include cell structure and process (both physical and biochemical), mitosis, gametogenesis, aspects of embryology, genetics, evolution, and ecology. Average of two laboratory hours per week. Not open to those who have completed BIOL 201. Special Permit by Honors College Committee Only. This course will be equated with BIOL 110 for use as a prerequisite or in entering the major. (UG)

BIOL 201 BIOLOGY I: CELLULAR BIOLOGY AND GENETICS (4) An introduction to biology including biologically important molecules, cell and tissue structure, respiration, photosynthesis, mitosis, meiosis and genetics. Average of three laboratory hours per week. Prerequisite: CHEM 101 (may be taken concurrently) or one year high school chemistry. Credit not granted for both BIOL 201 and BIOL 110. (UG)

BIOL 202 BIOLOGY II: ORGANISMIC AND POPULATION BIOLOGY (4) Mechanisms which perpetuate life and the interactions and relationships of animals, plants and their environment. Emphasis is placed on the fundamental principles of homeostasis and integration, animal behavior, population and population genetics, communities, evolution, and ecosystems. Average of three laboratory hours per week. Prerequisites: BIOL 201 or BIOL 110 with a grade of B or better. (UG)

BIOL 205 GENERAL BOTANY (4) Plant structure, development, reproduction and diversity of life forms by interrelating hormones, physiological processes and environmental relationships with respect to the whole plant. Emphasis on flowering plants. Average of three laboratory or discussion hours per week. Prerequisites: BIOL 201 or BIOL 110. Not open to those who have completed BIOL 105. (UG)

BIOL 207 GENERAL ZOOLOGY (4) Major animal phyla. A comparative approach to the structure, function, development and ecology of the Animal Kingdom. Average of three laboratory hours per week. Prerequisites: BIOL 202 or BIOL 110. (UG)

BIOL 213 HUMAN ANATOMY AND PHYSIOLOGY I (4) Cell biology, histology, skeletal, muscular, and nervous systems. Average of three laboratory hours per week. To receive Biology Major credit, Biology 214 must also be completed. Students who have completed BIOL 109 or 174 may not take this course without departmental approval. Prerequisites: BIOL 201 or BIOL 110. (UG)

BIOL 214 HUMAN ANATOMY AND PHYSIOLOGY II (4) Cardiovascular, respiratory, digestive, excretory, endocrine and reproductive systems. Average of three laboratory hours per week. To receive Biology Major credit, Biology 213 must be completed. Students who have completed BIOL 109 or 174 may not take this course without departmental approval. Prerequisite: BIOL 213. (UG)

BIOL 295 COURSE RESEARCH (1) Research related to a specific biology course successfully completed by the student. By invitation or with the consent of the instructor. Not for biology major credit. Prerequisite: BIOL 110. (UG)

Upper Division

BIOL 301 FIELD NATURAL SCIENCE (4) Physical and biological components of various environments and their interrelationships with each other and man. Emphasis on field observation. Average of three laboratory hours per week. Not for credit toward biology major, minor, or M.S. degree in Biology. Prerequisites: BIOL 110 or BIOL 201. (UG)

BIOL 302 INSTRUMENTAL METHODS FOR BIOLOGISTS Principles of electronics, data management, analytical techniques, radioisotope applications, and physiological monitoring methods. Average of four laboratory hours per week. Prerequisites: BIOL 205 or 207; PHYS 203 or 212 or 242; CHEM 102 and 210 or 211 or consent of instructor. (UG)

BIOL 303 [509] LIFE SCIENCES FOR THE ELEMENTARY TEACHER (3) Living organisms in the environment, emphasizing modes of scientific inquiry and the utilization of living organisms in the classroom. Prerequisite: BIOL 110. Not for credit toward biology major, minor or M.S. degree in Biology. (UG & G)

BIOL 305 [505] ELECTRON MICROSCOPY (4) Theory, preparation, and application of the electron microscope, including light microscopy. Average of three laboratory hours per week. Prerequisites: 12 hours of biology, PHYS 211, PHYS 212 recommended, and consent of instructor. (UG & G)

BIOL 307 [507] INTRODUCTION TO PALEONTOLOGY (4) Examination of major forms of life with the emphasis on appearances, diversification, and extinctions during the different geologic periods. Prerequisite: Minimum 10 credits in Biology. (UG & G)

BIOL 310 [510] ENVIRONMENTAL CONSERVATION (4) Conservation practices and problems. Soil, water, forest, and wildlife resources with emphasis on interrelationships. Specialists in various phases of local, state, and federal conservation work conduct or assist in numerous field trips. Average of three laboratory hours per week. Prerequisites: BIOL 110 or 201 and 10 hours of Biology or a combination of 10 hours from biology, geography and physical sciences. (UG & G)

BIOL 311 FUNCTIONAL ANATOMY OF HUMANS (4) Organ systems of the human with emphasis on physiological processes including integration of these processes from the cellular to organismal level. Average of three laboratory hours per week. No credit for those who have completed BIOL 109, BIOL 174 or BIOL 213-214. Prerequisites: BIOL 207, CHEM 102. (UG)

- BIOL 315 [515] MEDICAL MICROBIOLOGY (4) Pathogenesis of bacterial, viral, rickettsial and fungal diseases with emphasis on medically important bacteria and microbiological techniques. Recommended for students pursuing a career in medical sciences. Prerequisites: BIOL 110 or BIOL 201; CHEM 102 or CHEM 106 (may be taken concurrently). Either this course or BIOL 318 but not both may count toward Biology Major or M.S. degree in Biology. (UG & G)
- BIOL 317 [517] MICROTÉCHNIQUE (4) Techniques used in preparation of plant and animal tissues for histological examination. Average of three laboratory hours per week. Prerequisites: BIOL 110 or BIOL 201. (CHEM 102 may be taken concurrently.) (UG & G)
- BIOL 318 [518] MICROBIOLOGY (4) Biology of microorganisms with emphasis on bacteria. Microbial morphology, physiology and genetics and the role of microorganisms in natural processes and disease. Laboratory includes methods of observing, isolating and identifying bacteria. Average of three laboratory hours per week. Either this course or BIOL 315 but not both may count toward Biology Major or M.S. degree in Biology. Prerequisites: CHEM 330 or CHEM 331 (may be taken concurrently). (UG & G)
- BIOL 331 [531] PLANT MORPHOLOGY (4) A survey of the plant kingdom with emphases on evolutionary relationships, morphology, and life histories as affected by environmental conditions. A Saturday field trip may be required. Average of three laboratory hours per week. Prerequisite: BIOL 205. (UG & G)
- BIOL 335 ECONOMIC BOTANY (3) Plants and plant products which provide man with various luxuries and necessities. Emphasis will be on higher plants commercially important in North America. Prerequisite: BIOL 205. (UG)
- BIOL 341 [543] FRESH WATER ALGAE (4) Systematics, structure, ecology, physiology, and life histories of fresh water algae. Laboratory will include methods of collection, culture, and experimental study of selected species. Prerequisites: BIOL 205, BIOL 331 recommended. (UG & G)
- BIOL 345 [545] MYCOLOGY (4) Morphology, classification, life histories, and economic applications of the fungi. Average of three laboratory hours per week. Prerequisite: BIOL 205. (UG & G)
- BIOL 347 MARINE BIOLOGY (3) Major features of the marine environment emphasizing biological aspects and specific adaptations of marine organisms. Prerequisites: BIOL 205, BIOL 207. (UG)
- BIOL 349 [549] MARINE BOTANY (4) The ecology, physiology and identification of marine plants emphasizing the Chesapeake Bay and coastal areas of Maryland. Prerequisites: BIOL 347, BIOL 331 strongly recommended. (UG & G)
- BIOL 351 [551] FIELD AND SYSTEMATIC VERTEBRATE ZOOLOGY (4) Evolution, distribution, and definitive features of each class are studied comparatively. Extensive field and laboratory work deals with morphological, taxonomic, ecological, and behavioral features of selected vertebrate groups and species. Average of three laboratory hours per week. Prerequisite: BIOL 207. (UG & G)
- BIOL 353 [553] INVERTEBRATE ZOOLOGY (4) Aquatic and terrestrial species of phyla from the Protozoa through the Echinodermata with special emphasis on local forms. Economic, ecological, and taxonomic considerations. Average of three laboratory hours per week. Prerequisite: BIOL 207. (UG & G)
- BIOL 355 ANIMAL PARASITOLOGY (4) Major groups of animal parasites and their vectors. Emphasis will be placed on the more important human parasites. Prerequisites: BIOL 214 or BIOL 311. (UG)
- BIOL 360 [560] HISTOLOGY (4) Tissues of the vertebrate body. Prerequisites: BIOL 311 or BIOL 214. (UG & G)
- BIOL 367 [568] ENDOCRINOLOGY (3) Endocrine mechanisms regulating homeostasis and functional integrity of animals with emphasis on vertebrates. Prerequisites: BIOL 214 or BIOL 311, CHEM 102. (UG & G)
- BIOL 371 [571] ANIMAL BEHAVIOR (4) Ethological approach to the comparative study of animal behavior. Major emphases are on the adaptive function of behavior and classification of behavioral mechanisms. Average of three laboratory hours per week. Prerequisite: BIOL 207. (UG & G)

- BIOL 381 BIOLOGICAL LITERATURE (3) Familiarization with the literature of biology through the preparation of papers requiring a knowledge of techniques for exploring the literature. Three one-hour lectures per week. Not for major or minor credit or M.S. degree in Biology. Fulfills the advanced writing requirements. Prerequisites: ENGL 102 or 190, at least ten hours of Biology. (UG)
- BIOL 389 CURRENT DEVELOPMENTS IN BIOLOGY (3) Current directions of research in a major area of the biological sciences. Sufficient background will be given for the appreciation of the significance of these developments. May not be repeated for major credits. Prerequisites: BIOL 205, 207, and consent of instructor. (UG)
- BIOL 398 STUDENT TEACHING IN SECONDARY EDUCATION-BIOLOGY (12) (UG)
- BIOL 401 [501] GENETICS (4) Introduction to genetics including Mendelian genetics, linkage and mapping, nucleic acid structure, replication and function, protein synthesis and the genetic code, mutation, gene regulation in bacteria and viruses, and population genetics. Laboratory includes work with Drosophila, fungi, bacteria and viruses. Average of three laboratory hours per week. Prerequisites: BIOL 110 or BIOL 201, CHEM 330 or CHEM 331 (may be taken concurrently). (UG & G)
- BIOL 402 [502] GENERAL ECOLOGY (4) Interrelationship between animals, plants and their natural environments, emphasizing the specific biomes available for study in Maryland. Individual projects will be required. Average of three laboratory hours per week. Prerequisites: BIOL 110 or 201, and either BIOL 202 or 205 or 207. (UG & G)
- BIOL 403 [503] ADVANCED GENETICS (3) Emphasis on the molecular basis of gene action. Discussion of current work and methods related to the problem of gene structure, function, and mutation including the translation and regulation of genetic information. Prerequisite: BIOL 401 or its equivalent. (UG & G)
- BIOL 404 [504] ECOLOGICAL TECHNIQUES (3) Lectures and readings on investigative techniques employed by ecologists in the various specialty fields. An individual investigation, laboratory or field, using appropriate equipment, is required. Prerequisite: BIOL 402 or its equivalent. (UG & G)
- BIOL 406 [506] LIMNOLOGY (4) Physical, chemical, and biological factors that affect fresh-water organisms, and some of the standard methods used to analyze these factors. Average of three laboratory hours per week. Prerequisites: BIOL 205, BIOL 207, BIOL 402 is recommended, CHEM 102, PHYS 212. (UG & G)
- BIOL 408 [508] CELL BIOLOGY (4) The molecular and morphological organization of the cell in relationship to cellular activities with emphasis on eukaryotic cells. Average of three laboratory or discussion hours per week. Prerequisites: BIOL 207; CHEM 330 or CHEM 331. (UG & G)
- BIOL 411 [511] WILDLIFE BIOLOGY (4) Important wildlife species with emphasis on aspects of research and management. Specific techniques and problems are studied in the field. Average of three hours per week in laboratory and field work. Prerequisite: BIOL 207. (UG & G)
- BIOL 413 [513] EVOLUTION (3) Concepts of biological evolution, the history of the development of these concepts, and current topics in evolutionary biology. Prerequisites: BIOL 202 and either BIOL 205 or 207. (UG & G)
- BIOL 421 [521] IMMUNOLOGY (3) Fundamental principles of immunology with emphasis on the nature of antibodies and antigens, blood groups, antibody-antigen reactions, hypersensitivity, autoimmunization, tumor immunology, artificial grafting and the preparation of vaccines. Prerequisites: BIOL 315 or 318. (UG & G)
- BIOL 422 ADVANCED IMMUNOLOGY (2) An advanced study of current topics in immunology including humoral and cell-mediated immunity, histocompatibility, hypersensitivity, autoimmunity, tumor immunology, immunologic disorders and the use of monoclonal antibodies as a research tool. Prerequisites: 421 or its equivalent or consent of instructor. (UG-G)

- BIOL 425 [525] DISSECTION OF THE UPPER EXTREMITY (2) Gross anatomical dissection of the human upper extremity including the muscles, nerves and blood vessels which supply the appendage. Special emphasis will be placed on development of techniques which assure careful and accurate dissection. Will be offered only in the minimester. Prerequisites: BIOL 213 or BIOL 311 and consent of instructor. (UG & G)
- BIOL 427 NEUROMUSCULAR MECHANISMS OF THE UPPER BODY (2) Gross anatomy of the human upper extremity and cranial nerves. Upper extremity emphasis includes muscle action, innervation, and major spinal cord pathways. Olfactory, optic, auditory, and vestibular functions of cranial nerves are stressed. One lecture and two laboratory periods per week. Prerequisites: BIOL 110; BIOL 311 or BIOL 213. (UG)
- BIOL 428 VIROLOGY (3) Pathogenesis, morphology, and life cycles of bacterial, animal and plant viruses. Emphasis will be on animal viruses causing disease in humans. Prerequisites: BIOL 315 or 318. (UG)
- BIOL 431 [530] HORTICULTURE (4) Plant culture and application to developing desirable plantings on home grounds or in public places with examples of appropriate types of plants for specific situations. Average of three laboratory hours per week. Prerequisite: BIOL 205. (UG & G)
- BIOL 432 [532] VASCULAR PLANT TAXONOMY (4) A study of the history and principles of vascular plant systematics with laboratory time devoted to collection and identification of plants in the local flora. An average of three laboratory hours per week. Prerequisites: BIOL 205, BIOL 331 or consent of instructor. (UG & G)
- BIOL 435 [535] PLANT ECOLOGY (4) Environmental factors and processes which control plant distribution, plant communities, and vegetational biomes of North America. An average of 3 laboratory hours per week with 2 required 3-day weekend field trips and a Saturday field trip emphasizing examples from Maryland and the MidAtlantic States. Prerequisites: BIOL 202 and 205. (UG & G)
- BIOL 436 [536] PLANT PHYSIOLOGY (4) Life functions of plants as related to structure at all levels: cells, organs, and the complete organism. Consideration of the interaction of environmental and genetic factors on plant metabolism. Average of three laboratory hours per week. Prerequisites: BIOL 205 and CHEM 102, CHEM 330 recommended. (UG & G)
- BIOL 439 [539] PLANT ANATOMY (4) Origin and development of organs and tissue systems in vascular plants. Average of three laboratory hours per week. Prerequisite: BIOL 205. (UG & G)
- BIOL 441 [541] PLANT PATHOLOGY (4) Plant diseases, their symptoms, causal agents, etiology, epidemiology, prevention, and control. Average of three laboratory hours per week. Prerequisite: BIOL 205. (UG & G)
- BIOL 456 [556] ORNITHOLOGY (4) Systematics, distribution, physiology, behavior and ecology of birds. Emphasis is on bird identification and techniques of studying birds in the field. Several early morning field trips are required. Average of three laboratory hours per week. Prerequisite: BIOL 207. (UG & G)
- BIOL 458 [558] MAMMALOLOGY (4) Evolution, comparative morphology, systematics, and distribution of mammals. Representative life histories are considered. Average of three laboratory hours per week. Prerequisite: BIOL 207. (UG & G)
- BIOL 461 [561] ENTOMOLOGY (4) Laboratory and field course in insects. Identification and recognition of the more common families and orders, and a study of their structure, behavior, ecology, economic importance, and control. Average of three laboratory hours per week. Prerequisite: BIOL 207. (UG & G)
- BIOL 463 [563] ANIMAL EMBRYOLOGY (4) Developmental anatomy and the underlying principles involved in development. This last area will be approached from an experimental base. Average of three laboratory hours per week. Prerequisites: BIOL 214 or BIOL 311. (UG & G)

BIOL 465 [565] MAMMALIAN PHYSIOLOGY (4) Organ systems of mammals with special emphasis on the human. Average of three laboratory hours per week. Prerequisites: BIOL 213, BIOL 214, or BIOL 311; and CHEM 102. (UG & G)

BIOL 467 [567] HERPETOLOGY (4) Systematic survey of the modern reptiles and amphibians. Emphasis is placed on the evolution of morphological and behavioral traits which have enabled the reptiles and amphibians to successfully exploit their individual habitats. Laboratory includes systematic classification, student seminars and field work. Average of three laboratory hours per week. Prerequisite: BIOL 207. (UG & G)

BIOL 469 [569] COMPARATIVE ANIMAL PHYSIOLOGY (4) Functions, interactions, and regulation of organ systems in animals and their roles in sensory perception and integration, movement, oxygen utilization, energy procurement, temperature regulation, and water metabolism. Prerequisites: BIOL 207, CHEM 102. (UG & G)

BIOL 481 [581] DIRECTED READING IN BIOLOGY (1-3) Independent reading in an area selected by the student in consultation with the instructor. Only one credit may be applied toward the Biology Major. May not be applied toward M.S. degree in Biology or the Biology minor. May be repeated for a maximum of 3 credits. Prerequisite: A minimum of ten hours in biology. (UG & G)

BIOL 485 SEMINAR IN MICROBIOLOGY AND CELLBIOLOGY (1) Current Research Articles in Cell Biology and Microbiology are reviewed. May be taken for a maximum of 2 credits. Prerequisites: Twelve credit hours in Biology, including BIOL 315, 318, 401, or 408. (UG)

BIOL 486 BIOLOGY MAJORS SEMINAR (1) Specific topic examined at the molecular, cellular, organismic and ecological levels of organization. Students will be required to present an oral and written report on an aspect of the topic. Prerequisites: Ten hours in biology or consent of instructor, BIOL 202, 205, and 207. (UG)

BIOL 491 INDEPENDENT RESEARCH IN BIOLOGY (2-3) Independent investigation of a problem under the supervision of a staff member culminating in a written presentation. Prerequisite: Prior written consent of instructor who will direct research; 15 hours in biology recommended. May not be used toward Biology minor or M.S. degree in biology. May be repeated for a maximum of 5 credits. (UG)

BIOL 493 INTERNSHIP IN BIOLOGY (3) Practical application of biology in businesses, industries, public and private agencies. Not for major or minor credit. Prerequisites: 2.75 GPA, junior or senior standing, Major in Biology and consent of Biology internship coordinator. Special permit and Co-op fee required. May be repeated once for credit. Grading on a S/U basis. (UG)

BIOL 494 [594] TRAVEL STUDY (1-3) A detailed investigation of field oriented problems in biology away from the Towson State campus. Locations and topics to be selected by the department and instructors sponsoring the program. May be repeated for a maximum of 3 credits. Prerequisite: BIOL 110 and consent of instructor. (UG & G)

BIOL 495 COURSE RESEARCH (1) Research related to a specific course successfully completed by the student. By invitation or with the consent of the instructor. Not for credit toward the biology minor or M.S. degree in Biology. Prerequisite: BIOL 110. May be repeated once for research related to a different course successfully completed by the student. (UG)

BIOL 498 HONORS RESEARCH IN BIOLOGY (2) Individual research of an extensive nature under the direction of a staff member, culminating in an honors thesis. Credit for BIOL 498 not awarded until BIOL 499 is successfully completed. Prerequisites: open only to advanced honors candidates and by consent of instructor. May not be used toward M.S. degree in Biology. (UG)

BIOL 499 SENIOR THESIS IN BIOLOGY (2) Writing of an honors thesis based on individual research done under the direction of a staff member. Prerequisites: open only to advanced honors candidates and by consent of instructor. May not be used toward M.S. degree in Biology. (UG)

BUSINESS LAW (BULA)

(Courses Offered Through the Accounting Department)

- BULA 225 LEGAL ENVIRONMENT OF BUSINESS Sources of law and our legal system, emphasis on court jurisdiction, procedure, tort & criminal law, contracts, sales, anti-trust, law, and workers compensation and consumer, environmental & international law. Not open to students who have taken 0506.325, BUAD 325, ACCT 325, ACCT 225. (UG)
 BULA 226 BUSINESS LAW Law of agency, partnership, corporations, real and personal property, estates, bankruptcy, commercial paper and secured transactions. Not open to students who have taken: 0506.326, BUAD 326, ACCT 326, ACCT 226. Prerequisite: BULA 225. (UG)

CHEMISTRY (CHEM)Lower Division

- CHEM 100 CHEMISTRY FOR NON-SCIENTISTS (3) Current and future technological and scientific developments, including such topics as nuclear power, environment, pollution and body chemistry. Three lecture-demonstration hours. Offered each semester. (UG)
 CHEM 101 GENERAL CHEMISTRY I (4) Atomic and molecular structure; theories of bonding; stoichiometry; chemical reactions; states of matter; solutions. Laboratory work involves experiments dealing with the determination of physical properties of matter, molecular weights of compounds, stoichiometry, atomic and molecular structure and common types of reactions. Three lecture hours and one three-hour laboratory period. Prerequisite: MATH 115 or MATH 119 (either may be taken concurrently). Offered each semester. (UG)
 CHEM 102 GENERAL CHEMISTRY II (4) Chemical thermodynamics, equilibrium, kinetics; solutions; acids, bases, and their aqueous equilibria; solubility product; oxidation-reduction and electrochemistry; elements of coordination and nuclear chemistry; chemistry of some important metallic and nonmetallic elements. Laboratory includes: preparation and quantitative analysis of a coordination compound; semimicro qualitative analysis of selected cations and anions. Three lecture hours and one three-hour laboratory period. Prerequisite: CHEM 101. Offered each semester. (UG)

- CHEM 105 CHEMISTRY FOR ALLIED HEALTH PROFESSIONS I (4) An introduction to the concepts of general chemistry, including states of matter, atomic structure and periodic table, molecular structure, chemical reactions, intermolecular forces, solutions, buffers and pH, and radioactivity. Laboratory includes data handling, and chemical and instrumental techniques. This course may not be used as a prerequisite for the chemistry major program. Three lecture hours and one three-hour laboratory. Prerequisite: MATH 115 or MATH 119 (either may be taken concurrently). (UG)
 CHEM 106 CHEMISTRY FOR ALLIED HEALTH PROFESSIONS II (4) An introduction to organic chemistry and biochemistry using a functional group approach; physical and chemical properties and typical reactions of organic compounds; composition and properties of lipids, carbohydrates, proteins, and nucleic acids, and the role of enzymes, vitamins and hormones. The laboratory introduces the student to simple techniques of synthesis and analysis, including chromatographic and chemical methods. Three lecture hours and one three-hour laboratory. Prerequisite: CHEM 105. (UG)
 CHEM 112 HONORS CHEMISTRY FOR NON-SCIENTISTS (3) Discussion of a selected aspect of chemistry and its applications to technology, environment, and society. Topics will vary. Three lecture-demonstration hours. Prerequisites: High school chemistry recommended. Special permit from Honors College Committee required. (UG)
 CHEM 210 PRINCIPLES AND METHODS OF CHEMICAL ANALYSIS (4) A one semester course in chemical analysis for non-chemistry majors emphasizing the theory and application of common gravimetric, volumetric, chromatographic, spectrophotometric, and electrometric techniques. Two lecture hours, one recitation hour, and four laboratory hours. Prerequisite: CHEM 102. Offered each spring. (UG)
 CHEM 211 QUANTITATIVE ANALYTICAL CHEMISTRY (5) Principles and methods of treatment of data pertaining to chemical analysis followed by a development of the theory and techniques associated with common gravimetric, volumetric, and spectrophotometric methods of analysis. Three lecture hours and two three-hour laboratory periods. Prerequisite: CHEM 102. Offered each fall. (UG)
 CHEM 295 COURSE RESEARCH (1-3) Principles and methods of treatment of data pertaining to chemical analysis followed by a development of the theory and techniques associated with common gravimetric, volumetric, and spectrometric methods of analysis. (UG)
 CHEM 296 COURSE RESEARCH (1-2) Principles and methods of treatment of data pertaining to chemical analysis followed by a development of the theory and techniques associated with common gravimetric, volumetric, and spectrometric methods of analysis. (UG)
 CHEM 330 ESSENTIALS OF ORGANIC CHEMISTRY (5) A one semester course in organic chemistry for non-chemistry majors taught on a conceptual basis. Emphasis will be on principles, mechanisms, and modern techniques. Laboratory will include synthesis and identification of organic compounds. Three lecture hours, one recitation hour and one three-hour laboratory period. Prerequisite: CHEM 102. Offered each semester. (UG)
 CHEM 331 ORGANIC CHEMISTRY I (5) Structure, stereochemistry, reactions and their mechanisms, preparation and properties of: alkanes, alkenes, alkynes, aromatic compounds, alkyl halides and alcohols. Laboratory techniques include purification, spectroscopic (IR, NMR), and chromatographic (GLPC) methods of identification, and synthesis. Three lecture hours, one hour of laboratory lecture, and one three-hour laboratory period. Prerequisite: CHEM 102. Offered each semester. (UG)

Upper Division

- CHEM 332 ORGANIC CHEMISTRY II (5) Structure, reactions and their mechanisms, preparation and properties of: alcohols, ethers, aldehydes, ketones, carboxylic acids and their derivatives, amines, carbohydrates, etc. Laboratory emphasizes synthetic techniques and modern qualitative organic analysis using chemical reactions and IR, UV, and NMR. Three lecture hours, one hour of laboratory lecture and one three-hour laboratory period. Prerequisite: CHEM 331. Offered each semester. (UG)
- CHEM 340 PHYSICAL CHEMISTRY: PRINCIPLES AND APPLICATIONS (3) A survey of physiochemical theory, experimental methods, and applications; thermodynamics, solutions and phases, reaction kinetics, applications of quantum mechanics, and instrumental techniques, illustrating the contributions of physical chemistry to other scientific fields. Three hours lecture/discussion. Prerequisites: CHEM 102, MATH 115 or MATH 119, and PHYS 203 or PHYS 211 or PHYS 241 or equivalent. MATH 273 is strongly recommended. (UG)
- CHEM 341 [542] PHYSICAL CHEMISTRY—THERMODYNAMICS (3) Thermodynamics, phase relations, solution properties, chemical equilibrium and electrochemistry. Three lecture hours. Prerequisites: CHEM 102, MATH 274, and PHYS 242 or PHYS 212 or equivalent. Offered each fall. (UG & G)
- CHEM 342 [543] PHYSICAL CHEMISTRY—STRUCTURE AND KINETICS (3) Introduction to quantum chemistry; atomic and molecular structure, atomic and molecular spectroscopy, introduction to statistical thermodynamics, kinetic theory, and chemical kinetics. Three lecture hours. Prerequisites: CHEM 102, MATH 274, and PHYS 222 or PHYS 242 or PHYS 212 or equivalent. Offered each spring. (UG & G)
- CHEM 343 [544] PHYSICAL CHEMISTRY LABORATORY I (2) Laboratory projects in physical chemistry and discussion of experimental techniques. One lecture hour and one three-hour laboratory period. Prerequisites: CHEM 210 or CHEM 211 and CHEM 340 or CHEM 341 or CHEM 342. (UG & G)
- CHEM 344 [545] PHYSICAL CHEMISTRY LABORATORY II (2) Laboratory projects in physical chemistry and discussion of advanced experimental techniques. One lecture hour and one three-hour laboratory period. Prerequisites: CHEM 211 and CHEM 341 or CHEM 342. (UG & G)
- CHEM 350 [551] PRINCIPLES OF BIOCHEMISTRY (5) Introduction to Biochemistry. Discussion of protein structure, enzyme kinetics and enzyme catalysis. Survey of intermediary metabolism of carbohydrates. Discussion of lipid structure, lipid metabolism and membranes. The laboratory will introduce modern methods of biochemistry: electrophoresis, enzyme kinetics and enzyme isolation and purification. Three lecture hours and one four-hour laboratory period. Not recommended for Chemistry majors. Prerequisite: CHEM 330 or CHEM 332. Offered each fall. (UG & G)
- CHEM 355 BIOCHEMISTRY (3) Structure and function of biopolymers: proteins, nucleic acids and carbohydrates. Mechanisms of enzyme action, including coenzyme catalyzed reactions. Biological membranes. Enzyme kinetics, and bioenergetics. Intermediary metabolism and its regulation. Three lecture hours. Prerequisites: CHEM 211, CHEM 332, either CHEM 341 or CHEM 342. Not open to students with credit for CHEM 353. Offered each spring. (UG)
- CHEM 356 BIOCHEMISTRY LABORATORY (2) Physical methods in biochemistry, including spectrophotometry, centrifugation and ultra-centrifugation, electrophoresis and chromatography. Isolation and purification of proteins and nucleic acids. Enzyme kinetics, and the binding of small molecules to macromolecules. One lecture hour and one three-hour laboratory period. Prerequisites: CHEM 355 (may be taken concurrently). Not open to students with credit for CHEM 353. Offered each spring. (UG)
- CHEM 361 [562] CHEMICAL AND BACTERIOLOGICAL STUDIES ON WATER POLLUTION (3) Deals mainly with water pollution: causes, effects, and cures. Considers details of water and waste treatment. Emphasizes technical details of analysis of water. Concerns standards of water purity and variables involved. Demonstration of analytical methods to be given. Case studies and applications are viable approaches to this topic. Three lecture hours. Prerequisites: CHEM 102 and BIOL 110. Offered evening and summer if sufficient demand. (UG & G)
- CHEM 363 [564] CHEMISTRY OF DANGEROUS DRUGS (3) A study of the chemistry, methods of detection and analysis of narcotics, depressants, stimulants and hallucinogens. Also, the influence of physiochemical properties upon the pharmacological effects of drug receptor interactions. Historical, forensic, and socio-economic implications associated with drug abuse will also be reviewed. Three lecture hours. Prerequisites: CHEM 330 and CHEM 350 or CHEM 331-332. CHEM 210 or CHEM 211 recommended. Offered evening and summer if sufficient demand. (UG & G)
- CHEM 365 [566] POLYMER CHEMISTRY (3) Course will cover the following aspects of polymers: structure, physical properties, methods of preparation, rheology, mechanical properties, degradation and stabilization, application and fabrication, and related contemporary topics. Carbon chain and heterochain polymers will be discussed, and spectroscopic methods of analysis (IR, UV and NMR) will be presented. Three lecture hours. Prerequisites: CHEM 101, CHEM 102, CHEM 331 and CHEM 332. Offered evening and summer if sufficient demand. (UG & G)
- CHEM 367 [568] FORENSIC CHEMISTRY (3) An introduction to chemical and physical analyses used by a modern crime laboratory in the evaluation of physical evidence encountered in criminal acts. Areas of concentration will include drug analysis, toxicology, forensic serology, explosives analysis, arson examination, firearms and tool marks and trace evidence. Emphasis will be placed on the value of such examinations as presented by the expert witness in a criminal trial. Three lecture hours. Prerequisites: CHEM 101, CHEM 102, CHEM 210 or CHEM 211, CHEM 330 or CHEM 332. Offered evening and summer if sufficient demand. (UG & G)
- CHEM 369 [570] ORGANOMETALLIC CHEMISTRY (3) A survey of the chemistry of compounds containing carbon-metal bonds. Syntheses, reactions and structures of compounds such as metal alkyls, carbonyls, pi-complexes, and the uses of these compounds in synthesis will be considered. Three lecture hours. Prerequisites: CHEM 331, CHEM 332; CHEM 423 recommended. Offered evening and summer if sufficient demand. (UG & G)
- CHEM 371 [572] SPECTROMETRIC METHODS IN CHEMISTRY (4) This course deals with the theory and application of three of the major instruments used in chemistry today: nuclear magnetic resonance spectroscopy, infrared spectroscopy, and mass spectrometry. Emphasis will be on the practical use of the instruments in pure and applied chemical investigations involving students in the actual operation of the instruments. Two lecture hours and four laboratory hours. Prerequisites: CHEM 332 and consent of instructor. Offered evening and summer if sufficient demand. (UG & G)
- CHEM 373 CHEMICAL AND LABORATORY SAFETY (1) A survey will be presented of laboratory precautions, of hazards in laboratory resulting from reactions, and of toxicities. Emphasis will be placed on prevention of problems and on where safety information can be acquired. Prerequisites: CHEM 101, CHEM 102, and either CHEM 330 or CHEM 332, and consent of instructor. (UG)
- CHEM 383 [584] MODERN CHEMISTRY FOR TEACHERS: PRINCIPLES AND APPLICATIONS I (3) Survey of principles and applications of chemistry for secondary school teachers. Lecture: chemical reactions, stoichiometry, atomic structure, and theories of chemical bonding. Laboratory: an examination of experiments suitable for the secondary school curriculum with emphasis upon laboratory safety. Two lecture hours and two hours of laboratory-discussion. Prerequisite: high school algebra, experience as secondary school teacher, and consent of instructor. (UG & G)
- CHEM 384 [585] MODERN CHEMISTRY FOR TEACHERS: PRINCIPLES AND APPLICATIONS II (3) Survey of principles and applications of chemistry for secondary school teachers. Lecture: properties of solutions, acid/base theories, reaction kinetics, chemical equilibrium, thermodynamics, states of matter, and nuclear chemistry. Laboratory: an examination of experiments suitable for the secondary school curriculum with emphasis upon laboratory safety. Two lecture hours and two hours of laboratory-discussion. Prerequisite: CHEM 383 or CHEM 584 and consent of instructor. (UG & G)

CHEM 385 [586] MODERN CHEMISTRY FOR TEACHERS: PRINCIPLES AND APPLICATIONS III (3) Experimental chemistry for secondary school teachers: principles of laboratory measurements, design of experiments, obtaining and interpreting experimental data, laboratory techniques and instrumentation. Two lecture hours and two hours of laboratory-discussion. Prerequisite: CHEM 384 or CHEM 585 and consent of instructor. (UG & G)

CHEM 386 [587] MODERN CHEMISTRY FOR TEACHERS: PRINCIPLES AND APPLICATIONS IV (3) Survey of principles and applications of physical chemistry for secondary school teachers. Chemical thermodynamics, descriptions of solutions, kinetic theory of gases, reaction rates and mechanisms, and introduction to quantum mechanics. Three lecture hours. Prerequisite: CHEM 385 or CHEM 586 and consent of instructor. (UG & G)

CHEM 387 [588] MODERN CHEMISTRY FOR TEACHERS: PRINCIPLES AND APPLICATIONS V (3) Organic chemistry for secondary school teachers. Functional groups, reaction mechanisms, natural products. Simple and complex techniques of purification, analysis, and synthesis. Three lecture hours and one hour of laboratory. Prerequisite: CHEM 386 or CHEM 587 and consent of instructor. (UG & G)

CHEM 388 [589] MODERN CHEMISTRY FOR TEACHERS: PRINCIPLES AND APPLICATIONS VI (3) Principles and applications of biochemistry for secondary school teachers. Structures and functions of biological molecules, enzymes, metabolic energies, and nucleic acids. Three lecture hours. Prerequisite: CHEM 387 or CHEM 588 and consent of instructor. (UG & G)

CHEM 389 [590] MODERN CHEMISTRY FOR TEACHERS: PRINCIPLES AND APPLICATIONS VII (3) Modern instrumental methods for secondary school teachers. An integrated laboratory-lecture course discussing four major instrumental methods and their uses in solving typical chemical problems: spectrophotometry, nuclear magnetic resonance spectroscopy, mass spectrometry, and chromatography. Two lecture hours and two hours of laboratory-discussion; short field trips may be required. Prerequisite: CHEM 388 or CHEM 589 and consent of instructor. (UG & G)

CHEM 391-394 [501-504] SPECIAL PROBLEMS IN CHEMISTRY (1-3) A laboratory or library problem in chemistry to be selected by the student in consultation with the instructor. Students are required to submit a written report. May be repeated for credit as CHEM 392, CHEM 393, etc. For CHEM 391-394, performance will be graded as satisfactory (grade of S) or unsatisfactory (grade of U). Prerequisite: Written consent of instructor. Offered each semester. (UG & G)

CHEM 395 INTERNSHIP IN CHEMISTRY (1-3) Students will be given credit in this cooperative education program for approved experience in Chemistry. A written final report will be submitted by student. Performance to be graded as satisfactory (grade of S) or unsatisfactory (grade of U). May be repeated for credit as CHEM 396, etc.; maximum: six credits total. Prerequisites: A grade of C or better in CHEM 332 and either CHEM 211 or CHEM 210, and consent of instructor. Offered each semester. (UG)

CHEM 401 [500] SEMINAR IN CHEMISTRY (1) An introduction to chemical literature. Attendance at all seminars and presentation of seminars to the Chemistry Department on topics selected by the Chemistry faculty or selected by the student and approved by the faculty. One and one-half hour seminar period. Prerequisites: CHEM 211, CHEM 332; Corequisite: CHEM 341 or CHEM 342. (UG & G)

CHEM 413 THEORY OF INSTRUMENTAL ANALYSIS (3) A discussion of spectroscopic, chromatographic and electrochemical systems, their design and their application to chemical analysis. Three lecture hours. Prerequisites: CHEM 211 and CHEM 341 or CHEM 342. Not open to students with credit for CHEM 411. Offered each fall. (UG)

CHEM 415 INSTRUMENTAL ANALYSIS LABORATORY (2) Experiments illustrate the application of spectroscopy, chromatography and electrochemistry to the solution of real problems in chemical analysis. Five laboratory hours. Prerequisite or co-requisite: CHEM 413. Not open to students with credit for CHEM 411. Offered each spring. (UG)

CHEM 417 [518] ADVANCED ANALYTICAL CHEMISTRY (3) A special topics course dealing with the theory and application of more recent and specialized techniques of chemical separation and analysis. Three lecture hours. Prerequisites: CHEM 415 or CHEM 411. Not open to students with credit for CHEM 412. (UG & G)

CHEM 423 INORGANIC CHEMISTRY (3) Atomic structure; valence bond and molecular orbital theories of bonding; symmetry concepts; syntheses, structures, and reactions of typical compounds of the representative and transition elements, including organometallic compounds; ligand field theory; special topics. Three lecture hours. Prerequisites: CHEM 211, CHEM 332 and CHEM 341 (may be taken concurrently) or CHEM 342 (may be taken concurrently). Not open to students with credit for CHEM 422. Offered each fall. (UG)

CHEM 424 INORGANIC CHEMISTRY LABORATORY (2) Techniques of synthesizing and characterizing inorganic compounds. Types of compounds will include coordination compounds, non-metallic compounds, volatile hydrides, and organometallics. Synthetic techniques will include inert atmosphere techniques, vacuum line, non-aqueous solvents, high temperature synthesis, etc. One lecture hour and one three-hour laboratory period. Prerequisites: CHEM 211, CHEM 332 and CHEM 423 (may be taken concurrently). Not open to students with credit for CHEM 422. (UG)

CHEM 431 [534] ADVANCED ORGANIC CHEMISTRY LABORATORY (3) The design of organic synthesis, advanced laboratory techniques, and determination of structure by chemical and spectroscopic means will be taught by laboratory problems and discussion. One lecture hour and six laboratory hours. Prerequisite: CHEM 332 and consent of instructor. (UG & G)

CHEM 432 [535] ADVANCED ORGANIC CHEMISTRY (3) Advanced topics will include several of: molecular orbital theory, pericyclic reactions, photochemistry, and determination of reaction mechanisms by: kinetics, linear free energy relationships, acid-base properties, acid-base catalysis, detection of intermediates, stereochemistry, etc. Three lecture hours. Prerequisites: CHEM 332 and CHEM 342; CHEM 341 is recommended. (UG & G)

CHEM 441 [546] ADVANCED PHYSICAL CHEMISTRY (3) Two topics in the area of Physical Chemistry to be covered in depth. Topics will be selected by the instructor after consultation with the students. Examples of possible topics are: formal wave mechanics, bonding, solid state, liquid state, surface chemistry, colloids, high polymers, rheology, ionic conductivity, electrochemical cells, scattering phenomena, statistical thermodynamics. Three lecture hours. Prerequisites: CHEM 341 and CHEM 342. (UG & G)

CHEM 452 [554] ADVANCED BIOCHEMISTRY (3) The use of physical methods in the study of biochemical systems, biochemical thermodynamics; the structure of proteins including X-ray crystallography, macromolecular solution thermodynamics, enzyme kinetics, and spectroscopic probing of macromolecular structure will be discussed. Three lecture hours. Prerequisites: CHEM 353 or CHEM 355. (UG & G)

CHEM 453 ADVANCED BIOCHEMISTRY LABORATORY (2) Basic laboratory techniques involving the synthesis, isolation, purification, identification, and further reactions of substances in biochemical systems. Two three-hour laboratory periods. Prerequisites: CHEM 353 or CHEM 356. (UG & G)

CHEM 461 FOURIER TRANSFORM NUCLEAR MAGNETIC RESONANCE (2) Measurement and use of chemical shift, coupling constants, relaxation times and nuclear Overhauser effects to obtain chemical information for selected nuclei. Pulsed Fourier transform data acquisition and manipulation and the optimization of spectral parameters. Special problems encountered with quadrupolar nuclei, negative gyromagnetic ratio, paramagnetic materials, large molecules and solids and some solutions to them. Multiple pulse techniques. 25 Lecture hours and 10 lab hours per semester. Prerequisites: CHEM 332, CHEM 413, and PHYS 212 or or PHYS 242 or equivalent; or consent of instructor. (UG)

CHEM 491-494 [505-508] INTRODUCTION TO RESEARCH IN CHEMISTRY (1-3) An original experimental or theoretical investigation. May be repeated for credit as CHEM.492, etc. CHEM.491 may not be taken in the student's final semester. Formal written report required. Evaluation by instructor- and student-selected members of faculty. For CHEM.491-494, performance will be graded as satisfactory (grade of S) or unsatisfactory (grade of U). Prerequisite: Consent of instructor. Offered each semester. (UG & G)

CHINESE (CHNS)

Lower Division

CHNS 101-102 ELEMENTARY MODERN CHINESE I, II (3, 3) An introduction to standard modern Chinese (Mandarin). Emphasis is on reading and writing of Chinese. Pin Yin, the phonetic system of pronouncing Chinese words is introduced. Text, sound tape and vocabulary cards. (UG)

CHNS 201-202 CHINESE INTERMEDIATE I, II (3,3) Thorough review of Elementary Chinese; vocabulary building; conversational fluency and prose composition; translation; reading and discussion of selected outside reading (newspapers, magazines, Chinese literature). (UG)

COMMUNICATION SCIENCES & DISORDERS (SPPA)

Lower Division

SPPA 105 SPEECH AND LANGUAGE DEVELOPMENT (3) Analysis of normal speech and language development, including the phonetic, semantic, and syntactic elements. Physiology of speech and language learning. Observation will be required. (UG)

SPPA 106 VOICE AND DICTION (3) Analysis of articulatory and vocal usage as they relates to spoken language. Improvement of skills in voice, articulation, and pronunciation. (UG)

SPPA 205 BASIC SIGN LANGUAGE (3) Principles and techniques for developing language in the communicatively impaired. Focus will be skill development in basic manual communication as a function of the English language and its application with hearing impaired and multiple handicapped populations. Participation and demonstration will be required. (UG)

SPPA 206 INTERMEDIATE SIGN LANGUAGE (3) The course will emphasize receptive and expressive conversational skills. Class will be conducted in a silent classroom (no voices allowed). Fingerspelling rate and fluency will be stressed. Non-verbal communication skills and basic interpretive practice will be provided. Discussions of the Registry for Interpreters for the Deaf (RID) and Deaf Awareness will be included. Prerequisite: SPPA 205 or consent of instructor. (UG)

SPPA 210 PHONETICS OF AMERICAN ENGLISH (3) Analysis of speech sounds of American English and the use of phonetic symbols to record them. Emphasizes ear training, phonetic transcription, and language recordings. (UG)

SPPA 213 GENERAL SEMANTICS (3) The effects of language and symbols upon individual adjustment and maladjustment. (UG)

Upper Division

SPPA 300 ANATOMY AND PHYSIOLOGY OF THE AUDITORY AND VOCAL MECHANISM (3) Anatomical structures involved in the communication processes of Speech, Language, and Hearing. Analysis of the functioning of these structures. Lectures and laboratory sessions will be required. Prerequisite: SPPA 105 (UG)

SPPA 301 HEARING AND SPEECH SCIENCE (3) Physical and psychological parameters of speech and hearing with inclusion of acoustics and instrumentation. Prerequisite: SPPA 105, or consent of instructor. (UG)

SPPA 302 SPEECH AND LANGUAGE PATHOLOGY I: PHONOLOGY (3) Theories of phonological development and clinical appreciation of current linguistic analysis techniques in description of articulation and other phonological disorders. Standardized testing procedures and treatment program development. Prerequisite: SPPA 301 or consent of instructor. (UG)

SPPA 304 SPEECH AND LANGUAGE PATHOLOGY II: LANGUAGE (3) Interaction of normal language development and language disorders including psycholinguistics, semantic development, information processing and auditory memory. Prerequisite: SPPA 301 or consent of instructor. (UG)

SPPA 305 STUTTERING—ETIOLOGY AND THERAPY (3) Analysis of etiologies, symptoms and therapeutic management of stuttering. Prerequisite: SPPA 105. (UG)

SPPA 306 SPEECH AND LANGUAGE PATHOLOGY III: ORGANIC DISORDERS (3) Etiology, differential diagnosis and therapeutic management in the area of organic and functional voice problems, cleft lip and palate, adult aphasia, cerebral palsy and mental retardation. Prerequisites: SPPA 302 and SPPA 304. (UG)

SPPA 311 TECHNICAL WRITING IN SPEECH/LANGUAGE PATHOLOGY AND AUDIOLOGY (3) Development of the student's expository writing Language Pathology and Audiology. Prerequisites: SPPA 302; ENGL 102 or ENGL 190 (cannot be taken concurrently). (UG)

SPPA 321 INTRODUCTION TO AUDIOLOGY (3) Anatomy, physiology and pathologies of the hearing mechanism. Instrumentation and techniques for the identification and management of hearing disorders inclusive of pure-tone and speech audiometrics and screening methods. Prerequisite: Major standing, or consent of instructor. (UG)

SPPA 341 CLINICAL AUDIOLOGY (3) Basic audiometry; audiogram interpretation; basic principles of audiologic habilitation including school hearing conservation. Prerequisite: SPPA 321, or consent of instructor. (UG)

SPPA 431 IDENTIFICATION AUDIOMETRY (3) Rationales and techniques for identifying auditory disorders in various populations and environments. Prerequisite: Consent of instructor. (UG)

SPPA 470-479 [570-579] SPECIAL TOPICS SEMINAR IN SPEECH-LANGUAGE PATHOLOGY AND AUDIOLOGY (3) Investigation of particular topics in the fields of speech and language pathology and audiology. The topic will vary each semester the course is offered. Prerequisite: Varies with topic. (UG & G)

SPPA 486 CLINICAL OBSERVATIONS AND TECHNIQUES (3) Observation and application of techniques related to the management of hearing, language, and speech disorders. Prerequisites: SPPA 302, SPPA 304. (UG)

SPPA 487 CLINICAL INTERNSHIP I (3) Clinical practice in therapeutic procedures with various types of speech, language and/or hearing disorders in the Towson State University Speech/Language/Hearing Clinic. (Repeatable once) Students must attend weekly class. Prerequisite: SPPA 486 and/or consent of chair. (UG)

SPPA 489 CLINICAL COUNSELING IN COMMUNICATION DISORDERS (3) Systems of directive and non-directive counseling utilized by speech and hearing clinicians. Techniques of interviewing, case history recording, and the conditioning of semantic reactions through interpersonal interaction. Prerequisite: SPPA 486. (UG)

SPPA 496 INDEPENDENT STUDY IN SPEECH-LANGUAGE PATHOLOGY AND AUDIOLOGY (1-4) Independent study in selected areas of Speech-Language Pathology and Audiology. Prerequisites: Invitation of Department only and upper division standing. May be repeated for a maximum of 6 credits. (UG)

SPPA 497 DIRECTED READINGS IN SPEECH-LANGUAGE PATHOLOGY AND AUDIOLOGY (1-4) Directed readings in selected areas of Speech Pathology and Audiology. Prerequisites: Upper division standing and by invitation of the department. May be repeated for a maximum of 6 credits. (UG)

SPPA 498 PROCTORING IN SPEECH-LANGUAGE PATHOLOGY AND AUDIOLOGY (3) Students serve as teaching apprentices or proctors in a course which they have already completed in the Department. May be repeated for a maximum of 6 credits. Prerequisites: Successful completion with a grade of "B" or better of the course which the student is to proctor and consent of the instructor. (UG)

COMMUNICATION STUDIES (COMM)

Lower Division

- COMM 003 SPECIAL TOPICS IN FORENSICS (3) In-depth study of selected areas dependent on student and faculty interest. May be repeated for a maximum of 6 credits when a different area is covered. Prerequisite: COMM 249 or SPCH 249. (UG)
- COMM 115 INTRODUCTION TO INTERPERSONAL COMMUNICATION (3) Face-to-face communication skills in various contexts. (UG)

COMM 131 FUNDAMENTALS OF SPEECH COMMUNICATION (3)

Historical and practical perspectives of rhetoric and public speaking, including their significance to the development of the humanities. Researching topics, developing ideas with evidence, preparing outlines, delivering, and critiquing speeches. NOTE. Not open to those who have completed SPCH 131 prior to Fall, 1989. (UG)

COMM 132 HONORS FUNDAMENTALS OF SPEECH COMMUNICATION (3)

Instruction in various kinds of public speaking (e.g., informative, persuasive, introductory, and impromptu): doing research, developing ideas with evidence, preparing outlines, delivering and critiquing speeches with emphasis on rhetorical criticism and ethical issues in speech communication. NOTE. Not open to those who have completed SPCH 132 prior to Fall, 1989. (UG)

COMM 216 GROUP DISCUSSION (3)

Theory and methods of group discussion; practice in forums, panels, and other forms of group communication. Prerequisite: COMM 131 or SPCH 131. NOTE. Not open to those who have completed SPCH 216 prior to Fall, 1989. (UG)

COMM 221 ORAL INTERPRETATION OF LITERATURE (3)

General principles of oral reading and the art of interpretation in poetry, drama, and the short story. Prerequisite: SPCH 131 or COMM 131, or consent of instructor. NOTE. Not open to those who have completed SPCH 221 prior to Fall, 1989. (UG)

COMM 249-250 FORENSICS I, II (1, 1)

Practical work in debate, oratory, extemporaneous speaking, and other speech projects. Study of national debate questions, and opportunity to participate in forensic activities or a Speaker's Bureau. Prerequisite: Consent of instructor. NOTE. Not open to those who have completed SPCH 249-250 prior to Fall, 1989. (UG)

Upper Division

COMM 301 NONVERBAL COMMUNICATION (3)

Examination of the elements of nonverbal communication: environment, personal space, physical appearance, body movement, gestures, touching behavior, facial expression, and vocal cues. Course will investigate the effects of these on interpersonal and public communication. Prerequisite: SPCH 131 or COMM 131, or consent of instructor. NOTE. Not open to those who have completed SPCH 301 prior to Fall, 1989. (UG)

COMM 303 ADVANCED PUBLIC SPEAKING (3)

Principles and application of evidence, composition, organization, analysis, and criticism. Manuscript, persuasive, and impromptu speaking. Not open to those who have completed SPCH 303. Prerequisite: COMM 131 or SPCH 131 or COMM 132 or SPCH 132. NOTE. Not open to those who have completed SPCH 303 prior to Fall, 1989. (UG)

COMM 304 PERSUASION (3)

Theory and practice of linguistic and symbolic persuasion; applications of rhetorical principles in social sciences and formal and informal communication; analysis of rhetoric through discussion. Prerequisites: Junior/Senior standing and consent of instructor. NOTE. Not open to those who have completed SPCH 304 prior to Fall, 1989. (UG)

COMM 315 BUSINESS AND PROFESSIONAL COMMUNICATION (3)

Professional interview and other dyadic encounters, curriculum vitae preparation, and exploration of communication in business structures: agendas, briefings, meetings, conferences, and strategies of attributional and communicative techniques. Not open to those who have completed MCOM 315. Prerequisite: COMM 131 or SPCH 131. (UG)

COMM 321 INTERPERSONAL COMMUNICATION (3)

Examination of self-concept, empathetic listening, meaning, and effects of conflict and human differences. Prerequisites: COMM 115 and COMM 131 or SPCH 131. NOTE. Not open to those who have completed SPCH 321 prior to Fall, 1989. (UG)

COMM 331 ADVOCACY AND ARGUMENT (3)

Essentials of argumentation; research, analysis, evidence, reasoning, case construction, and refutation. Applications in fact, value, and public policy settings. Prerequisite: COMM 131, or SPCH 131, or consent of instructor. NOTE. Not open to those who have completed SPCH 231 or SPCH 331 prior to Fall, 1989. (UG)

COMM 349-350 FORENSICS III, IV (1, 1) Refer to COMM 249-250 for course description. Prerequisite: COMM 249-250 or SPCH 249-250 and consent of instructor. NOTE. Not open to those who have completed SPCH 349-350 prior to Fall, 1989. (UG)

COMM 395 [595] INDEPENDENT STUDY IN ORAL INTERPRETATION (1-6) Independent study in selected areas of oral interpretation through directed readings, projects, papers, or seminars. May be repeated for a maximum of 6 credits. Prerequisites: COMM 221 or SPCH 221 and consent of instructor. NOTE. Not open to those who have completed SPCH 395 (595) prior to Fall, 1989. (UG & G)

COMM 418 [518] COMMUNICATION TRAINING AND DEVELOPMENT (3) Instructional strategies for implementing objectives, specifying and evaluating results. Prerequisites: COMM 115, COMM 216 or SPCH 216, and SPCH 231, COMM 331 or SPCH 331. (UG & G)

COMM 419 [519] ORGANIZATIONAL COMMUNICATION (3) Superior-subordinate communication, message dissemination, information overload, trust levels, and work group interaction. Prerequisite: COMM 131 or SPCH 131. NOTE. Not open to those who have completed SPCH 419 (519) prior to Fall, 1989. (UG & G)

COMM 420 [520] COMMUNICATION IN THE LEGAL PROCESS (3) Focus on communication questions and skills by lawyers, judges, litigants, and jurors in criminal and civil justice. Survey of research related to verbal and nonverbal aspects of communication as they apply to the legal concerns of interview, negotiation, and litigation. Prerequisites: Junior/Senior standing and consent of instructor. NOTE. Not open to those who have completed SPCH 420 (520) prior to Fall, 1989. (UG & G)

COMM 422 [522] CONFERENCE AND MEETING MANAGEMENT (3) Communicative details in preparing for and conducting events. Prerequisite: SPCH 419 or COMM 419. (UG & G)

COMM 425 [525] EVIDENCE AND CREDIBILITY (3) Evaluating major sources of public intelligence, including the press, government, and academicians. Prerequisite: Junior/Senior standing and consent of instructor. (UG & G)

COMM 470 SPECIAL TOPICS IN COMMUNICATION (3) In-depth study of a selected area dependent on student and faculty interest. May be repeated for a maximum of 6 credits when a different area is covered. Prerequisite: 18 credits of COMM, SPCH, or MCOM courses. (UG)

COMM 480 COMMUNICATION RESEARCH (3) Descriptive methods, data analysis, critical and ethical evaluation of communication studies. Prerequisite: 18 credits of COMM, SPCH or MCOM courses. (UG)

COMM 490 INTERNSHIP IN COMMUNICATION STUDIES (1-6) Practical field experiences. Under faculty and I/CE supervision the student works as an intern with a working professional in some field of communication. Prerequisite: Junior/Senior standing. Minimum overall GPA of 2.75 and 3.00 in the major. Completion of appropriate courses determined by the department. Please check with the I/CE office for specifics. (S/U grading only) (UG)

COMM 495 [695] INDEPENDENT STUDY IN COMMUNICATION STUDIES (1-6) Directed study through readings, projects, papers, or seminars. May be repeated for a maximum of 6 credits. Prerequisites: Junior/Senior standing and consent of instructor. (UG & G)

COMPUTER SCIENCE (COSC)

Lower Division

COSC 101 COMPUTERS AND SOCIETY (3) A survey of Computer Science for non-majors including a history of computing, an overview of computer organization and programming, and the social impact of computers. Applications such as business data processing, information management, computer aided instruction, process control, and simulation will be discussed. Projects will be chosen from various application areas. (UG)

COSC 115 INTRODUCTION TO INFORMATION SYSTEMS (4) Survey of computer and information sciences: history of computing, an overview of computer organization, programming, systems analysis and design, and productivity applications; with emphasis on business topics. Additional independent laboratory work is required. (UG)

COSC 165 FUNDAMENTALS OF COMPUTING (3) A first course in computing to provide the student with the requisite knowledge and experience to use computers effectively in the solution of numeric and non-numeric problems. Two lecture hours and two laboratory hours. Prerequisite: Two years of high school algebra or equivalent. (UG)

COSC 212 INTRODUCTION TO BUSINESS PROGRAMMING (3) A study of computer programming for business applications using a language such as COBOL. Students will design, implement, test and document programs in application areas such as payroll, accounting, inventory, and file maintenance. Not open to those who completed COBOL PROGRAMMING. Prerequisite: COSC 115 or programming experience. (UG)

COSC 221 PROGRAMMING IN APL (1) Syntax and usage of the APL programming language; primitive functions; operators; function definition; branching and looping; workspace operations; file operations; selected applications. Prerequisite: Knowledge of one other high level programming language. (UG)

COSC 223 PROGRAMMING IN BASIC (1) Syntax and usage of the BASIC programming language; data types, variables, control structures, arrays, subprograms; file and file handling; elementary graphics; selected applications. Prerequisite: Knowledge of one other high level programming language. Not open to those who have completed COSC 165. (UG)

COSC 225 PROGRAMMING IN PASCAL (1) Syntax and usage of the Pascal programming language; data types and structures, variables, pointers; control structures; procedures and functions; files and file handling; selected applications. Prerequisite: Knowledge of one other high level programming language. Not open to those who have completed COSC 236. (UG)

COSC 227 PROGRAMMING IN FORTRAN (1) Syntax and usage of the FORTRAN programming language; data types, control structures; arrays, subprogramming; file handling; selected applications. Prerequisite: Knowledge of one other high level programming language. Not open to those who have completed COSC 306. (UG)

COSC 236 INTRODUCTION TO COMPUTER SCIENCE I (4) Introduction to structured problem solving, algorithm development and computer programming with a modern high-level structured programming language such as Pascal, Ada, Modula-2 or C. Prerequisite: One year of high school computer course or satisfactory completion of COSC 115 or COSC 165 or equivalent. Corequisite: MATH 263. (UG)

COSC 237 INTRODUCTION TO COMPUTER SCIENCE II (4) Introduction to data representation, data structures and their implementations, computer systems concepts, application of data structures in sort and search algorithms and the software development process. Prerequisite COSC 236 and MATH 263. Corequisite: MATH 273. (UG)

COSC 280 ASSEMBLY LANGUAGE AND COMPUTER ARCHITECTURE (3) Principles and concepts of assembly language programming with an introduction to computer architecture, internal representation of instructions and data, addressing techniques, subprogramming, machine languages, macros, input/output, program linkage. Prerequisites: COSC 236 and MATH 263. Corequisite: COSC 237. (UG)

Upper Division

COSC 335 [515] ADVANCED BUSINESS PROGRAMMING (3) A course in advanced programming concepts for business applications. Topics to be covered include the report writer feature, table handling, sorting, direct access files, program segmentation, and job control language. Students will work on several case studies and programming projects. Prerequisite: COSC 212. (UG & G)

COSC 336 [516] DATA AND FILE STRUCTURES (4) Discussion of data and type abstractions, a number of different data structures and the trade-offs involved in the use of such data structures, the analysis of algorithms sort and search algorithms and a discussion of file organization and file access methods. Prerequisite: COSC 237. Corequisite: MATH 274. (UG & G)

COSC 338 [518] COMPUTER ORGANIZATION AND ARCHITECTURE (4) Principles of computer organizations and architecture emphasizing the integration of the functional components of the machine. Topics include: memory organization, microprogramming, multi-level machines, comparative computer systems, introduction to supercomputers and parallel computers, evolution and future trends of computer organization. 3 hours per week of laboratory work required. Prerequisite: COSC 280. (UG & G)

COSC 340 STRUCTURED DOCUMENTATION TECHNIQUES (3) Methodologies for writing effective documentation at the management, programmer, analyst and user levels. Prerequisite: COSC 336 (UG)

COSC 341 ADVANCED CONCEPTS OF INFORMATION SYSTEMS (3) Relationships among information systems, objectives and systems structure, covering human aspects, systems models, and applications. Prerequisites: COSC 115 and 236. (UG)

COSC 350 DATA COMMUNICATIONS AND TELEPROCESSING (4) Telecommunications terminology, concepts and their applications: voice & data communications, teletext, videotext, facsimile, video-conferencing, LAN's, public data networks, and telephone systems. Prerequisites: COSC 336 and 338. (UG)

COSC 355 [527] PROGRAMMING LANGUAGES: DESIGN AND IMPLEMENTATION (3) Underlying concepts in high level programming languages and techniques for their implementation, a survey of a selected group of such languages along with a discussion of the interrelationship between programming and programming languages. Prerequisite: COSC 336. (UG & G)

COSC 367 [534] DISCRETE STRUCTURES (3) This course deals with the basic mathematical structures used in computer science. It covers boolean algebra, graph theory, semigroups, grammar and automata, showing how these structures apply to heuristic programming, networks and computer construction. Prerequisite: COSC 336 (UG & G)

COSC 383 [543] DESIGN AND ANALYSIS OF ALGORITHMS (3) Algorithm design methods such as heuristics, backtrack programming, branch and bound, recursion, simulation, divide-and-conquer, balancing and dynamic programming. Efficiency of algorithms—Np-complete problems. Prerequisite: COSC 336 (UG & G)

COSC 397 INTERNSHIP IN COMPUTER SCIENCE (3) This course is designed to give Computer Science students the opportunity to be involved in a computing facility. Each student will be assigned to a specific facility associated with a local business or industry and will be supervised by the appropriate supervisor of the computing facility and by the faculty member in charge of the course. Prerequisites: 6 hours of upper division Computer Science courses and the consent of the instructor. (UG)

COSC 407 ANALYSIS OF INFORMATION PROCESSING SYSTEMS (3) Analysis of existing information processing systems including systems life cycle, interactive refinement of analysis & design, information gathering & logical specifications. Credit will NOT be awarded for both COSC 407 and COSC 411. Prerequisite: COSC 341. (UG)

COSC 409 DESIGN OF INFORMATION PROCESSING SYSTEMS (3) Design of information processing systems (IPS) including system life cycle emphasizing design & implementative review of logical systems, design of physical systems, implementation; evaluation & maintenance. Credit will NOT be awarded for both COSC 409 and COSC 411. Prerequisite: COSC 407. (UG)

COSC 411 [551] SYSTEMS AND DESIGN (3) A course designed to guide the student through the stages of the evolution of data processing systems, including analyses of present information flow, system specifications, equipment selection, and implementation of the system to provide an understanding of the skill and knowledge needed for the effective use of data processing equipment in meeting information needs. Prerequisites: COSC.336 and an additional upper division Computer Science course. (UG & G)

COSC 412 SOFTWARE ENGINEERING USING ADA (4) Methodology of designing and programming for a wide area of applications with a high degree of modifiability, efficiency, reliability and understanding. Prerequisites: COSC 355 and one 400-level COSC course. (UG)

COSC 415 [553] COMPILER DESIGN (3) Principles, techniques, algorithms, and structures involved in the design and construction of compilers. Topics include: lexical analysis, formal grammars, syntax, and semantics analysis, error recovery, code generation and optimization. Prerequisite: COSC 355. (UG & G)

COSC 417 [554] INTRODUCTION TO THE THEORY OF COMPUTING (3) A general introduction to the theory of computation, including finite automata, compatibility, formal languages and their relation to automata, algorithms, and algorithmic complexity. The major emphasis will be on developing formal descriptions of computers and computational processes, and practical implications of theoretical results. Prerequisite: COSC 367 or MATH 361. (UG & G)

COSC 418 ETHICAL AND SOCIETAL CONCERNS OF COMPUTER SCIENTISTS (3) Ethical questions and societal concerns related to the widespread uses of computers and the resulting responsibilities of computer scientists. Prerequisite: 6 hours of Upper Division Computer Science. (UG)

COSC 421 LOGIC APPLICATIONS AND PROGRAMMING (3) Study of the logic programming language PROLOG. Application of logic to artificial intelligence, database systems and programming language. Prerequisite: COSC 355. (UG)

COSC 431 [561] SELECTED TOPICS IN COMPUTER SCIENCE (1-3) Independent studies in selected areas of computer science. A maximum of 4 credits may be earned in selected topics. Prerequisite: Consent of instructor and nine hours of computer science. (UG & G)

COSC 437 [563] FILE AND DATA STRUCTURES (3) A study of the relations among elements of data involved in problems, the structure of storage media and machines, and the methods used in representing structural data. Storage systems and structures, symbol tables, searching and sorting techniques are discussed. Formal specification of data structures and generalized data management systems are investigated. Prerequisite: COSC 336. (UG & G)

COSC 439 [519] OPERATING SYSTEMS (3) Operating systems as resource manager with emphasis on file processor, memory, and device management and processes. Design and implementation of a simulated multiprogramming operating system. Prerequisites: COSC 336 and MATH 330. (UG & G)

COSC 441 [571] COMPUTER PERFORMANCE EVALUATION (3) Computer system performance evaluation methodologies, techniques and tools including different types of monitors as a measurement tool, work-load characterization, important performance indices, analytic modeling with particular emphasis on the application of the operational queuing network modeling techniques to performance analysis, and technical aspects of computer selection. Prerequisites: MATH 274 and Pre or Corequisite COSC 439. (UG & G)

COSC 457 [578] DATABASE MANAGEMENT SYSTEMS (3) Data models and sublanguages. Security and integrity problems. The functions of the database administrator. The implementation and use of a database management system. A comparison of widely used DBMS packages. Prerequisite: COSC 336. (UG & G)

COSC 461 [581] ARTIFICIAL INTELLIGENCE (3) A survey of the problems and techniques involved in producing or modelling intelligence in computers. Particular emphasis will be placed on representation of knowledge and basic paradigms of problem solving. Topics include game playing, theorem proving, natural language and learning systems. Prerequisite: COSC 355. (UG & G)

COSC 471 [586] COMPUTER GRAPHICS (3) An introduction to the field of computer generated and/or displayed graphics data. Covers the topics of representation, transformations, curve and 3-D problems, graphics hardware, and programming considerations. Prerequisite: COSC 336. (UG & G)

COSC 480 SENIOR SEMINAR (1) To prepare students to deal as professionals with the social and ethical issues in the computing sciences as well as to make them aware of the broad applications of computers and the implications of these applications. Students majoring in Computer Science must take either this course or COSC 418, but not both. Prerequisite: Senior standing in Computer Science. (UG)

COSC 493 DIRECTED READINGS IN COMPUTER SCIENCE (HONORS) (3) Individual readings and background research, under the direction of a faculty member, in preparation for writing an honors thesis (restricted to students in the departmental honors program). Prerequisite: Admission to the departmental honors program. (UG)

COSC 495 INDEPENDENT STUDY IN COMPUTER SCIENCE (1-3) Directed study in selected areas of Computer Science for which there is no regular course being offered. The use of a proposal and well-defined objectives as well as a formal paper or project report is required. Prerequisite: Senior standing in Computer Science and consent of Instructor. (UG)

COSC 499 HONORS THESIS IN COMPUTER SCIENCE (3-6) Writing of an honors thesis based on individual research (open only to advanced honors candidates). Prerequisite: Permission of Departmental Honors Committee. (UG)

DANCE (DANC)

Lower Division

DANC 103 BEGINNING BALLET I (2) An introduction to the fundamentals of classical ballet with emphasis on placement and alignment of the body, turn-out, footwork, stretches, barre work, simple allegro movements and other preparatory work necessary for the establishment of a basic technical foundation. (UG)

DANC 104 BEGINNING BALLET II (2) A continued study of the technical fundamentals of classical ballet. Sequence combinations of beginning ballet movements, steps and positions of the body. Emphasis on vertical posture, centering, and coordination of port de bras with elementary allegro and adagio movements. Prerequisite: DANC 103. (UG)

DANC 107 BEGINNING MODERN DANCE I (2) An introduction to modern dance technique as derived in part from the principles of some of its American founders such as Graham, Humphrey, Weidman, and Holm. Course includes floorwork, body alignment, and studies which develop the potentials of modern dance as an expressive medium. (UG)

DANC 108 BEGINNING MODERN DANCE II (2) An expanded study in modern dance technique involving concepts of spatial awareness, dimension in form, and proficiency in locomotive and dynamic movement patterns. Prerequisite: DANC 107. (UG)

DANC 109 JAZZ DANCE I (2) American jazz dance as traced historically through movement from Afro-Caribbean and vaudeville forms to Broadway show styles from the 1920's through the 1950's. (UG)

DANC 111 TAP DANCE I (2) A beginning study of the technical fundamentals of tap dance. Includes basic one and two sound movements performed at the barre and simple rhythmic combinations in center. Also includes time steps and simple turns. (UG)

DANC 203 INTERMEDIATE BALLET I (2) Classical ballet technique that focuses on sequences of greater repetition, speed, and length. Includes elements of turning necessary for pirouettes, footwork dexterity utilized in batterie (beats), and continued awareness of form as it relates to the clear delineation of musculature lines. Prerequisite: DANC 104. (UG)

DANC 204 INTERMEDIATE BALLET II (2) A continued study of classical ballet utilizing sequence combinations that emphasize strength, suppleness, accuracy and musicality. Includes multiple turns, increased attention to epaulement, and use of the legs at 90° and 120° angles. Prerequisite: DANC 203. (UG)

DANC 207 INTERMEDIATE MODERN DANCE I (2) Modern dance technique which utilizes variations in rhythmic structure; presentation of metered, mixed-metered, and non-metered (free) rhythmic forms. Introduction to the concept of spiral movement, turns, falls and elevation. Prerequisite: DANC 108. (UG)

DANC 208 INTERMEDIATE MODERN DANCE II (2) An extension of the development of modern dance vocabulary representative of more contemporary approaches (i.e. Limon, Cunningham, Tharp, Lewitzky, etc.). Such vocabulary includes combinations of spiraling, curving, flattening of the back, and centering, shifting, rotating, flexing, and tilting in body alignment. Prerequisite: DANC 207. (UG)

DANC 211 TAP DANCE II (2) A continued study of tap dance including complex rhythms, tempi, barre and center work. New movements include wings, trenches, riffs and advanced turns. Prerequisite: DANC 111. (UG)

DANC 251 TECHNIQUES OF TEACHING CREATIVE MOVEMENT (3) A student-directed approach to the teaching of creative movement to all age levels—pre-school to senior citizen. Includes learning and utilization of basic rhythmic concepts and some off-campus observations. Prerequisite: DANC 107. (UG)

Upper Division

DANC 303 ADVANCED BALLET I (2) A continued study of classical ballet with emphasis on advanced level enchainements, standard classical divertissement and style distinctions. Prerequisite: DANC 204. (UG)

DANC 304 ADVANCED BALLET II (2) Progression of technical complexities in enchainements and divertissements. Approaches to contemporary ballet stylizations based on classical forms. Prerequisite: DANC 303. (UG)

DANC 307 ADVANCED MODERN DANCE I (2) Modern dance technique focusing on quality and expression in movement. Includes effort and space harmony concepts in traveling warm-up sequences, axial adagio movement, and allegro combinations. Prerequisite: DANC 208. (UG)

DANC 308 ADVANCED MODERN DANCE II (2) Complex movement sequences which develop a high level of proficiency in feeling and form emphasizing the contemporary aspect of modern dance and the individualistic expressive potential of the student. Focus on interpretation and performance. Prerequisite: DANC 307. (UG)

DANC 309 JAZZ DANCE II (2) A continuation of Broadway show styles from the early 1960's to the present day. Includes study of contemporary jazz technique with emphasis on rock, funky, lyric and percussive movement. Prerequisites: DANC 109 and DANC 103. (UG)

DANC 310 JAZZ DANCE III (2) A continued study of contemporary jazz technique with emphasis on performance of styles used on the concert stage, television and motion pictures. Prerequisite: DANC 309. (UG)

DANC 321 HISTORY OF THE DANCE (3) An overview of dance history through the ages from its tribal beginnings to the present day. An emphasis will be placed on writing skills. Prerequisites:

Jr./Sr. standing; ENGL 102 or 190. Approved Group I/C—Advanced level writing course. (UG)

DANC 323 LABANOTATION (3) The Labanotation method of recording movement in written form for utilization in classroom work and reconstruction of dance and other movement activities. Prerequisite: DANC 203 or DANC 207. (UG)

DANC 331 DANCE COMPOSITION I (3) Experimentation with the basic elements of choreography as experienced through the composing of phrases, sketches, transitions, and themes and variations in the form of studies for the solo dancer. Prerequisite: DANC 207. (UG)

DANC 332 DANCE COMPOSITION II (3) An intermediate level dance composition course focusing on solos and duets with added complexities of textures, planes, rhythm, melody, and tempi. Prerequisite: DANC 331. (UG)

DANC 341 POINTE TECHNIQUE I (2) Basics of pointe (toe) work essential to the student whose interest is in total comprehension of the elements necessary to the performance of classical ballet. Includes work to strengthen the ankles and insteps, and acclimation of body weight and placement sur les pointes. Prerequisite: DANC 203. (UG)

DANC 342 POINTE TECHNIQUE II (2) Continuum of Pointe Technique I with emphasis on tempi, allegro combinations, enchainements au milieu and barre supported adage. Prerequisite: DANC 341. (UG)

DANC 370-379 SPECIAL TOPICS IN DANCE (1-3) Workshops and courses designed for study of special topics in dance not available in existing courses. Examples of such topics are: Principles and Practices of Auditioning, Dance Repertory, Seminar in Dance Education, etc. Will be offered depending on student and faculty interest and availability. Prerequisite: Consent of Department Chair. (UG)

DANC 381-382, 481, 482 DANCE COMPANY (2,2,2,2) Study and performance of advanced compositions including works by professional guest choreographers in ballet, modern dance, and jazz/ musical theatre dance styles. Rehearsals September through May. 2 credits received in spring semester reflect 2 semesters of participation. Prerequisite: Audition. (UG)

DANC 391 STUDENT TEACHING IN ELEMENTARY SCHOOL (6) (UG)

DANC 392 STUDENT TEACHING IN SECONDARY SCHOOL (6) (UG)

DANC 401-405 SUPERVISED STUDY: BALLET (2,2,2,2,2) A continued study of ballet technique concurrent with courses at the intermediate and advanced levels. Prerequisite: Approval from the Department Chair. (UG)

DANC 406 ADVANCED BALLET III Refinement of technique and style in complex enchainements and divertissements. Prerequisite: DANC 304. (UG)

DANC 407-410 SUPERVISED STUDY: MODERN DANCE (2,2,2,2) A continued study of modern dance technique concurrent with courses at the intermediate and advanced levels. Prerequisite: Approval from the Department Chair. (UG)

DANC 411-413 SUPERVISED STUDY: POINTE (2,2,2) Continued study of pointe technique concurrent with Pointe Technique I, II, and III. Prerequisite: Approval from the Department Chair. (UG)

DANC 414 SUPERVISED STUDY: JAZZ DANCE (2) Continued study of jazz dance technique concurrent with Jazz Dance III. Prerequisite: Approval from the Department Chair. (UG)

DANC 431 DANCE COMPOSITION III (3) An advanced level dance composition course focusing on choreographic ranges from duets to large group forms. Prerequisite: DANC 332. (UG)

DANC 433-434 DANCE PRODUCTION I & II (3,3) Choreography of full-length major works mounted for performance. Includes production elements of costume and lighting design for the work, teaching and rehearsing the work, and performance publicity. Prerequisite: DANC 431. (UG)

DANCE 441 POINTE TECHNIQUE III (2) Focus on classical ballet repertory, performing variations from significant periods. Prerequisite: DANC 342. (UG)

DANC 451-551 TEACHING DANCE IN GRADES K-12 (3) A teacher-directed approach to the exploration of methods and materials available for the teaching of multiple dance forms. Prerequisite: DANC 251 and 4 or more credits in dance technique courses, or consent of instructor. (UG & G)

DANC 495 INDEPENDENT STUDY IN DANCE (1-3) Selfdirected study of an academic or creative project designed to focus on a specialized area of dance. Prerequisite: Approval of plan of study by instructor and Department Chair. (UG)

DEVELOPMENTAL MATHEMATICS (DVMT)

(Courses offered through the Mathematics Department)

DVMT 100 DEVELOPMENTAL MATH I (4) A preparatory course designed to develop basic competence in arithmetic. Placement based on competency test scores. No credit toward graduation (Graded S/U procedure). Prerequisite: Departmental Placement.

DVMT 101 DEVELOPMENTAL MATH II (4) A review of basic high school mathematics. Placement based on competency test scores. No credit toward graduation (Graded S/U procedure). Prerequisite: Departmental Placement.

DVMT 110 INTERMEDIATE ALGEBRA (3) Real number system, solutions of equations or inequalities in one and two variables, solutions of quadratic equations, exponents, radicals, functions, polynomial algebra, progressions and complex numbers. No credit toward graduation. (Graded S/U procedure). Prerequisite: One year of high school algebra.

DEVELOPMENTAL READING (DVRD)

(Courses Offered Through the General Education Department)

DVRD 100 DEVELOPMENTAL READING I (3) This course is designed to develop basic reading skills requisite to college-level reading. These skills include vocabulary development, literal comprehension, and textbook study reading. Prerequisite: Department placement. Course does not carry credit toward graduation (Graded under S/U procedure).

DVRD 101 DEVELOPMENTAL READING II (3) This course reviews the basic reading skills and stresses the development of intermediate reading skills important for effective college reading. These intermediate skills include inferential comprehension, critical reading, and varied reading rates. Prerequisite: Department placement. Course does not carry credit toward graduation (Graded under S/U procedure).

DEVELOPMENTAL WRITING (DVWR)

(Courses Offered Through the English Department)

DVWR 101 PREPARATION FOR COLLEGE WRITING (3) Review of grammar and usage; instruction and practice in writing effective sentences. Prerequisite to ENGL 102 for students whose scores indicate they need additional preparation for college-level writing. Departmental placement. Credit does not count toward graduation.

DVWR 103 ENGLISH AS A SECOND LANGUAGE: BASIC ENGLISH (5) Intensive training in listening and reading comprehension skills. Development of functional oral English. Expansion of basic vocabulary and essential idioms. Course does not carry credit toward graduation (Graded S/U). Prerequisite: Students must be non-native speakers of English. Admission by examination and permission of ESL Committee.

DVWR 104 ENGLISH AS A SECOND LANGUAGE: LOW INTERMEDIATE (5) Emphasis on fundamental grammar and writing skills. Reading and vocabulary building. Course does not carry credit toward graduation (Graded S/U). Prerequisite: Students must be nonnative speakers of English. Admission by examination and permission of ESL Committee.

DVWR 105 ENGLISH AS A SECOND LANGUAGE: INTERMEDIATE (3) Advanced grammar review with emphasis on sentence and short-paragraph construction. Prerequisite: DVWR 104 or consent of ESL Committee. Not open to those who have successfully completed DVWR 113

DVWR 106 ENGLISH AS A SECOND LANGUAGE: ADVANCED (3) Introduction to English style; emphasis on reading and writing skills, with attention to increased proficiency in conversation, as necessary. Prerequisite: DVWR 105 or permission of ESL Committee. Not open to those who have successfully completed DVWR 114.

DVWR 107 LISTENING AND SPEAKING FOR ADVANCED ESL STUDENTS (3) Intensive listening and speaking practice for high intermediate and advanced students of ESL: formal oral presentation, pronunciation and conversation practice. Prerequisite: Examination and consent of ESL Committee.

EARLY CHILDHOOD EDUCATION (ECED)

Lower Division

ECED 101 THE YOUNG CHILD AS A LEARNER (3) Introduction to the developing child and educational programs available for young children. Focuses primarily on the child himself. Classroom observation time required. (UG)

ECED 121 LABORATORY EXPERIENCES IN PROGRAMS FOR YOUNG CHILDREN (3) Practical application of educational theory through observation of and participation with young children in classroom situations. Concurrent with ECED 303. Prerequisite: ECED 101. (UG)

Upper Division

ECED 301 MATERIALS AND EXPERIENCES FOR THE YOUNG CHILD (3) Stimulating the intellectual, physical, social, and emotional development of young children through the use of varied instructional materials and activities. Prerequisite: ECED 101 or ECED 303 or approval of Early Childhood Education Department. (UG)

ECED 303 (3) CURRICULUM FOR YOUNG CHILDREN Curriculum content and methods of teaching in programs for children under six. Emphasis on the integrated curriculum of language arts, social studies, nutrition, health and safety. Prerequisites: ECED 101. Not open to students enrolling in Preprimary Curriculum. (UG)

ECED 341 PREPRIMARY CURRICULUM (4) Interdepartmental instruction by specialists in art, music, physical education and science with emphasis on the personal development of the becoming teacher and coordinated by a faculty member from Early Childhood Education program. Half day per week field placement. Prerequisite: Open only to Early Childhood Education Majors. ECED 101, admission must be approved by Early Childhood chairperson. (UG)

ECED 342 PRIMARY CURRICULUM (4) Emphasis on objectives, materials, and methods of teaching the language arts and social studies in programs for young children. Participation one day weekly in an assigned classroom for young children. Prerequisite: Open only to Early Childhood Education Majors. ECED 341 or its equivalent. (UG)

ECED 343 ISSUES IN EARLY CHILDHOOD EDUCATION (2) Parallels student teaching and is concerned with problems and interests of the student teacher and current trends and methods in teaching. Prerequisites: ECED 341 and ECED 342 or equivalent. Open only to Early Childhood Education Majors. (UG)

ECED 351, 352 STUDENT TEACHING IN EARLY CHILDHOOD (PRIMARY, PRESCHOOL) (5,5) Assignment in nursery school, kindergarten, and primary grades or other types of programs for young children under expert guidance. Two terms of approximately 7 weeks on two different age levels. Concurrent with ECED 343. Prerequisite: Approval of Early Childhood Education Department and the Director of the Center for Applied Skills in Education. (UG)

ECED 355 DIFFERENTIATED STUDENT TEACHING IN EARLY CHILDHOOD EDUCATION (1-8) Student teaching experiences in addition to those in required student teaching courses (ECED 351, ECED 352), according to needs and interests of the student. Experiences may be in public schools, or in centers for young children such as Day Care Centers, Parent-Child or Infant Centers, hospitals, or special education programs in Early Childhood Education. Prerequisite: Approval of student's advisor, Chair of Early Childhood Education, and Director Center for Applied Skills in Education (CASE); may be repeated for a maximum of 8 credits. (UG)

ECED 360 READINESS FOR READING (2-3) Concepts of readiness for reading in Early Childhood Education with emphasis upon the physiological, sociological, cognitive and affective factors influencing readiness and skill development for teaching of young children. Prerequisites: junior standing, major in ECED. Day students must take concurrently with ECED 341. (UG)

ECED 361 TEACHING READING IN EARLY CHILDHOOD EDUCATION (3) Teaching reading in early childhood education with special emphasis on early learning related to the reading process and the teaching of beginning reading. Critical examination of content, procedures, materials in programs for grades 1-3. Prerequisite: 6 hours of Early Childhood or approval of Early Childhood Education Department. Day students must take concurrently with ECED 342. (UG)

ECED 403 [503] THE CURRICULUM IN PRIMARY EDUCATION (3) The child, curriculum, content, methods and materials of teaching, and program organization in the primary school years. Emphasis is on the integrated curriculum of Language Arts, Social Studies, Science, and Mathematics. Prerequisites: 6 hours of early Childhood Education. Not open to students enrolling in Primary Curriculum or Graduates of ECE programs. (UG & G)

ECED 411 [511] PARENTS AND TEACHERS: PARTNERS IN EARLY CHILDHOOD EDUCATION (3) The development of a rationale for improved parent-teacher relationships in Early Childhood Education programs. The role of paraprofessionals, specialists, and volunteers. Observation, participation, home and school visits by teachers and parents functioning as a team. Prerequisite: Six hours of Early Childhood Education. (UG & G)

ECED 415 [515] THE DAY CARE CENTER (3) An interdisciplinary course designed to prepare day care personnel. Resource persons from related agencies will participate. Topics include purposes of day care, problems of organization, administration and supervision, records, programs, community interaction, and parent relations. Field trips and observation of day care centers. Prerequisite: Six hours of Early Childhood Education. (UG & G)

ECED 417 [517] EARLY IDENTIFICATION OF LEARNING DISABILITIES (3) Survey of the nature of learning disabilities in the young child; emphasis on early identification, theoretical approaches, major disability categories; survey of remedial principles. Prerequisites: 6 hours of Psychology and 6 hours of Early Childhood Education. (UG & G)

ECED 421 [521] PROBLEMS IN EARLY CHILDHOOD EDUCATION (3) Research findings used as a basis for program planning in nursery school, kindergarten and primary grades; current trends and issues are considered. Prerequisite: student teaching and/or teaching experience in preschool or primary grades; junior standing. (UG & G)

ECED 422 WRITING TECHNIQUES FOR TEACHERS IN EARLY CHILDHOOD EDUCATION (3) Applied techniques of written communications for classroom teachers and professional educators. Focus will be upon developing the ability to write thoughtful, well organized letters, reports, critiques and other professional papers. Prerequisites: ENGL 102/190 and 6 hours education. (UG)

ECED 423 [523] LABORATORY EXPERIENCES IN EARLY CHILDHOOD EDUCATION (3) Classroom experiences with children in preschool and primary grades in a variety of teaching-learning situations. Analysis of observations in light of current research. Concurrent with ECED 421. Summers only. Prerequisite: junior standing. (UG & G)

ECED 470-489 [570-589] SPECIAL TOPICS IN EARLY CHILDHOOD EDUCATION: (Topic to be named) (1-3) In-depth study of a selected topic in Early Childhood Education. The specific requirements and prerequisites will vary with each topic and will be designated by the department each time a topic is scheduled. Graduate credit only with approval of the graduate program coordinator. Each topic may be taken as a separate course; repeatable for different topics. (UG & G)

ECED 494 [594] TRAVEL AND STUDY: EARLY CHILDHOOD EDUCATION (1-6) A field study, including cultural tours in selected foreign countries, of current Early Childhood Education programs, facilities, and trends. Lectures, observations, and personal interactions. Required participation in planned educational activities and a follow-up paper. Prerequisites: junior, senior, graduate standing, or consent of the department chair. Consent of graduate program coordinator required for graduate degree credit. May be repeated for a maximum of 6 credits. (UG & G)

ECED 495 INDEPENDENT STUDY IN EDUCATION: EARLY CHILDHOOD EDUCATION (1-4) Independent study in selected areas of Early Childhood Education. Prerequisite: ECED majors only. Application form required. Special permit with ECED Chair. May be repeated for a maximum of 4 credits. (UG)

ECED 496 DIRECTED READING: EARLY CHILDHOOD EDUCATION (1-4) Independent reading in selected areas of Early Childhood Education. Prerequisite: ECED majors only. Application form required. Special permit with ECED Chair. May be repeated for a maximum of 4 credits. (UG)

ECONOMICS (ECON)

Lower Division

ECON 201 MICROECONOMIC PRINCIPLES (3) How private enterprise determines what is produced, prices, wages, profits. Supply and demand. Competition and monopoly. Labor unions, income distribution. Farm Policy. The role of the government in our economy. Not open to students who have taken 2204.101. (UG)

ECON 202 MACROECONOMIC PRINCIPLES (3) Inflation and unemployment—causes and remedies. Money and banking. Government spending and taxation. International trade. Not open to students who have taken 2204.102. Prerequisite: 2204.201. (UG)

ECON 203 HONORS MICROECONOMIC PRINCIPLES (3) How private enterprise determines what is produced, prices, wages, profits. Supply and demand. Competition and monopoly. Labor unions, income distribution. Farm policy. The role of government in our economy. Not open to students who have taken 2204.101 or 2204.201. (UG)

Upper Division

ECON 301 FUNDAMENTAL STATISTICS FOR ECONOMICS (3) Analysis and presentation of business and economic data; frequency distribution; measures of central tendency and variability; sampling and estimation of parameters; testing of hypotheses; simple regression analysis; measuring changes in price. Prerequisite: Mathematics MATH 111 or equivalent. (Not open to freshmen.) Not open to students who have taken Basic Statistics, MATH 231. (UG)

ECON 309 INTERMEDIATE PRICE THEORY (3) Determination of prices, output, wages, resource allocation. Theory of the firm. Theory of competition, monopolistic competition, oligopoly, and monopoly. Prerequisite: ECON 202. (UG)

ECON 310 MACROECONOMIC THEORY (3) Impact of monetary and fiscal policy. The overall level of output, prices, employment, interest rates. Prerequisite: ECON 202. (UG)

ENGLISH (ENGL)

English Course Level And Numbering

Lower-division English courses (100-200 level) are designed as introductions to the subject. Upper-division English courses (300-400 level) are more particularly focused and assume the student has the background specified by the course prerequisites. There is no difference in degree of difficulty or specialization between 300 level and 400 level courses; students should not assume, therefore, that a 400 level course is more advanced than one at the 300 level.

Beginning Fall 83, the English Department employed the following system for numbering courses:

DVWR 100 series,—Developmental Courses

ENGL 10 series,—Writing Courses

ENGL 20 series,—British Literature Courses

ENGL 30 series,—American Literature Courses

ENGL 40 series,—World Literature Courses

ENGL 50 series,—Grammar and Linguistics Courses

ENGL 60 series,—Analysis, Criticism, and Research Courses

ENGL 70 series,—Themes and Topics Courses

ENGL 80 series,—Seminars

ENGL 90 series,—Honors, Intensive, and Experimental Courses

- MCOM 475 [575] FILM WORKSHOP (3) Designed primarily to provide experienced or future teachers with background about film so that they may better help pupils to become informed about and to develop critical reactions to the films they view. Prerequisite: Consent of instructor. (UG & G)

MCOM 476 SPECIAL TOPICS IN TELEVISION (3) In-depth study of a selected area dependent upon faculty and student interest. May be repeated for a maximum of 6 credits when a different area is covered. Prerequisites: MCOM 140 or MCOM 201 and Junior/Senior standing. (UG)

MCOM 478 SPECIAL TOPICS IN FILM (3) In-depth study of a selected area dependent upon faculty and student interest. May be repeated for a maximum of 6 credits when a different area is covered. Prerequisites: MCOM 145 or MCOM 202 and Junior/Senior standing. (UG)

MCOM 491 [691] INDEPENDENT STUDY IN FILM (1-6) Directed study in production or research through readings, projects, papers, and/or seminars. May be repeated for a maximum of 6 credits. Prerequisite: MCOM 267 or consent of instructor. (UG & G)

MCOM 493 [693] INDEPENDENT STUDY IN RADIO (1-6) Directed study through readings or projects in conjunction with the operation of the student radio station. Selected students may work as laboratory assistants in the MCOM 265 (Radio Production I) class. May be repeated for a maximum of 6 credits. Prerequisites: MCOM 265 and consent of instructor. (UG & G)

MCOM 495 [695] INDEPENDENT STUDY IN TELEVISION (1-6) Directed study through readings, projects, papers, or seminars. May be repeated for a maximum of 6 credits. Prerequisites: MCOM 371 and consent of instructor. (UG & G)

MCOM 496 [696] INDEPENDENT STUDY IN JOURNALISM (1-6) Directed study through readings, projects, papers, or seminars. May be repeated for a maximum of 6 credits. Prerequisites: MCOM 355 and consent of instructor. (UG & G)

MCOM 497 [697] INDEPENDENT STUDY IN PUBLIC RELATIONS (1-6) Directed study through readings, projects, papers, or seminars. May be repeated for a maximum of 6 credits. Prerequisites: MCOM 353 and consent of instructor. (UG & G)

MATHEMATICS (MATH)

Lower Division

MATH 101 ELEMENTS OF MATHEMATICS (3) Topics selected from systems of numeration, logic, sets, algebraic properties of real numbers, abstract algebraic structures, probability, and geometry. Prerequisite: One year of high school algebra. (Not open to mathematics majors, mathematics minors, early childhood education or elementary education students or any students who have received credit for any college level mathematics course.) (UG)

MATH 111 ALGEBRA FOR APPLICATIONS (3) Applications of finite mathematics: linear equations, matrices, linear programming using graphical methods and the simplex algorithms, sets and counting, elementary probability. Intended primarily for students in business, economics, psychology and the social sciences. Prerequisite: Two years of algebra or DVMT 110. (Not open to students who have completed MATH.115 or MATH.119.) (UG)

MATH 115 BASIC MATHEMATICS FOR THE SCIENCES (3) Intended primarily for students in biology, natural sciences, environmental studies, health record administration, medical technology, and nursing. Functions and equations; linear, quadratic, exponential, trigonometric. Variation. Vectors. Applications of concepts and skills to the life and physical sciences are stressed. Not open to students who have completed MATH 119. Prerequisite: One year plane geometry, two years algebra, or DVMT 110. (UG)

MATH 116 MATHEMATICS II (3) Complex numbers; determinants; and analytic geometry of the line, plane, conics, and three-space surfaces. Prerequisite: MATH 115 or two years high school algebra and one-half year trigonometry. (UG)

MATH 119 PRE-CALCULUS (4) The concept of function, exponential, logarithmic, circular and trigonometric functions, systems of linear equations, vectors in two space, lines, conic sections and polar coordinates. Prerequisites: Two years algebra, one year plane geometry, 1/2 year trigonometry. (UG)

MATH 204 CONCEPTS OF MATHEMATICS FOR ELEMENTARY TEACHERS I (3) Logic, sets, systems of numeration, abstract systems, elements of number theory, and the development of the number system through the real numbers. Prerequisite: One year of high school algebra. (Required of all early childhood education and elementary education students. Satisfies mathematics requirement for these students. Not open to others.) (UG)

MATH 205 CONCEPTS OF MATHEMATICS FOR ELEMENTARY TEACHERS II (3) Elements of algebra, metric and nonmetric geometry, probability, statistics, measurement. Prerequisite: MATH 204. (This course or its equivalent is required of all early childhood education and elementary education students, except those who are also mathematics minors. Not open to others.) (UG)

MATH 211 CALCULUS FOR APPLICATIONS (3) Intended primarily for students in biology, business, economics, psychology and the social sciences. Elements of differential and integral calculus from an intuitive standpoint with emphasis on the use of calculus in the above fields. Exponential and logarithmic functions, partial derivatives included. Prerequisites: MATH 111 or MATH 115 or MATH 116 or MATH 119. (Not open to mathematics majors or minors.) (UG)

MATH 231 BASIC STATISTICS I (3) Frequency distributions with emphasis on binomial and normal distributions, percentiles, measures of central tendency and variability, sampling theory, tests of hypotheses, regression analysis, correlations, and analysis of variance or time series. Emphasis will be placed on practical applications of statistics. Prerequisite: MATH 111 or MATH 115 or equivalent. (Not open to mathematics majors.) (UG)

MATH 232 BASIC STATISTICS II (3) Continuation of time series analysis, analysis of variance, decision theory and non-parametric techniques. Emphasis will be placed upon practical applications. Prerequisite: MATH 231 or equivalent. (No credit toward a mathematics major.) (UG)

MATH 237 ELEMENTARY BIOSTATISTICS (4) Elementary statistical concepts and their application to the biological and health sciences. Descriptive statistics, vital statistics, estimation techniques, hypothesis testing, analysis of enumerative data, simple linear regression and correlation. Prerequisite: Two years high school algebra or DVMT 110. Not open to those who have completed MATH 231 or MATH 331. Not open to mathematics majors. (UG)

MATH 263 DISCRETE MATHEMATICS I (3) Sets, logic, induction, functions, relations, sequences, recursion, combinatorics, graphs and trees, matrices with an emphasis on applications in computer science. Prerequisite: Four years of high school mathematics or MATH 119. (Not open to those who have completed MATH 261.) (UG)

MATH 264 DISCRETE MATHEMATICS II (3) Graphs and graph algorithms, trees and networks, lattices and Boolean algebra, linear equations, linear transformations and matrices, linear programming. Prerequisite: MATH 261 or MATH 263 (Not open to those who have completed MATH 365.) (UG)

MATH 273 CALCULUS I (4) Functions, limits and continuity; differentiation of algebraic and trigonometric functions; mean value theorem; differentials; introduction to integration; applications. Prerequisite: MATH 116 or MATH 119 or calculus course in high school or adequate score on Placement Test. (UG)

MATH 274 CALCULUS II (4) Differentiation and integration of exponential, logarithmic, and inverse trigonometric functions; techniques of integration and applications; indeterminate forms; improper integrals; sequences and series of numbers; power series. Prerequisite: MATH 273. (UG)

MATH 293 HONORS SEMINAR IN MATHEMATICS (3) A problem solving seminar designed for students who have shown talent in mathematics but have not yet been exposed to advanced mathematics courses. Techniques of problem solving and the solution of challenging problems involving elementary mathematics such as probability, number theory, graph theory and counting. It is expected that qualified students will usually take this course during their freshman or sophomore year. Honors College Course. Prerequisite: Special permit only by Departmental Honors Committee. (Offered only in the Spring Semester.) (UG)

(Major credit only toward secondary education concentration.) Prerequisites: MATH 263 and MATH 274. (UG & G)

MATH 321 TEACHING MATHEMATICS IN EARLY CHILDHOOD EDUCATION (3) Materials of instruction and methods of presentation with emphasis on the discovery approach. Prerequisites: MATH 204 and MATH 205. (No credit toward a mathematics major or minor.) (UG)

MATH 323 TEACHING MATHEMATICS IN ELEMENTARY SCHOOL (3) Nature of instruction, organization of units of instruction, provisions for developing understandings, new programs and research findings, and techniques of evaluation. Required of all elementary education majors. Prerequisites: MATH 204 and MATH 205. (No credit toward a mathematics major or minor.) (UG)

MATH 325 TEACHING MATHEMATICS IN THE MIDDLE SCHOOL (3) Philosophy, learning, teaching models, specific methods or approaches, planning for teaching and learning, and applicable contemporary curricula in the middle school mathematics curriculum. Prerequisites: MATH 261 or MATH 263 and MATH 273 and consent of instructor. (No credit toward a mathematics major or minor.) (UG)

MATH 330 INTRODUCTION TO STATISTICAL METHODS (4) An introductory course for students with mathematics and computing background emphasizing statistical ideas and techniques. Descriptive statistics, probability, estimation and sampling, hypothesis testing, regression and correlation, and analysis of variance will be discussed with many opportunities for students to use preprogrammed statistical packages such as SPSS or BMD on large data bases. Prerequisites: MATH 274 (or concurrently) and COSC 306 (or COSC 236). (UG)

MATH 331 [531] PROBABILITY (3) Probability in sample spaces, discrete and continuous random variables, distribution theory, Tchebyshev's theorem, central limit theorem, expected values and moments. Prerequisite: MATH 274. (UG & G)

MATH 332 [532] MATHEMATICAL STATISTICS (3) Sample theory and distributions, point estimation, confidence intervals, tests of hypothesis, regression, correlation and analysis of variance. Prerequisite: MATH 331. (Offered only in the spring semester.) (UG & G)

MATH 333 [533] APPLIED REGRESSION AND CORRELATION ANALYSIS (3) Relationships among variables emphasizing linear regression with one or more independent variables, methods of estimating parameters and testing hypotheses, selection of independent variables and other topics. Prerequisite: One course in elementary statistics. (UG & G)

MATH 334 [534] NONPARAMETRIC STATISTICAL METHODS (3) Applied study of popular nonparametric tests: procedures utilizing data from a single sample and two or more independent and related samples; Chi-square tests of independence, homogeneity and goodness-of-fit; rank correlation and other measures of association. Prerequisite: One course in elementary statistics. (UG & G)

MATH 335 [545] SAMPLING TECHNIQUES (3) Simple random, stratified, systematic, cluster and double sampling. Sampling for proportions, averages and totals and sample size determination. Prerequisite: One course in elementary statistics. (UG & G)

MATH 336 [546] STATISTICAL METHODS IN QUALITY CONTROL (3) Statistical process control including principles of control charts, control charts for attributes and variables, and special control charts. Methods for quality improvement. Acceptance sampling including single, double, multiple and sequential attribute sampling and acceptance sampling by variable. Prerequisite: One course in elementary statistics. (UG & G)

MATH 351 ELEMENTS OF GEOMETRY (3) Designed to give the elementary education student additional background in geometry. Involves geometric definitions, vocabulary and techniques, constructions and scale drawings, and measurement of plane and space figures. Prerequisite: MATH 205 or equivalent. (Not open to mathematics majors.) (UG)

MATH 353 ELEMENTARY GEOMETRY FROM AN ADVANCED STANDPOINT (3) Review of synthetic Euclidian geometry;

Upper Division

MATH 301 [501] HISTORY OF MATHEMATICS (3) A survey of the development of mathematics with emphasis on both mathematical concepts and contributions of individuals and societies.

nonEuclidian geometries; finite geometries and systems of axioms; classical theorems; elementary transformations. Prerequisites: MATH 261 or MATH 263 and MATH 273. (Offered only in spring semester.) (UG)

MATH 357 COLLEGE GEOMETRY (3) Projective geometry, both synthetic and analytic, including duality; Desargues theorem, harmonic sequences, Pappus theorem, homogeneous coordinates, conics, polarities. Prerequisites: MATH 261 or MATH 263 and MATH 273. (Offered only in the fall semester.) (UG & G)

MATH 361 [560] ALGEBRAIC STRUCTURES (4) Groups, rings, fields, integral domains, and polynomial rings. Prerequisite: MATH 261 or MATH 263. (UG & G)

MATH 365 [565] LINEAR ALGEBRA (3) Abstract vector spaces, and their principal properties; the vector space of linear transformations and the algebra of matrices; determinants; similarity; eigenvectors and eigenvalues; inner product spaces and orthogonal (unitary) similarity; canonical forms under row equivalence and similarity. Application to systems of equations. Prerequisite: MATH.261 or MATH.263. (UG & G)

MATH 367 [567] THEORY OF NUMBERS (3) Theory of prime numbers, the division algorithm, the fundamental theorem of arithmetic, polynomials, congruences, number theoretic functions. Prerequisite: MATH 261 or MATH 263. (Offered only in the fall semester.) (UG & G)

MATH 373 [573] CALCULUS III (4) Differential and integral calculus of functions of several variables; differential and integral calculus of vector valued functions, including the divergence and Stoke's theorems. Prerequisite: MATH 274. (UG & G)

MATH 374 [574] DIFFERENTIAL EQUATIONS (3) Theory and application of linear ordinary differential equations. Solutions of nonlinear ordinary differential equations of the first order. Prerequisite: MATH 274. (UG&G)

MATH 377 [575] MATHEMATICAL MODELS (3) Consideration of mathematical problems in sociology, psychology, economics, management science and ecology, and developing appropriate mathematical models and techniques to solve them. Prerequisites: MATH 274 and COSC 235 and either MATH 365 or MATH 264, at least Junior standing or consent of instructor. (Offered only in the fall semester.) (UG & G)

MATH 390 INTRODUCTION TO ACTUARIAL MATHEMATICS (1) Introduction to the field of actuarial mathematics designed to provide guidance in preparation for the Society of Actuaries Part I examination. Involves lectures by outside experts in the actuarial field. Prerequisite: MATH 373. (UG)

MATH 421 [521] APPLICATIONS OF MATHEMATICS FOR SECONDARY SCHOOL TEACHERS (3) The course examines a series of applications of mathematics that may be used to enrich the secondary mathematics curriculum. (No credit towards a mathematics major.) Prerequisite: Teaching experience in mathematics or science or consent of instructor. (UG & G)

MATH 422 SEMINAR IN MATHEMATICS EDUCATION FOR ELEMENTARY SCHOOL TEACHERS (3) Analysis of topics, techniques, programs and materials used in the teaching and learning of mathematics in the elementary schools. (Credit may be applied to the elementary education mathematics minor program but not to other mathematics major/minor programs.) Prerequisite: MATH.321 or MATH 323. (UG)

MATH 423 TEACHING MATHEMATICS IN THE SECONDARY SCHOOL (3) Objectives of mathematics instruction, examination of courses of study and textbooks, study of methods of teaching. Open only to students in the student teaching block. Prerequisites: MATH 353 and MATH 361 or consent of instructor. (This course shall be offered only in the spring semester to be followed by SCED 398 Student Teaching in the Secondary Schools during the fall. No credit toward a mathematics major. (UG)

MATH 425 [525] METHODS AND MATERIALS FOR MATH LAB INSTRUCTION (1-3) Examination of and experiences with commercial and teacher-made materials designed for a laboratory (activity centered) approach to learning mathematics. Prerequisite:

A methods course in teaching mathematics (MATH 321, 323, 423) or previous teaching experience. (UG & G)

MATH 426 STUDENT TEACHING IN SECONDARY EDUCATION-MATHEMATICS (12) Practical experience in observation, participation and student teaching in public school classrooms under the guidance of master teachers and a University supervisor. Prerequisites: PSYC 201, SCD 319 or SCED 341, SCED 460, SPED 301, and an appropriate methods course and written permission from the Center for Applied Skills in Education (C.A.S.E.) (UG)

MATH 427 [527] READINGS IN MATHEMATICS EDUCATION FOR THE ELEMENTARY SCHOOL TEACHER (1-3) Directed study for the teacher of elementary school mathematics. Prerequisites: MATH 321 or MATH 323 and approval of instructor. (No credit toward a mathematics major.) (UG & G)

MATH 429 [529] READINGS IN MATHEMATICS EDUCATION FOR THE SECONDARY SCHOOL TEACHER (1-3) Directed study for the teacher of secondary school mathematics. Prerequisite: Consent of instructor. (No credit toward a mathematics major.) (UG & G)

MATH 433 [543] APPLIED ANALYSIS OF VARIANCE (3) Single and multifactor models, inference for factor level means, multiple comparison methods for factor level means, test of additivity, tests of homogeneity, regression approach to analysis of variance. Prerequisite: MATH 333. (UG & G)

MATH 435 [535] NUMERICAL ANALYSIS I (3) Error analysis, interpolation, numerical differentiation and integration, numerical solution of algebraic equations and of systems of algebraic equations. Prerequisites: COSC 236 and MATH 274 and MATH 365 (or MATH 264). (UG & G)

MATH 436 [536] NUMERICAL ANALYSIS II (3) Numerical solution of differential equations. Least squares and its applications, linear programming and extension of the concepts of MATH 435. Prerequisite: MATH 435. (Offered only in the spring semester.) (UG & G)

MATH 437 [537] OPERATIONS RESEARCH (4) Introduction to linear and integer programming; the simplex method and duality theory; dynamical formulation of deterministic decision process problems, applications to problems of equipment replacement, resource allocation and scheduling; Poisson and birth and death processes. Markovian queues. Prerequisites: MATH 331 and MATH 365. (Offered only in the spring semester.) (UG & G)

MATH 451 [551] GRAPH THEORY (3) Hamiltonian and Eulerian graphs, coloring graphs, planar and non-planar graphs, connectivity problems, isomorphic graphs and advanced topics. Prerequisite: MATH.263. (UG & G)

MATH 457 [557] DIFFERENTIAL GEOMETRY (3) Curvatures of curves and surfaces in E^3 , geodesics, invariants, mappings and special surfaces. Prerequisite: MATH 373. (UG & G)

MATH 461 [561] ADVANCED TOPICS IN ALGEBRA (3) Extension of the concepts of MATH 361. Prerequisites: MATH 361 and MATH 365. (Offered only in the fall semester.) (UG & G)

MATH 473 [576] INTRODUCTORY REAL ANALYSIS (4) An introduction to mathematical analysis. Sequences, series, continuity, differentiation, integration and uniform convergence. Prerequisites: MATH 361 or MATH 365 and MATH 274. (UG & G)

MATH 475 [577] COMPLEX ANALYSIS (3) Complex number system, analytic functions, Cauchy's integral theorem and integral formula, Taylor and Laurent series, isolated singularities, Cauchy's residue theorem and conformal mappings. Prerequisite: MATH 373. (Offered only in the fall semester.) (UG & G)

MATH 477 [578] TOPOLOGY (3) Basic concepts of pointset topology, separation axioms, compact and connected spaces, product and quotient spaces, convergence, continuity and homeomorphisms. Prerequisites: MATH 361 or MATH 365 and MATH 373. (Offered only in the spring semester.) (UG & G)

MATH 480-.489 [580-589] SELECTED TOPICS IN MATHEMATICS AND STATISTICS (1-4) Topics will be chosen from different areas in mathematics and statistics. Content will be determined so as to complement course offerings as well as the needs and desires of the students. MATH 480 through MATH 483 may not be counted towards a mathematics major. Students may not accumulate more than 9 credit hours in Selected Topics. Prerequisites will vary from topic to topic. (UG & G)

MATH 491 [591] READINGS IN MATHEMATICS (1-3) Independent reading in selected areas of mathematics. Prerequisite: Consent of instructor. May be repeated for a maximum of 6 credits. (Open only to seniors.) (UG & G)

MATH 493 DIRECT READINGS IN MATHEMATICS (HONORS) (3) Individual reading and background research under direction of a faculty member in preparation for writing an honors thesis. (To be restricted to students in the departmental honors program.) Prerequisite: Admission to department honors program. (UG)

MATH 495-496 APPLIED MATHEMATICS LABORATORY I, II (3, 3) Investigation by a team of students under faculty direction of a problem of mathematical and/or computational nature, chosen from proposals submitted by clients in the university or local industry. Team involvement may include literature searches, model definition, collection and analysis of data and model verification. Restricted to invited students. Prerequisites: Nine (9) hours of mathematics and/or computer science, at least junior standing, and consent of instructor. (UG)

MATH 499 HONORS THESIS IN MATHEMATICS (3-6) Writing of an honor thesis based on individual research. May be repeated for a maximum of 6 credits. (Open only to advanced honors candidates.) Prerequisite: Permission of Department Honors Committee. (UG)

MEDICAL TECHNOLOGY (MDTC)

Upper Division

MDTC 401 IMMUNOHEMATOLOGY AND BLOOD BANK LECTURE (3) Lectures deal with the theoretical aspects of blood group serology. Topics include: human blood groups and their significance, transfusion, donor selection and blood components, antibody detection and identification, quality control in blood banking, current transfusion practices and recent advances in Immunohematology. (UG)

MDTC 402 IMMUNOHEMATOLOGY AND BLOOD BANK PRACTICAL (1.5) The laboratory deals with all routine testing in a community hospital such as the operation of a blood donor service to include: donor screening, blood collection, donor care, processing and storage of blood. Operation of a transfusion service to include: proper care and use of equipment and materials, performance of a major and minor blood group determination, compatibility testing and antibody identification. (UG)

MDTC 403 CLINICAL BIOCHEMISTRY LECTURE (4) Lecture categories include analysis chemistry and physiological biochemistry. Normal and abnormal physiology, test interpretation, quality control and test development are included. (UG)

MDTC 404 CLINICAL BIOCHEMISTRY PRACTICAL (3) Laboratory rotation provides an intensive study of test procedures and practical application of lecture topics. Areas of instruction and student participation include manual chemistry, spectrophotometry, flame photometry, automatic titration, radioisotope techniques, electrophoresis, single and multichannel continuous flow systems, discrete analysis systems, and computer controlled instrumentation. (UG)

MDTC 405 HEMATOLOGY LECTURE (3) This course is an indepth study of the formation of blood cell and coagulation factors, pathogenesis and mechanisms of hematologic disorders. Topics include: Hematopoiesis, proliferative disorders, normal and abnormal hemoglobins, anemia and hemostasis. (UG)

MDTC 406 HEMATOLOGY PRACTICAL (3) Lectures and clinical practice will include an in-depth study of coagulation describing generation of thromboplastic activity in the intrinsic and extrinsic system. Analytical methodologies as well as the correlation of tests with disease states, erythropoiesis and identification of the maturation sequence as seen in the peripheral blood and bone marrow, maintenance and quality control of all the instruments such as the coulter "S" and "F." (UG)

MDTC 407 CLINICAL PATHOLOGY (1) Discussion of theoretical and practical aspects of analysis of special body fluids with emphasis on clinical pathological correlations. (UG)

MDTC 408 CLINICAL PATHOLOGY PRACTICAL (1) Laboratory experience is provided in Nuclear Medicine, the acute care laboratory and several other areas. (UG)

MDTC 409 MICROBIOLOGY LECTURE (3) Detailed study of bacteria and fungi considered pathogenic or potentially pathogenic for man with emphasis on techniques for isolation, identification, and clinical relevance. The course also includes lectures on general bacteriology and methods for: antibiotic susceptibility testing, sterilization and disinfection and for proper collection and transport of specimens. (UG)

MDTC 410 MICROBIOLOGY PRACTICAL (3) The course involves in-depth study of the different techniques and methods used in the laboratory for the isolation and identification of bacteria and fungi considered to be of human pathogenic significance. Testing for antibiotic susceptibility of bacteria, preparation of culture media, quality control, and the safety procedures used to inhibit any spread of infection are emphasized. (UG)

MDTC 411 HUMAN PARASITOLOGY LECTURE (1) Lectures deal with the most important protozoan and metazoan organisms causing human parasitosis. The lectures stress methods for laboratory identification life cycles and clinical significance. (UG)

MDTC 412 HUMAN PARASITOLOGY PRACTICAL (1) The program includes: identification of blood parasites, procedures to prepare fecal specimens for examination for intestinal parasites, and the detailed study of the microscopic differential characteristics of cysts and negative forms of protozoan parasites. The ova of nematoda, trematoda and cestoda of human parasites are also analyzed in collections of slides, mounted preparations, and actual specimens. (UG)

MDTC 413 CLINICAL IMMUNOLOGY LECTURE (2) This course includes basic immunology, the theory of immunodiagnostics and immunopathology. Areas of concentration include: the molecular and cellular biology of the immune response, principle of antigen and antibody reaction in vivo and in vitro hypersensitivity states. Applications to clinical diagnosis and correlation with human disease states are stressed. (UG)

MDTC 414 IMMUNODIAGNOSTICS PRACTICAL (1.5) Laboratory experience includes techniques used in a large community hospital to study antigens and antibodies and their reactions, as they relate to human disease states. (UG)

MDTC 415 URINALYSIS LECTURE (1) Renal anatomy and physiology relating to the formation and content of urine in health and disease. The theoretical aspects of the chemical analysis of the urine are included. (UG)

MDTC 416 URINALYSIS PRACTICAL (1) The microscopic and chemical analysis of the urine is stressed and is correlated with normal and abnormal renal physiology. (UG)

MDTC 491 MEDICAL TECHNOLOGY DIRECTED READINGS (1-3) Independent readings in Medical Technology or related disciplines. Prerequisite: Must be enrolled in hospital internship program. (UG)

MUSIC (MUSC)

Lower Division

MUSC 101 INTRODUCTION TO MUSIC LITERATURE (3) Music literature to acquaint the student with music through class discussions and listening. (UG)

MUSC 102 MUSIC LITERATURE FOR MUSIC MAJORS (3) Introduction to techniques of listening through exercises in perception and score reading. Required of all Music Majors. Prerequisite: Music Major; MUSC 131 or concurrently. (UG)

MUSC 104 MUSIC OF THE NINETEENTH CENTURY (3) Consideration of concert music composed between 1810-1900; the romantic piano piece, solo song, symphony, concerto, chamber music; emphasis is on acquiring listening skills for recognition of compositional techniques peculiar to composers and genres of the period. Intended for non-majors. Not open to students who have received credit for MUSC 203. (UG)

MUSC 105 ELEMENTS OF MUSIC THEORY (3) A survey of the materials of music in melodic, rhythmic and harmonic usage. Music notation, basic chord grammar, function and design factors in music. Some ability to read music is highly desirable. Designed for Non-Music Majors. (UG)

MUSC 107 MUSIC FUNDAMENTALS (3) The study of basic music skills and concepts for prospective kindergarten and elementary teachers. (UG)

MUSC 113 [313] CLARINET CHOIR (1, 1) Study and performance of clarinet choir literature. Open to all students by audition. May be repeated for credit. (UG)

MUSC 115 [315] MARCHING BAND (1) Performance of a variety of marching band literature as well as various styles of marching techniques. Open to all students by audition. May be repeated for credit. (UG)

MUSC 121 PREPARATORY MUSIC THEORY (3) Instruction in basic music reading, scales, rhythms and elementary harmony. Designed for students whose theory placement exams indicate a need for remedial work in Music Theory. May not be counted towards the Music major. (UG)

MUSC 123 HISTORY OF JAZZ (3) Survey of jazz styles from their beginnings to the present day. Involves lecture, class discussion, and listening. Designed for the Non-Music Major. (UG)

MUSC 131-132 MUSIC THEORY I AND II (2, 2) The study of harmony up to secondary dominants and modulation. Elements of counterpoint and form. Prerequisite for Theory I: Theory Placement Exam or MUSC 121. (UG)

MUSC 133-134 MUSICIANSHIP I AND II (2,2) Development of aural skills through sight singing, dictation, improvisation and keyboard applications. Correlated with Music Theory I and II. Normally taken concurrently with MUSC 131-132. Prerequisite for Musicianship I: Theory placement exam or MUSC 121. Prerequisite for Musicianship II: MUSC 133 (UG)

MUSC 137 [337] WIND ENSEMBLE (1, 1) Study and performance of advanced wind literature by a small band of selected instrumentalists. Audition required. May be repeated with credit. (UG)

MUSC 139 [339] GUITAR ENSEMBLE (1, 1) Study and performance of guitar ensemble music. Required of all Guitar majors. Open to all students by audition. May be repeated for credit. (UG)

MUSC 141 [341] BRASS ENSEMBLE (1, 1) Study and performance of advanced brass literature, required of all students majoring in brass instruments. Open to all students by audition. May be repeated for credit. (UG)

MUSC 143 [343] MUSICAL THEATRE ORCHESTRA (1) Study and performance of musical theater literature. May be repeated for credit. Prerequisite: Audition. (UG)

MUSC 145 [345] PERCUSSION ENSEMBLE (1, 1) Study and performance of advanced percussion literature; supplement and improve the percussion student's musical training by acquainting the student with the various techniques involved in performing on the numerous percussion instruments. Required of all percussion majors. Open to all students by audition. May be repeated for credit. (UG)

MUSC 147 [347] SAXOPHONE ENSEMBLE (1, 1) Study and performance of advanced saxophone ensemble music. Required of all saxophone majors. Open to all students by audition. May be repeated for credit. Prerequisites: Consent of director. (UG)

MUSC 149 [349] STRING ENSEMBLE (1, 1) Study and performance of advanced string literature, required of all students concentrating in string instruments. Open to all students by audition. May be repeated for credit. (UG)

MUSC 151 [351] VOICE ENSEMBLE (1, 1) Small group study and performance of advanced choral literature. Open to all students by audition. May be repeated for credit. (UG)

MUSC 153 [353] WOODWIND ENSEMBLE (1, 1) Study and performance of advanced woodwind literature required of all students majoring in woodwind instruments. Open to all students by audition. May be repeated for credit. (UG)

OETH 315-316 PATHOLOGICAL CONDITIONS I AND II (3, 3) The etiology, physiology, performance effects, treatment approaches, precautions, and prognoses of disabilities amenable to occupational therapy. The disabilities discussed include emotional, neurologic, orthopedic, and general medical conditions. Prerequisites: BIOL 213-214 and PSYC 361 prior to OETH 315; OETH 313 to be taken concurrently with OETH 315; OETH 314 to be taken concurrently with OETH 316. (OETH 315—Fall; OETH 316—Spring.) (UG)

OETH 318 INDEPENDENT STUDY (1-6) Directed independent study designed to provide students with an in-depth investigation of an area or problem specific to occupational therapy. Consultation and supervision with designated faculty members and/or clinical practitioners. Prerequisites: Undergraduate major in occupational therapy, consent of instructor. Repeatable up to a total of six credits. (UG)

OETH 319 PHYSICAL DYSFUNCTION CLINICAL (2) Laboratory and clinical practice in specific evaluation and treatment techniques in physical disabilities. Prerequisites: OETH 211, OETH 217-218, OETH 221, BIOL 213-214, BIOL 427; to be taken concurrently with OETH 313. Fall. (UG)

OETH 320 PSYCHOSOCIAL DYSFUNCTION CLINICAL (2) Laboratory and clinical practice in specific evaluation and treatment techniques in psychosocial occupational therapy. Prerequisites: OETH 211, OETH 217-218, OETH 213, PSYC 361; to be taken concurrently with OETH 314. Spring (UG)

OETH 325 PEDIATRIC OCCUPATIONAL THERAPY (4) Theory and practice from birth through adolescence including normal function and dysfunction. Therapeutic approaches, assessments, goal setting, treatment planning and implementation. Prerequisites: OETH 218, OETH 221, BIOL 213-214, BIOL 427. Fall. Beginning Spring 1992 this course will be 3 credit hours. Prerequisites will be OETH 319 and OETH 320. Must be taken concurrently with OETH 326. (UG)

OETH 326 PEDIATRIC CLINICAL (2) Laboratory and clinical practice in specific evaluation and treatment techniques in pediatric occupational therapy. Prerequisites: To be taken concurrently with OETH 325. (UG)

OETH 428 [528] OCCUPATIONAL THERAPY ORGANIZATION AND ADMINISTRATION (3) Administrative and organizational theory applied to occupational therapy service programs. Content includes personnel relationships and supervision, systems analysis, program planning, budgeting, space and facilities planning, communication systems, and programs for staff and student development. Prerequisites: OETH 213, HLTH 207. Fall. (UG & G)

OETH 429 SEMINAR IN OCCUPATIONAL THERAPY (1) Educational experiences related to a variety of new occupational therapy topics depending on the needs and interests of students. Prerequisites: OETH 313, OETH 319. Fall and Spring. (UG)

OETH 430 RESEARCH METHODS IN OCCUPATIONAL THERAPY (3) Guided, independent research in topics related to occupational therapy theory and practice. Presentation of introductory materials on research methods. Second writing course. Prerequisites: MATH 237, OETH 313, OETH 319. Fall and Spring. (UG)

OETH 435 OCCUPATIONAL THERAPY INTERNSHIP I (7) Three months each full-time supervised field work experience for learning and applying knowledge and skills required for the practice of occupational therapy in physical and psychosocial dysfunction. Prerequisites: OETH 314, OETH 320 and permission of department. (UG)

OETH 436 OCCUPATIONAL THERAPY INTERNSHIP II (7) Three months each full-time supervised field work experience for learning and applying knowledge and skills required for the practice of occupational therapy in physical and psychosocial dysfunction. Prerequisites: OETH 313-314, OETH 319-320, OETH 325-326 and permission of department. (UG)

OETH 437 SPECIALTY INTERNSHIP (3-7) An optional field education experience of one to three months designed to meet special needs or interests. unique relationship. Prerequisite: PSYC 101 or consent of instructor. (UG)

PHEC 335 PRINCIPLES AND TECHNIQUES OF WRAPPING AND TAPING (1) A laboratory study and application of bandaging and taping for preventive and therapeutic purposes in athletic training. Prerequisite: PHEC 315. (UG)

PHEC 341 CONCEPTS OF MOTOR LEARNING (3) Designed to study the effects of sensation and perception, reaction time, knowledge of results, retention, transfer, physical and mental practice and motivation on learning and performing motor skills. Prerequisites: PSYC 101 or consent of instructor. (UG)

PHEC 351 PHILOSOPHY: THE SPORT EXPERIENCE (3) Philosophy of sport and the body, including the major philosophical schools of thought and their implications on physical education. Prerequisites: PHIL 101 or PHIL 111 or consent of instructor. (UG)

PHEC 353 SPORT AND SOCIETY (3) Explores relationships between sport and social institutions. Prerequisite: SOCI 101. (UG)

PHEC 355 PSYCHOLOGY OF SPORT (3) Designed to study the psychological correlates of sport. The approach will be one of understanding and application of the literature and research design of sport psychology publications. Prerequisite: PSYC 101. (UG)

PHEC 391 INTERNSHIP IN ATHLETIC TRAINING I (1) Academic and practical experience emphasizing responsibility for the athletic training needs of an assigned sports team; supervision and instruction of student trainer candidates. Prerequisites: PHEC 315, junior or senior standing. Special permit required. (UG)

PHEC 392 ELEMENTARY STUDENT TEACHING (8) Practical experiences in observation, participation, and student teaching in elementary public schools under the guidance of master teachers and a university supervisor. Prerequisite: Approval of Coordinator, PHEC Student Teaching and Internships and Director, C.A.S.E. Not open to students who have successfully completed ELED 392. (UG)

PHEC 393 A WORLD HISTORY OF SPORT TO 1900 (3) Explores sport and physical education in context of social, economic and political influences. Focuses upon Greece, Rome, Western Europe to ca. 1900. Not open to students who have completed 0835.291. Prerequisite: PHEC 299 or one history course. (UG)

PHEC 394 SECONDARY STUDENT TEACHING (6) Practical experience in observation, participation, and student teaching in secondary public schools under the guidance of master teachers and a university supervisor. Prerequisite: Approval of Coordinator, PHEC Student Teaching and Internships and Director, C.A.S.E. Not open to students who have successfully completed SCED 392. (UG)

PHEC 395 INTERNSHIP IN SPORT STUDIES (3) Designed to augment academic studies with relevant experience in potential Sport Studies career environments. May be repeated for a maximum of six credits. Prerequisite: Junior or Senior standing, Special Permit required. S/U Grading. (UG)

PHEC 397 INTERNSHIP IN CAMPING OR OUTDOOR EDUCATION (3) Designed to allow academic and practical experience for students in the camp program or outdoor education area of their choice. The student will participate as a volunteer, aide, or staff member. Seminars will be held to discuss experiences. Students should expect to pay for their transportation, meals, and lodging during the practicum experience. The course will be offered primarily during the minimester and summer sessions. May be repeated for a maximum of six credits. Prerequisite: PHEC 245 or PHEC 305 or consent of instructor. (UG)

PHEC 399 DIFFERENTIATED STUDENT TEACHING IN PHYSICAL EDUCATION (1 or 2) An additional experience in student teaching in addition to the regular student teaching experience. May be repeated for a maximum of six credits. (UG)

PHEC 403 ORGANIZATION AND ADMINISTRATION OF INTRAMURALS (3) Designed to permit the graduate and undergraduate student to acquire the skills of administration necessary in the development and organization of intramural programs in schools and colleges. (UG)

PHEC 409 [509] STRESS MANAGEMENT, TENSION CONTROL AND HUMAN PERFORMANCE (3) Presents information about the manifestation of stress and systematic programs for tension control. The correlates surrounding progressive muscle relaxation and biofeedback are explored in detail as well as the neurological responses which produce tension responses. Lectures are combined with laboratory experiences in an effort to understand and practice relaxation techniques. Prerequisites: One psychology and/or biological science course. (UG & G)

PHEC 412 THEORY AND ANALYSIS OF GYMNASTICS MOVEMENT (3) Theoretical and practical application of mechanical analysis of movement concepts as related to proper execution of skills in gymnastics. The techniques and methods used in this course are designed to provide the teacher a logical system for presenting gymnastic skills to facilitate learning for the student; to demonstrate that gymnastic skills are logically founded on basic physics or terrestrial mechanics; to present aiding and spotting techniques. (UG)

PHEC 415 [515] ADVANCED CARE AND PREVENTION OF ATHLETIC INJURIES (3) Advanced principles of athletic training including etiology, indications, evaluation and immediate management of selected complex injuries. Prerequisite: PHEC 315 or equivalent, or consent of instructor. (UG & G)

PHEC 417 ORGANIZATION AND ADMINISTRATION OF ATHLETIC TRAINING (3) Analysis and application of organizational skills and administrative structure of the athletic training profession including record keeping, budgeting and a history of athletic training. Prerequisite: PHEC 315. (UG)

PHEC 453 ORGANIZATION AND ADMINISTRATION OF ATHLETICS (3) Designed to aid those persons responsible for organizing and administering intramural and interschool athletic programs. Topics such as organizational patterns, objectives of the programs, controls, game management, records, conduct of tournaments, officials, awards and means of promoting the programs will be considered. Study will be made of competitive as well as informal recreation programs on all educational levels, with special emphasis on the secondary schools. Prerequisite: Upper-division standing in Physical Education or Coaching or Administrative Experience. (UG)

PHEC 470-479 [570-579] SELECTED TOPICS IN PHYSICAL EDUCATION (1-3) Workshop designed for study of special topics of current interest in physical education and athletics. Content varies and will focus on substantive material or operational problems. May be repeated for a maximum of six credits. Prerequisite: Consent of workshop director and/or graduate coordinator. (UG & G)

PHEC 491 INTERNSHIP IN ATHLETIC TRAINING II (1) Academic and practical experience emphasizing the development and implementation of rehabilitation programs for injured athletes; instruction of student trainer candidates. One-half of the semester will be spent in an affiliated setting. Prerequisite: PHEC.391, PHEC.415. Special permit required. (UG)

PHEC 494 [594] TRAVEL STUDY (3) Study of selected physical education programs, practices, or facilities. Study group will be accompanied by TSU Physical Education Department faculty member. Prerequisite: As specified in course outline and consent of instructor. (UG & G)

PHEC 496 [596] INDEPENDENT STUDY (1-3) Course is designed to permit students to take courses which they cannot arrange within the regular semester schedule. All work will be under the direct supervision of an assigned faculty. No more than 3.0 credits may be earned in Independent Study unless the permission of department chair is obtained. (UG & G)

PHYSICAL SCIENCE (PHSC)

General

Lower Division

- PHSC.101 PHYSICAL SCIENCE I (4) Principles of classical physics with an emphasis on the application of scientific method. May not be used for the Natural Science Major. (UG)
- PHSC.135 INTRODUCTION TO LASER PHOTOGRAPHY (HOLOGRAPHY) (3) Geometric interpretation will be used to explain the characteristics of optical holograms: images, redundancy, dynamic range, intermodulation noise, beam ratios, multiple scenes, and white light holograms. Experimental techniques of making holograms will also be covered. Two hours lecture, two hours laboratory. (UG)
- PHSC.151 ENERGY AND POLLUTION (3) Basic forms of energy: thermal, electrical, nuclear, solar. The relationship between energy and pollution. The problems of energy and pollution. High school algebra is suggested. Two hours of lecture and two hours of laboratory per week. (UG)
- PHSC.161 GENERAL ASTRONOMY I (3) Science of astronomy; investigations and theories concerning the solar system, galaxies and the universe. Two lecture hours and one two-hour laboratory period. High school algebra suggested. (UG)
- PHSC.195 COURSE RESEARCH IN 100-LEVEL COURSES (1) (UG)
- PHSC.234 STILL PHOTOGRAPHY (3) Emphasis will be on the production of photographs, rather than the mastery of many techniques. Camera operation, developing, printing and other topics according to student interest. (UG)
- PHSC.295 COURSE RESEARCH IN 200-LEVEL COURSES (1) (UG)

Upper Division

- PHSC.303 [503] EARTH-SPACE SCIENCE IN CHILDHOOD EDUCATION (3) Physical science principles applied in the study of earth and space. Emphasis on experimental and discovery approaches that may be used in the elementary school. Prerequisites: PHSC.101 (UG & G)
- PHSC.361 GENERAL ASTRONOMY II (3) A study of the stars, stellar systems, galaxies, and cosmology. Emphasis will be placed on the determination of the distance scale and modern trends in astronomy including methods used on space probes. Prerequisite: PHSC.161 or acceptable substitute. (UG)
- PHSC.401 [501] ADVANCED LABORATORY IN PHYSICAL SCIENCE (2) Exacting laboratory work of an advanced nature under the guidance of the Physical Science Department staff. Each student will present and defend his work at a seminar. May be repeated for a maximum of six credits. Prerequisite: Consent of instructor. (UG & G)
- PHSC.405 [505] FUNDAMENTAL CONCEPTS IN THE EARTH SCIENCES (3) Principles of astronomy, geology and related earth sciences. Methods of investigation employed by earth scientists. Observations in the planetarium and field studies in the Baltimore area. Two lecture hours and one two-hour laboratory period. No credit allowed if student has taken PHSC 161 and/or PHSC 121. Prerequisite: PHSC 101 or equivalent. (UG & G)

- PHSC.411 [511] PHYSICAL SCIENCE FOR TEACHERS (3) An in-service course for teachers in the elementary and/or junior high school designed to develop physical science concepts. Emphasis will be placed on developing these concepts through laboratory work. Prerequisites: Teaching experience. (UG & G)
- PHSC.470-479 [570-579] SPECIAL TOPICS IN PHYSICAL SCIENCE (1-4) The study of special topics in the areas of physical science. Special topics will be determined by their need for study and relevance to existing courses. (UG & G)
- PHSC.490 INDEPENDENT STUDY IN PHYSICAL SCIENCE (1-4) Individual and supervised research in selected areas of the Physical Sciences. Topics may be either theoretically or experimentally oriented. May be repeated for a maximum of six credits. Prerequisites: Junior status and one course in PHSC. (UG)
- PHSC.491 DIRECTED READINGS (1-4) Independent reading in an area selected by the student in consultation with the instructor. May be repeated for a maximum of six credits. Prerequisites: Junior status and one course in PHSC. (UG)
- PHSC.495 [595] COURSE RESEARCH IN 400-LEVEL COURSES (1) (UG & G)

PHYSICAL SCIENCE (PHSC)

Geology

Lower Division

- PHSC.111 ENVIRONMENTAL GEOLOGY (3) This course provides a general introduction to geologic principles within the context of the availability and occurrence of economically important earth materials; water movement in and on the earth; and geologic hazards. Not recommended for science or geography majors. Two hours lecture and two hours laboratory per week. Field trips may be required. (UG)
- PHSC.121 PHYSICAL GEOLOGY (4) Composition and structure of the earth; the internal and external forces acting upon it and the surface features resulting. Laboratory studies of common rocks and minerals, geologic and topographic maps and serial photographs. Field trips required. Three lecture hours and two laboratory hours per week. (UG)
- PHSC.123 HISTORICAL GEOLOGY (3) The history and development of the continents and ocean basins, and the evolution of life on earth, will be discussed based upon information obtained from the sedimentary rock record. Field trips required. Two hours of lecture and two hours of laboratory per week. (Not open to those who have taken PHSC 171). (UG)

Upper Division

- PHSC.321 [521] STRUCTURAL GEOLOGY (3) This course involves the identification and analysis of tectonic forms to determine the physical conditions of formation and the context of historical geological events in which they occur. Prerequisites: PHSC 121 and PHYS 211 or equivalent. (UG & G)
- PHSC.322 [522] GEOMORPHOLOGY OF THE EASTERN UNITED STATES (3) Extent, nature, and geological history of the geomorphic provinces of the Eastern United States. Emphasis on the Middle Atlantic states. Field excursions in the Maryland area. Prerequisite: PHSC 323 (UG & G)
- PHSC.323 GEOMORPHOLOGY (4) Detailed analysis of the formation, surficial characteristics, and global distribution of the earth's landforms. Labs emphasize interpretation of landform assemblages through use of topographic maps and aerial photographs. Cannot be taken for credit by students who have received credit for PHSC 222 or GEOG 371 or GEOG 315. Prerequisites: Six hours of geography and/or geology courses, including either GEOG 101 or PHSC 121. (UG)
- PHSC.331 [531] MINERALOGY (4) The study of minerals with emphasis on crystallography, crystal chemistry, and chemical-struct-tural classification. Laboratory identification of minerals both in hand specimen and thin section by application of principles of optical mineralogy. Three lecture hours and two hours laboratory. Prerequisites: PHSC 121; CHEM 101. (UG & G)

PHSC.333 [533] PETROLOGY OF IGNEOUS AND METAMORPHIC ROCKS (4) Study of the properties and genesis of two major rock groups. Megascopic and microscopic techniques in rock classification. Environments of formation. Three lecture hours and two hours laboratory. Prerequisite: PHSC 331. (UG & G)

PHSC.357 [557] PHYSICAL OCEANOGRAPHY (4) Physical, chemical, and geologic characteristics of ocean basins, boundaries, and sea water including origin and behavior of waves and currents. Prerequisites: PHYS.211 or 241 and CHEM.101, or consent of instructor. (UG & G)

PHSC.415 [515] HYDROGEOLOGY (4) Geologic aspects of groundwater: origin, occurrence, and movement. Prerequisites: CHEM.102; PHYS.212 or PHYS.242; Recommended: PHSC.321 and PHSC.443. (UG & G)

PHSC.441 [541] OPTICAL MINERALOGY AND PETROGRAPHY (3) This course includes the theory and application of polarized light and elements of crystallography in the analysis of rock forming minerals by use of a petrographic microscope. Prerequisite: PHSC 333 (UG & G)

PHSC.443 [543] SEDIMENTOLOGY AND STRATIGRAPHY(4) Processes by which sediments are produced, transported and deposited. Analysis of sediments and sedimentary bodies for the development facies models useful in interpretation of the stratigraphic record. Offered Fall semester alternate years. Two hours of laboratory and two hours of lecture per week. Prerequisites: PHSC 121, CHEM 101 (UG & G)

PHSC.451 PETROLOGY OF SEDIMENTARY ROCKS (3) Macro- and microscopic analysis of sedimentary rocks. Classifications and diagenetic processes. Offered Spring semester alternate years. Prerequisite: PHSC 443. (UG)

PHYSICS (PHYS)

Lower Division

PHYS.100 UNDERSTANDING PHYSICS (3) A descriptive course for the general student which examines and explains ordinary events using a framework provided by the special concepts and methods of physics. Present day physics will be included. Demonstrations and short illustrative experiments will be a part of the course. Three lecture hours. (UG)

PHYS.102 INTRODUCTION TO PHYSICS (3) Designed for students who will later take General Physics and whose background in the physical sciences indicates a need for further preparation. The mathematical expression of basic physical relationships. A placement test is available from the Physics Department. (UG)

PHYS.106 INTRODUCTION TO ELECTRONICS (3) Digital and analog electronics including techniques, devices, and laboratory practices. Prerequisite: High school algebra recommended. (UG)

PHYS.131 LIGHT AND COLOR (3) Some aspects of light and color and of vision will be examined on a factual and descriptive basis. Predominantly qualitative explorations will be made of the origin of light, of its wave and particular behavior, of the polarization of light, of lasers and holography, of the origin and physical basis of color, and of the physics of vision. This course in liberal arts physics is offered for curious inquirers who have had minimal contact with physics. Three lecture hours. (UG)

PHYS.141 PHYSICS OF SOUND AND MUSIC (3) Study of sound and its production by various instruments, the human voice included. Physical interpretations of concepts such as noise, pitch, mechanical and acoustic waves and oscillations, loudness, harmonics and timbre, scales and temperament, etc. (UG)

PHYS.185 INTRODUCTORY HONORS SEMINAR IN PHYSICS (1) This seminar is intended for freshmen and sophomores who have demonstrated exceptional ability in the sciences and will involve them directly with current ideas and research in physics.

Classical physics, quantum physics, relativity, and the new astronomy will be covered. Prerequisite: Permission of the Physics Department. (UG)

PHYS.201 GENERAL PHYSICS B (5) One semester General Physics with special emphasis on motion including kinematics and dynamics of linear and angular motion. (Not open to those who have taken PHYS.101). (UG)

PHYS.203 TOPICS IN PHYSICS FOR BIOLOGY MAJORS (5) Topics will be selected from these areas: 1) mechanical and thermal properties of matter; 2) forms of energy and conversion; 3) optics; 4) waves; 5) electromagnetics. Students who may wish to seek advanced degrees in biology, dentistry, medicine or related fields should enroll in PHYS.211-212 or 241, 242, 243. Prerequisite: MATH.115 or good standing in high school algebra and trigonometry. (UG)

PHYS.211-212 GENERAL PHYSICS I, II (4, 4) For Arts and Sciences, Biology, and Natural Science Majors: mechanics, heat, light, electricity, magnetism and a brief introduction to modern physics. Three lecture hours and one three-hour laboratory period. Prerequisite: MATH.115, or good standing in high school algebra and trigonometry. (UG)

PHYS.231 INTRODUCTION TO ASTROPHYSICS (3) Celestial mechanics, stellar interiors, stellar evolution and cosmology. Prerequisite: One year of high school physics or PHYS.212 or PHYS.242 at least concurrently. (UG)

PHYS.241, 242, 243 GENERAL PHYSICS I, II, III (4,4,3) For Chemistry, Mathematics, and Physics majors: Mechanics, and the conservation laws, gravitation, electricity, magnetism, DC and AC circuits, waves, introduction to physical optics. Three lecture hours and one three hour lab per week. Prerequisite: MATH.273 or concurrently. (UG)

PHYS.295-296 RESEARCH PROBLEMS IN PHYSICS (1-3) Individual project in any branch of physics. Students can choose either to work on projects or in areas suggested by physics faculty. At the completion of a project, the student must write a formal research paper on the work done. Students may register for this more than once but at different levels. Prerequisite: Permission of the instructor who will direct the proposed work. (UG)

Upper Division

PHYS.303 HISTORY OF SCIENCE (3) This course will present a general overview of the development of scientific knowledge from ancient to modern times. It will examine how our modern scientific worldview has been shaped by major periods of scientific development, particularly in the sixteenth and seventeenth centuries involving primarily astronomy and physics, and in the nineteenth and twentieth including geology, biology, and psychology as well. Attention will be given to the relations between science and culture, religion, technology, and public policy. Prerequisite: One course in the biology, chemistry, or physics department. (UG)

PHYS.304 [504] HISTORY AND PHILOSOPHY OF PHYSICS (2) The works of Sarton, Cohen, Singer and Dampier on the history and significance of physical concepts. The philosophical concepts of Bridgeman, Russell, Heisenberg and other contemporaries interpreted in the historical development. Two lecture hours. (UG & G)

PHYS.307 [507] INTRODUCTORY MATHEMATICAL PHYSICS (3) As the mathematical maturity of the students will allow, selected topics will be examined such as the generalized expressions for forces and potentials, vector analysis, applications of Fourier series and complex variables, and solutions of the harmonic oscillator and wave equations. Three lecture hours. Prerequisite: PHYS 242, MATH 373 or concurrently. (UG & G)

PHYS.309 [509] MATHEMATICS OF MOTION (4) This course, intended to meet the needs of mathematics major students, illustrates the application of mathematics to major physical phenomena: the particle and wave nature of motion. The methods developed are applicable to both the macrocosm and microcosm. Prerequisites: COSC.165, MATH.273 and MATH.274. (UG & G)

- PHYS.311 [511] MODERN PHYSICS (4) Special relativity, the quantum theory, atomic structure and spectra, and nuclear structure and reactions are the main topics covered by the course. Other topics which may be covered involve molecular, solid state, and high energy physics. Four lecture hours. Prerequisite: MATH.274, PHYS.212 or PHYS.242. (UG & G)
- PHYS.335 [533] BASIC ELECTRONICS (4) Circuit components, characteristics of semi-conductors, electrical measurements, method of circuit analysis, electronic devices. Three lecture hours and one three-hour laboratory period. Prerequisite: PHYS 212 or PHYS 242 or consent of instructor. (UG & G)
- PHYS.337 [534] DIGITAL ELECTRONICS (4) Subjects covered will be basic concepts of digital electronics such as: gates, logic modules, truth tables, digital codes, sequential systems, semi-conductor memories, decade counters, etc. The laboratory program is designed to give students firsthand experience on the material covered in lecture using integrated circuits and LED display systems. Two hours lecture, three hours laboratory. Prerequisite: MATH.115 or equivalent. (UG & G)
- PHYS.341-342 [541-542] INTERMEDIATE PHYSICS LABORATORY I, II (3, 3) First Semester: The measurement of several fundamental physical constants. Exploration of classical and modern research methods: Lasers, holography, optical and nuclear spectroscopy. Second Semester: Several advanced experiments, a research project. Familiarization with machine shop procedure, vacuum and other experimental techniques. Five laboratory hours. Prerequisite: PHYS 311 or concurrently. (Lab II: Prerequisite: PHYS 341) (UG & G)
- PHYS.351 [550] MECHANICS (3) Systems of coordinates and transformations, kinematics, Newtonian dynamics, linear systems and oscillators, central force motion, generalized coordinates, and Lagrange's equations. Optional topics: Hamiltonian's principle, perturbation techniques, non-linear behavior, coupled oscillations. Three lecture hours. Prerequisites: PHYS.243 or PHYS.212, MATH.274. (UG & G)
- PHYS.352 [552] THERMODYNAMICS AND KINETIC THEORY (3) Principles and laws of classical thermodynamics applied to simple irreversible processes, including chemical, elastic, electric and magnetic phenomena; thermodynamic functions and Maxwell's relations; the conservation equations in elementary kinetic theory; fluctuations; and irreversible transfer effects. This course may be taken concurrently with PHYS 243 or by permission. Three lecture hours. Prerequisites: PHYS.212 or PHYS.243, MATH.274. (UG & G)
- PHYS.354 [554] ELECTRICITY AND MAGNETISM I (3) Electrostatics, magnetostatics, and electromagnetic radiation. Among the topics normally covered are the Divergence Theorem and Stokes' Theorem, electrostatics in free space and in dielectric materials, the Biot-Savart Law, the magnetic vector potential, inductance and electromotance, magnetic materials, Maxwell's Equations in free space and in materials. Other topics sometimes covered include wave guides, Snell's Laws, radiation from antennas, radiation from accelerated point charges. Three lecture hours. Prerequisite: MATH.274, PHYS.212 or PHYS.242. (Not open to those who have taken CHEM.305) (UG & G)
- PHYS.361 OPTICS FUNDAMENTALS (4) Geometric, wave and quantum optics: Lenses and mirrors, lens aberrations and design, optical instruments, interference diffraction, polarization, absorption and scattering, lasers, holography, and the dual nature of light. Three lecture hours and one three-hour laboratory each week. Prerequisites: PHYS.243, COSC.165, and PHYS.341 (or permission of the instructor). (UG)
- PHYS.370-379 SELECTED TOPICS IN CONTEMPORARY ASTROPHYSICS (3) Variable content including the origin of the elements, and radio, microwave, and UV instruments and sources. Prerequisite: PHYS.231 or PHSC.161 plus one year of college general physics. (UG)
- PHYS.391 INTERNSHIP IN PHYSICS (2-3) Practical experience in industry, public and private agencies. Not for major or minor credit. Special permit and fee required. May be repeated once for credit. Prerequisite: 2.7 GPA, Junior or Senior standing, Major in Physics, Consent of Department. (UG)
- PHYS.395-396 [595-596] RESEARCH PROBLEMS IN PHYSICS (1-3) Individual project in any branch of physics. Students can choose either to work on projects or in areas suggested by physics faculty. At the completion of a project, the student must write a formal research paper on the work done. Students may register for this more than once but at different levels. Prerequisite: Permission of the instructor who will direct the proposed work. (UG & G)
- PHYS.411 GRAVITATION, RELATIVITY, AND COSMOLOGY (3) Development of Einstein's general theory of relativity and its application to astrophysics: theory of gravity, relativistic effects of massive stars, black hole, gravity waves, cosmology. Given alternate years. (UG)
- PHYS.421 FUNDAMENTAL PARTICLES (3) Experimental and theoretical physics of particles and fields: particle production and detection, relativistic kinematics, symmetry, conservation laws, fundamental interactions, phenomenology and contemporary models. Prerequisites: PHYS.307 and PHYS.311. (UG)
- PHYS.435 [535] ELECTRONICS (3) Principles of transistors with emphasis on their design and construction and an introduction to logic circuits. Two lecture hours and one two-hour laboratory. Prerequisite: PHYS.335. (UG & G)
- PHYS.437 [537] INTRODUCTION TO MICROPROCESSOR-BASED DIGITAL SYSTEMS (3) An introductory course on basic microcomputer concepts. Topics covered include basic structure and organization of microcomputers, digital logic design, assembly language programming, memory elements, and applications. Hardware oriented experiments will be conducted providing practical experience in interfacing the microcomputer to a variety of instruments and input-output devices. Two hours lecture and two hours laboratory. Prerequisite: PHYS.37. (UG & G)
- PHYS.445 [545] LASERS & HOLOGRAPHY (3) The wave front reconstructions, laser, theory, the properties and making of holograms, and the applications of lasers and holography will be covered. Special projects will be assigned to students depending upon their individual theoretical and experimental background. Prerequisite: PHYS.243 or consent of instructor. (UG & G)
- PHYS.451 [551] MECHANICS II (3) Continuation of PHYS 351. Inertia and stress tensors; continuum mechanics; rotation of a rigid body; theory of small vibrations; basic postulates of the special theory of relativity; relativistic dynamics; lattice vibrations. Other special topics of advanced mechanics. Prerequisites: PHYS.351 and PHYS.307. (UG & G)
- PHYS.453 [553] PHYSICAL OPTICS (3) Electromagnetic theory of light, wave solutions, interference, diffraction, scattering, radiation from coherent and incoherent sources, elementary theory of masers and lasers. Three lecture hours. Prerequisite: PHYS.355 or consent of instructor. (UG & G)
- PHYS.454 ELECTRICITY AND MAGNETISM II (3) Solutions of Maxwell's equations in complex media; wave guides, boundary value problems (Snell's and Fresnel's laws), Hertzian oscillator; introductory electrodynamics. Prerequisite: PHYS.354. (UG)
- PHYS.455 [555] INTRODUCTORY QUANTUM MECHANICS (3) The Schrodinger equation, states of one particle in one dimension, potential barrier problems in one dimension, the harmonic oscillator, system of particles in one dimension, motion in three dimensions, angular momentum, spin, application to atomic physics. Prerequisites: PHYS.351, MATH.373. (UG & G)
- PHYS.456 [556] INTRODUCTION TO STATISTICAL MECHANICS (3) Distribution functions, microcanonical, canonical and grand canonical ensembles, the partition function and thermodynamics relations. Fermi-Dirac and Bose-Einstein statistics, some simple models and applications, the Maxwell-Boltzman transport equation and the hydrodynamic equation, transport coefficients. Three lecture hours. Prerequisite: PHYS.455. (UG & G)
- PHYS.457 SOLID STATE PHYSICS (3) Crystal structure, wave propagation in periodic structures, the Fermi gas, energy bands, magnetism, are presented as a central theoretical core for the study of the solid state. Some of the basic models, concepts, and manifest properties of solids are also included. Prerequisites: PHYS.311, PHYS.351, and PHYS.355. (UG)

PHYS.459 [559] NUCLEAR PHYSICS (3) A lecture and problem course dealing at the introductory level concerning experimental and theoretical method for the study of nuclear structure. Topics to be covered include: properties of nuclei, electromagnetic transition and beta decay; nuclear models, nuclear reactions, and two body interactions. Given in alternate years. Prerequisite: PHYS.311; PHYS.307 or consent of instructor. (UG & G)

PHYS.461 ELECTRO-OPTICS (4) Optical sources and detectors, electronics, controls and modulators. Radiant energy and power measurements, laser instrumentation, fiber optics, photo-active devices. Three lecture hours and one three-hour laboratory each week. Prerequisites: PHYS.361, PHYS.335, and PHYS.341-342 (or permission of the instructor). (UG)

PHYS.485-486 [585-586] PHYSICS SEMINAR I, II (1, 1) Students participate in colloquia on topics of current interest in physics research under guidance of instructor. One lecture hour. Prerequisite: Senior standing or consent of instructor. (UG & G)

PHYS.490 [590] INDEPENDENT STUDY IN PHYSICS (1-4) Prerequisite: At least junior status and one course in the Physics Department. May be repeated for a maximum of six credits. (UG & G)

PHYS.491 [591] DIRECTED READINGS (1-4) Prerequisites: At least junior status and one course in the Physics Department. May be repeated for a maximum of six credits. (UG & G)

PHYS.495-496 RESEARCH PROBLEMS IN PHYSICS (1-3) Individual projects in any branch of physics. Students can choose either to work on projects or in areas suggested by physics faculty. At the completion of a project, the student must write a formal research paper on the work done. Students may register for this more than once but at different levels. Prerequisite: Permission of the instructor who will direct the proposed work. (UG)

PHYS.499 HONORS THESIS IN PHYSICS (1-4) Writing of an honors thesis based on independent research done under the direction of a staff member. Prerequisites: Consent of instructor and open only to advanced honors candidates. May be repeated for a maximum of six credits. (UG)

POLITICAL SCIENCE (POSC)

Lower Division

POSC 101 INTRODUCTION TO POLITICAL SCIENCE (3) The origins of modern governments. The nature of constitutions and constitutionalism. A definition and interpretation of politics. (UG)

POSC 103 AMERICAN NATIONAL GOVERNMENT (3) Structure and functions of the government of the United States and the problems involved in the extension of the scope of democratic government in our contemporary life. (UG)

POSC 107 INTRODUCTION TO INTERNATIONAL RELATIONS (3) An introductory examination of principles of legal, political, and social relations between nations. (UG)

POSC 137 INTRODUCTION TO COMPARATIVE POLITICS (3) The study of politics is introduced through an examination of different political systems. The activities of parties, movements, and pressure groups are examined in the context of different social, political, and economic frameworks. (UG)

POSC 207 STATE GOVERNMENT (3) Historical background, state constitutions, and the legislative, executive and judicial branches of government. Problems of state administration and federal-state relations. Prerequisite: POSC 103 or consent of the instructor. (UG)

POSC 209 INTRODUCTION TO LAW (3) The legal process in the United States. This course is primarily designed for the liberal arts student. Prerequisite: Sophomore standing and one Introductory Political Science course. (UG)

POSC 210 INTRODUCTION TO PUBLIC POLICY ANALYSIS (3) An introductory study of the policy process and the problems and methods of evaluating public policies in the American political system. Prerequisites: POSC 101, 103 or permission of instructor. (UG)

POSC 212 HONORS SEMINAR IN POLITICAL SCIENCE (3) Not for Political Science Seminar Credit. Small group discussion focusing on a specialized topic not available in other electives. Variation in content. May be repeated once under a different topic. Prerequisite: Special Permit required and Admission to Honors College (UG)

Upper Division

POSC 303 [503] THEORY OF INTERNATIONAL POLITICS (3) The theories of mutual relations of states. Elements of national power; international politics as a struggle for power. Restraints upon the struggle for power. Prerequisite: HIST 242 and POSC 107 or consent of instructor. (UG & G)

POSC 305 [505] URBAN GOVERNMENT AND POLITICS (3) The political history of American cities from the eighteenth century through the recent reform movement. City charters, home rule, types of executives, political machines. The metropolitan area. Prerequisite: POSC 103. (UG & G)

POSC 307 [507] CONTEMPORARY INTERNATIONAL POLITICS (3) An examination of the conduct of international relations by the Western, the Communist, and the non-aligned blocs in the Post-World War period. Prerequisite: POSC 107 or POSC 303, or consent of instructor. (UG & G)

POSC 333 POLITICS AND RELIGION IN GLOBAL PERSPECTIVES (3) Church-State conflicts in a global context emphasizing Poland, Nicaragua, Nigeria, Iran, Israel, and the United States. Prerequisite: POSC 101, 107, or any course in History of the Soviet Union or Eastern Europe, or consent of instructor. (UG)

POSC 337 [508] COMPARATIVE GOVERNMENT OF FOREIGN POWERS: THE WESTERN WORLD (3) An examination of the problems of modernization and stable constitutional rule in England, France, Italy, and Germany. Prerequisite: POSC 101 or POSC 137 or consent of instructor. (UG & G)

POSC 338 [538] COMPARATIVE GOVERNMENTS OF THE SOVIET UNION AND EASTERN EUROPE (3) This course introduces students to the political systems of the Soviet Union and Eastern Europe. Particular attention is given to the structure and function of government, its various constitutional, legal and political aspects. Prerequisites: POSC 101 or POSC 137 or consent of instructor. (UG & G)

POSC 339 [509] COMPARATIVE POLITICAL SYSTEMS (3) The course will attempt to bring together the analytical concepts and methodological techniques that may be applied to the study of political systems in a comparative sense. Prerequisite: POSC 103 or POSC 137 or consent of instructor. (UG & G)

POSC 340 COMPARATIVE PUBLIC POLICY (3) Comparative study of the policy problems and processes of the United States, Canada, and Western European countries, focusing on the growing convergence of public policy making in the states of the developed world. Prerequisites: POSC 101, 103, 137 or consent of instructor. (UG)

POSC 341 [511] AFRICAN GOVERNMENT AND POLITICS (3) An examination of the rise of African nationalism and the emergence of new states in Africa. Attention is directed to the influence of colonial rule and traditional political institutions on the development of party politics, patterns of government, and Pan-African ideas. A trend towards the military rule, political problems of the independent Africa, and the efforts of each country to build a strong and viable political system are emphasized. Prerequisite: Any Political Science course or consent of instructor. (UG & G)

POSC 351 [551] THE GOVERNMENT AND POLITICS OF LATIN AMERICA (3) An examination of the informal and formal rules of the political "game" in Latin America with an emphasis on four types of political systems found in contemporary Latin America: democratic reformist, revolutionary, populist, and military authoritarian. Prerequisite: POSC 101 or POSC 137 or consent of instructor. (UG & G)

POSC 355 [512] THE LATIN AMERICAN POLICY OF THE UNITED STATES (3) An analysis of the Latin American Policy of the United States from the Monroe Doctrine to the present. Emphasis will be on historical, political, economic, and security factors in the ebb and flow of inter-American relations. Prerequisite: POSC 101 or POSC 137 or consent of instructor. (UG & G)

POSC 359 [559] POLITICAL AND SOCIAL ASPECTS OF REVOLUTION (3) Nature and function of violence and revolution in modern social systems. Prerequisite: POSC 101 or POSC 137 or consent of instructor. (UG & G)

POSC 361 [513] POLITICAL BEHAVIOR (3) The purpose of this course is to introduce the student to the substantive theory and methodology of behavioral analysis. Topics include voting behavior, elite behavior, and an analysis of types of political conflict. Prerequisite: POSC 101 or consent of instructor. (UG & G)

POSC 375 [514] PUBLIC ADMINISTRATION (3) Administration as a central element of contemporary society, with special reference to the problems of government organization, control, personnel, finance, and public relations. Prerequisite: POSC 103. (UG & G)

Appendix A

UNIVERSITY GOALS

I. By far the highest priority of the university shall be to provide a sound liberal arts and sciences education for all students regardless of their major or occupational ambitions.

A. Guidelines for achieving this would include the following:

- General education requirements shall provide the student with a coherent introduction to the basic concerns and concepts of the arts and sciences. The courses shall be designed to serve a general education purpose rather than to serve as introductions for majors. Interrelationships between the arts and sciences courses in the general education requirements shall be a goal of design and planning and shall be explicitly stressed in the classroom.
- The number of hours required for a major in a discipline shall not become so large as to interfere with the student's exposure to other disciplines and ultimate attainment of a liberal arts and science education. Every student should take at least 60 hours of course work outside the major.
- Majors will be encouraged to take courses in areas outside their major with the accompanying effort on the part of faculty in course design and evaluation to make it possible for non-majors to participate effectively in upper level courses outside their major.
- Some experience in interdisciplinary courses at upper and/or lower levels shall be available and encouraged.
- Some experience in multi-cultural studies and non-western cultures at upper and/or lower levels shall be available and encouraged.
- Students will be encouraged to study a foreign language for the benefits such study offers in understanding language itself, in understanding other cultures, and in mental discipline.
- A definition of undergraduate curriculum shall be formulated to serve as a guide to departments and university committees in order to avoid the creation of specialized courses that more properly belong at the graduate level.
- Literacy, defined as the ability to read, write, and speak English intelligently, must be achieved by the student and stressed in all the courses in the curriculum in assignments and evaluation. Similarly, basic mathematical and basic scientific skills and concepts must be mastered by the student and should be stressed in all appropriate courses. Standards of literacy in these areas applied without exception will be established and maintained throughout the entire curriculum.
- An effective program of advisement shall be established to ensure that the student has the benefit of faculty advice on how to achieve a sound and coherent liberal education. The concern of the advisor will be with the student's total university experience, not just the courses in his/her major.
- To find out how effective our mutual efforts have been in providing a liberal arts and sciences education, systematic procedures should be developed and implemented to assess and evaluate student achievement.

II. The campus environment shall provide ideal conditions for learning—learning between student and teacher, student and student, teacher and teacher, and between these and the staff, alumni, and citizens concerned with intellectual and professional pursuits.

A. Guidelines for achieving this would include the following:

- New ways have to be found to provide our students with a sense of community and common purpose in the learning process, to revive the sense of excitement in grappling with ideas or pursuing a problem. Special attention needs to be devoted to encouraging commuter students to engage in the informal opportunities for learning on campus.
- Faculty learning would be enhanced by more and better interaction with the students as described above, but faculty also need to have more contact with faculty in other departments. The exchange of ideas, the increased understanding of the merits and problems of other disciplines, the enlarged perspective on the university as a whole, and a greater sense of community would be only a few of the benefits of such communication. Various possibilities for faculty interaction shall be studied and implemented.

- The working conditions for faculty in terms of office space and number of students have a considerable influence on their ability to be effective. Providing adequate office space, i.e., private offices, and achieving a more favorable faculty/student ratio will be high priorities in building and remodeling design and budget allocations.

- Community resources relevant to the academic pursuits of the university will be sought and utilized in the academic program.

III. The university shall support programs leading to the development of skills and knowledge.

A. Guidelines for achieving this would include the following:

- The academic preparation of the student should represent a balance between preparation in the liberal arts and training for a career. To achieve this balance the student will require careful advisement from both his or her academic major field and from other related disciplines. Courses designed to contribute to career development should supplement liberal arts preparation and should be taken after the student has carefully considered his or her interests and abilities.

IV. Excellence in student, faculty, and administrative performance shall be encouraged by relevant, constructive evaluation and recognition.

A. Guidelines for achieving this would include the following:

- Reasonably uniform expectations of student performance, in terms of amount of work in relation to credit hours and level of performance in relation to grades, shall be defined and maintained. Other methods of evaluation and reward will also be studied and considered.
- Student evaluations of faculty will be under continual review to determine their value as measures of excellence.
- Promotion and tenure criteria for faculty shall be defined and applied with reasonable consistency. Additional means of reward will be developed.
- Administrative performance shall be subject to faculty and student evaluation with the proviso indicated above in number 2.
- The university shall strive to cultivate in all members of the university community a dedication to excellence and a mutual respect for each other.

V. The university shall provide equal educational opportunity for the population it serves.

A. Guidelines for achieving this would include the following:

- The university shall strive to eliminate discrimination based on race, sex, religion, and age at all levels of university life with special attention given to:
 - Fair admissions policies with concomitant compensatory education if needed.
 - Academic and career advising that is free of stereotypes.
 - A curriculum that makes every attempt to represent minority groups and women equitably.
 - Classroom presentations that are free of derogation of race or sex.
 - Equal opportunity recruitment, hiring, and advancement.

- The university shall strive for equity in the cost of education and in access to enrollment for full and part-time degree candidates.

- The university shall continue to develop programs and policies that respond to the emerging continuing education needs and interests of the population served by the university. Such programs and policies will be consistent with the University Mission Statement (See I).

VI. The university shall maintain its autonomy from unreasonable influence by outside governing bodies and special interest groups.

A. Guidelines for achieving this would include the following:

- While it is reasonable that the governing boards and agencies of the state of Maryland have the right to establish policies for the university as a whole, the internal fiscal decision on how to implement those policies should remain the prerogative and responsibility of the university.
- Similarly, once the total budget for the university has been determined, the internal decisions should remain the prerogative and responsibility of the university.

3. While cooperative ventures with individuals or groups with special interests may often be of mutual benefit, the university shall retain the right to reject such support if it is judged to be harmful to the academic interests of the university.

CAMPUS FACILITIES

ACADEMIC BUILDINGS

STEPHENS HALL—This distinctive Jacobean building, constructed in 1915, has long been a landmark in the Baltimore area. The building was closed in 1986 for major renovation and is scheduled to be opened during the Spring Semester of 1990.

VAN BOKKELEN HALL—A classroom building for the departments of communication sciences and disorders and speech and mass communication, this facility contains therapy rooms for speech pathology and audiology majors, as well as a production studio for rehearsing radio and television broadcasts.

LINTHICUM HALL—Completed in 1967 and one of the largest classroom buildings on campus, it houses the departments of English, modern languages, history, philosophy, geography, sociology, political science, and economics, and associated offices.

SMITH HALL—First occupied in 1965, the building was expanded in 1976 to 223,285 square feet to house the departments of biology, chemistry, physics and science education. Included are plant growth chambers, greenhouses, reach-in environmental chambers, an aquarium room with aquatron, and controlled environmental animal rooms in addition to various classrooms and class laboratories. The Watson-King Planetarium is on the top floor.

BURDICK HALL—Completed in 1968, it houses the departments of nursing, occupational therapy, health sciences, and dance, and it contains facilities for intramural sports, an Olympic-sized swimming pool, classrooms, dance studios, three gymnasiums and various training and dressing rooms.

TOWSON CENTER—The 100-acre physical education complex houses the physical education and athletics departments and includes an arena, an all-weather track, 10 tennis courts with lighting, and separate fields for football, lacrosse, baseball, soccer, field hockey and softball. The building includes an arena with 165,000 square feet of floor space, six classrooms, a research laboratory, a curriculum center, student and faculty lounges, indoor archery and golf ranges, weight rooms, training areas and facilities, fencing, wrestling and gymnastic rooms, open teaching areas, five men's varsity locker rooms, four women's varsity locker rooms, four men's visiting team rooms, three women's visiting team rooms, six handball courts, four squash courts, two doubles squash courts, and a 60-foot long elevated press box.

LIDA LEE TALL—In addition to the Learning Resource Center for Grades K through 6, Lida Lee Tall also houses the Council Day Care Demonstration and Training Center, the Aliza Brandwine Center for Parent-Infant Development, the Student Day Care Center, and the offices of the Occupational Therapy Department.

ALBERT S. COOK LIBRARY—This modern five-story building was completed in 1969. It is designed to shelve 600,000 volumes and provides seating for 600 students. Towson's long history is reflected in the extensive collections of bound volumes, reference works, and substantial holdings on microfilm. The Academic Computing Center is located on the ground floor. The Department of Computer and Information Sciences offices are located on the fourth floor.

MEDIA CENTER—This building houses the offices of equipment circulation, information retrieval, television productions, cinematography by production, graphics, film loan services, still photography and audio productions and electronic repairs, constituting one of the best equipped audiovisual centers in the state. The campus radio station, WCVT-FM, is located in this building.

FINE ARTS CENTER—A $6.5-million building opened in 1973, houses the department of art, music and theatre arts, as well as a main stage theatre, a studio theatre, concert hall, the Holtzman Art Gallery and the Roberts Room, which displays the university's extensive Asian Art Collection.

HAWKINS HALL—Part of a three-building complex, it houses the elementary, secondary and early childhood education departments. Named for the former president, Earle T. Hawkins, it is equipped with large, attractive classrooms which can be sectioned into several smaller rooms. Television monitors are capable of recording activities in Lida Lee Tall. Also included in the wing is a reading center, testing modules, and an independent production area with learning carrels.

PSYCHOLOGY BUILDING—Part of the three-building complex that contains Hawkins Hall, it houses the psychology department, including learning laboratories, animal laboratories, statistics laboratories and an auditorium with learning cubicles.

LECTURE HALL—Part of the three-building complex that contains Hawkins Hall and the Psychology Building, it is equipped with broad space, a large electronic screen, and adjacent seminar rooms. Television cameras connect it with Hawkins Hall and the Psychology Building.

RESIDENCE HALLS

RESIDENCE TOWER—This high-rise residence hall houses 463 students. It includes lounge areas, classroom space, conference rooms and recreation areas.

NEWELL HALL—The first dormitory built on the university campus, housing 220 students, it has been renovated to an arrangement of double-loaded corridors to include small cluster living units. The units are self-contained to include small lounges, bathrooms and two or three student bedrooms. The building also includes the recently remodeled dining facilities, a recreation area, lounge and snack bar.

RICHMOND HALL—This is the second building erected for student housing and is adjacent to Newell Hall. Its arrangement is similar to that of Newell Hall, and it houses 122 students.

WARD AND WEST HALLS—Built in 1951, these twin residence halls were renovated in 1985. Air-conditioning was added to Ward Hall in 1986 and West Hall in 1987. The halls house both men and women, and each can accommodate about 57 students.

PRETTYMAN AND SCARBOROUGH HALLS—Built around a court garden, these twin residence halls, completed in 1956 and 1964, provide rooms for 164 students each.

THE GLEN RESIDENCE COMPLEX—A complex consisting of four (4) residence towers and a dining hall connected together by a landscaped patio/courtyard. A total of 1684 students, both male and female, can be housed in these modern motel style accommodations and can be served in the 640 seat dining facility overlooking "The Glen."

THE TOWSON RUN APARTMENTS—This apartment complex which shall open in August of 1990 has been designed to house 420 people in an apartment-type setting. It will be open for both students or students and their spouses and features most of the conveniences of apartment style living.

OTHER BUILDINGS

UNIVERSITY UNION—Completed in 1971, this $5-million structure is designed with two fronts. The three-story structure houses food service facilities, placement office, academic advising and tutorial center, student lounge areas, meeting rooms, and varied recreational areas including bowling, billiards and electronic games. The campus box office, book store, post office and parking services are located there, as well as the offices of the Student Government Association, the student newspaper Towerlight, and the yearbook Tower Echoes. Conferences, as well as dinners, dances, and other social events are also held in the building.

ADMINISTRATION BUILDING—Completed in 1972, it houses the executive and administrative offices of the university in a three-story modern building.

DOWELL HALL—This building completed in 1962 houses Medical Treatment facilities on the lower floor consisting of treatment rooms, a 4-bed infirmary, and a whirlpool bath. The second floor is occupied by the Center for Orientation and Academic Advising.

GLEN ESK—Formerly the home of the president, it is now occupied by the Counseling Center, which provides counseling and psychological services.

GENERAL SERVICES BUILDING—These facilities opened in 1969 to consolidate the physical plant and other service operations. The building houses maintenance trade shops, the motor pool, headquarters for the police department, and central stores and receiving.

MINNEGAN STADIUM—Completed in time for the fall, 1979 football season, the stadium is the home of Towson's NCAA Division IAA Tigers. There is an outdoor track. Seating for 5,000 fans can be expanded to double that number.

Appendix C

ADMISSIONS POLICY

A. Undergraduate admission requirements established by the Board of Trustees of State Universities and Colleges:

Admission to the State universities/colleges shall be determined without regard to race, color, religion, national origin, or sex.

1. High School Graduates

- a. The Board requires, as a minimum admissions standard for all full-time and part-time entering freshmen who have graduated from high school within five years of admission, a high school average of "C" or better. However, the Board encourages each institution to adopt standards above the minimum level.
- b. Each institution will develop predictive measures of probable academic success and identify any additional admissions criteria. Admission shall be granted to high school graduates on the basis of grades, rank, admission test scores, and other such evidence, including the recommendations of appropriate high school officials, as may be deemed indicative of the ability of the applicant to complete a course of study in a university/college leading to a degree.
- c. No admission offer shall be made prior to receipt of a candidate's scores on the admission tests administered in the candidate's senior year or subsequent thereto, except in special circumstances as determined by the university/college. Early admission may be offered to not more than a maximum of twenty percent of the anticipated enrollment in the freshman class. Such an offer shall be made only to an applicant of demonstrated superior scholarship and promise, as evidenced by his or her record through the junior year and by his or her performance on the admission tests administered in his or her junior year or after.
- d. The tests to be used for admission considerations shall be the College Board Scholastic Aptitude Tests.
- e. In addition to those students admitted under a. and b. above, each institution may admit, up to 15% of its entering freshman class, students whose high school average was less than "C" but who show potential for success in postsecondary education. All students admitted under this program must be provided with appropriate academic and other support services.
- f. Admission prior to graduation from high school shall be conditional upon completion of the high school curriculum in a manner that would qualify the student for admission under paragraph 1.b., above.
- g. In the evaluation of academic credentials, no preference shall be granted as between residents of the State, upon the basis of their place of residence.

h. Completion of a university/college preparatory curriculum as specified in paragraph 2.a. is required; however, high school graduates who have not followed a university/college preparatory curriculum, but whose grades, rank, and aptitude test scores indicate the potential to complete a university/college program, shall be admitted conditionally or have the requirement waived as specified in paragraphs 2.b. and 2.c.

i. All entering freshmen with an SAT score of less than 470 on the respective sections of the SAT shall be administered diagnostic/placement tests in reading, writing, and mathematics, to determine their strengths and weaknesses.

(1) All students earning below a predetermined standard on these examinations shall be required to participate in remedial programs designed to eliminate deficiencies in basic skills.

(a) These students shall be administered post-tests to determine if they have reached the established standard.*

(b) Students who fail to meet the standard within two semesters and a summer session shall not be retained at the institution.

(2) Students who exhibit a weakness in the basic skills area but are not in need of full remedial programs shall be given a prescribed program to be completed prior to admission to junior status.

(3) Students who earn above a predetermined score at the upper end of the scale; e.g., the 95th percentile, shall be encouraged and enabled to undertake a program commensurate with their measured abilities.

j. Students, who have earned fewer than 25 credit hours and desire to transfer to a State university/college, shall be admitted under the conditions set down in paragraph 1.i. in accordance with the Maryland Student Transfer Policies, which require equal treatment of native and transfer students.

k. Admission to some designated programs may require higher standards or be limited by the opportunities available to complete a clinical or other requirement of the major program.

l. The institutional standards shall be approved by the Board and reviewed by them on an annual basis and such standards shall be published in each State university/college catalogue.

m. The standards depicted above shall become effective with the entering class of Fall 1980.

2. High School Course Requirements

a. Effective Fall 1984, entering freshmen will be required to have completed a prescribed high school curriculum consisting of four (4) units of English, three (3) units of social science, two (2) units of science and two (2) units of mathematics. One (1) additional unit of mathematics will be required in Fall 1988. The schedule for phasing in specific courses follows:

(1) Fall 1984—one unit each of English Composition, U.S. History, American Government, and Algebra I.

(2) Fall 1985—one unit in either American Literature or English Literature and one unit in laboratory-based Biology.

(3) Fall 1986—one unit in American Literature and one unit in English Literature and one unit in Geometry.

(4) Fall 1987—one unit each of World Civilization and a laboratory-based science course of the student's choice.

(5) Fall 1988—one unit in Algebra II.

(6) Fall 1991—one unit of a foreign language.

(7) Fall 1992—two units of a foreign language.

In addition to the required courses, the Board believes that college-bound high school students would benefit from a background in oral communication, the fine arts, and computers.

b. In any given year of the phased-in plan, a student who has not taken the required courses but whose past achievements indicate that he has potential to achieve satisfactorily in college, may be admitted to the university/college with the understanding that courses will be taken during the freshman year in the prerequisite deficient area(s). The students will not receive graduation credit for these courses.

c. Students who demonstrate proficiencies in required courses, even though they have not earned credit in those courses, may have the conditional status waived. Verbal and Math SAT scores of 550 or above on respective sections of the SAT will serve as a waiver; i.e., a Math SAT of 550 will waive mathematics and science course requirements and a Verbal SAT of 550 for a waiver of English and social science course requirements. Other test scores comparable to the SAT scores may also be used to determine eligibility for waiver.

d. Advanced placement enables gifted and certain other students to pursue advanced courses before high school and opt out of certain required courses in high school. In these cases the units may not appear on the high school transcript. If the advanced courses have been taken, one can assume that minimum requirements have been met. (Example—If trigonometry appears on the high school transcript it can reasonably be assumed that algebra I and II and geometry have been taken in an earlier grade.)

3. Non-graduates of High School

a. Applicants who are not high school graduates shall be admitted on the basis of high school equivalence examinations, the admissions test scores, and such other evidence, including the recommendations of appropriate persons, as may be deemed indicative of the ability of the applicant to complete a course of study in a university/college leading to a degree.

b. Applicants with GED subtest scores less than 50 in English composition, social studies, natural sciences and literature (reading) and with a subtest score less than 60 in mathematics will be admitted conditionally.

c. Students with subtest score(s) below the minimum will be required to satisfactorily complete course(s) in the deficient subject area(s) before the conditional status is removed.

d. Courses in deficient areas are not creditable toward graduation; therefore, enrollment in courses in the discipline of subject deficiency is prohibited until the deficiency is removed.

4. Out-of-State and Foreign Students

A maximum of fifteen percent of the total undergraduate full-time day students at each university/college may be composed of out-of-state students and foreign students not residents of Maryland. However, the university/college shall be expected to meet its obligations to qualified resident students before approaching the maximum enrollment of out-of-state and non-resident foreign students.

5. Student Residency Classifications for Tuition Purposes

a. General. To qualify as a resident for tuition purposes for any given semester, the applicable individual must have maintained his or her domicile in Maryland for at least six (6) months immediately prior to the last date available for initial registration for that semester at the State university/college which the student attends. If a student is not financially dependent on his or her parent and/or spouse, the domicile of the student shall control. If a student is financially dependent on his or her parent and/or spouse, then the domicile of the parent or spouse shall control.

b. "Financially dependent" defined. A "financially dependent" student is one who receives more than one half of his or her support from a parent or spouse during the six-month period immediately prior to the last date available for initial registration for the semester in question. If a student receives more than one half of his or her support in the aggregate from both a parent and spouse, the student shall be considered financially dependent on the person providing the greater amount of support. Until proven otherwise, it shall be presumed that a person is financially dependent on a parent and/or spouse.

c. "Parent" defined. The word "parent" includes a natural parent, an adoptive parent, a stepparent, a legally appointed guardian, and a person who stands in loco parentis to the student when he has put himself in the situation of a lawful parent by assuming parental obligations without legally adopting the student. The determination of such status will be made on a case by case basis by the responsible university/college official who will consider who has custody or control of the student, who has assumed general responsibility for his or her welfare.

d. Domicile

(1) Establishment of domicile. The term "domicile" shall be synonymous with the term "residence." Domicile is a person's permanent place of abode; namely, there must be established in Maryland for a purpose independent of attendance at a State university/college.

(2) Maintenance/change of domicile. For the purpose of residency for tuition purposes, only one domicile may be maintained.

(a) A domicile in Maryland is lost when a new one is established elsewhere, or if an individual leaves the State with no intent to return to Maryland. After residing elsewhere for six months, regardless of intent to return, a student's status as a resident for tuition purposes is in question.

(b) The domicile of the applicable person shall be determined at the time of initial registration of the student but may hereafter be changed for any subsequent semester if circumstances change in relation to these regulations.

(3) Criteria for determining domicile. The following criteria shall be considered by the State university/college in determining the domicile of a student who is not financially dependent.

(a) Ownership or rental of living quarters in Maryland other than property owned, managed or supervised by the State college, such as dormitories, fraternity houses, or sorority houses.

(b) Substantially uninterrupted physical presence in Maryland, including the months when the student is not attending the State university/college.

(c) Maintenance in Maryland of all, or substantially all, of the student's possessions.

(d) Payment of Maryland State income taxes on all income earned, including all income earned outside the State.

(e) Registration to vote and actually having voted in the State if an election has been held subsequent to registration to vote.

(f) Registration of a motor vehicle in the State, if the student owns or uses such a vehicle.

(g) Possession of a valid Maryland license if the student is licensed to drive anywhere.

(h) Any other relevant facts.

(4) Full-Time Members of the Armed Forces of the United States and Their Spouses and Dependents.

(a) A full-time member of the Armed Forces of the United States residing in Maryland shall be granted in-state status, for tuition purposes, except as provided for in (b) below.

(b) A full-time member of the Armed Forces of the United States sent by a branch of the Armed Forces to attend a State university/college for the purpose of completing a degree shall not be granted in-state status for tuition purposes.

(c) Spouses of full-time members of the Armed Forces of the United States residing in Maryland shall be granted in-state status, for tuition purposes.

(d) "Financially Dependent" children of members of the Armed Forces of the United States residing in Maryland (as the term "financially dependent" is defined in Paragraph 4.b. of this section) shall be granted in-state status, for tuition purposes.

(5) Foreign Nationals. The domicile requirements set forth in these Regulations shall apply to immigrant aliens lawfully admitted for permanent residence in accordance with the laws of the United States.

(6) Responsibility of Students.

(a) Any student or prospective student in doubt concerning his/her residence status is responsible for receiving a ruling from the designated official at the applicable State university/college.

(b) A student whose status is altered from resident to nonresident, or vice versa, because of the change of domicile of the student, parent or spouse as applicable, has the responsibility of informing the designated official at the applicable State university/college.

- (c) The residency status of a student may be altered by the applicable State university/college on the basis of its own findings.
- (d) A change in tuition status must be requested by a student prior to the registration period in order to be effective for that semester.
- (e) A student applying for a change to Maryland resident tuition status must furnish under oath a statement fully disclosing his income and assets, to include parental or spousal income tax data, and must furnish any further documentation deemed necessary by the institution.
- (f) The burden of proof shall be upon the student to establish residence in Maryland by clear and convincing evidence.

(7) Responsibility of each State university/college.

- (a) If a timely request for reclassification is made by the student and if the State university/college has not rendered a final decision prior to the commencement of the applicable semester, the student shall pay fees and charges associated with his contemporary residency status; and if the status is changed, any excess fees or charges shall be refunded.
- (b) Each state university/college shall establish an appeals procedure which will be assumed to work from written documents rather than by way of formal hearings. An appeals committee decision may be appealed further to the chief administrative officer of the institution or to his designee.

(8) Interpretation of Rules. These rules shall not be interpreted as establishing any irrefutable presumptions of fact.

6. Advanced Undergraduate Standing.

- a. An applicant for advanced undergraduate standing must present a transcript and record showing that he left in good standing from the last college or university he attended. Such college or university shall be regionally accredited or accredited by the Maryland State Board of Education.
- b. Credit shall be allowed for all courses that approximate the requirements of the particular university/college, or, if not offered at the university/college, are approved by the appropriate department of the university/college, or, in the absence of an appropriate department, by the Curriculum Committee of the university/college. In no case shall transfer credit be allowed for courses in which the applicant has earned an "F" grade.
- c. In all cases, the transfer applicant must earn at least thirty credit hours toward his degree at the university/college as a full-time or part-time student.
- d. Exemptions from the above requirements may be granted on an individual basis by the president of the university/college, except that in no case shall transfer credit be allowed for courses in which the applicant has earned an "F" grade.

B. Maryland Higher Education Commission Transfer Policies

Authorization

These Student Transfer Policies, as adopted by the Maryland Higher Education Commission, will supersede the transfer policies in effect since 1972, as modified and adopted in 1979. These policies shall be effective and applicable to students first enrolling in Maryland public post-secondary educational institutions in Fall 1990, and thereafter.

Applicability of Policies

These transfer policies and procedures apply to admission, credit transfer, program articulation, and related matters for undergraduate students who wish to transfer between Maryland public colleges and universities. The Maryland Higher Education Commission also recommends them to Maryland independent institutions.

Rationale

A major premise of the Maryland public higher education system is that a student should be able to progress from one segment of higher education to another without loss of time or unnecessary duplication of effort. The Maryland Higher Education Commission's objective is to ensure that a student who intends to complete a baccalaureate degree and who begins his or her work at a community college, is able to move toward the completion of that degree by transferring to a baccalaureate degree-granting institution without loss of credit or unnecessary duplication of course content. At the same time, the Commission recognizes that some students change their educational objectives as they progress in their studies, indeed, sometimes because their studies expose them to new ideas and possibilities. These students should also be able to complete their general education courses and have them transfer without loss of credit.

One means of accomplishing this objective is through the development of recommended transfer programs between two- and four-year institutions. A recommended transfer program, developed by careful planning and agreement between specific two- and four-year institutions, is that recommended sequence of courses which a student takes at a community college which will constitute the first two years of a baccalaureate degree program at a Maryland public institution of higher education.

The Maryland Higher Education Commission recognizes that students select institutions of higher education for a variety of reasons. These policies also recognize that each Maryland public college or university has a separate and distinct mission, and that each has the responsibility to establish and maintain standards of expectations for courses, programs, certificates, and degrees consistent with that mission. Nevertheless, effective and efficient transfer of credits between and among these institutions must occur within the larger context of the statewide structure of baccalaureate and community college education.

Successful and harmonious articulation depends on

- firm agreement that the needs of the student should be a primary concern in developing articulation procedures, while maintaining the integrity of educational programs;
- the establishment of clear and equitable policies to assure optimum accessibility for transfer students with minimal loss of credits and minimal duplication of course content;
- mechanisms for evaluating and resolving difficulties students may encounter in moving from one school to another;
- free and continuous communications among institutions;
- mutual respect for institutions and their missions;
- adaptability, within a context of understanding that changes affect not only the institution making changes but also the students and institutions impacted by the changes;
- free exchange of data among institutions; and
- timely exchange of information relative to students' progress.

The intended principal benefactor is the student, whose uninterrupted progress toward a degree—based on successful academic performance—is best served by the open exchange of current information about programs, and is best protected by a clear transfer policy pertaining to the public segments of higher education in Maryland.

The State's interests are similarly served through such a policy, which results in the optimal use of its higher education resources by reducing the costly duplication that results in the needless waste of the valuable time and effort of Maryland students, faculty, and administration.

Institutional interests and missions are also protected by this systematic approach, which permits them to incorporate into their academic planning more accurate projections about the programmatic backgrounds of transferring students.

In more specific ways this document's purpose is to:

- Define broad areas of agreement among the public two-year and four-year institutions of higher education pertaining to facilitating the transfer of students within these segments;
- Provide a mechanism for continuous evaluation of programs, policies, procedures, and relationships affecting transfer of students;
- Provide such revisions as are needed to promote the academic success and general well-being of the transfer student;
- Provide a system of appeals beginning on the campus level to resolve difficulties that students experience in transfer.

While policies and procedures can be established which facilitate the transfer of students, it is the responsibility of the student, as the principal in the process, to know and follow the procedures defined.

1. POLICIES

The fair and equal treatment of "native" and "transfer" students is the fundamental principle of these policies.

A. Admission of Transfer Students

(1) Associate of Arts Degree Holders (or those with 56 or more credit hours):

- a. Students who have completed the Associate of Arts degree or students who have completed 56 semester hours of credit with a cumulative grade point average (GPA) of 2.0 or higher on a scale of 4.0, in either case in college and university parallel courses, shall not be denied direct transfer to an institution. (Only the last grade received in a course repeated by the student shall be used in computing a cumulative grade point average.)

If the number of students seeking admission exceeds the number that can be accommodated in a particular professional or specialized program, or certain circumstances exist which limit the size of an upper division program or the total enrollment, admission decisions will be based on criteria developed and published by the receiving institution, providing fair and equal treatment for native and transfer students.

- b. Courses taken at a Maryland community college as part of a recommended transfer program oriented toward a baccalaureate degree shall be applicable to related programs at a Maryland public institution granting the baccalaureate degree.
- c. The Associate in Arts degree (or those with 56 or more credit hours) shall meet the lower level general education requirements at the receiving institution. In cases where the general education requirements at the receiving institution exceed those of the sending institution, the transfer student will be required to take no more than the same number of lower division general education credits than those required of the native student.
- d. The determination of the major program requirements for a baccalaureate degree, including courses in the major taken in the lower division, shall be the responsibility of the faculty of the institution awarding the degree. The receiving institution may set major requirements which may fulfill general education requirements simultaneously. However, in developing its lower division course work, the degree-granting institution would be expected systematically to exchange information with the community college to assure that the transferability of credits into that program.

(2) Transfer Without an Associate of Arts Degree (or fewer than 56 credit hours):

- a. Students from Maryland community colleges who were admissible to the four-year institution as high school seniors, and who have attained a cumulative 2.00 average in college/university parallel courses shall be eligible for transfer to the institution regardless of the number of credits.
- b. Students who were not admissible as high school seniors, but who have earned sufficient credits to be classified by the receiving institution as sophomores, must meet the stated admission criteria of the receiving institution. Such requirements for admission may vary by program, according to criteria developed and published by the receiving institution. Such admission criteria shall provide for equal access for native and transfer students.
- c. If the student has attended more than one institution, the cumulative GPA for admission purposes will be computed on grades received in courses at all institutions attended.
- d. Transferable courses defined as meeting the general education requirements at the sending institution shall be applicable to the general education requirements of the receiving institution.

B. Credit Transferability

(1) Traditional Credit:

a. Credit earned at any public institution in Maryland shall be transferable to any other public institution provided:

- the credit is from a college or university parallel course or program;
 - the grades in the block of courses transferred average 2.0 or higher; and
 - the acceptance of the credit is consistent with the policies of the receiving institution governing students following the same program. (For example, if a "native" student's "D" grade in a specific course is acceptable in a program, then a grade of "D" earned by a transfer student in the same course is also acceptable in the same program.)
- b. Credit earned in or transferred from a community college normally shall be limited to half the baccalaureate degree program requirement, but in no case more than 70 credits, and to the first two years of undergraduate education experience.

(2) Non-Traditional Credit:

- a. The assignment of credit for AP, CLEP, or other nationally recognized, standardized examination scores presented by transfer students will be determined according to the same regulations that apply to native students in the receiving institution, and such assignment must be consistent with the State minimum requirements.
- b. Transfer of credit from the following areas shall be consistent with the State minimum standards and shall be evaluated by the receiving institution on a course-by-course basis:
 - technical courses from career programs;
 - course credit awarded through articulation agreements with other segments or agencies;
 - credit awarded for clinical practica or cooperative education experiences;
 - credit awarded for life and work experiences.

The basis for the awarding of the credit shall be indicated on the student's transcript.

- c. The baccalaureate degree-granting institution shall inform transfer students of the procedures through which coursework for which there is no clear equivalency can be validated, such as ACE recommendations, portfolio assessment, credit through challenge, examinations and satisfactory completion of the next course in sequence in the academic area.
- d. The baccalaureate degree-granting institution shall use validation procedures when a transferring student successfully completes a course at the lower division level which the degree-granting institution offers at the upper division level, and once validated, the credits earned for the course shall be substituted for the upper division course.

C. Program Articulation

Recommended transfer programs will be developed through consultation between the sending and receiving institutions. As such, each recommended transfer program represents an agreement between the two institutions that allow students aspiring to the baccalaureate degree to plan their programs. These programs will constitute freshman/sophomore level coursework to be taken at the community college in fulfillment of the receiving institution's lower division coursework requirement.

2. POLICIES TO PROMOTE THE ACADEMIC SUCCESS AND GENERAL WELL-BEING OF TRANSFER STUDENTS

A. By the Sending Institutions:

- (1) Students who enroll at Maryland community colleges shall be encouraged to complete the Associate in Arts degree or to complete 56 hours in a recommended transfer program which includes both general education courses and courses applicable toward the program at the receiving institution.
- (2) Community college students are encouraged to choose as early as possible the institution and program into which they expect to transfer.
- (3) Sending institutions shall provide to community college students information about the specific transferability of courses at four-year colleges.

- (4) Information about transfer students who are capable of honors work or independent study shall be transmitted to the receiving institution.
- (5) The sending institution should promptly supply the receiving institution with all the required documents provided the student has met all requirements of the sending institution for transfer.

B. By the Receiving Institutions:

- (1) Admission requirements and curriculum prerequisites shall be stated explicitly in institutional publications.
- (2) Transfer students from newly established public colleges which are functioning with the approval of the Maryland Higher Education Commission shall be admitted on the same basis as applicants from regionally accredited colleges.
- (3) The receiving institution shall evaluate the transcripts of degree seeking transfer students as expeditiously as possible, and shall notify students of the results no later than at the completion of the students first semester of enrollment at the receiving institution. Students shall be informed both of which courses are acceptable for transfer credit and which of those are applicable to the student's intended program of study.
- (4) Transfer students shall be given the option of satisfying institutional graduation requirements which were in effect at the receiving institution at the time they enrolled as freshmen at the sending institution. In the case of major requirements, the transfer student has the option of satisfying the major requirements in effect at the time when the student was identifiable as pursuing the recommended transfer program at the sending institution. These conditions are applicable to the student who has been continuously enrolled at the community college by completing a minimum of 12 hours within the calendar year.

3. MAINTAINING PROGRAMMATIC CURRENCY, STUDENT APPEALS, AND PERIODIC REVIEW

A. Programmatic Currency:

- (1) Receiving institutions shall provide to the community college current and accurate information on recommended transfer programs and the transferability status of courses. Community college students shall have access to this information.
- (2) Recommended transfer programs will be developed with each community college whenever new baccalaureate programs are approved by the degree-granting institution.
- (3) When considering curricular changes, institutions shall notify each other of the proposed changes that might affect transfer students. An appropriate mechanism shall be created to ensure that both two and four year public colleges provide input or comments to the institution proposing the change. Sufficient lead time shall be provided to affect the change with minimum disruption. Transfer students shall not be required to repeat equivalent coursework successfully completed at the community college.

B. Appeal Process:

- (1) A campus-based system of appeals which will not exceed three levels shall be implemented at each institution. The procedures for appeal shall be published in the college's catalog and student handbook.
- (2) If a student believes he or she has not been treated fairly in the application of these policies, the student may contact the receiving institution's Transfer Coordinator (see Periodic Review section 2 below) who will provide information on academic appeals policies and procedures at that institution, as described in catalogs and other official publications.
- (3) Initially, differences of interpretation regarding the award of transfer credit shall be resolved between the student and the institution to which he or she has transferred. If a difference remains unresolved after using the appropriate appeal procedures of the receiving institution, the student shall present his or her evaluation of the situation to the institution from which the student has transferred. Representatives from the two institutions shall then have the opportunity to resolve the differences.

- (4) The sending institution shall have the right to present any unresolved case to the Advisory Articulation and Transfer Committee (see Periodic Review section 3 below) through a written appeal. A hearing may be requested by either party. The Committee shall receive relevant documentation, opinions, and interpretations in writing from the sending and receiving institutions and from the student. The Committee will hold hearings if required and make a recommendation as to the merits of the appeal. The Secretary will forward the recommendation to the appropriate segment head for disposition.
- (5) A student must initiate his or her complaint about the awarding of transfer credits within one calendar year of transferable credit notification from the receiving institution.
- (6) It shall be the responsibility of both the sending and receiving institutions to make certain that any student who is considering any appeal, that he/she be provided a copy of the appeal procedure and be advised and counseled on the appeal process.

C. Periodic Review:

- (1) The progress of students who transfer from two- and four-year institutions within the State shall be reported annually by the receiving institution to each community college and to the Secretary of the Maryland Commission of Higher Education. The Commission will share the results with the State Board for Community Colleges. Such information shall include longitudinal reports on the subsequent academic success of enrolled transfer students, including graduation rates, by major subject areas. Comparable information on the progress of native students shall be included.
- (2) Each public institution of higher education shall designate a Transfer Coordinator, who serves as a resource person to transfer students at either the sending or receiving campus, and who is responsible for overseeing the application of the policies and procedures outlined in this plan. The Transfer Coordinator shall also assist in interpreting transfer policies to the individual student and to the institution.
- (3) The Maryland Higher Education Commission shall establish a permanent Transfer Advisory Committee that meets regularly to review transfer issues and recommend policy changes as needed. The Committee shall also arbitrate disagreements as necessary and receive written appeals as described in the "student appeals" section above.
- (4) The Transfer Advisory Committee shall review these transfer policies at least every five years and recommend changes as necessary.

4. DEFINITIONS

- A. Native Student—A student whose initial college enrollment was at a given institution of higher education and who has not transferred to another institution of higher education since that initial enrollment.
- B. Parallel Programs—The program of study (or courses) at one institution of higher education which has comparable objectives as those at another higher education institution, e.g. a transfer program in psychology in a community college is definable as a parallel program to a baccalaureate psychology program at a four year institution of higher education.
- C. Receiving Institution—The institution of higher education at which a transfer student currently desires to enroll.
- D. Recommended Transfer Program—A planned program of courses, including both general education and courses in the major, taken at the community college which is applicable to a baccalaureate program at a receiving institution; ordinarily the first two years of the baccalaureate degree.
- E. Sending Institution—The institution of higher education of most recent previous enrollment by a transfer student at which transferable academic credit was earned.
- F. Transfer Student—A student entering an institution for the first time with academic credit earned at another institution which is applicable for credit at the institution the student is entering.

C. T.S.U. Applicant Character Policy

The Admissions Committee, in conjunction with and through the Director of Admissions, reserves the right to refuse, deny, or revoke application for the admission or readmission of any applicant whose former record(s) and/or observed conduct is deemed incongruent with established guidelines of student demeanor and academic responsibility at Towson State University.

Appendix D

THE FAMILY EDUCATIONAL RIGHTS AND PRIVACY ACT

The Family Educational Rights and Privacy Act of 1974 is a Federal Law which provides that the institution must maintain the confidentiality of student education records. This law states (a) that a written institutional policy must be established and (b) that a statement of adopted procedures covering the privacy rights of students be made available. The University has taken the appropriate steps to comply with this law.

Towson State University accords all the rights under the law to students who have reached the age of majority. Information may be released to parents who have established the students' dependency as defined by the Internal Revenue Code of 1954, Section 152. The Judicial Affairs office will review the parent's claim of dependency and notify the student of the claim prior to release of any academic information. Except as permitted under the act, no one outside the institution shall have access to any information from the students' education records without the written consent of students. Those people permitted access under the Act include personnel within the institution, officials of other institutions in which students seek to enroll, persons or organizations providing financial aid, accrediting agencies, persons in compliance with a judicial order and persons in an emergency acting in order to protect the health or safety of others.

Within the Towson State University community, only those individuals acting in the students' educational interest are allowed access to student education records. This includes personnel in the offices of the Registrar, Comptroller, Financial Aid, and other academic personnel within the limitations of their need to know. The Registrar may grant access to educational records for other legitimate reasons permitted under the Act.

The University may provide Directory Information in accordance with the provisions of the Act without the written consent of the student. Directory information includes: student name, address, telephone number, date and place of birth, major field of study, dates of attendance, degrees and awards received, the most recent previous educational institution attended by the student, participation in officially recognized activities and sports, and the weight and height of members of athletic teams. The Registrar's Office will release Directory Information at its discretion and may release Directory Information over the telephone or in writing. Students may withhold Directory Information by notifying the Registrar in writing within two weeks after the first day of class.

A request for non-disclosure will be honored for only one academic year; therefore, authorization to withhold Directory Information must be filed annually with the Registrar.

The law provides students with the right to inspect and review information contained in their education records. The Registrar at Towson State University has been designated to coordinate the inspection and review of student education records. These records include admissions, personal, academic and financial files. Students wishing to review their education records must make written requests to the Registrar. Records covered by the Act will be made available within thirty days of the request. Students may have copies made of their records with certain exceptions (e.g., a copy of the original or source document which exists elsewhere) or when student has an outstanding financial obligation to the university. These copies would be made at the students' expense. Education records do not necessarily include records of instructional, administrative, and educational personnel which are the sole possession of the maker. Health records will not be released to the students, but may be reviewed by physicians of the students' choosing.

As stated in the Act, students may not inspect and review the following: financial information submitted by their parents, confidential letters and recommendations associated with admissions, employment or job placement or honors to which they have waived their rights of inspection and review. Educational records containing information about more than one student are restricted and the institution will permit access only to that part of the record which pertains to the student. The institution will not permit students to inspect and review confidential letters and recommendations placed in their files prior to January 1, 1975.

The university has established an appeal mechanism in accordance with the Act. Students who believe that their education records contain information that is inaccurate or misleading, or unlawful may discuss their problems informally with the Registrar. The Registrar may agree to the request and the appropriate records will be amended. If not, the students will be notified that the records will not be amended; and they will be informed by the Registrar of their right to a formal hearing. requests for formal hearings must be made in writing to the Vice President for Academic Affairs. The Vice President will inform students of the date, place, and time of the hearing. Students may present evidence and may be assisted or represented at the hearings by counsel. The hearing panels which will adjudicate such challenges will be comprised of the Vice President for Academic Affairs, the Vice President for Student Affairs, the Graduate Dean, and the Academic Dean of the student's college. Decisions of the hearing panels will be final. The findings will be based solely on the evidence presented at the hearing, and will consist of written statements summarizing the evidence and stating the reasons for the decisions, and will be delivered to all parties concerned. The education records will be corrected or amended in accordance with the decisions of the hearing panels. Students dissatisfied with the outcome of their hearing may prepare a written statement which will be placed in the education records and maintained as part of the students' records.

Those students who believe that the adjudications of the challenges were unfair, or not in keeping with the provisions of the act may request that the hearing be reviewed by the President of the University. In addition, students who believe that their rights have been abridged, may file complaints, with The Family Educational Rights and Privacy Act Office (FERPA), Department of Health, Education and Welfare, Washington, D.C. 20201, concerning the alleged failures of Towson State University to comply with the Act. Revisions and clarifications will be published as experience with the law and institution's policy warrants.

Appendix E

SATISFACTORY ACADEMIC PROGRESS POLICY

I. Introduction

Federal regulations require that institutions of higher education establish minimum standards of "Satisfactory Academic Progress" for students receiving financial aid. This means the Financial Aid Office is required to measure each financial aid recipient's progress towards obtaining a degree. To be making satisfactory academic progress, students are required to complete a minimum number of credits each semester and maintain a minimum grade point average as outlined below.

SATISFACTORY ACADEMIC PROGRESS— FULL-TIME STUDENTS

During any semester in which a student attempts 12 or more credits, that student is required to complete at least 12 credits. Repeated courses are not calculated in the total number of credits completed. Below are the minimum credits and cumulative grade point average required to be making satisfactory academic progress for full-time students:

Number of Full-Time Semesters Attempted	Minimum Credits Required	Minimum GPA Required
2	24	1.50
3	36	1.65
4	48	1.80
5	60	2.00
6	72	2.00
7	84	2.00
8	96	2.00
9	108	2.00
10	120	2.00

SATISFACTORY ACADEMIC PROGRESS—PART-TIME STUDENTS

During any semester in which a student attempts less than 12 credits, that student must complete a least 6 credits. Repeated courses are not calculated in the total number of credits completed. Below are the minimum credits and cumulative grade point average required to be making satisfactory academic progress for part-time students:

Number of Part-Time Semesters Attempted	Minimum Credits Required	Minimum GPA Required
2	12	1.10
3	18	1.10
4	24	1.50
5	30	1.65
6	36	1.65
7	42	1.80
8	48	1.80
9	54	1.90
10	60	2.00
11	66	2.00
12	72	2.00
13	78	2.00
14	84	2.00
15	90	2.00
16	96	2.00
17	102	2.00
18	108	2.00
19	114	2.00
20	120	2.00

SATISFACTORY ACADEMIC PROGRESS—GRADUATE STUDENTS

Graduate students must complete at least 6 credits for each graduate semester attended and maintain a cumulative grade point average of at least 3.0. Below are the minimum credits and grade point average required to be making satisfactory academic progress for graduate students:

Number of Semesters Attempted	Minimum Credits Required	Minimum GPA Required
2	12	3.00
3	18	3.00
4	24	3.00
5	30	3.00
6	36	3.00
7	42	3.00
8	48	3.00
9	54	3.00
10	60	3.00

GRADES WHICH ARE NOT COUNTED TOWARDS CREDITS COMPLETED

The following grades are not considered when counting credits completed:

Grade of:

- AU – Audit
- W – Withdraw
- I – Incomplete
- U – Unsatisfactory
- F or FX – Failure

Please note: Any semester in which a student receives grades of "W" or "I" is still counted as a semester attempted.

Transfer credits are not counted in total credits completed; the student's progress is measured by the number of semesters attempted at Towson and the credits completed at Towson.

ADDITIONAL INFORMATION

Every Fall and Spring semester is counted as a semester attempted, regardless of whether or not the student was a financial aid recipient or a matriculating student during that semester.

Summer and Minimester semesters do not count as semesters attempted, but the credits earned during these terms are counted in total credits completed.

All students must be degree candidates in order to receive financial aid. Academic dismissal or disciplinary suspension from the University will result in automatic cancellation of financial aid.

Students withdrawing from the University will have their financial aid adjusted in accordance with the University's refund policy.

FINANCIAL AID PROBATION

Students who are 6 or less credits short of making satisfactory academic progress will be put on financial aid probation. Probation is a warning to the student. Students are put on probation only once. If a student has already been put on probation and subsequently falls 6 or less credits behind, that student will not be eligible to receive financial aid.

APPEAL PROCESS

All students have the right to make a written appeal if they are notified that they are ineligible to receive financial aid because they are not making satisfactory academic progress. Probation cannot be appealed. Students who feel that they have special circumstances which prevented them from making satisfactory progress should send a written appeal to the Director of Financial Aid, Marilyn Ojodu. All appeals must be written and must clearly state the student's special circumstances and the specific means by which the student intends to attain satisfactory academic progress.

Appendix F

GUIDELINES ON USE OF PRAYER OR OTHER RELIGIOUS ACTIVITIES

Application

These guidelines affect the university, university-sponsored events, and non-religious organizations affiliated with Towson State University. This policy does not affect recognized student religious organizations and activities.

Policy

In keeping with these laws and regulations, Towson State University does not encourage official use of prayer or other religious practices at university events and events sponsored by secular organizations affiliated with the university. Should an organization feel that prayer or other religious practice is an essential part of an event, the prayer or other religious practice should be strictly non-sectarian. Questions regarding this policy, or the appropriateness of a prayer or practice, or the wording of a particular prayer may be referred to the Office of the President.
